THE COLLEGE PROGRAM
HAVERFORD COLLEGE

As a Quaker College, Haverford stresses in its educational policy the importance of personal and social ideals. In the past, this concern has been expressed through Fifth Day Meeting and Collection, rather than in any formal way in the requirements for the degree. Recent changes in faculty policy, however, have put a heavier emphasis on philosophic and evaluative courses within the academic curriculum itself. The College is not satisfied with scholarship and intellectual expertness alone, though it values highly these qualities; in its new plans, Haverford will stress increasingly the importance of sound ethical judgment based upon clear perception of individual and social aims.

In its curricular work, Haverford insists on a high standard of achievement. The College's selective admissions policy brings together a varied group of promising young men in each Freshman class. A reasonably high aptitude for academic work is an essential prerequisite, but selection is made also with qualities of personality and character in mind. In its strictly academic work, the College stresses intellectual integrity, independence of judgment, the imaginative grasp of interrelationships, and the capacity to do independent work. Mastery of facts and of the techniques of research is always important, but even more so is the desire and moral capacity to use these skills for worthwhile ends.

Haverford believes that desirable qualities can be cultivated in the classroom and laboratory but that this process can be supplemented and strengthened by a sound program of student government and extra-curricular activities. The non-academic program is calculated to encourage growth in a sense of responsibility for constructive community service, in the appreciation of beauty, and in certain creative skills not properly included in the curriculum itself. The meditative silence of Fifth Day Meeting continues, as always, to make an important contribution to the spiritual development of Haverford men.

From the beginning these aims have been important in Haverford's educational program; the changes now in effect are intended to increase their importance in the curricular work of the College.
History

Haverford College was founded in 1833 as the first college established by members of the Society of Friends in the United States. Wherever the first Quaker settlers set up their meetings for worship, they also opened schools, but because Friends have no ordained ministry or priesthood set apart from secular life, they made in the beginning no provision for institutions of higher learning. With the expansion of science and learning in the early nineteenth century, however, the need for advanced training was felt by the Friends as it was by the many other religious groups in America which founded colleges in that era. A tragic separation in American Quakerism in 1827-28 brought this need sharply to the attention of certain leaders of the "Orthodox" Quaker body in Philadelphia and New York. They organized Haverford, therefore, as an institution which would provide an "enlarged and liberal system of instruction" to meet the intellectual needs of "Friends on this continent," offering a course of instruction in science, mathematics, and classical languages "as extensive as given in any literary institution in this country." In religion, morals, and manners, the students who attended Haverford were, in the Quaker phrase of the day, to receive a "guarded" education, but their training was to be "equal in all respects to that which can be obtained in colleges." Haverford College in those days was modestly called Haverford School, but the intent was clear to create an intellectual center that would give to Friends the kind of education which other young Americans were receiving in the best colleges.

The choice of the site of Haverford College exercised its founders for three years; it was settled by the purchase of 198 acres of rolling farmland in the center of the Welsh Tract, a large area originally set apart by William Penn for Quaker immigrants from Wales. The region still bears the native place-names of its settlers, of which Haverford is one. The site was propitious. Today the College campus (increased to 216 acres) is a beautiful area of fields and woodlands, although the Philadelphia suburbs have spread out along the Main Line to Haverford and beyond. What had been fields grew into a graceful sweep of lawns, distinguished by trees and by planting reminiscent of an English garden. This was the contribution of William Carvill, an English landscape gardener whose careful planting gave Haverford a campus of great charm.

During the first forty years of the College's existence, Founders Hall, the original building, Alumni Hall, which is now incorporated in the Library, and an Astronomical Observatory comprised the major part of the physical plant. Throughout this era Haverford men were proving by their effectiveness in their communities the soundness of the principles on which the College had been founded. In 1847 Haverford opened its doors to young men who were not members of the Society of Friends, and in 1856 it became a degree-granting institution, with a tradition of high scholarship which has continued unshaken. At the same time it has adhered to its Quaker traditions of simplicity of living and enlightened interest in social issues.

