

SWARTHMORE LEADS IN PAST FOOTBALL GAMES WITH QUAKER RIVALS

Haverford Victor in Eleven of the Thirty-three Contests; Garnet Won Nineteen

ONLY TWO TIE RESULTS

The 1924 football game between the Scarlet and Black of Haverford and the Quaker of Swarthmore will be the thirty-third of these traditional contests, which are always the most important athletic events of the year for both colleges. In the past, the Scarlet and Black have triumphed on eleven occasions, and two games have resulted in ties. The year closed up since the beginning, however, Swarthmore, with 64, has more than double the Haverford total of 319.

On December, 1879, one month after Haverford had tied the University of Pennsylvania in the first game ever played by the smaller college, the two Quaker rivals met for the first time on the Main Line team, the final score being 36 to 2. The game which they played was Rugby football, an exciting contest game from the football of the present day. Each team was made up of nine men—five "rushers," two half-backs and two full-backs. It is interesting to note that the captain of the Haverford team that conquered Swarthmore in 1879 was a freshman named Rhodes.

Freshmen Resume Relations

For three years there were no more football games played between the two colleges, but in 1882 the freshmen of each institution formed a combination and arranged a game. The Haverford yearlings came out ahead by a safe margin.

1888 the Varsity teams again resumed relations, and in that year two games were played. The first of these, strange to say, took place in the town of Eggert and Black again won, but this time the score was not an overwhelming one, being 10 to 8. The game appears at first only one contest, but in 1879, in this match three or four men on each side were called from the field injured.

In the fall of 1883 the Garnet men succeeded in scoring their first victory by the close margin of 12 to 9. The following year, Haverford avenged their defeat in another game, and evenly fought battle, which resulted in a 10 to 6 score. 1885 saw the Scarlet and Black team roll up one of the most decisive victories which it has ever scored in scoring against its big rival. The final count was 40 to 10.

Two years went by before the next Haverford-Swarthmore game and the lapse of time seemed to benefit the Garnet for, in 1887, they came back strong and piled up a 32 to 16 victory.

COMMITTEE MAKES PLANS FOR MIDWINTER DINNER

Herbert Hoover Asked to Be One of the Speakers

The plans for the annual mid-winter alumni dinner are taking shape under the Alumni Committee chairmaned by S. W. Meader, '13. It has just been learned that Colonel James A. Logan, Jr., who has become a relations committee will not be able to present to speak. Other prominent men are being invited to attend and address the meeting. Among these is Herbert C. Hoover, Secretary of Commerce in the President's Cabinet.

HAVERFORD CHEERING TO BE AMPLIFIED BY RADIO

New and Novel Method of Cheer Leading for Haverford-Swarthmore Game

Arrangements are being made to conduct the cheering of the Haverford stand at the Haverford-Swarthmore football game, which is to be held in the Franklin Field Stadium on November 29, by means of radio-amplification. The installation of the apparatus necessary for this purpose will be under the supervision of William Halstead.

The apparatus to be used is one of the regular Western Electric public address systems. An amplifier and a microphone will be placed on a table just behind the players' bench. The amplifying power of this outfit is tremendous, and it is said that one speaking into the microphone in an ordinary tone of voice can be heard in cheer-leading, and may serve as a precedent for future intercollegiate contests which are attended by large numbers.

WORK ALMOST COMPLETE FOR FOOTBALL PROGRAM

News Solicits Ads by Radio; Supplement Obtainable at Franklin Field

Good progress has been made toward the completion of the News Supplement which will serve as a program for the Haverford-Swarthmore football game. More than half of the advertisements of the teams, coaches and individuals views of the captains and stars will be printed.

A history of the contests between the two rival colleges will be published, in much the same form as that given in this issue of the NEWS. The whole program will be in booklet form, comprising at least 100 pages.

Ads by Radio

A novelty both in the radio and advertising lines has been introduced. In that the Haverford-Swarthmore contest by radio, a medium that has never before been used, to our knowledge.

The combined Business and Editorial Boards are soliciting ads this week with a view to finishing that part of the work by today. Prominent Alumni in Philadelphia are being seen with regard to advertising in the booklet.

