NETMEN SCORE FOURTH CONQUEST OF SEASON

Drexel, St. Joe's, and Delaware Eastly Downed During Past Week

The Haverford tennis team added three more victories to its string during the past week at the expense of Drexel, St. Joseph's and Delaware.

On Saturday the tennis team journeyed to Delaware to score another victory, winning 5-1. A high wind marred this match, making good tennis virtually impossible.

LYLOYD AND CENTRE WIN OPENING DORM TILTS

Merion Unable to Overcome Early Lead; Huelle Allows Three Hits

The intra-annual baseball season opened last week when Lloyd defeated Merion and Centre beat North. In spite of the scores, 1:2 and 8-4, both games were fairly even contested.

The Lloyd-Merion fray, on Thursday, looked at the start like a walkaway for the victors, but later Merion bit its stride and held its own, although unable to overcome the commanding lead obtained by its opponents in the first three innings.

Centre's victory over North on Friday was in many respects similar to that of Lloyd the day before. After allowing four runs to be scored on the line in the first three innings, the Rhinies rallied and tied their opponents during the remaining four.

North Pitchers Routed

Three North pitchers were knocked out of the box before Morris, the North star, arrived on the scene and succeeded in quelling the disturbance.

FRESHMAN TENNIS MATCH

Oppose Lower Merion in First Contest of Season

The Lower Merion tennis team will serve as the opposition in the opening match of the freshman tennis season on Thursday.

The Freshman team has not been picked as yet, but it is sure to be a powerful aggregation, for there is exceptionally good material to be found among the first year men.

THREE OPPONENTS IN WEEK FOR RACQUETERS

Three matches are scheduled for the varsity tennis team this week. The first match will be played on Monday, while Ursinus will also be met on the home courts on Wednesday.

The Ursinus team is an unknown quantity as they have not played any matches so far this season and the contest last year was called off on account of inclement weather.

Considering the form shown by the Haverford team, however, the indications all point to another victory of the Scarlet and Black.

ARTICLE BY HINGHAM IN MAY HAVERFORDIAN

"Trends in Modern Poetry" Contributed by Former English Professor

"Trends in Modern Poetry" an article by Walter Swain Hingham '00, master of English in Groton School from 1901 to 1920 and professor of English at Haverford from 1920 to 1922, will be the feature of the May issue of the Haverfordian which will appear about April 20.

Walter Hingham was at present poetry editor of The Forum, a widely known literary magazine. He is also the author of a number of books, "Lives of Great English Writers," his first work, was published in 1910. Since that time he has written five other books among which are "William of Normandy," and a "History of American Literature."

Spanish Intrigue
John D. Carr, '29, whose story of the French Revolution will appear in the April Haverfordian was very favorably commented upon by critics of the magazine, has written a story of Spanish intrigue and romance entitled "The Din Queen" for the May issue. "You See It Was This Way," a story by Richard C. Bull, '28, and "The Thirty to Seven A. D.," by R. C. Miller, '26, will also be included in the issue.

Two sonnets, "I Dreamed," by Robert Barry, '26, and "The Shade of Time" by Brewster Linn, '28, will complete the table of contents. A short poem by Linn entitled "A Jest," also appeared in the April Haverfordian. "The Pagan," one of the two poems by Barry to appear in this issue was reprinted in the New Student, of March 31. The frontispiece of the May issue will be an illustration by Fredric Prokosch, '28.

According to custom, the May Haverfordian will be the last number published by the 1925-26 editorial board headed by Robert Barry, editor-in-chief. The June number will be edited by the new staff for 1926-27 which will be elected some time this month.

SOLOS BY HENRY SUCH BROADCAST FROM WABQ

Pupils of Seymour Studios Give Varied Program in Recital

A delightful program of classical music rendered by a consummate artist, Henry Such was broadcast, Mr. Such was accompanied at the piano by his wife, Beatrice Such, an accompanist of great experience.

With a remarkably delicate delivery and extraordinary technical skill, Henry Such rendered eight selections from celebrated composers including Guizraud, Wieniawski and Rachmaninoff. Though all of Mr. Such's pieces were played with marvelous skill and interpretation, "Arioso," one of his own compositions, was perhaps the most perfectly rendered.

Encores by Such

Three encores were given, of which the most exquisite was "The Spanish Dance" by Granados and Kreisler. Another composition of Kreisler's, "Variations on a Theme by Corbelli," written in conjunction with Tartini was played during the evening. Two selections from Wieniawski were also given, "Arioso" and "Romance" and "Final" from the second concerto in D minor.

