VOLUME 27—NUMBER 25 HAVERFORD (AND ARDMORE), PA., TUESDAY, MAY 5, 1936

$2.00 A YEAR

Lester, '37, Heads Students' Assoc., Evans Made Sec'y.

New President Active In Many Campus Organizations Evans On Track Team

J. A. Lester, Jr., '37, was elected president of the Students' Association Tuesday by a preferential ballot. At the same time, S. R. Evans was elected secretary. They both assumed their new duties on Thursday.

Lester was enrolled at Hill School, Pottstown, Pa., before he entered Haverford. During his four years there he was a member of the track squad, a literary editor of the school magazine, vice-president of the Science Club and was on the honor roll. He graduated with cum laude honors.

Entering Haverford in 1933, Lester proved his ability for scholarship by winning second highest position in the class for which he received a Corporation scholarship for his Sophomore year. Also as a freshman, he won class numerals in track and was a member of the Glee Club. In class elections the following year, Lester received the position of Treasurer. Among other extra-curricular activities he entered in the sophomore year were Press Bureau and Janitors School, where he taught English grammar, and he was again a member of the Glee Club. In the spring he was awarded a letter for varsity track.

Heads Janitors' School

During the present year, Lester has entered still more activities and retained or advanced his position in others. He became Head of the Janitors' School and continued his duties as English teacher. For the first time, he went out for varsity soccer and at the end of the season received a letter. He was elected to the Haverfordian board, became a member of the Students' Council, was appointed chairman of the Student Extension Committee and was elected Vice-president of

F. Nulsen, '37, Elected To Presidency Of Chem Club; Reagan Is Sec'y.

F. E. Nulsen, '37, and L. B. Reagan, '38, were elected president and secretary respectively of the Chemistry Club at the meeting held Wednesday. Nulsen was previously secretary of the club. He is business manager of the News, assistant business manager of the Glee Club and has previously served as vice-president of his class.

Reagan is a Corporation scholar, vice-president of his class, member of the varsity track squad and has played varsity football and Jayvee basketball. The club gave a vote of appreciation for Professor William E. Meldrum's assistance in arranging programs and also expressed its gratitude for the capable management on the part of president A. W. Stokes, '36.

The program for the evening included the discussion of various papers on radioactivity. The speakers were L. E. Morris, Jr., '36, W. H. Daudt, '37, P. P. Rodman, '37, and V. S. deBeausset, '38. This was the last meeting of the club until next year.

RITTENHOUSE IS BACK

Professor Leon H. Rittenhouse, who has been on sabbatical leave owing to bad health, recently returned from Sea Island Beach, Georgia, where he has been recuperating during the last few weeks. His condition is greatly improved, according to Mrs. Rittenhouse.

Hoover Takes 1st In "Time" Contest

Loesche, Bell, D. Miller Get Other Awards In Competition

J. D. Hoover, '37, is the winner of the $25 first place prize in the "Time" contest held Saturday in Roberts Hall, Professor John G. Herndon, director of the contest at Haverford, announced yesterday. Hoover, who is a Sociology major, answered 98 of the 105 questions correctly. 69 undergraduates competed for the prizes which total $75.

Second and third prizes of $15 and $10 will be divided between W. H. Loesche, '36, and H. H. Bell, '38, who each made a grade of 91. Loesche is an Economics major, while Bell is specializing in History. Fourth prize of $5 goes to J. D. Miller, Jr., '36, who scored 90 in the test. He is also a Sociology major.

Four prizes of $5 each were also awarded to the highest ranking

Class Of '36 Tested For T. B. News Gets Inside Information

Significance Of Tests Explained By Physicians; Haverford One Of First Colleges In Country To Administer Them

By G. E. Poole, '38

Interviewing Dr. Herbert W. Taylor, College physician, and a physician from the Phipps Institute, the News reporter obtained the inside information on the recent tuberculin tests of the Senior class. This is the first year that the Seniors have been tested, after having had one or two tests before during their College career. The authorities decided that it would not be worthwhile to test students who had reacted positively in their rhinitis tests to see whether they had been subject to any exposure during their college course and also as a check-up on those who were x-rayed four years ago to see if there was any change in their condition.

The physicians explained the full significance of those terms, vague to the average student, positive and negative reaction. It is felt that the majority of students aren't thoroughly aware of the significance of these terms. As the doctor from the Phipps Institute explained it, a negative reaction means that the individual shows no signs of ever having been in contact with the disease. This does not mean, however, that he is free from all danger of ever getting tuberculosis, or that he is immune. On the contrary, he probably has a slightly greater chance of getting it than does the student with a positive reaction. Those students who show such a reaction are not required to have an x-ray taken.

If you show a positive reaction in your rhinitis year, you are told that you must have an x-ray taken and on the face of it you apparently have tuberculosis. This is not, however, usually the case. A positive reaction means one of three things: either you are carrying the germ and do not have the disease yourself, or you have had a slight case of the disease and have overcome it, or you have an active case of the disease, in which case you should undergo medical treatment for it.

In the four years that Haverford has been giving these tests, no one has shown evidence of the last case. But the fact is that every year over fifty per cent of the class have shown positive reactions. This does not signify that Haverfordians are especially tubercular and it is not a bad sign. Rather it is

Huge Throng Gathers For Alumni Day Program; President Urges Contributions In Final Drive For $150,000 Fund Which Will Close June 6

Dr. Comfort Proposes Permanent Plan For Gifts By Alumni

Cadbury, G-Man Speak

With only $57,000 collected or pledged a year after he had announced the Centenary Drive to wipe a debt of $150,000 off the books of the Corporation of Haverford College, President William W. Comfort appealed to the alumni Saturday for further contributions and stated that the drive would officially end on graduation day in June.

For the benefit of alumni who may want some excuse for not contributing in the future, Dr. Comfort gave some of those which he had received during the past year, such as: "not enough athletics," "you don't get jobs for all your graduates," and "College isn't as poor as I am." Viewing the fact that $79 alumni contributed only $57,000, he said he realized that too high a goal had been set and proposed a permanent plan by which alumni would contribute annually to a fund which should be used at the discretion of Alumni representatives and the Board of Managers.

Cadbury Speaks on China
In the first scheduled address of the Alumni Banquet, Dr. William W. Cadbury, '98, superintendent of the Canton Hospital and Professor of Medicine at Lingnan University, spoke on "The Crisis in the Far East." Briefly outlining the history of China, he pointed out how

MATH CLUB ELECTS

At a meeting of the Mathematics Club held Monday, April 25, P. M. Whitman, and K. A. Beck, both of '37, were elected president and secretary, respectively. Whitman is a Corporation scholar and Beck is a varsity track man. The meeting was the last which will be held this year.

Class Of 1886 Holds Reunion Alumni Day

Seventy-five per cent of the living members of the Class of '86, William P. Morris, Alexander H. Scott, and Horace E. Smith, came back to old stomping grounds to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of their graduation Saturday. Only Wilfred W. White, who is a farmer and fruit grower in Newberg, Oregon, was unable to attend the "grand reunion" held at Mr. Smith's prior to the Alumni banquet.

Speaking for the rest of his "cronies," Mr. Smith said that the college was totally changed. He jibed at the way students are picked for Haverford now, claiming that "they pick them for the 'educational bean.'" "In our day, they picked us because we were a bunch of thugs," he boasted.

William H. Savery, ex-'86, joined his three classmates at Mr. Smith's before the dinner. There were only eleven in that class at graduation.

Annual Banquet Here On May 13th

Cap And Bells Will Dine In Alumni Room At Seven

Plans were made for the annual banquet of the Cap and Bells Club at a meeting of the executive committee last Saturday. President M. A. Laverty, '17, presiding. It will be given Thursday, May 14, at 7 o'clock in the Alumni Room of Founders Hall.

Preceding the banquet it will be decided, there is to be a meeting in the Union at 6 for the purpose of discussing the financial situation of the club and the election of officers and new members for the coming year. The nominating committee for this occasion will be Professor A. Jardine Williamson, Ralph Mellor, '99, and W. E. Shepard II, '36.

Elliot Field, '97, well known as the composer of many Haverford songs, will preside at the banquet as toastmaster, and since there will be no main speaker of the evening, he is expected to extend an invitation to all present, both alumni and undergraduates, to speak. It is hoped that there will be approximately 75 in attendance.

Speakers Selected For The Annual Soph-Frosh Contest On Thursday

Thursday night, May 7, the annual Freshman-Sophomore contest in public speaking for the Everett Society medals will be held in the Union. The medals were originally presented to the winning team in an extemporaneous debate. However, the participants may now speak on any subject which they wish and the prize is awarded to the team giving the best speeches.