SCARLET ENCOURAGED

Student Council Willing to Meet Expenses; No Speakers for Thursday

The proposed subsidy to the "Scarlet" was the first topic discussed by the Students' Council at their meeting held Monday, November 18, in general assembly. The members of the Council generally felt that the editing of this humorous paper was a worthy enterprise, but that a financial subsidy should be refused. However, the Council actually agreed that they would pay any actual expenses incurred during the publication.

PRESS CLUB OCCUPIED WITH NEWS REPORTS

The Press Club has been active this fall in sending out accounts of College activities to newspapers, which are interested in publishing such accounts. The first city editor R. Bates, '25, held office for a little over a month as the work which he was doing had to be completed. The new city editor is Austin Wright, '25.

FRESHMEN PLAY CASTS SELECTED FOR TRYOUTS

Two Plays by Haverford Men Among Four to Be Given Under Cap and Bells

Rehearsals have been held and the organization of the Freshman Plays, under the direction of the Cap and Bells Society, will be finished this week. Four plays have been chosen to be presented on December 15. They are: "Lobby Love," by several Freshmen; "Spreading the News" by Lady Gregory; "He," by Eugene O'Neil; and "Double Crossed" by various members who prefer to remain anonymous.

Upperclassmen Coach Plays

The plays are under the general direction of Lord, '25, with Richie, '26; Baldwin, '26; Mead, '26; and Eisman, '25, in charge. One each of the four plays will be given by members of the Cap and Bells Society by alumni or undergraduates. Haverford playwrighting talent will be in review.

Many Female Parts

Twenty-nine Rhinies have been given parts in the plays as a result of the length and number of plays, will be presented as fast as possible. There will be a definite attempt to make the presentation of the plays more important. To do this one point towards admission to the Cap and Bells Society will be given to each participant who works earnestly and creditably. Several members of the Cap and Bells casting committee will be present.

BETTER RESULTS HOPED FOR FROM NEW AERIAL

The Radio Club is still trying to get in touch with Station 2 N.M. in England. Various attempts have been made during the past weeks, but as yet none of them have been successful. Halstead, who is in charge of the project, attributes the difficulty to the fact that the directional effect of the large aerial is toward the west. Where as communications from this British station are made in the east, the speaker consistently, they maintain that they cannot hear us on account of interference.

HEDGEROW PLAYERS AT COLLEGE ON DECEMBER 12

The Hedgerow Theatre Players of Ross Valley, Pa., will present the play "Misalliance" in Roberts Hall on December 12. This play is one of the most recent successes of this group of players. The play is presented also "The Inheritors" in Roberts Hall at a later date.

SOCCER ELEVEN LOSES TO U. OF PENNSYLVANIA IN CLOSE GAME 4 TO 2

Fast Teamwork of Penn Line Powerful; Haverford Defense Strong

In losing to the University of Pennsylvania by a 4-2 score last Friday, the Haverford soccer team lost its chance for the Inter-Collegiate soccer championship. Each team came onto the field with the record of an undefeated season behind it. The game fulfilled its promise of being one of the hardest-fought soccer contests of the inter-collegiate season. It was in the brilliant work of Penn's forward line that Haverford was outclassed. Boos, Linglebach and Gentle formed a combination in the center of the line that could not be stopped by the Haverford backs. Their passing was perfect, and it was only the excellent work of Garrett and Evans that kept them from piling up a large score.

THOUGHT WITHOUT LEARNING IS DANGEROUS; LEARNING WITHOUT THOUGHT IS USELESS—CONFUCIUS

Winning Factors

History shows the results of Swarthmore-Haverford football games for the past few years. Since 1916 the Garnet has carried away the honors. Each year Haverford has cheered itself with the thought that next year might be the time for victory.

So long has the thought of "next year" been used as the bait that beats, that now it fails to bait. However, since Coach Harman's appearance at Haverford, the prospect of a successful football season and victory over our traditional rival has improved year by year. The scores bear witness. In 1922 Swarthmore triumphed 25-2; last year 17-0. Certainly the word "triumph" expresses the painful facts.

The NEWS cannot, what we would like to do, confidently predict victory at Franklin Field on Saturday against Swarthmore. But Haverford has a chance. This year the football team has evidenced real ability against Columbia, Stevens, Hamilton and Delaware. They can be counted on to exhibit this same and better ability before the crowds on Franklin Field.

Everywhere, this small Quaker College is known for its clean athletic policies. How much more will it avail Haverford, if on top of a clean athletic program, a winning team may be added.

