Felix Morley Will Deliver Address At Commencement

Editor Of "Washington Post," Won Rhodes Scholarship Is Renowned Author

Mr. Felix Morley, '15, editor of the Washington Post, will deliver the annual commencement address, it has been disclosed by the President's office. Mr. Morley shared the Pulitzer prize for editorial writing in 1936. He has been associated with the Brookings Institution for some years, and has published books both on labor and international relations. He is known as an excellent speaker.

Mr. Morley was born on the Haverford campus, the son of the late Professor Frank Morley, who left England to teach Mathematics for a number of years at Haverford College. He was the President of the College Association, and he took final honors in English. Later he became a Rhodes Scholar at New College, Oxford, as did his older brother, Christopher Morley, and his younger brother, Frank V. Morley, now a publisher in England. In this respect the Morley family, all Haverford graduates, are so far unique.

His career in journalism he began on the Philadelphia Public Ledger. He soon occupied reporting positions in Washington, and was for seven years on the Editorial Staff of the Baltimore Sun. He became a correspondent in the Far East, and wrote a book on his experiences there, predicting in 1926 that Japanese power was in Manchuria to stay. He became a Geneva correspondent, and later the director of the Geneva office of the League of Nations Association of the United States. Here again he

On May 2, the Camera Club will hold its last meeting of the year. Election of officers will be held for the coming year, and a group of 48 prize-winning photographs will be exhibited and discussed. These pictures, taken from those printed in the Zeiss monthly magazine, are the first group of photographs to be circulated thus by the Zeiss company, and are having their maiden exhibition before the Haverford Camera Club, in Hillis Laboratory. This fact lends considerable prestige to the Camera Club, which has only been organized this year by its president, H. P. Thomas, Jr., '39.

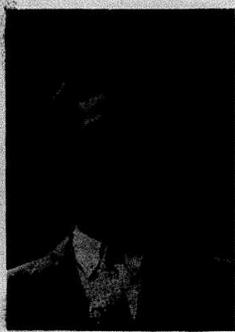

At the meeting discount cards will be distributed to all the standing members of the Camera Club, and are good for a 33% discount at the Ardmore Photo Shop.

Chapeaux For '40 To Appear Shortly

Following the time-honored custom, sophomore hats have been ordered for the Class of '40, according to its president, H. C. Atkinson, '40.

Costing $2.00 each, the hats are described as being of the sailor variety, in white or black, with the initials "H-40" on them. They were arranged for by the class executive committee, and deliveries are expected to be made within one week to the 31 men who ordered them. This amounted to something less than half the class, President Atkinson stated, adding that hats for the remainder might later be obtainable.

Record Editor

Class of '39 elects M. A. Webster chief of year book.

Elect Webster, '39 Editor Of Record

Jaquette Is Business Manager; Appoint Other Positions

M. A. Webster, Jr., '39, was elected Editor of the 1939 Record board Friday by the Junior Class. J. J. Jaquette, '39, was appointed Business Manager by the class Executive Committee Sunday.

Webster is a Managing Editor of the News and a member of the Executive Committee of his class. He played varsity soccer in his Sophomore year and has been elected captain of the basketball team for next year. Secretary of the Varsity Club, he is also a member of the Golf team. He prepared for Haverford at Germantown Friends' School.

An economics major, Jaquette played Jayvee soccer and is a member of the Glee Club. He will be assisted in his work on the Record by H. W. Phillips, '39, who has been appointed assistant Business Manager.

Fill Other Positions

Various editorial positions on the Record will be filled by the following: A. H. Albert and S. K. Coffman, Jr., (Sports); H. P. Thomas, Jr., and N. H. Evans, (Photography); S. C. Withers, Jr., L. C. Lewis, Jr., and J. M. Tinnon (Literary). All the above members of the Record Board are in the Class of 1938.

Contracts will be signed with the photographers and printers before the end of the year, according to Webster. In 1936 a three year contract was signed with a firm of engravers, so that the 1939 Record has its engravings all arranged for at this point.

J. A. Flick, '39, Elected Pres. Of Chem. Club

J. A. Flick, '39, was elected president of the Chem Club in the elections held by that organization last Tuesday. H. P. Thomas, '38, was chosen secretary in a re-vote between him and F. K. Meares, '39. L. B. Reagan, '38, the out-going president, stated that a new executive committee would be elected next fall.

Richard Masland has been selected to address the club at the next meeting which will be held on Tuesday, April 26. His topic will be "The Chemistry of Neurology."

SNYDER TALKS AT BELLEVUE

Professor Edward D. Snyder recently addressed the Right Angle Society in the Bellevue-Stratford on the subject "Education: Machine-made or Hand-made?"

Cap And Bells Club To Present Play And Dance Friday

Plan Original Costumes For "The Importance Of Being Earnest"

Clyde Emerson To Play

Dresses actually worn by Bryn Mawr students in the Gay Nineties will be worn by the girls in the Cap and Bells' "The Importance of Being Earnest" on Friday night, said W. H. Clark, Jr., '38, vice president of the Club. "Excellent," was his additional comment on the condition of the play as it nears its first performance this week.

The wasp-waisted, bell-shaped dresses which will be worn by female members of the play cast on Friday night were dug out of moth balls at Bryn Mawr, said Clark. They were given to the College by old students for a pageant on the 50th anniversary of its founding which was celebrated a few years ago. Wilde's play is essentially Mid-Victorian, and although it was first decided to give the play with modern costumes, this "find" from Bryn Mawr will give the play a considerably better atmosphere.

Six program dances have been planned for the dance which is to be held in the Gym after the play, at which Clyde Emerson will play. Tickets for the play are obtainable at 70 North Barclay. Prices are $1.25 and $1.00 depending upon location, with 25c reductions to students.

Mr. McKinley, of the Wayne Footlight Club, has done excellent work, and the play is in fine shape, according to Clark.

A dinner was held at 7:30, and during the broadcast 100 seats were reserved for members of Haverford Society of New York. The other speakers for the debate were John P. Flynn, economist and financial writer, Frank R. Kent, vice-president of the Baltimore Sun, and Professor Hadley Cantrill, president of the Institute of Propaganda Analysis.

