THE OBSERVER

Like the coach, I feel that the only thing to worry about now is the five men in the infirmary and the others who are not going to be able to practice this week.

Penn's plan of starting their so-called second team and then running in the varsity was the best possible thing they could have planned to run up a big score. Their second team took the edge of our team and battered us up in when they ran in their varsity.

Aggravatingly many of our mistakes were in the line. Our line did not work at all on defense or on offense. Worst of all the boys' spirits dropped and their work was purely mechanical. Penn, however, was playing to avenge their defeat of last Saturday and our infirmary list proves it.

New Men Play in Penn Game I look for Haverford spirit to be re-kindled this week. Of the twenty-one men who played Saturday, four played their first varsity game and three their second. They should be primed for the game Saturday. Our line must be drilled in low charging and the entire team in blocking, blocking and pass defense and offense.

The game with Delaware should test the real spirit of our team. It will give the new boys a chance to work into the varsity positions left vacant by injuries this week.

SCARLET AND BLACK ELEVEN OVERPOWERED

scored Penn's fourth touchdown after a steady drive had carried the ball from midfield. The score at half-time stood at 25-0.

Early in the last period Rogers ran forty yards through the whole Haverford team and seemed headed for a touchdown when Brown, a substitute end, brought him to a halt with a great tackle from behind.

Penn's last two touchdowns were the result of forward passes. Freeman carrying the ball across both times, once from thirty yards out, and once from thirty after Penn had recovered a Haverford fumble on the kick-off. At the end of the game Penn had the ball twenty-five yards from the Scarlet and Black goal.

Sumwalt and Busselle, the only two men of Haverford's cripple-line who played the whole game, were the stars of the Scarlet and Black defense. Both fought unswerving and unflinchingly, heavier and stronger line, and both occasionally broke through to smear the runner for a loss. Busselle also recovered two Penn fumbles.

Webster on the offense and Middleton on the defense were the best Haverford backs. Garrett's punting, while he played, was equal to that of Lipsitz and Brown, both playing for the first time on the varsity, showed excellent possibilities in the end positions.

forcing the game till the final whistle blew. When Gates passed to Tent and Tent broke through the defense, the result was the only Main Line tally of the game. Shortly after this penalty was awarded to the Garnet but Neely failed to make it count. Before any further scoring the whistle blew for the end of the game.

For Haverford Tent and Cary were the best men in the line. Armstrong and Silver were good in backing up the fullbacks. Mazine made several pretty stops at goal. Foraythe and Eyrans at the fullback position were certain on all their defensive work.

HAVERFORD HIGH LOSES TO RESERVES BY 26-0

Tripp and Ensworth Make Gains as College Team Outplays Schoolboys

Playing the Schoolboys off their feet, the third team bowled over the Haverford High School aggregation on Friday, November 6. The reserves were able to gain as much ground as was needed, and had the original eleven stayed in the game a much larger score would have been rolled up. For the first time this year the Haverford defense showed full power. J. Fox's line plunging and the off-tackle thrusts of Tripp and Ensworth produced first down after first down.

CORNELL SOCCER TEAM IS CONSIDERED WEAK

Haverford Booters in Good Shape to Meet Ithacans on Saturday

The Cornell soccer team, which Haverford met on '85 field last Saturday, November 14, is considered the weakest team in the Intercollegiate League. This contest will be the second League game for the Main Line as well as for the Ithacans. The Scarlet and Black booters had little difficulty in disposing of the Cornell team last season by a 7-0 score. Cornell's only League match this year was on October 31 against Harvard. In this contest the Cambridge players won, 1-0.

Princeton, which managed to tie Harvard on the same date, has since beaten Harvard by a 4-1 count, the same score by which Penn won from the New Englanders. This would indicate that Penn Haverford and Princeton are about on a par in soccer strength.

Team in Good Condition The Haverford team will be able to put its full strength on the field against the Ithacans. Logan's injury is improving rapidly and he is almost sure to play on Saturday. Shank, who has been alternating with Wood at right half, was out of practice last week on account of a wrenched knee, but expects to be in shape for the Cornell game. The Haverford defense is as strong as it has ever been before and Cornell is not expected to score. Coach McPetee spent a great part of last week in polishing up the work of the forwards and they should make a strong showing against the Cornell backfield.

NEW RULE SUGGESTED

Football Quarters May Be Measured by Number of Plays An innovation in football games was tried out in the Brown-Boston University contest. A period was measured by forty plays completed or attempted rather than a given number of minutes elapsed. The object of this method is to prevent the eleven that is ahead from stalling in order to keep their lead. This change has been agitated in football official circles. It will be taken up for consideration at the next meeting of the Football Rules Committee.