Not sneering or jeering at the character of the opposing team, nor a blind refusal to recognize the football ability of our worthy rival can possibly help Haverford. Rather the more intimate fellowship of team and coach, the firm loyalty of students and Alumni and the unwavering friendship and comradely interest of Faculty and Students are factors which should form the basis of Haverford's best endeavors on Saturday. May the team feel these deeper parts of Haverford's support in the fullest measure to make this year's game the turning point of a long list of defeats.

Success

The college as a whole is to be complimented on the success of the recent Charity Chest Drive. It is always difficult to maintain an unusually high record of a previous year. Yet that is exactly what Haverford has done in subscribing $2000 to the annual charity fund.

It shows an encouraging sense of responsibility on the part of a majority of undergraduates that the Y. M. C. A. charity chest should be indorsed by an oversubscription. It demonstrates that many Haverford men are thinking beyond the borders of the campus. A majority state of mind for an institution of learning.

LOUIS J. PALMER, '94, DIES AFTER LIFE OF SERVICE

Philadelphia Attorney Succumbs After a Year's Illness

Louis Jacques Palmer, '94, an attorney prominent in Philadelphia and its environs, died at Haverford, November 17, at his home in St. Davids following a year's illness from anemia.

Mr. Palmer was born in West Chester on May 24, 1874. He received his preliminary education at West Chester High and entered Haverford in 1891. He completed his A. B. requirements in three years. He then became assistant principal at Pottstown High School, and later an instructor at West Chester State Normal School. In 1900 he became principal of the boys' department of the Pennsylvania Institute for the Instruction of the Blind. In 1902 he was admitted to the Chester county bar and one year later to the Philadelphia bar.

He was prominent in community activities in Wayne, being director of the Neighborhood League and a vestryman of St. Mary's Church of Wayne. He was manager of Glen Mills Schools, and manager of Foulke and Long Institute. He was a member of the Tri-County Society of Haverford. The funeral was held November 19 at 2 o'clock. The following Haverfordians were among the honorary pallbearers: H. M. Miller, '95; F. F. Ristine, '94; S. Williams, '94, and Allen C. Thomas, '95. Mr. Palmer is survived by a wife and two children.

R. OWEN TELLS FOUNDERS CLUB GREEK EDUCATION

Stresses Advantages Given to Training of Greek Youth

Professor Ralph D. Owen, of Bryn Mawr College, addressed "The Founders Club" at an informal meeting held at the Union Hotel evening of November 17. His subject was "Lessons from Greek Education." Professor Owen traced the life of a Greek youth and emphasized the advantages of an education which made his life fuller and more rounded than that of a college man today.

For instance, a young Greek was taught law and government so that he became a conscious part of the state before he was twenty. It was customary for him to attend the law courts and to spend much time and thought in discussing state matters. At the age of sixteen he was left to learn what he liked, from what teachers or books. This his individuality was given a chance to develop. The athletics brought him into contact with his fellows and taught him to cooperate. Music was considered one of the most important studies and it served to develop the aesthetic side of his nature. Finally all instruction was individual; consequently the Greek youth was more intense in his interests but it escaped the development of a general type and brought out each personality to the best advantage.

Slinging The Ink

In the grades for the first quarter, the College established a rather unique record in its total absence of "B" students. Who on earth can be blamed for such a thing? Perhaps the College as a whole is to be congratulated. But then, the Senior Class alone has done the trick. The three groups one better by even keeping all its marks above the "D" level. And finally—our football captain—has he lighted the development of the team. Didn't somebody, somewhere, say once, that a familiarity with the library due to constant frequenting of it is sound help in sports? Perhaps it is our friend and librarian, Dr. Lockwood, to whom the College owes its debt of gratitude.

Perhaps Dr. Watson might find some truth in the rumor that strikes of the barbers' unions are due to election bets.

It has been suggested that the members of the Swarthmore team moved into after Thanksgiving that the Garnet might be sincere in its giving of thanks. It's a pretty hard task to be sincerely grateful for a humiliating defeat, you know.

Y MEETS DEC. 3

Harold Long to Be Christian Association's Next Speaker

Harold Long is to be the next speaker to address the Y. M. C. A. His subject has not yet been announced. The meeting at which he is to speak will be held on Wednesday evening, December 3. No arrangement will be made this coming Wednesday, due to the fact that the Thanksgiving vacation starts upon that date.