Mr. Wilson will act as toastmaster at a spring luncheon meeting of the Society on Saturday, April 23. J. H. Morris, Jr., '30, is secretary of the organization.

Prom Chairman

Steiger heads committee bringing Isham Jones for Haverford's Junior Prom of 1938.

Gymnasium Made 'Colonial Mansion' For Junior Prom

Dancing From 9 To 2; Refreshments In Smith Garden

Tickets On Sale Friday

A Gymnasium decorated to create an atmosphere of the romantic Old South will be the setting for Isham Jones' fourteen piece "name band" when it plays at the Junior Prom, May 6.

Professional decorators will turn the bare walls of the Gymnasium into the garden walls of a plantation house. The orchestra, playing at its first engagement, on leaving the Blue Room of the Hotel Lincoln in New York, will sit on the steps of the mansion's portico, and the dance floor itself will be the garden.

Refreshments will be served at twelve in the Library Garden, which will be cleverly lighted in a new motif by professionals. The dance, which will last from 9 'til 2, will have twelve program dances, eight before the twelve o'clock intermission and four after. T. B. Steiger, '39, chairman of the Dance Committee, urges everyone not to come late, since there will be a receiving line and the programs will start at 9:30 promptly.

Tickets On Sale

Tickets for the Prom will go on sale Friday at $6.00 per couple. Arrangements for tickets should be made as soon as possible since the number sold will be limited. Concessions will be made to those who cannot pay in full at time of sale.

Acting as patronesses will be Mrs. W. W. Comfort, Mrs. H. Tatnell Brown, Mrs. Roy E. Randall, Mrs. William A. Reitzel, and Mrs. Seth G. Steiger.

Members of the Prom Committee are Steiger, R. L. Balderston, C. S. Bushnell, Jr., M. A. Webster, Jr., C. F. Miller, II, and L. H. Simons, Jr.

Clyde Emerson Featured In Cotillion Club Dance

Featuring Clyde Emerson and his orchestra, Sol Ebersol and his rabbit, and Jim George and his jammers, the Spring Dance of the Cotillion Club rolled smoothly along from nine till one in the ballroom of the Merion Cricket Club, Saturday.

It was during the intermission that the Haverford undergraduates, ex-students, and alumni (one of each) put their fingers to work in the jam, drawing much attention from the rather small crowd.

The Cotillion Club members on the dance committee are J. M. Finley, '39, and S. G. M. Maule, '40. Mrs. Thomas R. Kelly, Mrs. Archibald MacIntosh, Mrs. Howard Comfort, and Mrs. Roy Randall served as patronesses.

Finley said that despite the small crowd, the dance was a social success and that the Cotillion Club would hold another dance in the fall.

Glee Club To Sing On Radio Saturday

Bird Finishes Excellent Season; New Leader To Be Elected

Broadcasting over station WCAU on Saturday the Glee Club will present its last program of the year. Tryouts for next year's student leader will be held tomorrow night in Union during the rehearsal for the broadcast.

The broadcast on Saturday will occupy 15 minutes and will start at 12:15 P. M. "Bob" Bird, '38, Student director, will wind up one of the Club's most successful seasons leading selection from the various programs which have been given this year. The program will include the regular group of sacred songs as well as "The Serenaders" and other light songs.

Conductors Try Out

Candidates for next year's conductor will try out tomorrow night by leading the Club in one of the songs in this year's repertoire. The members will vote on the candidates and the vote will serve as a recommendation to the electing committee composed of Bird, the present leader; W. H. Clark, '38, student president of Cap and Bells; and two alumni.

The final selection for next year's leader will be announced at the Annual Banquet of the Cap and Bells Club on the night of April 28.

"Naturalist In Panama" Topic Of Talk By Dunn At Biology Club Tonight

"A Naturalist in Panama" will be the theme of the Biology Club meeting tonight in Sharpless at 7:15.

Dr. Emmett R. Dunn will lecture on the flora, fauna, and topography of Panama, illustrating his talk with motion pictures. Dr. Dunn while experimenting in Panama, established his headquarters for a large part of the time at the biological laboratory on Barro Colorado Island in Gatun Lake, part of the water system of the Panama Canal.

The meeting tonight will be the last one this year and new officers will be elected. Plans for a field trip will also be discussed.

$122 Paid To Co-op During Past Week

Although outstanding accounts at the Co-operative Store have been paid in to the extent of $122 during the past week, N. H. Evans, '39, manager of the store, expressed the desire that the rest of the accounts receivable be paid in as soon as possible. He also expressed his appreciation to the student body for the unusually prompt payment of bills during the past two months.

Whitson, '39, Gets Elusive Number 1 In Room Drawing

Schaeffer, A. Ashbrook Get First Choice In Their Classes

Many Rooms Retained

Excitement pervaded the campus over the week-end concerning the outcome of the room drawings that were held in Roberts Hall at 11:30 Saturday morning.

Under the watchful eye of Dean Brown and the administration of Oscar M. Chase, the presidents of the various classes drew numbers for their classmates to determine the order of preference. R. O. Whitson, '39, has first choice for his new room, and his classmate, B. E. Carroll, has the dubious honor of last place among the juniors.

First in the Class of '40 was R. L. Schaeffer, Jr., with R. A. Poole bringing down last position. A. G. Ashbrook, Jr., and J. T. Guenther, Jr. hold first and last numbers respectively among the freshmen.

Those receiving low numbers revelled in telling the correspondent who interviewed them that they had "drag" or that the "thing was fixed," while those that lost out proclaimed themselves vehemently opposed to the lottery system, or attributed it to their perennial bad-luck.

One new feature of the room choosing has arisen because of the general rise in tuition. With the additional expense, New Lloyd inhabitants are rushing to Old Lloyd and many Barclayites are retaining their present rooms. There seems to be the usual heavy demand for Merion rooms, while Founders inmates have expressed desire to stay where they are.