An era of progress began in 1874 under the presidency of Thomas Chase. He and his brother, Professor Pliny Earle Chase, brought the institution to full academic stature, and strengthened its endowment. In this period a number of new buildings were erected, notably Barclay Hall, which, as the principal dormitory, became the center of student life.

President Isaac Sharpless, 1887-1917, led Haverford College into the forefront of American collegiate institutions. His many-sided genius enabled him to gather and hold together a faculty of extraordinary capacity. In his regime, and the years immediately following, modern dormitories and classrooms, well-equipped laboratories for Chemistry, Physics, Biology, and Engineering were added to the growing assembly of buildings. The Gymnasium was erected in 1900; Roberts Hall, containing administrative offices and a large auditorium, in 1903. The Haverford Union, used for many College activities, dates from 1910; the Morris Infirmary from 1912. A modern Observatory was built in 1933, and a modern addition to the Library was completed in 1941.

As the College enrollment has grown in recent years, the need for residences in which men of like tastes and interests might have more intimate associations has been met by the establishment of a Spanish House and a French House, each with a resident director. In these specialized student residences the occupants have the advantages of group life without social discrimination of a fraternity system.

The original fund of $60,000 raised when the College was started has been increased by generous bequests and donations to more than $8,300,000. This endowment enables the College to maintain a superior faculty of unusual size in proportion to the number of students. Student enrollment is limited in order that teaching may continue on the basis of personal acquaintance in a unified community, as it has throughout the history of Haverford College.

Haverford Station on the Pennsylvania Railroad, between Bryn Mawr and Ardmore, is twenty minutes from downtown Philadelphia. The campus fronts on the famous Lancaster Pike (U. S. 30). It is approximately two hours train journey from Haverford to New York or Baltimore and less than three hours to Washington. Philadelphia's Orchestra, its museums and libraries, its scientific laboratories and industrial plants are all easily accessible to Haverford students, who can make full use of the cultural opportunities of a city while enjoying the beauty of a college campus in a quiet suburban setting.
Admission

The policy of Haverford College is to admit to the Freshman class those applicants who, in the opinion of the Committee on Admissions, are best qualified to profit by the opportunities which the College offers and at the same time to contribute to undergraduate life. Due regard is given not only to scholarly attainment, as shown by examination and by school record, but also to character, personality, and interest and ability in important extra-curricular activities.

Whenever practicable, the College will arrange for the candidate to have a personal interview with the Director of Admissions or another administrative officer. Every applicant should realize that, in view of the limited enrollment, he is entering a competition for admission to a carefully selected and comparatively small student organization. On the basis of all information available—College Board reports, school record, class standing, evidence touching on character and personality—the application will be accepted or rejected, and the decision of the Committee on Admissions is final. Preference will be given to those with superior records and credentials rather than to those with mere priority of application.

Students who are accepted will be admitted without conditions. Those who, on entrance, show marked proficiency in certain subjects will be permitted to take courses usually not open to Freshmen; in such cases, however, the number of courses required for a degree will not be diminished.

Each applicant for admission must take the Scholastic Aptitude Test and three Achievement Tests of the College Entrance Examination Board. The English Achievement Test is required, but a candidate may choose the other two tests. If there is any doubt about the choice of the two tests, he should consult the Director of Admissions. Applications involving divergence from the normal procedure must be discussed in detail with the Director of Admissions. In addition, the applicant must obtain blank forms from the College, on which he must submit his school record and a certificate of character signed by his school principal. The school certificate must show satisfactory attainment in 15 units* of work.

