FINAL MEETING OF CIVICS CLUB

SCOUT MASTER SUTTON SPEAKS

At the last meeting of the Civics Club for this year Scout Master Sutton was the speaker and he gave a very interesting talk on the Boy Scout movement and its significance. He began by telling the aims of the Boy Scouts, giving their code, and explaining the qualifications necessary for membership. He then went on to show the great extent of the movement and said there are over 350,000 scouts enrolled in this country and over a million in the world. He next gave some examples of the value of the work which is being done by the scouts themselves and told of the great improvement manifested by the boys after joining the scouts. He then told briefly of the life and duties of the scouts and their "hikes" and other activities, and he made it very clear that such an organization must appeal very strongly to the most fundamental instincts of boy nature. In fact, Mr. Sutton made the whole movement seem so attractive that before he had finished he had many of his hearers wishing that they were under the eighteen-year age limit and eligible for membership.

At the close of the regular meeting Mr. Sutton answered many questions. He had planned to have several members of his troop on hand to give demonstrations of knot-tying, signaling, fire-lighting, first aid and other scout accomplishments. As these scouts did not arrive, he managed to light a fire by means of rubbing sticks. This proved to be a rather complicated though interesting process and evidently called for plenty of muscle as well as skill and knowledge.

Before the lecture Ellison, '15, gave a comprehensive account of the New York meeting of the Intercollegiate Civic Association.

MR. LINDSY ENTERTAINS

GIVES UNUSUAL MUSICAL IN UNION

Last Thursday night Mr. Lindsay gave a rather unusual musical in the Union. He began his program by giving a guitar and harmonica duet, playing both instruments himself and at the same time. He then sang and gave several selections on the tin flute. He next presented some good whistling specialties, ending his program with a whistling solo and accompanying himself on the piano.

President Sharpless attended the inauguration of President Hibben at Princeton on Saturday.

JUNIORS WIN INTERCLASS MEET

SCORE 60½ POINTS TO 37½ OF NEXT COMPETITORS

The Juniors won the Interclass Track Meet, which was held on Monday and Tuesday afternoons of this week. The Seniors were second, with 37½ points, the Sophs followed with 36, while the Freshmen only succeeded in scoring 12. Of this number, Van Hollen secured nine, by winning second places in the 100-yard dash, the 220-yard dash, and the quarter mile.

Froelicher, '13, was high point winner, securing firsts in the broad jump, the shot-put, high jump, and high hurdles, and tying with Wallerstein for third place in the pole vault. L. R. Thomas, '13, was a close second, with three first places to his credit, the 100-yard dash, the 220, and the quarter.

The relay race this year was even more exciting than usual. Crowder started off for the Juniors, and gained a lead of about twenty yards. 1913 held first place until almost the last man, when the Seniors pushed ahead. Thomas started about ten yards behind Parker, 1912's last man, but soon made this up, and won for his class by a comfortable distance. About ten yards behind Parker was Jones, of the Sophomore class, and Van Hollen, the Freshmen's eighth man, was only a short distance behind Jones.

One of the closest races of the meet was the two-mile run, in which Bowerman, '12, defeated Bowerman, '14, by about a yard. The time was 10 minutes, 40 seconds better than any two-mile race last year.

Jones departed from his usual custom by winning the half mile, while he only took third place in the quarter. Still, he had run several races that day, and can perhaps be excused on that account.

Although the track was in poor condition, most of the times were good. Several new stars have come to light, and it is hoped that, with the material now at hand, one of the best track teams the college has ever had may be developed.

Summary:

100-yard dash—First, L. R. Thomas, '13; second, D. B. Van Hollen, '15; third, Jones, '14. Time, 10.2-5.
120-yard hurdles—First, Froelicher, '13; second, tie between McKinley, '14, and Maier, '12. Time, .17.
880-yard run—First, Jones, '14; second, Shaffer, '15; third, Moon, '12. Time 2.08.
220-yard dash—First, Thomas, '13; second, Van Hollen, '15; third, Parker, '12. Time, .22 4-5.
2-mile run—First, A. L. Bowerman, '12; second, W. G. Bowerman, '14; third, Van Sickle, '13. Time, 10.50 2-5.
220-yard hurdles—First, McKinley, '14; second, Porter, '13; third, Gifford, '13. Time, .29.
Relay race—First, 1913 (Crowder, Tattall, Hall, Curtis, Diamant, Gifford,

MATCH WITH MERION A DRAW

HEAVY HITTING MARKS CONTEST

The match between Haverford and Merion Cricket Club which was played here last Saturday was a rather peculiar one in many respects. The result was a draw: Haverford 176, Merion 108 for no wickets.

The wicket was in first-class condition and very fast and the weather almost ideal for cricket, except for the fact that a rather strong wind was blowing. The college team batted first and Miffiin succeeded in bowling Brinton for one run. He was not so fortunate with Seckel, however, for the latter did some very pretty hitting and secured the first six that has been made at college this year. He was finally retired for a well-played 34, which was high score for Haverford, although Roberts got 32 and four more of the men reached double figures.