Choosing for rooms began yesterday in the Registrar's Office. All those who have not as yet paid their room retaining fee cannot choose until they do so. Those whose turn it is to make a choice are urged to do so quickly in order to get the arrangements completed as soon as possible.

Ducklings, Chick, And Rabbit, Latest Novelties In Lloyd

By W. L. Simmons, '41

Unprecedented instances of undergraduate compassion exist in third, fourth (i. e. did), and fifth entries according to current rumors fluttering about the campus.

"Dagwood and Dabba display such gross ignorance concerning what is and what is NOT done in a cultured environment that we are seriously considering the innovation of a sawdust floor." Thus R. L. Aucott, '38 and J. L. Birkinbine, '39 discuss the problems resulting from their latest rural venture, the week-old purchase of two ducklings.

In addition to an unquestionable passion for cigarette butts the downy pair are displaying a questionable pleasure in their daily fare of bran and water. Forseeing possible intervention by Dean Brown, the owners are consulting campus by-laws on drinking and the extent of application thereof.

Of course there is always the problem which has its parallel in the classic tale of the guinea pigs.

"I faced a similar problem squarely," says C. R. Ebersol, '38, "and resolved to farm Break-down out." And so the little, white rabbit, whose announcement telegram provided the only oasis of interest in Saturday's desert-like (by virtue of its drabness) ball game, having left an unforgettable moment in every nook and cranny of fourth entry, left with Easter Sunday morning fanfare for a Paoli farm-house.

A young woman sent Ebersol Break-down in acknowledgement of Sol's remarkable faculty for having car trouble at the most opportune moments. Ebersol confirms the above and goes on to say that he plans to fatten Break-down for June exploitation.

Investigating the third report, we dropped in on upstairs third-entry. Very briefly, this was the scene. A night-light was burning softly. D. M. Robbins, '38, had forsaken his responsibility, apparently, and was out. There on the floor was a chicken yard in miniature. Text-books of sundry nature comprized the fence. In one corner, next to the requisite 'stove', an improvised lamp arrangement, shivering and chirping in the folds of what we swear was a shirt, wailed our little chicklet. Staring him blue in the face was an indigo-colored china chicken. We laid our compassionate hand on the nameless founding, and forthwith left in search of the beneficiary who knows not his duty toward man and chickens.

Math Club Hears Herr Speak On Trigonometry

"A Neglected Principle of Elementary Trigonometry" was the subject of a talk by R. Herr, '39, at the meeting of the Math Club this afternoon.

This principle is the generalizing of angles of a triangle to include negative angles and those greater than 180 degrees.

In illustrating his talk, Herr used a new proof of Professor Frank Morley's trisection theorem. While at Haverford the late Professor Morley demonstrated that the trisectors of the angles of a triangle would meet to form an equilateral triangle.

Tea was served before the meeting.

Pres. Comfort Makes Varied Announcements In College Business Talk

In Friday's Collection dealing with what was termed "college business" President W. W. Comfort discussed briefly a number of items of general interest to the student body.

Mentioning the tuition increase of $25.00, President Comfort stated that it was brought on by necessity, and said that by this and other means the College deficit would be completely paid off by fall.

Several events of interest were mentioned as occurring in the near future. On Wednesday, May 4, the Rhinie-Sophomore speaking contest for a cup will take place, followed by the Junior-Senior debate for a $50 prize. On Tuesday, April 19, a dinner and meeting for a group of oriental scholars in the United States will be held here. On Thursday, April 28, the William Ellis Scull prize competition for speaking will be held. It is open to Juniors and Seniors.

Athlete Honored

Jackson, Wingerd, Webster Elected As New Varsity Heads

President, V-President, Secretary-Treasurer Respectively

Dues Must Be Collected

R. L. Jackson, '39, was elected President of the Varsity Club as the result of elections held at a meeting of the organization Wednesday night. J. C. Wingerd, '39, and M. A. Webster, Jr., '39, were elected vice-president and secretary-treasurer respectively. Jackson is the third president of the Club and succeeds H. R. Taylor, '38.

The Varsity Club consists of men who have received varsity "H's", together with the Editor of the News and the head of the Press Bureau as allied members. The organization was instrumental in bringing about the recent move extending compulsory physical education to cover a three-year period. It has also recently purchased and has ready for presentation prize cups for intramural sports activities.

The new officers of the Club are prominent in various athletic activities. Jackson is captain of football for '38, and is a member of the basketball and baseball teams. Wingerd is a member of the track team, holding the College 100-yard dash record. Webster is on the golf and soccer teams and is basketball-captain for '38.

President Jackson states that the Varsity Club will pursue an active course in the coming year to further athletics and other activities. He also said that the financial condition of the Club is in need of some consideration.

In answer to this Secretary-Treasurer Webster said that he will begin collection of the regular $2.00 dues from Club members within the next two weeks. He also announced that members not having pins may obtain them from him for $1.25.

At the same meeting Club Dance Committee Chairman V. S. DeBeusset set forth plans for a ball-dance, tentatively scheduled for May 27. Music for the event will be provided by recordings, and it will be held in the Haverford barn. Both square and conventional dances will be included.

Parrish To Exhibit Several Paintings In Alumni Showing

Preview To Be Held In Union Saturday By Invitation

Variety Is Keynote

"The Covered Bridge," Maxfield Parrish's piece of resistance, heads the varied and excellent list of exhibits appearing at Saturday's invitation preview of the Alumni-professional art show, according to those in charge.

This work of Parrish's, depicting a New England scene, inspiration for which had its birth in the artist's Windsor, Vermont home, is one of a group of four of his paintings stressing color and precise detail.

Two exhibits with interesting histories are the original sketch by Parrish for a decorative panel in the music room of Irene Du Pont's Wilmington home and Mr. Peter Hurd's color design for the fresco mural in the United States post office at Big Springs, Texas.

