

Rest Stop Reading from McCabe Library
November 8th, 2004

A Poetry Reading by Daniel Hoffman

Thurs., November 11, 2004, 7:30 p.m.
McCabe Library Lobby

Daniel Hoffman is the author of numerous books of poetry and also critical and historical studies of U.S. literature and culture. From 1973 to 1974, Hoffman served as Consultant in Poetry of the Library of Congress—the appointment now called Poet Laureate of the United States—and he was Poet in Residence of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York from 1988-1999. He has won numerous awards for his poetry and scholarship, including a prize from the American Academy of Arts and Letters. He taught at the Department of English at Swarthmore College earlier in his career and is now Felix E. Schelling Professor of English Emeritus, University of Pennsylvania.

TURBOCHARGE YOUR RESEARCH WITH more!

When you see the more! button near a citation in an online database, be sure to click on it! You'll call up a menu of links that will allow you to connect directly to the full text of an article (if available), a Tripod search, ILL request form, or Live Help.

Questions? E-mail librarian@swarthmore.edu