Mr. Long is the assistant rector of the First Presbyterian Church of Bryn Mawr, where he assists Dr. Mutch, who spoke here a few weeks ago. He is personally known to many men at Haverford.

No Debates Until After Fall Athletics

No new developments have affected the debating team schedule, according to Fathall, 23, manager of the team. It is thought that a debate would be arranged with Penn, but as Haverford wants only short-time debates, and Penn seemed a long-time debate, for which preparation would have to start immediately, no agreement could be reached.

It is thought that more interest in debating will be evidenced by other colleges after fall athletics are over.

DR. LUNT ADDRESSES Y CONCERNING HONESTY

Says Many Difficulties in the World Are Due to Use of Dishonest Methods

DR. CALDWELL SPEAKS

"Honesty" was the subject chosen by Dr. Lunt in his talk to the Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday evening, November 19, in the Union. A large attendance marked the giving of his annual address to this organization.

Dr. Lunt began by saying that "Honesty" was rather a time-worn and supposedly inappropriate subject, but that in his connections with college men he had had much opportunity to observe honesty and dishonesty and found so much to be desired to give his observations to those who were present.

College Men Not Dishonest

Then he spoke briefly on the honesty of college undergraduates. "Lack of honesty in college men is not particularly noticeable. I believe they are as a rule a little more honest than the average American. This refers to the undergraduate. Sometimes, however, these men lose their freshness of honesty when they leave college and go out into the business or professional world. They do not seem to realize that honesty will be even more valuable to them in their new position."

"The war is a good example of the small ways in which dishonesty can creep in. During the war we put up with everything, thinking perhaps that it was patriotic to let small and even occasionally flagrantly dishonest acts go unneeded. The result, however, of them, came from inefficiency which was dishonestly disguised."

"The methods used by some plumbers, at the present time, are examples of inefficiency which is laid to small excuses and is, in its way, dishonest. There are many examples, for instance the numerous broken contract and government troubles due to dishonesty."

He went on to say: "It is my conviction that the largest part of the difficulties of this topsy-turvy world is caused by departure from the old rock-ribbed form of honesty. Honesty is certainly the best policy. The only advantage in honesty that I could see when it was put up to me when I was young was that it gave me self-respect. I have since seen that it can have more material rewards. The man who is honest is the man who will stand out in the crowd. Present Gooding is a splendid example of this type."

In conclusion he remarked that: "One aspect in which we do not do our best, and college men are no exception, is being honest with ourselves. I once saw a football game in which the stronger team practically defeated itself. In talking with a man who had played on the game, however, I found that he had many excuses for the team's defeat. I referred to another observer and found him to be of my opinion. Evidently the player was not honest with himself. Failure can be just as valuable an success. We must eliminate the growing disregard of dishonesty, though, in order to make it so."

Upon the conclusion of Dr. Lunt's address, Dr. Caldwell, of the State Board of Health, spoke on "Sexual Hygiene."

ALUMNI NOTES

'96. J. Henry Scattergood, Treasurer of the Corporation of Haverford College and member of the Pennsylvania Public Service Commission, will speak at the University of Pennsylvania Forum, Tuesday, November 25. His subject will be "Europe After the War: Plan and American Opportunity." The address will be given in Room 320, College Hall.

FROM THE SIDELINES

Comments do not necessarily represent the opinion of the editors of this paper. Comments are invited on any phase of Haverford sports from either students or alumni.

When the Varsity soccer eleven was held for a second time by the Garnet when the Varsity J. V. wiped out the blot by defeating Swarthmore 3 to 2. Last Friday Penn took home a victory and practically the League title. History should repeat itself and the J. V. has only one course open to it. It must decisively defeat the Penn J. V.

The second attack was the Garnet more likely to win if they have the support of the whole student body. The J. V. is put for a victory over Penn. This victory will mean Haverford's first State League title.

By the Philadelphia Record we see that "Haverford, Pa., Nov. 22.—The Haverford-Swarthmore game, scheduled for today, was postponed on account of rain and will be played November 29 at Philadelphia."