As it had been arranged to call the game at six o'clock, there did not seem to be much chance of the visiting players running up any considerable score when they went in to bat a little after five. J. L. Evans and R. Lee started at once on a course of heavy hitting and secured four or five runs in almost every over from the time they got set till the end of the game. On one occasion their companionable career was almost cut short by Seckel, who made a splendid attempt at a one-handed catch of a fast line drive, but dropped the ball. The best bowling of the day was done by Garrigues, a Haverford man, who played for Merion, as the visitors were short of men. His sharp breaks proved too much for the Haverford batters, and he secured 5 wickets for 49.

The team as a whole seems to be playing first-class cricket in the field and batting rather well, but the bowling department looks a little weak. Part of the trouble may lie in the fact that most of our bowlers are of about the same style, as there are no good slow bowlers in college, so that if a batsman is able to play one of our men he has little trouble with the others. There is lots of good cricket material in college though and most of the men on the first eleven are veteran players who have had lots of experience. It seems very probable therefore that the team will strike its stride before the beginning of the Intercollegiate Series and steady down to really first top-notch form which it is certainly not showing at present.

HAVERFORD WINS FROM LEHIGH

TRACK TEAM DEFEATS OLD RIVALS 58-54

FROELICHER AND THOMAS MAKE NEW RECORDS

The hardest contested and most exciting meet of the season came off last Saturday afternoon on Walton Field when the track team defeated Lehigh, 58-54, thus breaking a five years' precedent. The track was in fine condition and most of the races were run off in splendid time, while three of the college records fell, two going to Haverford and the other being broken by a Lehigh athlete.

The meet was extremely close from start to finish and it was actually impossible to pick the winner until the very last event was over. A single second place less would have lost us the contest. The last two events of the afternoon were the broad jump and the 440-yard dash. At this time the score stood 57-55 in favor of Lehigh. When Whitney, of Lehigh, managed to jump 21 feet 8 inches, which is well beyond the college record, it looked very much as though the visiting team had won the victory. At the start of the 440, which was the last of the runs, the two Lehigh contestants took the lead and held it until all four runners were in the stretch, when Jones and Van Hollen, both of Haverford, forged ahead and won the event and the meet, and finishing almost together and only a few inches ahead of the Lehigh runners.

Froelicher, of Haverford, was high point-winner of the day and succeeded in amassing 17 points. He got second in the broad jump, incidentally coming within 1½ inches of the record, tied for first in the high jump, and won the high hurdles and the shot-put. In this last event he broke the college record, held by himself, with a put of 39 feet 7 inches. It is rumored that next year he will add the discus and the hammer-throw to his other accomplishments. The poor showing made in the high jump was largely due to a strong wind which was blowing directly against the contestants.

The other record which fell was that of the 220-yard dash, which was won by Captain Thomas in 22.2-5 seconds, which is one-fifth of a second better than the former time. Thomas is steadily improving in form and should stand a good show of placing in the Intercollegiate Series and steady down to really first top-notch form which it is certainly not showing at present.

FRATERNITIES AT HAVERFORD

The average Freshmen entering college would not notice the three fraternities if it were not for his "Y. M. C. A. bible." By the end of the first year the studious detects the Phi Beta Kappa Society as a goal for which one should strive. He likewise discovers the Beta Rho Sigma and the Triangle Society. They, however, seem to consist of fellows who are not only congenial, but also as public spirited as any in college. We are glad of this, for we believe it to be the only solution of the fraternity problem at Haverford. The college is small; there are only 175 students at most. If a half-dozen frats were encouraged the annual scramble for good fellows would be quite heartrending. We doubt if the college could stand it. Even now are not the twelve fraternal upperclassmen showing a creakish tendency where we ought to see the best of goodwill? Let us deal with concrete circumstances.

During the past week rooms for next year have been chosen. It is quite natural that congenial fellows should desire to be near one another. This is perfectly legitimate and should be encouraged when it can be accomplished by fair and open-handed means. When, however, bulldozery and atmospheric pressures are employed we think several things: either that schoolboys are amongst us in a very primitive form, or that personal likes and dislikes (probably the former) have grown very rank during the past year; or that the Beta Rho and the Triangle Society are expecting to dwell hereafter in Merion Annex second floor. Possibly we have erred in our conclusions. Possibly the two societies as such have had no part in the haunting of the charts at the office and the accompanying disagreeable discrepancies which have taken place. If, indeed, they have had nothing to do with either, aside from a legitimate desire to be near one another (and we must confess it does not seem like them), we sincerely urge them never again to show ill-omened signs, so that at the next room-choosing time there will be no misunderstanding.