Oils by Etnier

Stephen Etnier's eight oil paintings, done in Maine, Gloucester, and Haiti, and Lawrence Taylor's eight water colors, drawn on the island of Tahiti, have arrived at the College. In addition, Peter Hurd's group, consisting of ten oils, a dozen lithographs, and a dozen quill drawings, and Thomas Wistar's European sketches and water colors are in the Union.

Undergraduates and faculty are invited to an informal lecture by Professor R. Bernheimer, who will point out certain analyses by which the Art student can determine the artistic achievements of a painting. The date is as yet undecided but will be on one of the nights of the two week period beginning Saturday night during which time the exhibit will be open to the public.

Professor A. Jardine Williamson, Vice-chairman of the Committee in charge, is preparing a catalogue of the exhibits and announces that paintings of the divers types and themes will be on sale ranging in price from five dollars up into the hundreds.

At Saturday's pre-view, to which faculty, students, and their friends, who have received an official invitation from the Haverford College Art Committee are invited, tea will be served upstairs in Union by a committee of the Faculty Women's Club.

Friday afternoon members of the Art Committee met to discuss the possibility of having a smaller art show, as yet of unspecified nature, during commencement week, should the school interest in the current exhibit warrant such a step.

Seek Student Aids For Art Exhibition

Students interested in art at Haverford College, and particularly in the current art show, are informed of the need for undergraduate aid in the task of hanging the exhibits and later in that of officiating at the art show.

Professor A. Jardine Williamson will discuss the matter with those interested, outlining what will be required and the possible remunerative factors resulting.

Liberal Club Plans Meeting For Peace

E. Raymond Wilson Will Speak April 27; Cuts Excused At 11.30

As a part of the nation wide youth peace movement, the Liberal Club again this year will sponsor a campus peace demonstration to be held on Wednesday, April 27, at 11.30 A. M., S. W. Fleischman, '40, President of the club, has announced. Class cuts for that hour will be excused for all those interested in attending the meeting.

Wilson To Speak

E. Raymond Wilson of the American Friends Service Committee has accepted the invitation to be one of the speakers on the program. Mr. Wilson is a prominent Quaker interested in peace and will speak on the general subject of the isolationist policy. Another speaker might possibly be obtained to defend the position of Collective security as a means of averting war.

This question of isolation vs. collective security is very pertinent today and is the prime consideration of the United Student Youth Committee.

It has not yet been decided where the demonstration will be held. Tentative plans have been made for Roberts Hall, but weather permitting it may be held outdoors as last year.

At the recent Liberal Club meetings, two new officers were elected. They are C. J. Swift, '40, Vice-president and F. W. Hastings, '41, Secretary-treasurer.

Fitzgerald, Inventor Of The Petoscope, Tells Of Research In Sharpless Hall Basement

By R. C. Folwell, '41

A certain Mr. Alan S. Fitzgerald is to give a lecture before the combined Radio and Engineering Clubs on Thursday. It is not generally known in the College that this same Mr. Fitzgerald, a widely known English inventor and electrical expert, has his research laboratory on the Haverford Campus.

When we went down to the basement of Sharpless the other day to interview Mr. Fitzgerald he had been dictating to his secretary and said he was not "feeling particularly garrulous" that day. However, he delved into his filing cabinets and pulled out several of his laboratory "Technical Data Folders", several patent data folders (over sixty of his inventions have been patented), and some extravagant clippings from pulp newspapers, which he didn't want us to imitate. Then he proceeded to tell us some interesting things about his patents, and wound up with a demonstration.

Fitzgerald first came to America in 1924 and was with General Electric for several years, during which time he had 53 of his inventions patented by the company. More recently he has been "inventing" on his own. In 1935 he took out patents on a so-called "Petoscope," a highly specialized application of photo-electric cells which was thoroughly ballyhooed by the newspapers and widely discussed in scientific circles.

Fitzgerald's "Pet", as the petoscope was dubbed at Swarthmore where he was research associate in electrical engineering, is briefly a device to detect any motion in a landscape, skyscraper, or interior upon which it may be focused. It was the skyscraper version of the petoscope which the newspapers found so interesting in 1935 when its inventor tried it out on flying airplanes at Patco Field. It was visualized as detecting any enemy plane in the sky and making its dispatch quickly possible.

Last October Electronics, the electrical engineering periodical, again devoted several pages to Fitzgerald's work, this time in connection with his development of saturated reactance amplifiers. "Sauxex", as he calls the general principle, is made to do some very interesting control jobs in his three rooms in Sharpless, and it will be the subject of his lecture to the science clubs on Thursday.

Fitzgerald's home is in Wetstone, a London suburb. He graduated in 1913 from Finsbury, the oldest electrical engineering school in the world. Under-age at the beginning of the world war he went to a General Electric subsidiary plant at Rugby where he obtained some practical factory training, leaving for the front in 1917. He was more fortunate than so many other brilliant young scientists and artists, and managed to survive, later coming to America for General Electric.

Among his many inventions during his work at Schenectady was a scheme for protecting transmission lines, which was installed on the first 220 kilovolt line ever erected. "The thrill," he said, "was like that of a man who invents a new kind of paint and sees it used on the George Washington Bridge.

Can a free-lance inventor make money? "I'll tell you in a few years," said this systematic, business-like man who has already made an enviable reputation for himself.

NEWS OF INTEREST TO ALUMNI

J. T. Sharkey, '40, Alumni Editor

A Message From The News

There is one word that well describes the present attitude of the administration towards cigarette advertising in undergraduate publications. That word is hypocritical.

In the first place, football programs are brought out by a branch of the administration rather than by a student group. The News regularly distributes on the campus a national pictorial supplement that contains tobacco advertising. The present officers of the News have never heard any objection to this supplement.

Moreover, the News has accidentally permitted the advertisement of cigarettes in copy furnished by the Cooperative Store. More than once, advertisements in the News and Haverfordian have featured pipes. There has been no objections raised on any of these occasions.

All this would seem to indicate that the prohibition of cigarette advertising was but one basis; that the administration really did desire the alumni to realize that smoking is permitted on the campus even though weekly cigarette sales at the Cooperative Store average 7000 a week, and the average individual consumption of cigarettes, including non-smokers, was shown by the last News Poll to be three packs a week.