* A unit represents a year’s study in any subject in a secondary school, constituting approximately a quarter of a full year’s work. A four years’ secondary school curriculum should be regarded as representing not more than 16 units of work.
The preparatory course must include four years of English, at least a year and a half of Algebra and one year of Geometry, and three years of a foreign language. Cases involving divergence from the requirements should be discussed with the Director of Admissions. The remaining units will be drawn from laboratory science, social science, history, and additional mathematics and language.

A candidate may offer an elective in a subject not usually listed, provided he shows proficiency which indicates an amount of study and intellectual effort commensurate with that required in other subjects. The subject chosen must have the approval of the Admissions Committee.

Information Concerning College Entrance Board Tests

The College Entrance Examination Board will hold a complete series of examinations on each of the following dates during the academic year 1952-1953:

Saturday, December 6, 1952  Saturday, March 14, 1953
Saturday, January 10, 1953  Saturday, May 16, 1953
       Wednesday, August 12, 1953

On each of the dates listed above, the schedule of tests will be as follows:

8:45 A.M.—Scholastic Aptitude Test (Verbal and Mathematical Sections)

1:45 P.M.—Achievement Tests—Candidates may take not more than three of the following:

English Composition          Advanced Mathematics
Social Studies               Biology
French Reading               Chemistry
German Reading               Intermediate Mathematics
Latin Reading                Physics
Spanish Reading

In addition, at the March, 1953, series only, Achievement Tests in Greek Reading and Italian Reading will be offered, but only to candidates who register in advance specifically for these tests.
The schedule permits a candidate to take the morning Scholastic Aptitude Test and a maximum of three of the afternoon Achievement Tests.

Copies of the Bulletin of Information may be obtained without charge from the College Entrance Examination Board. The Bulletin contains rules regarding applications, fees, and reports; rules for the conduct of the tests, advice to candidates, descriptions of the tests, sample questions, and lists of examination centers.

Candidates should make application by mail to the College Entrance Examination Board. Students who wish to take the examinations in any of the following States, territories, or foreign areas should address their inquiries and send their applications to College Entrance Examination Board, P. O. Box 9896, Los Feliz Station, Los Angeles 27, California:

Candidates applying for examination in any State or foreign area not given above should write to College Entrance Examination Board, P. O. Box 592, Princeton, New Jersey.

Application forms will be sent to any candidate upon request. When ordering the forms candidates must state whether they wish applications for the December, January, March, May or August tests. Application forms for the December tests will be available early in the fall; those for the January tests will be ready for distribution about November 24; those for the March series, about January 3; forms for any other particular series will be available immediately after the preceding series has been held. A copy of the Bulletin of Information is routinely sent to every candidate requesting an application blank.

Each application submitted for registration must be accompanied by the examination fee. A detailed schedule of fees follows:

- Scholastic Aptitude Test and one, two or three Achievement Tests ........................................... $12.00
- Scholastic Aptitude Test only ........................................... 6.00
- One, two or three Achievement Tests only ........................... 8.00
All applications and fees should reach the appropriate office of the Board not later than the dates specified below:

Applications received after these closing dates will be subject to a penalty fee of three dollars in addition to the regular fee.

Candidates are urged to send in their applications and fees as early as possible, preferably at least several weeks before the closing date, since early registration allows time to clear up possible irregularities which might otherwise delay the issue of reports. Under no circumstances will an application be accepted if it is received at either of the Board offices later than one week prior to the date of the examination. No candidate will be permitted to register with the supervisor of an examination center at any time. Only properly registered candidates, holding tickets of admission to the centers at which they present themselves, will be admitted to the tests. Requests for transfer of examination center cannot be considered unless these reach the Board offices one week prior to the date of the examination or earlier.

The Board will report the results of the tests to the institutions indicated on the candidates’ applications. The colleges will, in turn, notify the candidates of the action taken upon their applications for admission. Candidates will not receive reports upon their tests from the Board.

Advanced Standing

Since Haverford offers an integrated education, admission with advanced standing is ordinarily granted only in a limited number of cases. An undergraduate who comes from an approved college must submit an official statement of his honorable dismissal, together with a full list of his accepted preparatory subjects, and a list of all his college courses, with his record therein.