If questioned about fraternities at Haverford, we want to say frankly and truthfully that although we have two small frats, we are all primarily Haverfordians. Frat feuds and prejudices ought to disturb neither our athletics nor our social relationships. In the past we believe this has been largely the case. We expect it to be true next year. In closing we wish to thank the Triangle Society heartily for its cordial support of interclass soccer by their championship cup. Also the work of both societies in bringing alumni and graduates together more closely should not be overlooked. As we said before, it is only through such whole-hearted and unselfish co-operation with the rest of the college that the two fraternities can be tolerated at Haverford.

well in the pole vault, winning the event at 9 feet 6 inches, which was unusually good considering the high wind which hampered the contestants. W. G. Bowerman showed up well in the two-mile, winning very easily. Falconer ran the half mile in his usual good form, finishing in two minutes and nine seconds with a comfortable lead. The team as a whole put up a very fine exhibition and appears to be very well balanced, with the exception of the mile and discus events, in which we are weak. Next Saturday we meet Franklin and Marshall at Lancaster and unless the home team shows unexpected strength we should not have much difficulty in getting away with the meet.

The summary:

FOURTH AND CHESTNUT STREETS

A CORRECTION

The WEEKLY has been severely criticised by some of the undergraduates for its stand on the question of baseball at Haverford. Among other things we have been charged with having mis-stated in our editorial the fact that the college team—that is to say, the Walton Field Club Team—is expecting to play outside nines. The team, according to its supporters, is not going to play outside teams, but only those of Westtown School and Haverford School, which are outside teams. For our part we fail utterly to see what they then must be, for they are certainly not Haverford College teams, nor is either school connected with the college. Anyhow, we have been requested to mention that these two games are the only ones at present on the Club schedule, but we again fail to see why the Club should not extend its schedule at will. Moreover in this baseball matter we would further say that there has been a certain amount of conflict between baseball and the other sports. Not that the baseball games conflict directly with those of the other branches of athletics, but that members of other teams stay away from practice to play baseball, which is, of course, not as it should be. Even in the short time baseball has been in our midst it has caused sufficient friction, we firmly believe, to cause it to be looked upon with disfavor by most of those connected with our other Haverford sports. We are also very sure that if it were a question between cricket and baseball, most of the college would unhesitatingly vote for cricket.

INTERCOLLEGIATE CIVIC LEAGUE HOLDS CONVENTION

On Thursday, April 11th, the sixth annual convention of the Intercollegiate Civic League was held at New York. Luncheon was served in Earl Hall, Columbia University, at one o'clock. President Butler made an address of welcome to the hundred-odd delegates, and was followed by an amusing pianologue, by J. H. Lengstocken, 1913. Immediately following luncheon, a group picture of the delegates was taken on the steps of the library.

About two-thirty, the afternoon session was held in Earl Hall. This session took the form of an informal discussion, with short speeches by the delegates.

Mr. John Collier, Secretary of the People's Institute of New York City, explained to the delegates what part the college man may take in the new movement towards transforming the public school into a civic and social center. He stressed the point that politics are formed in leisure moments, and that is the time to get sound political knowledge into a man's head.

The next subject: "How the League and its clubs may influence college graduates to work with local organizations of the political party to which they belong," was excellently introduced by Mr. Oliver F. Cutts, a recent Harvard football star. He stated that three things are necessary, namely, that the civic work in the college must awaken the interest of the undergraduates, that the civic man in the college must be experienced in his line of work; and that the graduates must have an active interest in the college. Williams College interests its graduates in their respective cities. Mr. Cutts closed with the remark that "the college man waits to be called on, but when we get him to work, he is a power."

The subject that was most interesting to the Haverford Civics Club was introduced by Mr. Charles L. Hedden, of Williams College, who spoke on the activities of his own club during the past year. He said that the object of the Williams Good Government Club is to interest the whole college in that subject especially, but that it also covers nine other subjects, each subject being taken care of by a committee composed of ten different men.

Professor Charles A. Beard, a member of the Executive Committee, told the delegates what opportunities are open to the college man for non-partisan work with civic associations. This embraced the whole question of co-operation with such bodies as the Municipal League of Seattle and the Citizens' Union of New York City. Professor Beard stated that civil service is spreading rapidly over the United States, and offers to a trained college man a chance to become an expert municipal head.

At seven-thirty in the evening, dinner was served at the City Club. Mr. Chadbourne was toastmaster, and introduced the Hon. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Harvard, '04, as the first speaker. Senator Roosevelt, in his most interesting and clever speech, said that his cousin, the Colonel, always asked for twice as much as he wanted, but ended by getting what he asked. He advised, however, that one hitch his wagon to the standard of his boyhood desires.

There were several other interesting speeches before the Rev. Benjamin Jessup arose to give the benediction. In closing he quoted the words of Colonel Roosevelt: "Never hesitate to put your ideals high, and never fail to put them too high."

Burglary Insurance

Records show that in the large cities and suburbs there are four times as many burglaries as there are fires. We issue the broadest Burglary Policy written. It is free from all technicalities and many of the restrictions of other policies. The cost is little and the protection great. We would be glad to call and explain.