It should be stressed that the administration holds no brief against smoking. That the administration allows the undergraduates to draw up their own regulations shows this clearly enough. If stronger evidence is needed, the president, both deans, and most of the faculty and Board of Managers enjoy smoking.

The students consider the present policy of the administration arbitrary, unreasoned and such, it is a source of dissatisfaction which, once arisen, grows rapidly on trivial matters. And the College cannot afford to ignore this dissatisfaction. Unhappy students are not the material for a strong alumni body, so necessary to the well-being of a college.

We ask each and every Haverfordist in the welfare of Haverford to end to the present unfortunate situation by writing to the News and assuring us of his support.

Alumni Day To Include Baseball Games Between Classes '28, '31 And '33

The class of '28, apparently confident of its baseball strength, has accepted the challenges of both '31 and '33 for a soft-ball game June 11th. The double-header should be a feature event on Alumni Day. The occasion will be the 10th Reunion of '28.

The two more recent classes are understood to be counting on their youth and supposedly superior physical condition as factors in the contest. They should not take too lightly the baseball experience of former varsity veterans among the 10-year men.

The '28 team that overhauled the 1931 aggregation last year included Thomas, Bready, Stevens, Taylor, Fitzsimmons, Richardson and Nimmo. Shank whose pitching played a big part in last year's result will be on hand again this year and has already started to get in shape.

Members of the class who years ago helped to make Haverford baseball history are expected to lend their strength. Renwick, Captain in 1928, plans to be back. Other former varsity players are Flint, catcher and home-run king who sported a .400 batting average; Richter, Vanneman, A. Fox, Berlinger, Yoder and Hartzel. Those attending Alumni Day will see a real battle.

Brinton Gives Impressions And Background Of Swedish Art

"Dr. Brinton's lecture will be, I am sure, a tribute to Sweden's art and common sense, Sweden being such a sane country, especially in our own days of political lunacy," said President W. W. Comford in introducing the speaker in Roberts Hall last night. At any rate sane democracy is a strong characteristic of the Swedish people, said Dr. Christian Brinton, '92, in his illustrated lecture on "Sweden Through the Artist's Eye." "The peasant stock of the country, its love of nature on land and sea, and its love of democracy are reflected in the art of this country which has been a social and racial entity for eight to ten thousand years," he said.

The beginnings of present day Swedish art came through a long line of conquerors who plundered the palaces and museums of the continent, and brought their booty back to Sweden. Gustavus Vasa, who Protestantized the country, the famous Gustavus Adolphus, and the mighty Charles are three outstanding plunderers whose thefts so greatly affected the whole artistic history of Sweden.

Gustavus III was assassinated in 1792 and democracy came to stay in 1839 with the death of Charles XIV, ne Bernadotte. After a desultory period of 27 Swedish painters studying at the Dusseldorf academy, several men studied at Paris and were called "Les Ecomaux." Among them were Josefson and Ricard Berg. They came home and exhibited in 1865. After a period of steady development Swedish art had its apotheosis in 1930 with the exposition at Stockholm in that year. But this "functional art" consisting largely of queerly shaped furniture, needed humanizing, asserted Dr. Brinton.

This desirable change came in 1934 with the "art of the Standard." A pioneer of this movement is Thorfinn Karlsefni. Ander Zorn was the first man to bring international attention to the art of Sweden. His name is associated with those of Karl Larssen and Liljefors, the reviver of rococo art. Liljefors, for a great huntsman, and showed it in his painting. He added more broken impressionism and naturalism.

Karl Milles is the pre-eminent Swedish sculptor. He did the famous statue of Vasa, and was the close friend of Prince Eugen. In 1911 he won the Grand Prize at Rome. Next in order of time came Otto Hesselbom, Anslum Schulzberg, known for his snow paintings, Masola, Nils Kruger, and others including Jon Bauer, the fanaticist. Much of the latter painters' work is based on northern legends.

Gustavus Hesselius was the best Swedish painter of his time. He landed in America in 1712, and painted the first painting in America with more than one figure, as well as the first authentic portraits of American Indian chiefs. These chiefs were of the Lenaxi Lemnape tribe in the Delaware Valley. Dr. Brinton exhorted those who are interested in American Swedish art to visit the Swedish Tercentenary at Wilmington, Delaware, to be held June 26 and 27.

"It is only fitting that we end on a Quaker note," said Dr. Brinton, "and I will do this by showing Hesselius' portrait of Ann Gallo-way, an elderly lady who lived at Wilmington. George Fox praised her most highly when he visited her and called her a fine example of the womanly Quaker virtues."

The audience was greatly reduced in size by the inclement weather.

Juniors Nose Out Senior Cindermen In Interclass Meet

Sam Evans, deBeausset, And Myer Tally Most Of Senior's Points

Bill Myer High Scorer

Scoring in all but three events, the Juniors nosed out the Seniors in the annual inter-class track meet held last Tuesday on Walton Field. The victory garnered 65 points while the Seniors tallied 58 1/2 points. The Sophomores scored 26 1/2 points to take third place and the Rhinies brought up the rear with 10 points.

Sam Evans sent the Seniors off to an early lead when he won the 120 yard high hurdles in 16.2 seconds, nosing out Steiger, Peters, and Hering who took the other point-scoring places. Running in a moderate wind, Joe Wingerd won the century dash in the good time of 10.3 seconds. Harry Derr took second place to send the Juniors into the lead, a position they never again relinquished. "Chuck" Bairdon took third place and Sam Evans fourth.

Juniors In Triple Tie

Dave Shihadeh and the Evans twins garnered 10 points for the victors when they finished the mile run in a triple tie for first place. Bill Velte came from behind to take fourth place in the race which was won in 5 minutes 18.8 seconds. Lou Janney won the first victory for the Sophs when he took the 440 in 22.6 seconds. Sam Snipes, Jack Sharkey, and Laird Simons followed him across the line in the order mentioned.