Those who will participate in this year's contest are D. G. Hunter, Jr., '39, who will speak on "Streamlining," A. Lowry, '39, describing "Cezanne's Contribution to Modern Art," J. F. Wilson, Jr., '39, speaking on "My Generation and the Present Nationalistic Trend," T. K. Saylor, Jr., '38, speaking on "The Just Man,"

Reunions And Banquet Climax Activities Of Homecoming Day

350 At Alumni Dinner

With perfect May weather prevailing in spite of early morning threats of rain, over 1,000 alumni, students and guests of Haverford thronged the college campus on Saturday, renewing old acquaintances and sharing in the many activities of the Alumni Day program.

On Walton Field they watched Haverford come from behind and then walk away from Franklin and Marshall and Ursinus in a triangular track meet; they saw the home team nosed out in a close ball game with Johns Hopkins; they viewed the downfall of the Gettysburg tennis team at the hands of the Scarlet and Black netmen; and they saw the Alumni outscored by the undergraduates in cricket. Then 350 or more alumni climaxed the day with a banquet in historic Founders Hall, where Dr. William W. Cadbury, '98, Reed E. Vetterli and President William W. Comfort addressed the diners.

Large Crowd Sees Sports

Dividing its time almost equally between the track oval, the ball diamond, the tennis courts and the market cross, the Upper Darby High School band provided music for the assembled throngs. With ears pricked for the shot of the starter's gun or the crack of the bat, spectators rushed back and forth between the baseball game and the track meet. After five hitless innings, the visiting medics nicknamed "Ham" Welbourne for one run in the sixth and two in the seventh and then kept their lead to win over the local batsmen, 4-1. Overcoming a lead established in the first two events by Franklin and Marshall, Haverford's well-balanced track team remained undefeated in four starts, scoring 71 points to Franklin and Marshall's

Maxfield Chosen Smith Prize Winner For Best Library Among Seniors

D. K. Maxfield has been awarded the $50 Logan Peersall Smith prize which is given annually to that Senior who has the best library. It was announced Friday in Collection.

Three hundred books comprise the winning library. It excels mainly in the field of English literature, though it volumes on historical subjects also have a wide representation. According to Maxfield the books were bought mostly at second-hand from book shops in the Philadelphia area.

The prize money is contributed half by Mr. E. S. McCawley and half by Christopher Morley.

H. W. Taylor, '37, Chosen Secretary Of Athletic Comm.

Council Selects Holzer And Lester To Be Representatives

MacIntosh Aids Comm.

H. W. Taylor, Jr., '37, was chosen secretary of the Executive Athletic committee for next year by the Students' Council last week. C. E. Holzer, Jr., and J. A. Lester, Jr., '37, were appointed at the same time to serve as undergraduate representatives on this committee, which is made up largely of Alumni.

The committee has complete executive authority over all athletic activities on the campus and makes final decisions as to the scheduling of games, appointments of coaches and managers, awarding of letters, and the disbursement of funds. Dean Archibald MacIntosh, as Graduate Manager of Athletics, does most of the contact work in connection with coaches and the like, and then passes all information on to the committee as a whole for final consideration and decision.

Is Council Member

Taylor has for three years been varsity fullback on the football team and is Captain-elect of next year's team. He is a member of the track squad.

Holzer is this year's captain of the track team and is one of three tied in holding the College 100-yard dash record. He has been a varsity football player for two seasons and was recently chosen the first president of the newly formed Varsity Club.

Lester was recently elected the new president of the Students' Association. In athletics he has participated in both soccer and track, and is also head of the Janitors' School.

White And Williams On News; Wilbur Resigns

Two members of the Class of '39 were elected to the News board at the monthly meeting held in the Union last Tuesday night. R. M. White was chosen a member of the Business board and D. N. Williams is now on the Sports staff. Both are members of the Press Bureau.

C. E. Wilbur, '37, also tendered his resignation as Managing Editor after serving three years on the News. The resignation was accepted with regrets.

Stone, '30, Lone Haverfordian In Diplomatic Service; 3 Aspire

Morris And Wilson, '31, Crawford, '36, Prepare For U. S. Govt. Examinations; Stone Is Vice-Consul At Warsaw

By W. B. Kriebel, '38

This month, for the first time in three or four years, the United States Government is giving an examination for would-be diplomats. Among the aspirants will be Brewster Morris and Evan Wilson, both '31.

What must you do to qualify for such an examination, and what is the life of a diplomat like? Though he professes to know little about the latter, W. A. Crawford, '36, who has been planning for several years to be a diplomat, has gathered information on the first point. This is corroborated by Professor John G. Herndon, who made a study of the government examinations in 1932, and who comments that the life of a diplomat is "not particularly exciting."

Will Study In France

After graduation, Crawford plans to go to France to study at the Ecole des Sciences Politiques, in Paris. This institution, which is not a state school but which is connected with the diplomatic service, is one from which many French diplomats graduate. Crawford spent his junior year in France last year, studying at the School of Political Science and the College de France, under Bernard Fay, and expects to spend two more years studying in France.

Before taking the government examination in Washington, D. C., however, he plans to attend the Roudybush School there. This school has assumed the position which was held by the old Angus McDonald Crawford School, that of preparing and polishing up aspiring diplomats for the examination. The course is of five months duration and only college graduates are admitted.

What are the subjects with which an applicant for foreign service should be familiar? Among the outstanding are world history, maritime law, international law, and economics. What should one major in, in college, if one intends to be a diplomat? The director of the Roudybush School is of the opinion, according to Crawford, that the best thing for a college student to do is to major in something like English. They prefer to teach you at that school what government and history you will need to know.

Stone Holds Post At Warsaw

This month, however, will see Morris and Wilson, whom Dr. Herndon describes as well qualified, take the first examination offered for some time. In the 200 colleges with men in the diplomatic field, Haverford is included—it has supplied one man.

This one man is John Freeman Stone, '30, vice-consul at Warsaw. Entering Haverford from Haverford School, he went abroad the summer of his graduation from here and studied at Geneva. Remaining in the United States, he then studied at Washington for the summer at the Crawford School. In May, 1931, he was appointed to Berlin, until July, 1934, when he married in Washington.

He has been in Warsaw ever since, said Dr. Herndon, who visited him and his wife for a week last summer. Recently Mr. and Mrs. Stone made a visit at Vienna to the American Minister, Austria, Mr. Messersmith, who used to be Consul General at Berlin.

May 17th Orchard Fest Is Rehearsed; To Give Scene From "Wm. Tell"

Rehearsals are in progress for the apple-shooting scene from Schiller's "Wilhelm Tell," part of the German program of the orchard festival to be held Sunday afternoon, May 17.

German students, Mr. and Mrs. Dean P. Lockwood, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pfund take parts. Swarthmore and Bryn Mawr Colleges are also to be represented in the festival, to which everyone will be invited.

Following a rehearsal at Pfund's Sunday night, some thirty Haverfordians and Bryn Mawr German students participated in an informal singing of German songs. The next play rehearsals will be tonight and tomorrow night in the orchard at 7:15.

Field Club And Biology Students Visit Jersey Pine Barrens Sunday

Led by Professor Howard K. Henry, a group of twenty Haverfordians, members of the Field Club and biology students spent Sunday in the Pine Barrens of New Jersey. This region is unique in the fact that it contains specimens of animal and floral life which are peculiar both to the South and the North, and are found nowhere else in this section of the country.

Although a few of the party left the previous evening, a spent Saturday night hunting an animal known as Anderson's Tree Frog, the main group arrived the next afternoon, when the entire delegation visited the North Plains, a 16000 acres of strangely situated region, embracing approximately plant life. The pines in this section, though, some at 30 to 40 years old, attain a height of only six feet.

The trip was of special interest to the members of the Biology course who utilized the opportunity to find specimens for their insect collections.

'39 Yet To Choose; Barclay Is Open

With only a few room choices to be made by the Class of '38 yesterday afternoon, the blueprints in the office showed definitely that Lloyd Hall, Founders and Merion are the most popular dormitories. There remain open only three suites in old Lloyd and four in new Lloyd. Except for a few large rooms, Founders Hall is completely filled, while only six rooms are open in Merion. Like Merion Annex, however, Barclay Hall is almost completely open. The tower is, as usual, taken.

Dunn Tells Of Field Trip In Costa Rica

Letter Mentions Travel Incidents, Finding Rare Reptiles

Professor Emmet R. Dunn, in a letter to Howard K. Henry, Instructor in Botany, dated April 13, tells of his activities to date on his trip to Costa Rica to observe and collect reptiles and amphibians.