Interesting it true. In a recent interview with several prominent members of the Rhine class, the following request was made: "We, the Freshman Class at College, should like that our life at College should be one of service. Freshmen shall all ways be at the service of all managers of College activities. We therefore wish to express our sincere regret that the game with Swarthmore is to be played at Franklin Field. We had hoped to show that our class was not lacking in spirit, mind, or muscle. The exhilarating and uplifting employment of building the grandstands was a task to which we had longed and forward."

SOCCER ELEVEN LOSES TO U. OF PENNSYLVANIA

Cont. from page 1, column 6. side of the field which Linglebach had no trouble in driving into the net. The Haverford men then got possession of the ball and held it for the remainder of the game. Baker was the leader of the Scarlet and Black attack and kept the backs opposing him guessing continually. With the center forward dribbling he was able to make many good passes and finally got through the Penn defense for Haverford's final goal. Baker Star.

This goal was the result of entirely individual work on Baker's part. He took the ball on a pass and dribbled by two of the University players. He drilled it into the net with a powerful bolt. During the remainder of the game Haverford fought for another goal, but shots from Richter, Baker and Barton did not count. The game ended with U. of P. leading, 4-2.

SOCCER WITH AULMNI

Varsity Soccer Squad to Meet Alumni at Thanksgiving Day Meeting. The Varsity soccer team has scheduled a game for Thanksgiving morning with a team made up of Haverford graduates. Most of the men on this team have been playing for some soccer club since their graduation, and so are in very good condition to meet the undergraduates. Wood '24, is managing the alumni team and has gotten together a strong combination of players, who should give the varsity men a hard game.

Some of the former Haverford stars who will play for the alumni are: Wilbur '23, goalkeeper; Fisher, '24, full-back; Wood, '24, and Meunch, '24, half-backs; McKinley and Hart, forwards. The game is scheduled to be played at 10.30.

HAVERFORD SCHOOL WINS

Frankford and Haverford School to Compete for College Cup. Haverford School will play Frankford High School for the Haverford College Soccer Cup. Haverford School has won the Interacademic League Championship. Frankford High defeated West Philadelphia last Tuesday 1-0, and thereby practically clinched the Public School Championship. Frankford will be a heavy favorite to beat Haverford Soccer Cup. Haverford School has won the last year they beat Germantown in a final game by seven goals to one.

VARIED STRENGTH SEEN IN FOOTBALL CONTESTS

Billo and Middleton Gain Ground for Haverford; Line Is Strong

Haverford's football season has been a series of ups and downs, the team showing flashes of strength but some contests not living up to expectations. The scores for the season show 80 points gained by the Scarlet and Black eleven, which they recovered over half of the latter's points were made in two games, Columbia and Ursinus scoring 29 each. The forward line was expected to win fairly large margin due to its greater size. In the contest with the men from Collegeville the Haverford team was in a slump, from which they recovered in the next game, that with Delaware University.

Columbia Held to Low Score. In the pre-season game with Columbia at New York, October 27, Noek, of Haverford, saved his team from a shutout by a field goal from a difficult angle. This was the last minute play. Preceding this score the Scarlet and Black men had carried the ball in three successive first downs through the heavier team from New York, retaining a fine punch that had not been reduced by the grueling of the first three quarters of the game. It is interesting to note that Haverford gained more ground from scrimmage in the first half than their opponents, although the New Yorkers had the advantage in the kicks. The broken field running of Knopick and Pogue was responsible for the greater part of Columbia's gains. The winners made no consistent gains through the Haverford line.

The team of Hamilton College at Clinton, N. Y., where Haverford played its next game, was slightly heavier than the team of Knopick and Pogue, but did not have the smooth teamwork that characterized the visitors' play. Billo, at half-back, and Middleton, at full-back, were the center of contented ground-gainers, the latter making both of the touchdowns of the game. Between them they made all of Haverford's first downs. The final score was 13-0.

The home season was opened successfully on page 4, Col. 2.

J. V. SOCCER TEAM TO MEET PENN FOR TITLE

Undeafed Elevens Clash on River Field on Next Wednesday. The Haverford College Junior Varsity will play the University of Pennsylvania second team next Wednesday, November 26th. This game will be the deciding factor in determining the winner of the Pennsylvania State League. At present both teams are undefeated. The Penn J. V. has won from Swarthmore by the score of 3 to 1. Since the Haverford J. V. defeated the Garnet booters by 3 goals to 2, Penn is one goal stronger than Haverford. But Haverford has led high by the score of 4 to 0, while Penn won from the same team by 3 goals. This places Haverford one point better than the Penn team, and close, hard struggle will result and the winner will not be determined until the final whistle blows.