Jim Bready had little difficulty in winning the two-mile grind in 11:26. The Juniors swept all the places in this run when "Didi" Morris, Dave Shihadeh, and Bill Evans finished in the other scoring positions. At this point in the meet the Juniors held a commanding lead of 25 points over the Seniors.

Sam Evans Wins Hurdles

In the 220 low hurdles Sam Evans gained his second victory of the afternoon when he skimmed the timbers in 26.4 seconds. Harry Derr and Tom Steiger won second and third places in this event while "Chuck" Peters was fourth. In the 220 dash Joe Wingerd showed his heels to Snipes, Sharkey, and Janney in 23.6 seconds. Jack Evans ran the 880 in 2 minutes 09.4 seconds to defeat Larry Wesson who took second place. Long and Wagner scored the other two places in this race.

Clark Corian, "Val" deBeausset, Bill Myer, and Clyde Sease finished in that order to sweep all the points in the 16 pound shot put. The winning toss was only 35 feet 1 1/2 inches. Bill Myer won the javelin throw with a toss of 161 feet 5 inches, which was 13 feet further than his nearest opponent's throw. The Juniors won the other three places in the event. In the discus throw, Myer was again victorious when he hurled the platter 120 feet 9 inches.

Myer Scores Again

The Seniors crept up on the Juniors when deBeausset won the pole vault and Myer tied with Hayden Mason for second place. Bill Myer won his third victory of the afternoon when he leaped 5 feet 10 inches to win the high jump. "Val" deBeausset cleared 5 feet 8 inches to take second honors and Mason and Dawson tied for third place.

Ardmore C. C. Downs Haverford Cricketers By 129-65 In Opener

In a game played on the Cope Field crease, the Haverford cricket team, led by Captain Thorny Brown, lost its opening game of the 1938 season, 129-65, to the experienced veterans from the Ardmore C. C. last Saturday. The game was featured by the bowling of Dan Santer, who accounted for four wickets for the home team.

Ardmore relied on the batting of Redman and the consistently good playing of Don Baker, 26 and Dick Smith, 35, former Haverford captains, to gain the winning margin.

Alumni are invited to participate in cricket practice any afternoon on Cope Field from 3.30 to 6 during the spring season.

Haydon Mason upset the dope when he won the broad jump with a leap of 21 feet 6 inches. Derr, Wingerd, and Lewis scored the final points for the victorious Juniors when they finished in that order behind Mason.

Loose Fielding Prevents Club From Breaking Into Win Column

Pitching Of Juniata's Rohrer Feature Of Play Of Two Home Contests; Captain Welbourn Shows Up Well; Wingerd Leads In Hits

An unearned tally in the ninth inning by Drexel Tech spoiled Haverford College's home baseball opener last Tuesday afternoon and deprived Captain Ham Welbourn of his first hurling victory of the season. The ninth inning run sent the game into extra innings and darkness halted proceedings in the eleventh inning with the score deadlocked at 6-6. Welbourn allowed the visitors but four hits in the eleven innings, but errors accounted for three Drexel runs.

Drexel led off in the second inning, scoring four runs on two walks, an error and three singles. Thereafter Welbourn held the opponents to one lone single, coming in the third inning after two were gone. The Fords managed to get two of the runs back in their half of the second and went ahead in the third on singles by Childs and Wingerd, the first of his three safeties, and a triple to deep right field by Art Magill, playing his first game at third base. Haverford scored its last run in the fifth when Magill scored Jackson with a timely single after Jax had been hit by a pitched ball and advanced to second on Williams' sacrifice bunt.

Drexel Knots Score

Both pitchers settled down after the third inning and a string of scoreless frames resulted. The Fords manufactured their final run in the fifth, while the charges of Walt Halas pulled to within one run of the home team with a run in the seventh on a brace of errors and an infield out. The tying run in the ninth was chalked up by the same method, sending the game into extra innings. Welbourn set the visitors back in the tenth and eleventh and the Main Liners threatened in the final frame, putting men on first and second but could not push them around to the point of station.

Ted Wingerd, with a double and two singles, and Magill, with a timely triple and a one-bagger, led the Randamalls at bat. The four Drexel safeties were well scattered.

A replay of Tuesday's game has been scheduled for Thursday of this week on the latter's diamond.

Scoring nineteen runs on fifteen hits and eleven Haverford errors, the Juniata College baseball team overwhelmed the locals, 19-2, last Saturday afternoon on '22 field. The Fords could score only twice off the combined pitching of Cab Rohrer and Sayer of the visitors.

Juniata began the game by really teasing off on Stow Beers, starting hurler for the Randamalls. They tallied five runs in the first on four hits and two walks, including a home run by second baseman Kunsman. The winners kept right after the Ford pitchers, scoring two runs in each of the second, third, sixth and seventh innings and capping off their rather fruitful run-making efforts with a six run sortie in the eighth. Slappy fielding was greatly responsible for many of the visitors runs.

Fords Count Two in Third

The Main Liners tallied in only one inning, the third, when two errors, a walk and Wingerd's single were bunched off the visitor's giant pitcher. Rohrer had little trouble with the Ford batters, giving only five hits in the eight frames he worked. Two of the safeties were garnered by Ted Wingerd, veteran centerfielder, while Williams, Magill and Taylor accounted for the other blows.

Law Palmer, who relieved Beers in the second pitched well enough for Haverford, but faulty support kept him in continual trouble. Lillie pitched the ninth inning for the Randamalls.

23 Winter Athletic Letters Awarded

Next Season's Captains Will Be Webster, Moseley, Simons

Athletic awards for the winter season of 1937-38 were announced last Tuesday night after a meeting of the Alumni Athletic Association. A total of twenty-three full awards was made, in addition to which nine numerals were given. Six letters and three numerals were given in basketball, nine letters and one numeral in wrestling, and eight letters and five numerals in fencing.

The election of varsity captains for the 1938-39 season was also announced. Haverford out hit the soldiers 9 to 8, and "Sol" Ebersol pitched well, but was constantly in difficulty because of the erratic fielding of the home club.