During the week previous to the letter, Dr. Dunn and his wife made a field trip about Canas and Tilaran, on the Pacific side north of Puentas Arenas, personally conducted by the director of the Museo Nacional. Many rare specimens were obtained, some of which Dr. Dunn had never previously seen alive. He mentions seeing "lots of big rock iguanas along the road and also lots of howling monkeys, out in plain sight and not at all disturbed by people; plenty of orchids and some very handsome flowering trees."

See Passion Play

"They held a quite crude and primitive, but impressive and moving ceremony at Canas on Good Friday, sort of a Passion Play....." writes Dr. Dunn. "We would have liked pictures but felt rather that it might seem irrelevant so didn't. The local cure was a perfectly charming old fellow who had been there for thirty years."

The Dunns are staying at the Gran Hotel Europa in San Jose, where they are served "simply enormous meals," with steak every day for lunch.

Feels Slight Earthquake

Dr. Dunn has also been working on the local reptile collections. He has turned up one new species. On his field trips, he has also discovered a frog new to the country.

One day while he was at San Jose, he felt a slight earthquake. He also writes of visiting "a most wonderful" collection of orchids which included all the local varieties as well as many others. Another time, he encountered a wildcat English expedition with "wild ideas about lost cities and buried treasure."

Chemistry Chosen As Major Subject By 16 Sophomores

Economics, History And Engineering Rank Close Behind

4 Depts. Not Selected

For the third successive year more students have chosen Chemistry as their major than any other department in the College, according to the registration for majors completed Friday, May 1. Economics, History, and Engineering, respectively, were the next most popular choices of the 91 Sophomores planning to return to Haverford in the fall.

The number of Chemistry majors in the Sophomore Class is sixteen. There are seventeen and twelve in the present Junior and Senior Classes. Chemistry has not always, however, been the favorite major selection, the usual number choosing it having varied in previous years between two and seven men. Fourteen chose the Economics Department this year, as compared to seven Juniors majoring it in and ten Seniors. Twelve from the Class of '38 will major in History, while at present there are four Juniors and nine Seniors in the department.

Ten Choose Engineering

Engineering attracted ten Sophomores as compared to five of '37 and eight of '36. Eight, several of whom will be studying in Germany next year, have registered for German; there are only four Juniors and two Seniors in this department. Six English majors applied, this compares with eight Juniors and six Seniors.

Government and Biology will have five new majors each. At present there are eight Juniors and five Seniors in the former department; the latter has three and two. The same number, four, will major in Mathematics and French as in the Junior Class. There are no Senior French majors and only one in Mathematics.

Philosophy Suffers Loss

There will be two members of the Class of 1938 in Physics and Philosophy. In the former department there are one Junior and three Seniors, and in the latter there are three Juniors and five Seniors. There will be three new majors in Sociology, as compared to two each of the previous years.

No Sophomores have decided to major in any of the other major departments, Astronomy, Biblical Literature, Latin, and Greek. At present there is one Junior majoring in Astronomy, and one Senior is majoring both in Greek and Latin.

Kingdon To Talk Sun. At Joint Friends Forum

Dr. Frank Kingdon, President of the University of Newark, will speak at the Haverford Friends Meeting House on Sunday, May 10 at 8 P. M. His subject will be "Building an American Culture." Dr. Kingdon is well known as a writer and speaker on social and economic issues, and has built up a reputation as a liberal thinker. It was his article in the Peace Digest which was plagiarized and received the $5,000 Eddie Cantor Peace Prize last month.

NEWS OF INTEREST TO ALUMNI

Five-Year Classes Return On Friday To Hold Reunions

Dinners, Cap And Bells Play, Dance, Feature Entertainment

'35 Has Largest Group

Planned reunions of nine classes and informal reunions of the members of many others featured the pre-Alumni Day program on Friday and the activities of the "Big Day" itself on Saturday. Over 150 alumni returned to Haverford for class dinners and meetings the first night, and a large number of these then attended the Cap and Bells performance of "Bird in Hand" in Roberts Hall and the dance in the gym.

Founders Hall was the scene of two reunion banquets, with over 15 members of the Class of 1901 meeting in the small dining room on the first floor at 7, and a total of 37 members, wives and friends of the Class of 1931 gathering in the Alumni Room for a buffet supper at 6 o'clock. The 1901 committee was headed by William E. Cadbury and the other members were Ellis Y. Brown, Jr., and Arthur R. Yearsley.

'31 Elects Historian

Nearly half of the graduating members of the Class of '31 were represented by the 23 who attended. Following the supper, a business meeting was held which resulted in the creation of a new post, Class Historian, filled by Thomas Burns, and the election of William N. Maier to the position of treasurer to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Robert O. Rice. K. Ray Katz, president of the Class, came up from Richmond to preside over the meeting. A special folder was prepared for the occasion by H. W. Reinsner and the committee, which included information concerning the business activities, families and addresses of all members of the Class.

Whitehall Hotel in Haverford was the scene of reunion dinners for three of the returning classes, 21 members of the Class of 1926 were present at their meeting, while the Classes of 1911 and 1921 gathered with 15 and "about ten" members respectively. Besides those who came to the dinner, the Class of '26 reported that 22 were heard from by letter or telegram, the farthest message coming from the Philippine Islands. Letters from absent members were read at the '11 reunion meeting, and several more members were present on Saturday to participate in the twenty-fifth anniversary activities of that Class. The members of the Class of '21 went over to their headquarters in Lloyd after the dinner, where John Macadang showed moving pictures, taken at their tenth reunion in 1931.

The Class of 1916 held their dinner at the Merion Golf Club, after an afternoon of golf and tennis. A good percentage of the Class was present for this twentieth reunion and more came the next day to follow the general program. The youngest of all alumni, the Class of 1935, held their banquet at Erskine Hall, with 36 of the members present.

Addresses Alumni

Edward T. Comfort, '78, Retired Merchant, Dies

Edward T. Comfort, '78, died last Sunday at his home, Dongan Hills, Staten Island, where he had been living for nearly twenty years. The uncle of President W. W. Comfort, he was 77 years old, and previous to his retirement from business in 1913 he had been a prominent Philadelphia merchant.

While at Haverford, he was the captain of the cricket team and was chosen permanent president of his class. He was a member of the Manheim Cricket Club for many years.

The meeting adjourned early in order to allow them to attend the Cap and Bells play and dance. An informal reunion dinner was held by six members of the Class of 1906 who returned for their thirtieth anniversary, while a larger number visited the College at some time during the Alumni Day activities. The Class of 1928 met informally on Saturday, although many of the members were here to attend the play and dance. This Class has met for reunion every year since graduation. Keely Fox, chairman of the committee, announced.

Many of the other classes held informal meetings, while all those which had definite reunion plans for May 1 increased their numbers sizeably on Saturday. All the "five-year" Classes were represented by committees who worked hard to make their reunions and the general Alumni Day week-end a success, and several of the Classes of next year's "five-year" list have already made tentative plans.

Severe Famine Felt In Part of China Where Simkin, '03, Is Teaching

Dr. William W. Cadbury, '98, recently called to the attention of a News reporter an article in the New York Times for April 19, which deals with the severe famine now being felt in the province of Szechwan, China, the home of Robert L. Simkin, '03. Mr. Simkin is now completing his twenty-ninth year as a representative of Haverford in Chengtu at the West China Union University, the only one of its kind in the province of Szechwan.

The article states that 15,000,000 deaths in that district are feared by the authorities because of the absolute barrenness and destitution in that area. It is considered as the worst famine in China's history and hospitals and relief stations have been crowded beyond capacity, for there is such an extreme lack of food. Dr. Cadbury expressed concern over the welfare of the Simkin family, from whom he has not heard since the famine. He said he does not believe actual privation has kept Mr. Simkin from writing, however.

C. Boocock, Haverford School Assoc. Principal, Talks In Collection Fri.

Cornelius B. Boocock, associate headmaster of Haverford School, was the speaker in Friday morning's Collection. The subject of his talk was "a discussion of the element of the struggle that is present in our modern life."

He cited the floods in Pennsylvania and in adjacent states and the tornadoes in the South, that have recently occurred, as a manifestation of the struggle man is having with the forces of nature. In summing up his topic Mr. Boocock maintained that these struggles are a benefit to us inasmuch as in countries where little of a struggle exists, where natives need only to pick their food from trees and other plants, life becomes uninteresting and dull.

Books By Profs. Jones And Trueblood Appear

Books by Dr. Rufus M. Jones, professor emeritus of Philosophy, and Professor D. Elton Trueblood appeared on April 16, published by two well-known houses, Macmillan and Harpers, respectively.

Dr. Jones's book is "The Testimony of the Soul," on sale for $2.00. "The Essence of Spiritual Religion" is the title of the one by Dr. Trueblood, now selling for $1.50.