Another celebrated artist of international repute broadcast from WABQ last week when Augusto Fabrial, but, assisted in a recital given by the pupils of the Arthur Seymour Vocal Studios at 8 o'clock Friday evening. Mr. Seymour himself, a well-known baritone, took part in the recital.

Boy Soprano Broadcasts

The program offered by Mr. Seymour's pupils consisted of fifteen numbers and was unusually varied in its make-up. Violin solos by Meyer Sinkin, nineteen year old Penn student and pupil of Such, and vocal solos by Thomas Fischer, twelve-year-old boy soprano of St. Mark's choir, were features.

Five selections were played by Meyer Sinkin accompanied by Beatrice Such, "Mighty Lak a Rose," by Nevin, a popular love song of yesterday, and "Ave Maria," by Schubert, an exquisite classical composition, were particularly finely interpreted by Mr. Sinkin. Thomas Fischer, who was hardly tall enough to sit into the microphone, gave his selections in a clear soprano voice and never once faltered at the high notes.

PLAY SEEN AT GOUCHER AND WEST CHESTER CLUB

First Two Performances of "Captain Applejack" Last Week

The annual Cap and Bells play season was opened last week when "Captain Applejack" was presented to large audiences at Goucher College and West Chester. The first public performance was witnessed at Catherine Hooper Hall, Goucher College on Friday evening by about four hundred people. The audience at the New Century Club at West Chester on Saturday was somewhat smaller.

The title role was filled by J. T. Stokes, '28. The part is one of extraordinary length and considerable difficulty and was performed more than creditably. The transition required of him from a respectable English householder in the first act to a pirate captain in the second, was executed with perfect ease and notable success.

Dance Proceeds Play
J. D. Joly, '28, acted the part of Mme. Valere, the Russian dancer, with a most seductive effect. The part of Poppy Faire, the demure ward of the hero, was taken by T. Whiteley, '28, in sharp contrast to Joly's effort, with an air of extreme innocence. E. Hagenauer, '29, played the part of Ivan Borolaky, a Russian spy, supported by R. Marshall, G. S. and L. L. Elbered, '28, as Mr. and Mrs. Pengard. W. E. Mead, '26, made his customary appearance as an elderly matron in the part of Mrs. Agatha Whatcombe, Poppy's aunt. Lush, the Applejack's butler was acted by S. F. Baldwin, '28. Dennet, a policeman, was played by F. M. Burgess, '28, and Johnny Jason by R. O. Miller, '26.

The performance at Goucher was preceeded by a tea dance

Are You Going Into the Bond Business?

There is a cycle of fashion not only for the hats college men wear but for the line of work into which they go.

But your job has to fit your head as well as your hat, for it has to fit your state of mind.

Like your hat also, your job needs to fit your purse.

Therefore, why not choose one that brings not only satisfaction in service but in financial return.

Selling life insurance is one of the few modern businesses that does just this.

It takes: Intelligence, Zeal and Ability

It gives: Liberty of action, the philosophic satisfaction of selling future security and present serenity to living people, and a response, immediate and tangible, in monetary as well as mental reward.

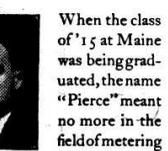

Complete and confidential information, without any obligation on your part, can be obtained by writing to the Inquery Bureau, John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company, 197 Clarendon Street, Boston, Massachusetts.

They call it the "Pierce Type"

When the class of '15 at Maine was being graduated, the name "Pierce" meant no more in the field of metering than Sweeney or Jones. Today, however, if you'll talk to such companies as the Detroit Edison Company, The Southern California Edison Company, the Duquesne Light Company, or the United Verde Copper Company, you'll learn that "Pierce" means a type of remote metering, which enables a man in a central dispatcher's office to read the condition of a sub-station several miles away. Superpower brought in the need for an improved method of remote metering, and R. T. Pierce, Maine '15, in the employ ment in the instrument section of the engineering department. He took it merely as a "fill-in" job. Soon he saw that instruments play a vital part in every electrical operation. As an instrument engineer, Pierce spent several weeks on the U. S. S. Tennessee and the Colorado during their trial runs. He has ridden in the cabs of electric locomotives. He is in closer touch with radio than anyone not a radio engineer.

A design engineer comes continuously in contact with sales negotiations, and Pierce's contact with them proved so beneficial that he was lately made head of the Instrument Section of the Sales Department, which means that he really has charge of the sale of all instruments to Westinghouse customers.

The question is sometimes asked: Where do young men get when they enter a large industrial organization? Have they opportunity to exercise creative talents? Or are they forced into narrow grooves?

This series of advertisements throws light on these questions. Each advertisement takes up the record of a college man who came with the Westinghouse Company within the last ten years or so, after graduation.