The Sport Jester

By WALTON FIELD, '38

We hope you've been reading the holy crusade of the News and its expressions of student opinions and of "pressure groups." We want to add one more pressure group, one in the sports field. At Haverford, tennis is the favorite sport to play for the majority and is fine relaxation from an afternoon's grind. Now, of course the Athletic Association can't be expected to build more tennis courts at the moment, but it does seem reasonable to ask that enough nets be supplied so that what courts there are may be utilized. We hate to see a doubles match going on without any net, or even a rope between the posts. It's hard on our nerves.

We think that Quakers are wonderful. Their ingenuity in saving money is wonderful. We have an athlete at Haverford who is one of the best. His methods of economy would shame old Ben Franklin himself, for Ben would feel right extravagant. "You know, if you don't wash the soap out of your shaving brush, you can save a lot in soap bills." "Don't wear your knit gloves when bicycling, but put on your leather gloves and carry the knit ones in your pocket. Handle bars wear out wool. Wear wool when skating." "When you buy a new eraser, cut it in half at once. If you lose it then, you still have half an eraser to use." Finally—our most recent one—"If your tennis racket begins to fray, put adhesive tape around the strings where they cross or fray, and the racket will last much longer." Why I don't leave the case open? Well, that costs money if you wear it out. Nice work, old man, but why $28 for a pair of skates?

Jayvee Courtmen Lose To Penn Charter, 6-3 In Opening Match Away

In its opening match last Thursday, the Jayvee tennis team dropped one to the Penn Charter varsity, 6-3, on the Germantown courts. Harrison and Steere played well in the doubles for Haverford. This was the first time the Jayvees have played the P. C. varsity, and the showing at such an early date was not at all bad.

Singles: Hoyt, Haverford, defeated Lord, 6-0, 3-6, 7-5. E. Hessler, Penn Charter, defeated Albert, 6-4, 6-0. Turner, Penn Charter, defeated Rosen, 6-1, 4-6, 6-2. Steere, Haverford, defeated Scott, 6-1, 1-6, 6-3. C. Hemmer, Penn Charter, defeated Mauls, 6-1, 6-3. Rankin, Penn Charter, defeated Prescott, 6-6, 6-2, 6-1.

Doubles: Brown and Ward, Penn Charter, defeated Hoyt and Rosen, 6-4, 6-4. Steere and Harrison, Haverford, defeated Miller and Shaoffer, 6-1, 3-6, 6-3. Seipas and Johnson, Penn Charter, defeated Mauls and Prescott, 6-3, 6-2.

Myer, Derr, And Wingerd Ford Highscorers As Captain Sam Evans Wins High-Hurdles; Team Scores Sixteenth Straight

Captained by Sam Evans, ace hurdler, the Scarlet and Black track team opened the 1938 season in a smashing victory over Johns Hopkins last Saturday. The contest was fought on the Homewood Field of the University with the Fords garnering a winning score of 89-37, to score the sixteenth consecutive triumph.

The highlights of the day focused on the quarter-mile grind and the mile run. Lankford of Johns Hopkins ran strongly through the entire quarter to nose out Lou Janney by only a foot, and John Sharkey crossed the line directly on Janney's heels. Throughout it was anybody's race and Lankford ran well to stave off the final sprints of Janney and Sharkey. In a slow but exciting mile, Dave Shihadeh of the Fords led throughout the entire race until the last five yards when Driscoll, crack distance runner of the Doctors, passed him to win by less than a foot, Bill Evans finished third, and close to Shihadeh.

Fords Sweep Century

In the century the Quakers carried off all three places and Joe Wingerd showed a fine start and good speed for this time in the season. He improved his time over the inter-class meet by .6 of a second, and "Pop" expects him to break the tape in less time as the season progresses.

The only event in which the Fords failed to place was the shot put. Sharretts threw the sixteen pound sphere 43 feet 4 1/4 inches and was followed closely by Moore and Rosenthal with a low throw of 39 feet 5 inches. This is an exceedingly fine showing.

Driscoll Wins Two-Mile

In the two mile Driscoll of Hopkins took first with Didi Morris running a good second, and Bready running an extremely poor third place. Jack Evans ran a nice half mile to win in 2 min. 6 sec. with Larry Wesson in second place.

"Pop" Haddleton expressed his pleasure at the performance of the majority of his squad, and hopes to see another successful season. However, he mentioned, that a few of the combine were not yet in good condition, but he expects better condition by the Lafayette meet.

Bill Myer carried off the scoring honors as he amassed a total of fourteen points with firsts in the javelin and the discus and a tie for first in the high jump. Harry Derr totaled thirteen points for second honors, and Joe Wingerd collected eleven points. Driscoll of the University topped the home team scoring as he scored firsts in the mile and two mile.

Freshmen Tennis Team Loses To Penn Charter In Hard Fought Match

The Scarlet and Black rhinestone team opened its season disastrously last Tuesday when it dropped a hard fought match to Penn Charter, 5-4. While both teams were hampered by the wind and cold, the Little Quakers were too experienced for the visiting racquet wielders.

George Swan took a lacing from Lord, Penn Charter's number one man, 2-6 and 0-6. In the number two match Ludelius just managed to outlast Bill Newhall 6-3, 5-7, 8-6. Bolster turned in Haverford's first victory when, in a thrilling match, he defeated Davis with a grand rally 4-6, 12-10, 6-1. Bill Stanton played his usual brilliant game to come out on top of Ward in straight sets. The scores were 6-1, 6-4. Brown of the Chartermen licked Art Branson 6-1, 6-1, and Art Ashbrook concluded the singles matches when he lost 9-7 and 6-2.

It was a different story in the doubles for Haverford was victorious in two of the three matches. Lavan and Bolster defeated Rhodes and Miller in straight sets 6-4, 8-6. Stainton and Newhall teamed up to pound out a 6-8, 6-6, 6-4 victory over Ritter and Hickerson, but Branson and Ashbrook were unable to make a clean sweep when they lost 6-4, 2-6, 6-3.