We were able to advise which items could be changed and adapted as gifts for other members of the family. An old watch case we converted into a charming old frame locket for a photo. Still another watch case converted into a "Stokowski" cough drop box for the Orchestra concert. Some items were sold more than the old gold large check was sent to the customer.

G. Kerbaugh, '10, Chosen President Of Alumni Assoc.

E. Spaulding, '10, And J. Garrigues, '14, Vice-Presidents

George A. Kerbaugh, '10, has been announced as the new president of the Alumni Association, following the elections held at the annual meeting of that organization on Saturday night at 6 o'clock in the Union. The retiring president, Arthur H. Hopkins, M. D., '05, was appointed a member of the Alumni Executive Committee and as one of the Alumni Representatives on the Board of Managers.

As a member of the Executive Committee and the Committee on Accounts of the Board of Managers, Mr. Kerbaugh has taken an active interest in the affairs of the College controlled by that organization. Last year he was one of the vice-presidents of the Association, and he is president of the Haverford Club of Philadelphia. During the past year he has also taken an active part in the work of the Centenary Campaign.

MacIntosh Re-Elected

Further elections placed John K. Garrigues, '14, and Eugene R. Spaulding, '10, as vice-presidents of the Association and Charles S. Ristine, '10, as the treasurer for the coming year. Archibald MacIntosh, '21, was re-elected to the position of secretary. William M. Wills, '04, will continue in his capacity as assistant secretary for the organization.

The other two members of the Executive Committee for the coming year will be Alexander C. Wood, Jr., '02, and Robert E. Lewis, '36, following the custom of placing a member of the graduating class in this group. Mr. Kerbaugh will be the other Alumni Representative on the Board of Managers with Mr. Hopkins, it was announced.

For the two alumni members of the Executive Athletic Committee, J. Marshall Crosman, '17, and Owen B. Rhoads, '25, were chosen.

Impressions. Alumni Day for 1936 is now a matter of history, and hundreds of old grads, after brief sessions with ice-bags and liniment, have gone back to work for another year. Over a thousand turned out in the afternoon for the ball game, track meet, tennis and cricket match. The Cap and Bells Play drew a conservatively estimated 600, while approximately the same number gathered for the annual banquet. The Five-Year Classes held highly successful reunions. We present here a few of the impressions inspired by the multitude of activities and events.

Cap, Bells and Curtain. The Spring Play folded after one night to tour the provinces, but it may be described as a hit nevertheless. The crowded house was sympathetic at the beginning and enthusiastic by the end of the first act. It would not be exaggerating to say that the new curtain, presented by the Classes of '35 and '36, put everybody in a good humor before the traditionally late start of the play. Gone is the brown wrapping-paper drop, the first head to fall in the revolution that is to transform Roberts Hall into a palatial auditorium.

"Now we own Lloyd Hall," said President Comfort, but, judging by the cigarette butts and general refuse that have to be cleaned up periodically from the walks in front of Lloyd, students must have believed they owned the place all along.

Crime et Chatiment. According to Mr. Vetterli, the youth of nineteen years constitutes America's greatest criminal menace. Nineteen year-olds at Haverford live in Barclay and generally exhibit some talent for sabotage. Nineteen year-olds in the slums learn to play with more dangerous weapons at more dangerous games. The problem of providing a harmless outlet for the craving for adventure of adolescents is a grave one, and one which future citizens must face.

Mr. Vetterli's second point was that the Federal Bureau of Investigation has piled up an enviable record of criminal convictions in recent years. Is it looking too far ahead to anticipate the day when the national government will have taken law enforcement altogether out of the hands of corrupt local authorities?

Haverford picks her students on the basis of "bean-power," according to one-quarter of the living members of the Class of '86. Too true; but come to the Faculty banquet on May 23, '86, and find out what a few of the more liberal-minded intend to do about it.

Over the Top. With eleven months of the drive for $150,000 gone, the living members of the Class of '86 are being collected. The mechanic committee work has been perfect; the proper amount of letters in the proper coaxing tone have been sent out to each alumnus. What the drive has lacked is the professional touch, the clever appeals to sentiment, the publicity devices which sent Bryn Mawr's campaign for a much greater sum over the top in a much shorter period of time. This is the day of high-pressure salesmanship and wherever money is involved the economical course in the long run is the one which enlists expert professional services.

THE CROW'S NEST

W. H. Bond, '37.

Baptism. It is with great pleasure that the old Parish Chronicle in the shape of the Nest records the christening of four of Lloyd's favorite entries, the youngest of the brood. We gladly welcome to the flock Entries Stokes and Morris, Leeds and Janney—good Quake patronyms every one. For several years we have lived in Straw-bridge, and looked upon the four nameless ones of New Lloyd as a feeling of mingled superiority and pity—superiority in that our entry rejoiced in a name and pity such as one feels for the poor misguided, unbaptized heathen. But now Entries Six to Nine can hold up their heads with the best of them, and it is vaguely comforting to think of this. There is something firm and solid about a name.

Old Business. Last week we began something which as yet has not come to an end. We embarked upon a discussion of the new campus day watchman. It could only be the beginning because we had not yet interviewed the party in question, but had only received our information at second hand. Since that time we have not been able to secure the desired interview, but we have gotten another second-hand one which is in a way a reply to our Nestorian note. It would appear that the subject of our discussion read our article (ah, there, Mr. Editor, someone does read us, after all) and desired to make answer to it. All that he was looking for was a mouthpiece for his rejoinder. Well, we have already stated our policy of stating both sides of any case which we may bring up; and we are willing to go through with it. The new watchman told our informant that he objected to the appellation of "Flannelfoot II." Well, we don't think it an appropriate one either. (Probably he is objecting to it because he knew the first possessor of the name.) The crying need of the moment is, however, that he be named, both conveniently and appropriately. Only the financial depression prevented us from holding a contest to select a suitable title for him. Our subject also said that our statement of his way of answering questions was a base misrepresentation. He put forward the claim that he always has a civil answer to a civil question. We hope to put that to the test in the near future. We enter the arena with no prejudices; we are open to conviction, and we are also open for any suggestions for a name for our friend. Watch this column for future developments. (Advt.)

STUDENT OPINION

R. M. Clayton, '37.

The G. O. P. Gets a New Idea
Dr. T. N. Carver has put the Republican Party on the spot. In a booklet circulated privately among business leaders, the recently appointed G. O. P. brain trust suggests embarrassing additions to the party program. In addition to keeping government from interfering with business, the learned economists' profession suggests that the propertied class should prevent all from being able to own a farm from marrying. Unemployment relief should be cut drastically. Since overpopulation is the cause of America's ills, we must reduce our numbers—that is, reduce the numbers of the laboring class. He also suggests that a good, old-fashioned imperialist war would relieve America's overcrowdedness, though he does not think such conquest practicable at the present time.

The fact that America's population is increasing very slowly and will soon become stationary does not seem to influence Dr. Carver. America can support its present population at a higher standard of living than that enjoyed in 1929. But Dr. Carver does not admit that our economic system has broken down through its own weaknesses; over-population must be the cause of the depression. So let the propertied class band together; eliminate the unemployment by starvation and marriage restriction, and make America safe for capitalism.

The G. O. P. will undoubtedly disown the plan or attempt to keep it from the public eye; in fact the latter policy has already been begun. For though Carver's proposals were first publicized Thursday and were discussed in both the Senate and the House, the New York Times made no mention of them in 300 inches of Washington news in its next issue.

But even though the Republican leaders may mean many callous capitalists, they will be popular with us to suspect that these are the real sentiments of the party leaders. The fact that some of these reactionaries cry out against the New Deal in the name of liberty will not deceive many voters. The "liberty" of the Liberty League means only liberty to pay starvation wages, to break strikes and to extinction of the great majority of the people. A restriction on the marriage of the poor would not be incompatible with the ideology of these Tories.

The record of the Republican Party has shown that big business is its only concern. The Social Security Act, the Wagner Labor Disputes Act, the Guffey Coal Act—all these pieces of legislation benefit the worker, and all were opposed by Republican leaders. When the Republican Party plans a tax, it aims at the market basket of the poorer members of the society. Only a determined fight by liberals prevented the Hoover Administration from passing a national sales tax. At present the cry "Balance the Budget" means principally "Cut down on Relief."

The Republican party has always been opposed that the cruel, fascist program which came to light last Thursday should come from an official adviser of that party.