If Haverford defeats Penn, the Title will go to Haverford second string men. On the other hand, if Penn wins the game, the League may end in a tie. This is due to the fact that Penn still has Lafayette to play. But Lafayette must win the struggle in order to insure a tie between Haverford and Penn.

Penn Has Strong Eleven. Penn has placed on the field this year an exceedingly fast eleven, with a strong defense. Their scores have not been high, but they have had little difficulty in winning contests. Biens, the center forward, who also is playing on the Freshman team, is the outstanding player of the Penn line. Lauraus, the inside left, is another speedy player who has scored several times this season.

During the last few practices the J. V. has held the Varsity to a tie. This would seem to show that the second string line is improving. The backfield which has been the main strength of the Junior Varsity is playing a consistent game. Murray Haines, who injured his leg in the Lafayette game, is able to be in the line-up. The probable line-up will be: Haverford J. V. Position: Penn J. V. Masuro..... Goal..... Callahan Logan..... Left full-back..... Golden B. Haines..... Right full-back..... Lewis B. Haines..... Left half-back..... Knoblauch Longworth..... Centre forward..... Baker Warner..... Outside left..... Pratt Richardson..... Inside left..... Bunker Saunders..... Centre forward..... Pratt Burt..... Inside right..... Child Sanders..... Outside right..... Baugherty

Soccer Rules Body to Meet On December 13th

Invitations have been sent out by Douglas Stewart, Secretary of the National Collegiate Soccer Association, to seventy colleges to attend a meeting to be held on December 13.

BASKETBALL PRACTICE UNDER HALAS BEGINS

Early Start is Due to Hard Season; Former Varsity Players Back. Basketball practice has already started for all those men who are not out for football or soccer. Although all the Varsity men have not yet reported for practice, there will be a line-up composed of veterans. Captain T. Garrett and P. Garrett will hold the guard positions. Chadwick will again jump center. For forwards it will be hard to replace Arnold. However, there are Shank, Vogel and Rhoads. Maguire and Smith have also seen service in several Varsity games.

Good Freshman Material. The class of '25 has some excellent material for the quietest. Logan seems to be the most promising. Flint, Mitchell and Melchior will also be important additions to the squad.

The schedule that has been arranged is much harder than the one of last year. Coach Halas, in a short talk to the candidates for the team last Monday night, stressed the point that it was absolutely imperative for every one out for the squad to work hard and conscientiously.

Practice Every Day. Practices will be held on Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights. Tuesday and Thursday afternoons will also be utilized for practice. In the few practices held so far, the coach has only had time to outline the Western style of play which he will put into immediate use at Haverford. He has not noticed any startling developments in the playing of the squad.

MAY PLAY PENN IN 1925

Football Team Offered Place on U. of P. Schedule. The University of Pennsylvania has offered Haverford a place on its 1925 football schedule. The dates submitted, however, do not fit in with the games already scheduled, but it is hoped that arrangements can be made so that one of the dates will be acceptable.

NEW PIT TO AID JUMPERS

Sheltered Position Behind Gym Will Assist Athletes. A new jumping pit is now being dug behind the gymnasium under the supervision of Coach Hadfield and Superintendent of Grounds, Johnson. The present pit, located on Walton Field, is in such an exposed position that pole-vaulting, in particular, is almost impossible on a slight wind blowing. Wind also hinders high jumping and broad jumping to a marked degree.

HAVERFORD SHOULD WIN FROM HARVARD BOOTERS

Comparative Scores Point to 3-0 Victory in Game on Saturday

Haverford should defeat Harvard in their annual soccer game, to be played next Saturday, November 29, before the Swarthmore game. Calculations are to be credited. The score should be in the neighborhood of a 3-0 victory for the Main Line institution.

Reckoning on comparative scores both the defense and offense of the Cambridge team is weaker than that of Haverford. In cases where Haverford and Harvard have played the same teams, the latter has failed to make as large scores as the former. At the same time, Haverford has held their opponents to much lower scores than Harvard did.