Tennis Team Tops Brooklyn College

Netmen Triumphant 7-2 In Opening Match Played Here

Showing excellent early season form, Haverford's veteran tennis team swept to an easy 7-2 victory over Brooklyn College, Wednesday, April 13, on the home courts. Coach Norman Bramall's men came through with the loss of only two singles matches and then made a clean sweep of the doubles competition.

Finley Wins Easily

Captain Jack Finley, No. 1 man and last year's Virginia Cup winner, started the afternoon off with an easy victory over Keefe of the Brooklyn squad. Finley stayed ahead all the way and was never in danger. The scores were 6-1, 6-2. In the second match of the day Goldstein won the first of the Brooklynites' two victories, conquering Shaw in a close match, 6-3, 2-6, 6-4.

Goldmark had little trouble with his opponent, Matluck, and kept him completely baffled throughout the match, taking two sets with the loss of only one game. Bill Bonham rallied strongly after losing a close second set to take Lasky 6-1, 6-8, 6-0. Frank Ramsey won the last singles victory of the day for the locals with a two set win over Shapiro. In the final match sophomore Bob Dewees got off to a good start, trimming his opponent Plutzik 6-0 in the first set, but the Brooklyn boy rallied to take the last two, 6-4 and 9-7.

W. L. Simmons, '41, who took over the part of Jack upon the withdrawal of C. L. Lewis, Jr., '39, is working rapidly into the part says Director McKinley.

One aspect of "The Importance of Being Earnest" continued Clark, "was a remarkable enough to occasion a twenty-minute digression by Dr. Snyder during a recent lecture on plot construction in the course of Modern Drama. According to Dr. Snyder, Oscar Wilde was at the height of his powers when he wrote this play. He not only wrote brilliant dialogue for it, but also managed to carry on at the same time two plots which are as perfectly woven together as possible: so well that the action is always kept clearly before the audience."

W. A. Liddell, Jr., '41, has been working on the garden set for the second act with R. J. Hunn, '41. Mrs. E. D. Snyder has been working on props with J. A. Vincent, '40. Isabel Seltzer of Bryn Mawr is in charge of girls' costumes. She has had leads in Cap and Bells productions for the last three years and is mainly responsible for obtaining the costumes which are to be used on Friday.

Dean and Mrs. H. Tatnall Brown, Mr. and Mrs. M. Alexander Laverty, and Dr. and Mrs. Edward D. Snyder have been announced as patrons for the dance.

Life And Custom Of Irakians Described By Grant In Letter

The News has received a letter from Professor Elihu Grant, now on sabbatical leave in Baghdad, telling of the life and customs there.

"Baghdad is flat, sprawling, spreading," Professor Grant writes. "On the east bank of the Tigris River, it is building a residential suburb or suburbs south and east. Palm trees are the commonest, eucalyptus next.

"The people, the Irakians, are Arabs according to the new, proud fashion which is giving a sense of unity to all Arabic speaking, semitic peoples of the near east and north Africa. This unity stands over against the passions and pluralisms of Europe and cements itself with every unjust stroke of the west. Then there are Armenians, Jews, Persians, and a considerable refugee element of so-called Assyrians, by which is meant a Christian group springing from the Nestorians of the north and divided between the original Nestorians and the Roman Catholic branch of them called Uniates, that is, united to Rome.

Business bombs; traffic police stand at the crossings, cars and motor buses compete with the numerous two-horse single seaters; and yet three and a half million may be the population of Iraq. Baghdad itself has in the neighborhood of half a million. Mosul up by the oil fields and the ruins of ancient Nineveh, Basrah, down to the south describe the length of the country, while Persia on the east and Transjordan and Syria westward bound its width. In two years time, probably, a continuous rail service will connect Baghdad with Aleppo and Constantinople and the rest of Europe.

Scholaristically our calls are slight. The University of Pennsylvania excavations at Khafage, an hour by motor from Baghdad, have yielded a large clay Babylonian temple cylinder and a small first dynasty contract tablet (2000 B. C.). The usual pottery, seals, jewels, have been found and divided by agreement with the Irakian government, which will exhibit its share in the museum here known as the creation of two heroic Britishers, Cook and Gertrude Bell. The University Museum, 33rd and Spruce streets, Philadelphia, will receive its share of the year's work. Now the expedition will move its staff to the north, near Mosul, to a mound called Tepe Gawra, or "Gawra" for short. Gawra is rich in architectural antiquity, but yields no inscriptions unless 1938 prove an exception."

Professor Grant mentioned in closing that he was writing the letter at 10 in the morning, which hour would be 2 A. M. here.

Scarlet And Black Golf Team Wins

Defeats State Teachers But Loses To F. And M.

Braving the wintry blasts last Monday, the Haverford Linksmen continued their victory string at the expense of West Chester State Teachers. The home team won four matches and dropped only two.

In the first foursome Captain Charlie Sponser won out on the eighteenth green, and Duff was victorious 4 and 2. The Haverford boys also won the best ball four up and three to play.

In the second foursome Bud Gross was not so lucky when he was barely beaten on the last green. Jack Wilson lost when he dropped the seventeenth to his opponent and thereby his match by 2 and 1. Haverford did manage to win the best ball and in so doing brought home the team victory. This was a thrilling match with the Scarlet and Black winning one up when they won the eighteenth hole.

Wednesday Franklin and Marshall topped Haverford, 5-4, in a close match. Sponser won in the first foursome, Duff was defeated, but Haverford gained the best ball. Bud Gross again won easily 4 and 3, Wilson lost, but Haverford again took best ball. However, Webster and Steel both lost to give F. and M. a tie, and best ball gave the visitors victory.

In closing we should like to point out to Dr. Hendricks the letter from Dr. Field which also appeared in last week's News. If Dr. Field, who is thoroughly acquainted with both the classical and the popular in music, could enjoy the Home Concert as much as he apparently did, surely Dr. Hendricks could have gleaned enough pleasure, or even education from the program to warrant the expenditure of enough energy to cross his street.