SCHEDULE COMPLETED FOR BASKETBALL TEAM

Practice Started by Coach Halas for Opening Game With Drexel

Manager Roedelheim has now completed the schedule for this year's basketball team and plans for the season are well underway. The season will open on December 12th with Drexel. Fifteen games will be played in all. Coach Halas will again coach the team and this year the prospects for a winning quintet are bright. On Tuesday evening the third basketball meeting was held for all prospective candidates. The Coach deplored the fact that a late start was necessary as so many men were now participating in other activities.

Freshmen Prospects Good At the same meeting the prospects from the Freshman class were interviewed as to their former experience and several good players were discovered. However the Freshmen will have to show exceptional skill in order to displace such veterans from the squad as Captain Garrett, Logan, Melchior, Mitchell, Richardson and Vogel all of whom saw service in last year's games.

RHINIES PLAY JUNIORS IN FOOTBALL TOMORROW

Coach Harmon Again Offers Cup for Interclass Football Championship

Competition for the Inter-class Football Cup will be opened tomorrow with a game between the Freshmen and the Juniors on Walton Field. One game will be played between each class, except in the case of a tie, which will necessitate a play-off; and the cup will be awarded to the team winning the most games. The management of the game is under the direction of Assistant Coach "Wes" Heilmann, '24, who has arranged the schedule so that these games will occur on Tuesdays and Thursdays. All undergraduates, other than those on the varsity squad, are eligible to play.

The Inter-class Football Cup was offered for the first time last year by Coach Harmon, and was won by '27 under the leadership of Captain Gibson. The purpose of offering a permanent cup for interclass competition is to uncover any potential football stars that may exist among the men trying out for other sports, and to bring out the latent ability in men that have not yet wholly made good, in football.

FISHER CALLS WORLD COURT A NECESSITY

that there is only one World Court available. Moreover, unless our United States joins the League of Nations there is no practical way in sight for our joining the World Court system that which was worked out by Secretaries Hughes and approved by Presidents Harding and Coolidge, as well as supported by the party platforms of both political parties. There is no excuse, therefore, for making a political issue out of the Court, and any man who, like Senator Horah, talks about repudiating the party pledge and refusing to support President Coolidge is simply an obstructionist and nothing more. It is utterly impossible for them constructively to give us what we fundamentally need in any other way, but it is possible for Forah and others in the strategic position in the Senate to obstruct and thwart this most fundamental project. There is genuine danger that they will do so unless the practically unanimous approval of the United States becomes sufficiently vocal. I believe the students of our universities, many of whom are already voters and the rest of whom will soon become so, can assert a tremendous influence with the Senate, especially by writing personal letters to their own Senators and in other ways bringing to public attention their support of the World Court proposition.

The record of the Court thus far is good. It already has more authority than our Supreme Court acquired in the same space of time. It is not necessary to argue the question of the League of Nations. This is not the question before the Senate in December, but the Hughes plan. Under that plan we can join the Court without committing ourselves to anything further, and after we have done so we shall be in a better position to judge how much further, if at all, we wish to go.

The great necessity today is to back up the President in the greatest step forward toward peace America has yet taken.

A Story of Love and Youth

"The Keeper of the Bees"

By
Gene Stratton-Porter

Author of

A Girl of the Limberlost, The White Flag, Her Father's Daughter, Laddie, At the Foot of the Rainbow, and other stories.

Just before a trolley car crashed into the limousine in which Gene Stratton-Porter was riding on the streets of Los Angeles, Calif., on December 6, 1924, when she was killed, this "well-beloved" authoress had finished writing this, her last, romance—the most unusual of her many splendid novels.

You will want to read this story—

Every now and then some author writes a story that is so fine and noble that it thrills all who read it as it tells of a splendid love, has the zest of action and sets the example of a clean, unstanding character. Such a story is "The Keeper of the Bees."

Chivalry, devotion and affection are not dead—was the contention of Mrs. Porter, and in this story she shows that they still exist.

In keeping with its policy of giving its readers the best serial stories The Bulletin has made arrangements whereby its more than three million readers may have an opportunity of reading this excellent story in daily instalments.

Imagine this situation—

A war-torn soldier overhears the doctors give up hope for his recovery. So one day he slips out of the government hospital, and tottering down toward the sea, he starts, penniless and weak, on his great adventure.

Within a few days he finds a home, becomes a bee-keeper in a green little California valley, and marries a girl he sees only through a veil, whose very name is unknown to him. And five minutes after his strange marriage his unknown bride departs without a word of farewell!

The possibilities in such a situation would make you read a story by any author. When it's by Gene Stratton-Porter it's irresistible.

"The Keeper of the Bees" will appear in daily serial form in

The Evening Bulletin.