Undergraduate Music Interest Increasing Here, Page Asserts

Interview Reveals College Musical Equipment; Music Room Contains $1000 Victrola, Over One Thousand Records

Stating that music interest in Haverford is definitely on the increase, P. K. Page, '36, in a recent interview, told the News reporter that further interest could be aroused by curtailment of the Glee Club's activities. Page is the present supervisor of the Music Room and director of the music appreciation hours during the absence of Professor Albert J. Swann. He went on to tell of the equipment which Haverford possesses for its music department.

The music room, downstairs, south end, in the Union, contains a thousand-dollar electric victrola given by the Carnegie Fund in the spring of 1934, over a thousand records, many of them the Carnegie gift, Professor Swann's private piano, and many musical scores and books on music.

For the use of the music room each person is charged $2.50 per semester, which pays for the replacement of worn and damaged records, repairs to the victrola, and incidental costs. Anyone who is interested may apply for use of the room, and may use it at any time provided, insist those in charge, the rules for its use are strictly observed. 42 are on the list at present.

The college allows a substantial sum each year for the purchase of new records, this year making possible the purchase of 120 records, bringing the total value of the records in the music room to more than $2000. Music is also bought by the library out of the Mary Farnum Brown Fund.

Records are chosen by Professor Swann and the Music Room Committee, which is now composed of President W. W. Comfort, Professor Swann, P. K. Page, J. S. Pugliese, and C. W. Yearley. (Last three at '36.) "Three Bs" (Bach, Beethoven, Brahms) are very well represented," said Page. "Of Wagner, we have about as full a recording as could be found anywhere." Tristan und Isolde in recording is complete, as are the Ring records.

Music appreciation hour is held Friday nights every three weeks, to which all are welcome. An average of ten attend each time. A short talk about the music precedes the playing, in order to increase the listener's understanding and enjoyment of the music. After the program those attending have the privilege of playing whatever they wish until ten or eleven P. M.

A few undergraduates go in town regularly to concerts, mostly freshmen and sophomores, Page remarked. Further interest in music is being developed at Haverford College, besides Glee Club activity, takes the form of the orchestra, which has not officially organized this year. An orchestra, of about twenty could have been formed, stated Page; many freshmen applied.

"The real thing which would further interest in music here," replied Page when queried, "would, though I do not like to say it, be a decrease in the Glee Club activity." He explained that work in the Glee Club kept many from being able to do orchestra work this year. He believes that if the Glee Club gave up its trips, except possibly one to Bryn Mawr, thereby cutting down its extra rehearsal time, and sang only for enjoyment and the Home Concert, more real interest in music would be given a chance to develop here.

Over and above the regular activity there would be a chance for such groups as the instrumental quartet this year of A. D. Hunt, Jr., '37, H. T. Darlington, Jr., '38, W. H. Myer, '38, and T. A. Wertime, '39, to play more, with the emphasis on doing the music. He believes, however, that those interested in music should push on further than the stage of playing and singing for enjoyment only.

IN THE MAIL

THE OTHER SIDE

To the Editor of the News:

I enclose a letter I received recently from Munich, Germany, which would be of interest to many Haverfordians. It is written by a member of a voluntary group of student journalists who are interested in following comment about Germany in the foreign press. It comes to me through the chairman of the group, Herr Sennhenn, whom members of the Liberal Club will remember for his talk at Haverford last October.

While the views expressed are strictly those of the author, they give an interesting picture—though a brief one—of German student life "from the inside."

D. C. Elkinton, '36.

THE GERMAN STUDENT IN THE THIRD REICH

The German Revolution of 1933 means not only a change in all fields of political, economic, and spiritual life in Germany, but a change of German life in general. The original powers of the German people have become victorious.

This change of the political constitution of the German Reich has especially moved and shattered the life of the German student.

Before beginning his studies the German student has to serve his duty in the work-service for half a year. Having finished, he enters the army for a year. Then he is permitted to go to the university. The student today, in addition to his studies, has to be politically active and a man of natural spirit and Weltanschauung. A very useful supplementary strength to intellectual life is sport, for which every student has to register. Every day one may see students running through the forests and meadows of the neighborhood, or boxing and swimming in gymnasjums. Only in a sound body may live a sound spirit.

But many other duties await the student of today. (For those interested in politics especially, there are) "groups of ten or twenty, working in study-groups clubs over problems and ideas of the present."

The most active powers of the students are utilized in the so-called Student Union, a sub-group of the Liberal Club. All special problems concerning young students are mutually discussed by them. Many of them live in comrade-houses (Kamerad-schaftshausen), which may be compared to English colleges. What I have said of the ties relates especially to younger students. The older students, who are thinking of university and future professions, are united in professional study-groups (clubs) and prepare one another for their profession, besides their class work.

The student leaving the university is a man with real knowledge but also with the sound spirit of a man. Therefore sport and its education are of real importance.

But all phases of life are founded on ritual and political principles... briefly stated, the student of today shall become a useful member of the German people. He has to become a leader later, so he needs a special training in every way. All new forms of student life are founded on the idea of liberty and have formed by themselves. Liberty means to be active under the leadership of National Socialism. But National Socialism means Germany, working for Germany, and a peaceful evolution and independence. All in all, the German student is one of the most active men in the new order of life of the German state and people.

Hans Ruhle von Lilienstern, Munich, 2 February, 1936.

600 Attend Single Performance Here Of "Bird In Hand"

Cap And Bells Play Seen Friday Night By Many Alumni

Will Go On Tour Soon

When the curtain rose Friday night in Roberts Hall, a capacity audience approximating 600 were present to see the single home performance by the Cap and Bells of "Bird in Hand," a three-act comedy by John Drinkwater, as the 1936 Spring Play.

Directed by Miss Phyllis Beattie, the cast included six undergraduates and the Misses Gretchen Leopold and Ethel Nice. The former played the leading feminine role as Joan, daughter of Thomas Greenleaf, proprietor of the Bird in Hand Inn.

L. C. Lewis, '39, played this last part and produced the first element of conflict by opposing the romance of Joan and Gerald Arnmood (W. H. Clark, Jr., '38), son of the local squire, Sir Robert Arnmood, which was taken by L. R. Garner, '36, Miss Nice then came to the fore as Joan's mother, while Cyril Beverly was played by W. H. Reaves, '38, Mr. Blanquet by A. L. Lowry, '39, and Ambrose Godolphin, K. C., by G. B. Bookman, '36.

Haverfordians Entertain
Following the presentation, refreshments were served in the Union, and Rice Longaker, '32, with his Haverfordians provided music for dancing in the gymnasium from 11 until 1.

The affair was highly successful financially, stated A. W. Stokes, '36, undergraduate manager of the club. Much credit for this is given to the support of the alumni, large blocs of seats having been purchased by the Classes of '01, '26, '31, and '35.

Contrary to the usual custom of giving two performances here, Friday's was the only home presentation, though plans for a road trip are being made. At the conclusion of the play bouquets were presented to Miss Beattie and the actresses.

Lester's father is Dr. John A. Lester who graduated from Haverford in the class of '96. He was the first four letter and Phi Beta Kappa man at Haverford and was a member of the cricket team which went abroad. At present, Dr. and Mrs. Lester are living in Doylestown, Pa.

The newly elected secretary of the Students' Association, Evans, graduated from Norristown High School in 1932. He was a member of the varsity swimming team, vice-president of his class and a member of the Honor Society. Evans entered Antioch College after he graduated from high school and spent one year there. The following year he worked as a laboratory assistant.

Evans enrolled at Haverford in 1934. During his freshman year he was a member of the Freshman-Junior Dance Committee and in the spring was on the varsity track team. This year he was chairman of the Sophomore-Junior Dance Committee.

Win or Lose

Students at Baker University in Baldwin, Kansas, finally won a 42-year fight to permit school dances, barred since the university was founded. Then the inaugural dance had to be called off when advance sale of tickets did not justify an orchestra.

60 and Ursinus' 23. During lulls in the ball game and track contest, the crowd surrounded the tennis courts to see the Quaker netmen win their second match of the week, edging out Gettysburg, 5-4. Tea was served in the Marquee on Cope Field from 4:30 to 5:30 to those watching and taking part in the cricket match.

Many Attend Home Play

Beginning their activities early, several classes held reunions Friday night and then attended the Cap and Bells' annual Spring play, "Bird in Hand" in Roberts Hall and later a dance in the gymnasium. Saturday morning the various classes holding reunions met in rooms reserved for that purpose in Lloyd Hall, which were designated by class banners and other class signs. These were supplemented by enthusiastic reunions of the Class of '39 and Yale, '92, in North and South Barclay. A buffet luncheon was served to alumni and friends in the Alumni room from 1:15 until 2:30. Following the athletic program of the afternoon, the annual meeting of the Alumni Association was held for the election of officers and discussion of business.