Evidence of this can be found by comparing the contests of each with Penn, Cornell and Princeton. Penn swamped Harvard with a tally of 5-0, but the Red and Blue booters had to work hard to win a 4-2 victory over Haverford. Harvard overwhelmed Cornell with a 7-0 count, but Harvard only defeated them by 3-1. Princeton held Haverford to a 1-1 tie, but later they defeated Harvard by a 3-0 score. The fact that Haverford has scored where the Crimson men have found it impossible to do so, and the fact that when they have scored a greater tally marked their records, seems to show that the coming contest will be a success from Haverford's point of view.

GARNET HAS MARGIN ON RIVAL HAVERFORD TEAM

Scarlet and Black Has Good Chance to Win Annual Battle. This year the Swarthmore football team has thus far broken even in the number of games lost and won. The coming game with Haverford will determine for the Garnet whether the season has been a success or a failure. The team started out with a win over the weak Susquehanna team, but met a snag in the form of Penn on the following Saturday. They made a creditable showing against the bigger eleven and managed to score, but when the game ended they were on the short end of a 25-7 count. The next week Ursinus was met and defeated 12-6. Stevens was easy as the 49-0 score indicates, but the following week the ambitious Quakers again went out of their class and were defeated by Princeton 21-6. Here again they managed to score on their heavier opponents. On the following Saturday they were able to tie E. & M. at six all. Their next game was with the strong Muhlenberg eleven, and although they were defeated, managed to hold the Allentowners to a single field goal.

Garnet Holds Edge. By this record it is apparent that the Garnet has a powerful team, but one which can be beaten and has been beaten by teams in its own class. Twice they have shown flashes of scoring power, once against Susquehanna and once against Stevens. In this respect they are much like the Haverford eleven, which has also shown flashes of great form, only to absolutely reverse it in the next game. By the records, comparative scores and summaries, Swarthmore holds the edge, an edge of two or three touchdowns. However, records signify nothing in the annual combat between the two rival Quaker Colleges.

This year Haverford has the best chance of winning this game that it has had since 1916, when the Scarlet and Black last triumphed over the Garnet on the gridiron. Due to the two-week period in which it prepares for the game, the men should be in excellent condition for the contest.

tionously by trouncing Stevens Tech 20-0, in spite of the fact that Captain Rhoads was unable to play. Bilo was made acting captain, and again gave account of himself. The home team outclassed their old rivals in every department. The line especially was effective, holding the Stevens' eleven powerless. The pass attack of the Scarlet and Black team was another feature of the game. Fourteen first downs were gained as compared with half as many for the Hoboken men.

Let-downs in Playing
It was a crippled eleven that lost Lebanon Valley by a score of 21-7 at Haverford, October 18, but there was also a let-down noticeable after the victories of the two preceding contests. It was a loosely played game. Haverford's line especially showing the effects of over-confidence. It was only in the last quarter that the home players were able to score after a long pass which took the ball to Lebanon's 40-yard mark. Middleton then intercepted an attempted pass and ran through almost the whole opposing team for the score.

Washington College vanquished Haverford eleven on the 25th by the margin of 6 points, gained on a long pass in the first quarter. Washington led the edge on the home team throughout the contest, but the latter always lightened and held when their goal was threatened. It was in aerial attack that the visitors held the supremacy, completing four out of eleven attempted passes. The Scarlet and Black line did not seem to be effective against the bigger men from Washington.

Slump in Ursinus Game
In the most discouraging game of the season Haverford lost Ursinus by the score of 29-0. The Collegeville team was not as far superior in actual playing ability to Haverford as the score would indicate, but by drive and up a large score. The first downs, which stood 8-7, are more nearly indicative of comparative strength of the two teams. But the forcing of the "breaks" and lack of careless playing on the part of the Ursinus men were the deciding factors.

An immense improvement was evident in the next game, that with Delaware at Newark, Del., which the latter won by the close margin of 8-7. Coach Harman's men gained consistently, not allowing their opponents a single first down in the first three quarters, but their lack of effective pass defense lost the game in the final period when the Delaware team carried the ball down the field with six completed forward passes for the deciding score. A blocked kick, which resulted in a safety for the home team, proved to be the two-point margin that finally won the game. The Delaware team was one of the best that the Haverford eleven has met this season.