In some cases the College Board Intermediate Tests for transfer students may be required.
Financial Arrangements

Rooms

Entering Freshmen are assigned the rooms available after the other classes have made their choice. It is not always possible to meet the desire of Freshmen for the cheapest rooms. The College assumes that a new student will accept any available room of approximately the same price as the room for which a preference is expressed. New students will be notified of the rooms assigned to them by means of a list available in Roberts Hall. The choice of rooms by other students is governed by published rules.

A deposit of $35 is required of all new students at the time they are notified of their admission. A similar deposit is required also of those students who have not been in attendance at the College during the immediately preceding semester. This amount will be deducted from the bill for the following year. If the student fails to present himself at the beginning of the semester for which he has been enrolled, the deposit will be forfeited.

Students are expected to treat College property with the same consideration as their own. A student is held financially responsible for any damage to his room, and any damage wilfully done will be sufficient reason for requesting withdrawal from the College.

Expenses

The tuition charge for all regular students is $600 for the academic year. Tuition for special students is $80 per course, per semester. The board is $13.75 per week, and room rent ranges from $150.00 to $240.00 according to the location of the room. The Unit Fee is $63.00 per year. Charges are subject to alteration by the Board of Managers.

The room charges include heat, electric light, service, and the use of necessary bedroom furniture, i.e., a bureau, table, chair, study lamp, and a bed, the linen for which is furnished and laundered by the College. Students will supply their own study furniture, blankets, and towels.

The College requires that bills rendered August 15 and January 15 for the following semester’s tuition, board, room, unit fee, and deposits be paid in full before the beginning of the semester.
In order to avoid last minute congestion, it is suggested that bills be paid by mail in advance. Upon receipt of payment, registration cards will be released by the Comptroller's Office to the Registrar, and students, except Freshman or transfer students, need not report at the Office of the Comptroller.

The Unit Fee includes the following: Student activities fee, laboratory fees, health fee, accident insurance (a maximum of $500 within one year of each accident), diploma, and psychological tests when required by the College. Students who are insured at home on a blanket accident policy, for no less than $500 per accident, will be granted a reduction from the unit fee equal to the premium the College would pay to the insurance carrier, on condition that their personal accident policy covers all accidents without any exclusion whatsoever, and that medical expenses incurred as result of an accident be paid by the student, who in turn will present his claim to his insurance carrier.

The College requires a $40 deposit to cover the cost of books and any other incidental charges which may arise during the school year. When the balance is $10, a bill for the actual charges already made will be sent to the student, and payment is expected upon presentation of the bill, thus reinstating the deposit to the original $40. If this bill, or any other indebtedness, is not paid by the end of the semester, credits will not be granted for the work performed. Any unspent balance is refunded at the end of the academic year.

Resident veterans in training under Public Law 16 or Public Law 346 will be required to pay for their tuition on the first day of each semester unless they have presented satisfactory evidence that they have complied with the appropriate regulations of the Veterans Administration.

No reduction or refund of the tuition charge will be made after the first two weeks of any semester. If a student withdraws before the completion of the first two weeks, there will be a complete refund of his tuition. In case of illness or absence for any reason from the College, for four weeks or more, there will be a prorated refund of board. In case of withdrawals at any time, there will be no reduction of room rent for the semester unless the same room is re-rented, in which case the withdrawn occupant will receive the amount paid to the College by the new occupant. The unit fee cannot be refunded for any reason.
College Responsibility

The College is not responsible for loss due to fire, theft, or any other cause. Students who wish to cover the fire risk may apply for information at the Office of the Comptroller.

Monthly Payments

Because some parents may prefer to pay tuition and other College fees in equal monthly installments during the academic year, the College is glad to offer this convenience under The Tuition Plan. The cost is 4% greater than when payment is made in cash at the beginning of each semester.