Glee Club Sings At Dinner

The entire company filled the dining room of Founders at 7:30, a half-hour late, for the banquet. During the dinner, singing was led by the Class of '36, which had been invited to the affair by an unanimous vote of the committee. Before any welcome was given the homecoming alumni, the college Glee Club under the direction of J. S. Pugliese, '36, entertained with a medley of college songs and the negro spiritual, "Ready When He Comes."

Arthur H. Hopkins, '05, President of the Alumni Association and presiding officer at the banquet, first generously welcomed the whole body of alumni and then three groups in particular. He introduced John M. Zook, '64, oldest living graduate, who stood to receive a toast from the Class of '36. Three members of the Class of '36, William P. Morris, Alexander P. Scott, and Horace E. Smith, who were celebrating their fiftieth anniversary of their graduation, were introduced and warmly applauded. Hopkins then greeted the "babies" of the Alumni Association, the Class of '36.

Before introducing the toastmaster, Raphael J. Shortlidge, '06, he told of receiving letters from various distant Alumni Clubs and a telegram from Dr. Rufus M. Jones, Professor Emeritus of Philosophy, who was in Chicago.

Bryn Mawr Holds May Day Fri., Sat.

Elizabethan Spectacle Is Given By The College Every Four Years

Bryn Mawr College is now transforming its campus into an Elizabethan countryside in preparation for the quadrennial May Day festival, Friday and Saturday, May 8 and 9.

The fete, which will be the same each day, is divided into two parts, the festivities on the village green and a series of eight plays to be presented by strolling players on different parts of the campus.

The green is located before Taylor Hall where a grandstand seating 1,950 persons has been erected. Here four small maypoles wound with multicolor streamers will form a large square, in the center of which will rise the 18-foot maypole. The Queen of the May, Miss Jane Alleyne Lewis, '38, will be crowned in this square.

"Robin Hood," the theme play of the celebration, will be presented in front of the trees on the lower campus. Other plays to be given are "The Old Wives' Tale," "Midsummer Night's Dream," "Masque of Flowers," "St. George and the Dragon," "Gammer Gurton's Needle," "The Bellman," and "The Creation." The first five have been given in previous May Day celebrations.

Tickets for students and professors may be obtained at the Deanery at a special rate of $2.00. The four-hour program will begin at 2:45.

Dr. Comfort Proposes Gift Plan For Alumni

The West had looked to the far East for leadership before the sixteenth century when things changed and China began to send her youth to the West for their learning. He then described some of the great leaders of China today, some of whom he knew personally. Calling the Anglo-Saxon influence, Russia and Japan the three forces moving for control of China, Dr. Cadbury said there were two possible outcomes of the conflict with Japan: either China, who is preparing for war, will resist her neighbor or die in the attempt; or not forcefully resist but assimilate them as she has done for all other invaders.

Local Agent Substitutes
Due to the illness of Hugh H. Clegg, assistant director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, who was scheduled to give the second address of the evening on "The Modern Crusade Against Crime," Mr. Reed E. Vetterli, special agent in charge of the Philadelphia office, talked on the work of his bureau. At the outset of his short speech, he gave some statistical information, saying that there are more law violators of 19 years of age than any other and that one out of every twenty-five persons in the United States has been charged with violation of the law.

Taking several cases on which he had worked, Mr. Vetterli told of their methods that led to the apprehension of kidnapers and the break up of rackets. He described their work as a "continued and determined drive" to apprehend all criminals and lawbreakers who came under their jurisdiction.

R. M. Clayton, '37, Chosen By Liberals As New President

Hoover, Ebersol, And Kriebel Get Other Posts In Club

Kind's Work Is Praised

R. M. Clayton, '37, was elected president of the Liberal Club at the last meeting of the year held Wednesday. Other officers elected at the same time were J. D. Kriebel, '37, vice president; W. B. Kriebel, '38, secretary and C. R. Ebersol, '38, treasurer. An executive committee was appointed which consists of H. H. Bell, '38, chairman; H. R. Taylor, '38, and R. E. Peifer, '39.

Clayton has been on the News board for two years, was previously a member of the executive committee of the club, and is a teacher in the Janitors' School. Hoover served on the News for two years and is the present editor of the Haverfordian. Ebersol is a varsity basketball and soccer man, a member of the Press Bureau, has served on the News for two years and was chairman of the Sophomore-Senior dance committee this year. Kriebel is also on the News, the Haverfordian staff and is secretary of the Cooperative Store Committee.

Congratulates Kind

When interviewed Clayton stated that he wished to express his congratulations to his predecessor, S. Kind, '36, for the way the latter has created interest in present day public affairs and also said that he, as the new president would endeavor to maintain the high position which the Liberal Club has gained under the guidance of Kind.

"The Liberal Club has provided the college with at least a half dozen unusually interesting speakers this year on the most important and vital issues of the day. The Italo-Ethiopian struggle, birth control, the Townsend Plan, the Public Defender, the recent Franco-German crisis and several other topics have been presented, by able and learned speakers," stated Clayton in reviewing the past year's activities. "My only hope," he added, "is that the student body will become truly interested in the Liberal Club activities and give the Club its whole-hearted cooperation and attendance."

Tuberculosis Tests Explained By Physicians

a good indication for this reason. Nine times out of ten a positive reaction means that you have had a mild case of the disease, thereby building up a partial immunity. So a positive reaction is just as much to be desired as a negative one. Of the thirty-two seniors who showed negative reactions in their freshman year, twelve have since become positive.

Haverford was one of the first colleges in the country to administer these tests. At the present time there are around fifteen colleges who do so. One of the main purposes in giving the tests is to get statistics which will aid in effective control of the disease.

While the statistics compiled at Haverford aren't numerous they are worthy of note. Out of the four classes that have been examined in their freshman year, no active cases have been found, but "a sufficient number have been found with minimal or suspicious lesions to make it well worth while to continue this type of examination," stated Dr. Taylor.

Baseball Team Defeated By Delaware, John Hopkins

Delaware, John Hopkins Defeat Varsity As Slump Continues

Play Of The Locals Shows Improvement; Maier Continues To Lead Batters As Carson's Injury Forces Him To Retire

The Randallmen lost two close games to Delaware and Johns Hopkins. On Wednesday they traveled to Newark, Del., and returned on the short end of a 5-2 score. Johns Hopkins came here last Saturday and won 4-1. Although the team looked bad against the Mudhens, they played excellent ball against the Doctors, committing only two errors in contrast to the many miscues they have had in previous games. John Carson was hurt at Delaware and will be out for the remainder of the season. His loss is a great blow to the team.

Mears Gets No Support

Numerous errors and base running reminiscent of the goofy Brooklyn Dodgers cost the Main Liners the game at Newark on Wednesday. Frankie Mears went the distance for Haverford and had he received adequate support, he might have chalked up a victory. His teammates banged out seven hits behind him, but Reed, Delaware pitcher, kept them pretty well scattered.

Delaware scored in the first, third, seventh, and eighth innings on solid hits by George and McCord interspersed with damaging errors by "Sugar" Kane, Joe Purvis, "Chick" Fraser, and Johnny Carson. Most of the games that the locals have lost this year have been marked with these self-same miscues. The Drexel game was "on ice" and the team blew up to go down to defeat 13-12.

Purvis, Carson Score

Haverford scored its two runs in the fourth and fifth innings. After Joe Purvis had gotten on base on a single, Ted Winger hit a looping "texas leaguer" into right field to send Purvis across the rubber. The fifth inning run came when Johnny Carson drove a scorching home run drive down the left field foul line and crossed the plate before Delaware's left fielder Carpenter could retrieve the ball.

Reed, the Delaware pitcher was particularly effective, striking out ten Haverford batters while walking only six. He received excellent support in the field from his teammates, who fielded flawlessly. Carey, star basketball forward, had eight put-outs at the second sack and his keystone partner, Davis, fielded smoothly.

Local Errors Costly

The base running of the Randallmen was pathetic. Several times Haverford runners were caught flatfooted off the bases, and when the time came to take the extra base on a hit, the boys remained on the sacks. This has been characteristic all year, and the fact that only one Delaware run was earned proves the weakness that the team is showing.

Playing before a large crowd of Alumni on their annual Homecoming Day on Saturday, Coach Roy Randall's baseball team was defeated 4-1 by the Johns Hopkins nine. For six innings Ham Welbourn, local Scarlet and Black hurler, and Murray Shift, star Hopkins pitcher, were blacked in a close pitching duel. Welbourn finally weakened, giving up one run in the sixth and two in the seventh. He was relieved by Frank Mears, who finished the game, yielding one run in the eighth to round out the four-run total for Hopkins.