Strong Comeback
The Haverford eleven had no trouble in taking the measure of the Juniata team, defeating them by a score of 20-0. Neither team could get started in a running attack, due to the down-pour of sleet and snow which made the going slippery. The feature of the game was Haverford's passing. Seven passes were completed for a total of 153 yards, each throw resulting in a first down or touchdown. The up-State eleven outweighed the Scarlet and Black men considerably.

PAST FOOTBALL GAMES

The following fall, the two colleges sent to the field a particularly evenly matched pair of teams. The grueling fight which ensued finally ended in a 6-0 win for the Scarlet and Black.

Haverford Surprises Garnet
In 1889, Swarthmore had had an excellent season, while Haverford's record was the poorest in the history of her football teams. Naturally, it was a tremendous surprise to both colleges when Haverford fought its way to a 10-4 victory.

In the fall of 1890 began a reign of Garnet supremacy which was to last for five years, when Swarthmore went home with the long end of a 39 to 14 score. Her 61-0 victory the next year was the most overwhelming win ever recorded in the history of Haverford-Swarthmore games.

The Scarlet and Black tried to come back in 1892, but only succeeded in holding her heavy opponents to a 22 to 6 count. For two years in succession, then, the Garnet team white-washed its traditional rivals, 50 to 0 and 32 to 0 telling the stories in '93 and '94.

The tables turned in 1895, and for four years Haverford held the upper hand. The 24-0 win of that year was followed in 1896 by the most decisive conquest ever gained by a Scarlet and Black team, the score being 42 to 6. By contrast, the 8-0 count of 1897 was the closest victory ever registered by either college. In 1898 Haverford won a good game 12 to 0, and this was the last time that the Main Liners put over a shutout defeat.

The Garnet won in the following two years by 32-12 and 17-10 scores; and in 1901 came the first tie game, each team counting six points. Then for three more falls Swarthmore turned in victories, decisive but not crushing, the totals being 22-0, 16-6 and 27-6.

Relations Broken
After the 1904 games, through some mutual understanding, the two colleges broke athletic relations, and for a solid period of ten years the Haverford-Swarthmore football game existed only in memory. Then, in 1914, the two institutions resumed their connection on the gridiron, and the big game again became an annual affair.

The first of this second series of contests ended in a 3-3 tie. The fact that Haverford's field goal was kicked by Crossman, then a freshman, seemed to bode well for future Scarlet and Black eleven. In 1915 the game was a thriller; and Swarthmore's 7-2 lead, gained in the first quarter, was endangered in the final period, when the Garnet line had to hold its opponents for three straight downs on the five-yard mark.

The 1916 game, judging by the records of both teams, was to be a perfect cinch for a football season. Both eleven were ranked among the best in the East, and neither had been defeated. Haverford, with victories over Maryland, F. and M., Dickinson and Hopkins, and tie scores with Stevens, N. Y. U. and Delaware, loomed as a dangerous opponent for any team. But Swarthmore, whose string of wins over such powerful eleven as Lafayette, Penn., F. and M., Ursinus, Hopkins, and Columbia had only been broken by a draw with Dickinson, was the heavy favorite.

Last Victory for Haverford
The first half was fought to a scoreless tie, but after their rest the Scarlet and Black men got started and tore through the Garnet for a touchdown, which was followed by a beautiful 45-yard drop-kick from Crossman's toe, which eventually won the game. Swarthmore put up a desperate struggle in the closing minutes and pushed across a score, but when the final whistle blew, Haverford was at the long end of a 10 to 7 count. Since then, the Scarlet and Black has never been able to claim a football victory over its traditional rival.

In 1917 the Garnet piled up a slaughter score—37 to 7. In 1918 no game was played on account of the war.

Again, in 1919, Swarthmore had no trouble in disposing of Haverford by a 44-0 count. The following fall the Main Line eleven put up a plucky fight, only to succumb, 28-6, to the stronger Garnet men, led by their brilliant open-field runner, Yarnall. The 1921 contest was a Swarthmore walk-over, and 55 to 0 was the final result.

In 1922 the half ended, to the astonishment of all, with Haverford ahead by a 2-0 count. But the miracle was not to be, and a rejuvenated Garnet team pounded out twenty-five points after their opponents had weakened themselves by their wonderful uphill fight.

Last year's game was again predicted as a one-sided contest, but Swarthmore's 3-0 lead was only increased to 17-0 by touchdowns made in the final minute of each half.