NOTICE

A. W. Haddleton, track coach, wishes to announce that the varsity dual track meet with Swarthmore to be held on Junior Day, May 8th, will commence at 3:15 P. M. instead of at 3:45 P. M. as was originally scheduled.

Local Cricketers Down Alumni Team 75-60 As Rector And Smith Excel

Led by a splendid 30 not out by Captain Ed Rector, Coach Malison's cricket team downed the Alumni in an Alumni Day feature, 75-60. The game was played with twelve on a side, owing to a surplus of players.

The Alumni, who batted first, were held to the small score by good bowling on the part of Rector and Pat Trench, and by tight fielding on the part of the rest of the team. T. Wister won scoring honors for the grads by knocking up 14 runs. J. A. Silver was second highest with 10, while J. C. Garrett was third with 9. Bill Crawford made two of the outs with fine catches in deep field. Dick Smith, last year's captain, whom the Alumni gave to the College for the extra man, besides playing a bang-up game behind the wicket, was runnerup to Rector in the College's innings, scoring 20 runs. Chick Ligon repeated his good performance of last Saturday, this time coming through with 17 runs before he was bowled out by Standing, the Alumni's most effective bowler. Next week's match will be played with the Viscoese Cricket Club, on the local pitch.

Varsity Tennismen Conquer Delaware, Gettysburg Teams

Lehigh Engineers Win; Weightman Singles, Doubles Star

3 Matches This Week

The varsity tennis team turned in their best record of the current season last week. They defeated Delaware on Wednesday 8-1, only to lose to a strong Lehigh delegation on Friday, 3-6. Saturday they defeated Gettysburg, 6-4. At no time, however, did the team show anything like the form of which they are capable.

The match with Delaware was taken without much trouble by the local racqueters. Finley, Weightman, Braucher, Goldmark and Bevan turned in wins in the singles division, while all the doubles teams defeated their opponents. Captain Parry, playing the number one singles position, and who naturally meets the best any rival college has to offer, fought a hard match but finally bowed.

Lehigh Has Strong Team

Friday, the team lost to the up-state Engineers, who have lost only one match this season. Weightman and Goldmark gave the Scarlet and Black two points in the singles, while Weightman and Finley gained the only local tally in the doubles.

Saturday the team, playing far below par, defeated a poor delegation from Gettysburg. Finley, Weightman, Braucher and Goldmark defeated their opponents in the singles matches while Braucher and Goldmark teamed together and won the third doubles match.

The locals play three matches this week, meeting Dickinson here on Wednesday, Ursinus here Friday and Lafayette away on Saturday.

Trackmen Win Two Track Meets To Remain Undeclared

Haddletonmen Conquered Lehigh Tuesday; Top Ursinus And F. & M.

Bill Myer Tops Poorman In High Jump; Holzer Paces Teammates With Forty-Nine Points; Fisher Loses High Hurdles Event

Maintaining their undefeated season, the Haverford College trackmen won both meets of the week, on Tuesday defeating Lehigh, 77-49, and on Saturday winning the Triangular Meet before a large throng of alumni with the final count, Haverford 71, Franklin and Marshall 60, Ursinus 23. Both meets were held on the Walton Field track, and Chuck Holzer and Bill Myer were high scorers for the Scarlet and Black in both contests. Saturday John Grimm of Ursinus was the individual star, gathering up thirteen points, while Woody Spangue and Jay Quinn of Franklin and Marshall tied Holzer and Myer with eleven and ten tallies respectively.

In the Lehigh meet on Tuesday Haverford won by an easy victory, 77-49, leading all the way. Bill Myer's fourteen points, secured by two wins and a tie for first, were the most won by any individual while Captain Chuck Holzer with eleven counters was a close second for scoring honors. Bill Hildebrand, star Brown and White runner, placed first in two events to lead the scorers from Bethlehem.

Fisher Wins Again
In the high hurdles Rhine Fisher was again victorious with Sam Evans a close second, giving Haverford the lead, 8-1. In the meantime Captain Holzer was easily outdistancing his opponents in the shot put. His winning toss was 43 feet 4 inches, while Art Morrison of Lehigh and Warren Morgan of the Scarlet and Black, who placed second and third respectively, did not pass the forty foot marker.

With Andy Hunt taking the lead at the start, but losing it coming into the stretch, the Engineers took the first two places in the 440. Steve Cary was not able to pass either Bud Healy or Walt Crockett with his final sprint and was blocked into finishing third. In the mile run, Bill Hildebrand, Mercersburg graduate, set a slow pace on the first two laps, but was able to stave off Bill Evans' threat on the final stretch and break the tape with a good margin of safety, giving Lehigh first and third honors in the event.

In the high jump, the home team was able to make a clean sweep. Steve Poorman and Bill Myer tied for first, while Jack Lester and Val deBeausset deadlocked for the remaining place, adding nine points to the Haverford scoring column. The height of the winning jumps was 6 feet 1/4 inch. The most exciting race of the afternoon was in the two mile race between Bob Leibold and Ed Broughtal. Leibold led most of the way but could only nose out his Lehigh rival at the tape by a yard.

Clean Sweep in Hurdles
Haverford scored another clean sweep in the 220 yard low hurdles. Som Evans, Charlie Fisher, and Al Moseley finishing in that order, with the first two well out of danger. With a throw of 161 feet 10 inches, Bill Myer won the javelin event. The other two positions went to Leonard Silbenberg and Tom Garihan of the losers.

Starting off the Triangular Meet, the 120-yard high hurdles disappointed a close race between Grimm of Ursinus and Charley Fisher of Haverford. Fisher tripped on the first hurdle and crashed to the ground at the third. Grimm won, with Carrington of F. and M. second, the whole event being marred by numerous falls along the way. The home team fared better in the 100-yard dash. Holzer and Clarke Morian finishing in that order to put their squad in the lead.

Again Captain Holzer added to his laurels by taking first place in the shot. Woody Spangue, powerful Blue and White weightman, took second honors, with Warren Morgan right behind him. Franklin and Marshall easily took first places in the mile, with George Howard and Middle Atlantic States champion Charles Frey crossing the line in that order. Bill Evans' attempt to pass them on the final lap was a complete failure when Howard let out an astonishing burst of speed to leave him in his wake, and then Frey came up from behind to beat Evans on the home stretch.

440 Rough Race

In a race of questionable ethics, Jay Quinn and D. Jones of Franklin and Marshall beat Steve Cary and Andy Hunt in the 440. The 220-yard dash featured the running of Bill Pole, another of Mayor's charges, who nosed out Andy Hunt and Clarke Morian of the victors.

Securing a clean sweep in the high jump, Haverford forged into the lead, led by Bill Myer at six feet. Sturge Poorman, lanky basketball center, holder of the Haverford record, was second, followed by Val deBeausset and Jack Lester. In the two-mile run, F. and M.'s star Charles Frey again showed his wares, beating game Bob Leibold, Haverford best, by a substantial margin in 10 minutes 18.5 seconds.

Evans Nips Fisher At Tape

Getting all but third place in the pole vault helped the Haddletonmen to add to their margin of safety. Val deBeausset topped the bar at 11 feet 6 inches, with Jack Lester right behind him. The 220-yard low hurdles showed up a great deal better than the highs, Sam Evans finishing in front and Charley Fisher only a hair's breadth in the rear of Ursinus' Grimm, while the Blue and White only placed fourth.

100-yard high hurdles—First, Fisher, Haverford; second, S. Evans, Haverford; third, Bailey, Lehigh. Time—16.6 seconds.
Shot put—First, Holzer, Haverford; second, Morrison, Lehigh; third, Morgan, Haverford. Distance—43 feet, 4 inches.

100-yard dash—First, Holzer, Haverford; second, Morian, Haverford; third, Morrow, Lehigh. Time—16.3 seconds.
150-yard dash—First, Healy, Lehigh; second, Crockett, Lehigh; third, Cary, Haverford. Time—52.2 seconds.

Mile run—First, Hildebrand, Lehigh; second, W. Evans, Haverford; third, Tompkins, Lehigh. Time—10 minutes, 42.6 seconds.
High jump—First (tie), Poorman and Myer, Haverford; third (tie), Lester and deBeausset, Haverford. Height—8 feet, 1/4 inch.

Two mile run—First, Leibold, Haverford; second, Broughtal, Lehigh; third, Gurdon, Lehigh. Time—19 minutes, 55 seconds.
220-yard low hurdles—First, S. Evans, Haverford; second, Fisher, Haverford; third, Moseley, Haverford. Time—27.3 seconds.
Javelin throw—First, Myer, Haverford; second, Silbenberg, Lehigh; third, Garihan, Lehigh. Distance—161 feet, 10 inches.

Buy good books and read them; the best books are the commonest, and the best editions are always the best, if the editors are not blockheads, for they may profit of the former.

Jayvee Courtmen Topped By Garnet, Defeat Episcopal

Alexander Only Singles Victor; Stars In Doubles Play Stark Doubles Ace

In a series of hard fought matches with the Swarthmore second stringers on Friday, the Haverford Jayvee netmen were handed a 6-2 setback by their Garnet rivals on the winners' courts. Earlier in the week the local racketeers triumphed easily over an Episcopal Academy team, winning five matches and losing one. A contest scheduled with the Westtown School for Saturday was postponed till a later date because of Alumni Day activities.

The locals put up a game scrap against Swarthmore with half of the eight matches running into three sets and the rest nip and tuck struggles. Bob Alexander featured in both the Ford victories and was outstanding for the losers. Winning over McDonald in three sets, 7-5, 3-6, 6-4, he paired with Stark in the doubles and they defeated Sinclair and Lyon 6-2, 4-6, 6-3.

Playing at Episcopal on Tuesday the Jayvees met some stiff opposition from the school boys, but dropped only one match. Cowles was the unfortunate loser, being defeated 6-4, 6-4, by Bell. Ramsey found Brinton stubborn but topped him 6-4, 7-9, 6-3. Alexander made a fine comeback at fourth singles after losing the first set and triumphed 4-6, 6-3, 6-3. Dulaney and Greer followed suit in their doubles match with Harris and Bolster, and came through with a win, 0-6, 6-4, 6-4.

Summary:
SWARTHMORE J. V. 6; HAVERTON J. V. 2
Buchanan, Swarthmore, defeated Ramsey, 6-1, 6-0.

Golfers Drop 9-0 Contest With Penn

Jayvee Linksman Down Garnet Jayvees, Tie Dickinson Varsity

The varsity golf team, in the only match of the week, were defeated Wednesday on the local course 9-0 by a strong team from the University of Pennsylvania. The local linksmen were somewhat off their usual form, the best score to be turned in by a local being an 83 by Captain Alec Williams. Jim Pieler of Penn was medalist with a total of 75.

The Jayvee golfers, victors over the Swarthmore Jayvees, were more successful on Friday, tying the match with the Dickinson varsity, 3 1/2-3 1/2. Himes and Gilmour were local victors for the afternoon. Himes and Dickinson's No. 1 man, who defeated Captain Miller, were the low scorers for the afternoon with 84's.

This week the varsity golfers are scheduled to meet Lafayette today at home and Swarthmore away tomorrow.

Stokes Appeals To Students To Pay Charity Pledges

Donation Collections Fall Far Short Of Early Promises

Last Call Is Planned

Only $1375 has been collected of the $1500 which was pledged last fall to the Charity Chest, according to a recent announcement by A. W. Stokes, '36, Chairman of the Committee. At this time last year, two months after March 1, the date on which all payments were to have been made, there remained less than $50 to be collected. Eventually all but $12 of the pledges were paid, most of which was not paid because students left College at the end of the first semester.

"Unless a change of attitude occurs," Stokes declared, "this record will not be equalled nor even be approached." He believes that although some of the students are merely waiting for money from home, "which is not altogether excusable," the majority have forgotten that they "have pledged their names to pay their donations by March 1."

Describes Sacrifice

"It would be a shame if the splendid spirit that was shown last fall during our successful campaign should turn out to be only false enthusiasm, and that we should fail to redeem our pledges. Let us remember that the greatest satisfaction comes from helping others when we have actually made a sacrifice. In this way the distress of others may be partly felt by us," said Stokes.

He further stated that the Charity Chest collectors will see each one who has not yet paid his full pledge; and it is hoped that they will be able to announce the completion of the drive within the next two weeks.

member of each class outside of the first four prize winners. In the senior class the prize was divided equally between E. D. Adkins and Y. R. Fry, Jr., who each scored 85. R. C. Bone, Jr., also scored 85 to win the Junior prize, while L. G. Wesson won among the Sophomores with a grade of 87. M. A. Webster, Jr., scored 73 to lead the Freshman class. Ten Seniors, ten Juniors, forty-two Sophomores and seven Freshmen took the test.

Dr. Herndon noted with interest the answers to the twelve questions on beliefs at the end of the test.

Eating our words

If you could taste words with your tongue, we'd have no job at all telling you about the goodness of Supplee Ice Cream. But it doesn't work out that way always. So we'll just tell the story of Supplee in simple English. Take the strawberries and peaches we use when in season. They could hold up their heads at a state-fair exhibit. The chocolate is the kind they use in high-priced candy. The same high quality holds for all of the other Supplee flavors. The whole secret is natural ingredients. Nothing artificial added to give body or bulk. Buy it at the Co-op.

Seniors Recommend Govt. Major To All Prospective Statesmen Approves Of Increased Emphasis On National And International Affairs; Deplores Lack Of Instructors In Dept.

By W. A. Crawford, '36

In articles of this sort a literary wag might write up the courses in his department like this:

"Do you ever expect to have a little lady in your home? If so, Economics IA is the course for you. Whether you want to learn how to make money or spend it, you will need our help. Be a live-wire. Sign up for our course, and do it now." Or perhaps: "We are the men who took the apology out of Anthropology. Do you like your facts straight and no nonsense? If so, drop into Anthropology II. You will never regret it."

Since the purpose of these articles is to acquaint the coming Majors with what they are in for, we have a chance to do a little pedagogical advertising. We might rush to the praise of Government this way—It is certain that every American citizen ought to learn about his government, and Gov. I covers it adequately. Gov. 2B is excellent training not only in political debating but, what is more important, speaking and thinking on one's feet. Since the world is being governed more and more by international forces, a course in International Relations is of prime importance for one's understanding of the international set-up, and since to be an courier is the thing, for the inspirational quality of one's personality. If one would be clever in evading Income Taxes, Gov. 8A will help. To those desirous of forming a wide view of politics, the Senior reading in political philosophy is extremely delightful and beneficial.

But at this late period of the college year we are not in a mood for breezy advertising. We would rather do a little soul-searching. The study of government at Haverford has its fine points and its deficiencies. We will try to point them out. It is important that the student planning a Major should be informed.

First, it is evident from the increasing number of students enrolled as Government Majors in recent years that the study of Government is becoming an even more popular feature of the college curriculum. A group of American college students has become politically minded. The change is a new one and should be recognized. The question to us is, how has Haverford faced this problem? Debating has been recently resurrected here as an extra-curricular feature dealing largely with political subjects. It has attracted much attention and attendance.

Last year a new plan was established, granting permission to several of us to study abroad for a year, specializing in the fields of international law and relations. Delegations to the Model League of Nations Assembly, sponsored by the college in the last five years, have distinguished themselves.

The college has gone far in opening opportunities for those interested in politics and international study. Coming Government Majors have many opportunities. Yet about the Department of Government itself we feel that the college might do more when the time comes. The choice of textbooks is excellent. The arrangement of courses leaves little to be desired. Too much work, we feel, is placed upon the shoulders of one man in caring for a department of such increasing significance. It is only natural because the students' enthusiasm for politics is something new, that such should be the case. Yet that an added professor must inevitably be necessary to alleviate the increasing burden of one carrying eight courses, mostly well attended, and simultaneously to enlarge the scope of the Department, is the opinion of all the students in the Department. If the Government Department is to have its place in line with its sister-departments of History and Economics an addition to the teaching-staff appears called for. Such a course as International Relations would then receive more than a scant half-year's attention. Although Haverford has gone far in meeting the students' high interest in political and international affairs we hope that, when the opportunity offers itself, it will go still farther. To all those who today are planning to enter governmental, political, or international affairs, the preparation offered in the Government Department is important.

Prom Will Be Held In Gymnasium To Make Ample Room

Friday Tea Dance Will Not Be Held, Says W. A. Polster

Prom Will End Jr. Day

Nearly 175 couples are expected to dance to the scintillating rhythms of "Ozzie" Nelson and his orchestra Friday night from nine until two o'clock when the Junior Class concludes its Junior Day festivities.

Because of the desire of the Prom Committee to allow all Haverfordians to attend, the scene of the dance has been moved to the gymnasium which is fifty percent larger than the dining room. The gymnasium will be completely decorated for the occasion in a spring motif.

Following the annual custom of the ivy-planting ceremony the Juniors will adjourn to the baseball diamond and running track to witness the baseball game with Hampden-Sidney and a track meet with Swarthmore. There will also be a tennis match with Ursinus.

No tea dance will be held Friday afternoon, for the Prom Friday night is scheduled to start promptly at nine o'clock and the Committee wants everybody to be on time. There will be twelve program dances with free cutting after one o'clock.

Refreshments will be served during a long intermission at one o'clock.