Student Loan Fund

A loan fund is available for deserving students, other than members of the Freshman Class and transfer students during their first year, who may require financial assistance during their college course.

For information apply at the Office of the Comptroller.

Student Aid

In addition to the Student Loan Fund and to scholarship help, the College offers students the opportunity to work at standard rates in the library and as clerical assistants to faculty and administrative officers of the College. Appointments are made from a list of eligible students prepared by Vice-President MacIntosh.
Scholarships

Scholarships are of two kinds: competitive, and those awarded on a basis of merit and individual need. No scholarship is given for more than one year.

No scholarship will be given to a student who has a failure against him at the time of application.

No scholarship will be given to a student whose previous college bill has not been paid in full.

All preliminary correspondence and applications for undergraduate scholarships for 1953-1954, together with supporting letters from parents or guardians, should be in the hands of Vice-President MacIntosh before April 15, 1953.

It is assumed that requests for scholarships will not be made by those whose expenses can be met by their parents or from other sources.

I. Corporation Scholarships.—Four scholarships of the annual value of $300 each are awarded, without formal application, to the four students in the senior class who have the highest average grades. Ranking is determined by their general average for the year. In the case of the junior, sophomore and freshman classes, twelve Corporation Scholars will be chosen, in the two former cases by the highest general average for the year, in the latter after the May College Board examinations (see page 24). Each of these men will be awarded $50 in books, and the money formerly applied to these scholarships will go into the general scholarship funds. This change marks the beginning of a plan which in another year will place these awards in a different category from that of the past.

II. Isaiah V. Williamson Scholarships.—Three scholarships, normally $250 each, usually awarded to members of the Senior and Junior classes.

III. Richard T. Jones Scholarship.—One scholarship normally of the annual value of $200.

IV. Edward Yarnall Scholarship.—One scholarship normally of the annual value of $200.

V. Thomas P. Cope Scholarship.—One scholarship normally of the annual value of $200.
VI. Sarah Marshall Scholarship.—One scholarship normally of the annual value of $200.

VII. Mary M. Johnson Scholarship.—One scholarship normally of the annual value of $200.

VIII. Isaac Thorne Johnson Scholarship.—One scholarship, normally of the annual value of $225, available for a student of Wilmington College or a member of Wilmington (Ohio) Yearly Meeting of Friends.

IX. Caspar Wistar Memorial Scholarship.—One scholarship, normally of the annual value of $250, available preferably for sons of parents engaged in Christian service (including secretaries of Young Men’s Christian Associations) or students desiring to prepare for similar service in America or other countries.

X. Louis Jaquette Palmer Memorial Scholarship.—This scholarship of $200 is awarded on application, preferably to a member of the Freshman Class who, in the opinion of a committee representing the donors and the President of the College, shall give evidence of possessing the qualities of leadership and constructive interest in student and community welfare which his friends observed in Louis Jaquette Palmer of the Class of 1894.

XI. J. Kennedy Moorhouse Memorial Scholarship.—One scholarship, normally of the annual value of $300, intended for the member of the Freshman Class who shall appear best fitted to uphold at Haverford the standard of character and conduct typified by the late J. Kennedy Moorhouse of the Class of 1900—“a man modest, loyal, courageous, reverent without sanctimony; a lover of hard play and honest work; a leader in clean and joyous living.”

XII. Paul W. Newhall Memorial Scholarship.—One scholarship normally of the annual value of $200.

XIII. Robert Martin Zuckert Memorial Scholarships.—Two or more scholarships, normally of the annual value of $250, preference to be given to “a native of New York or Connecticut who now resides in one of those States.”

XIV. Samuel E. Hilles Memorial Scholarship.—One scholarship normally of the annual value of $200.

XV. Class of 1913 Scholarship.—One scholarship, normally of the annual value of $125, preference to be given to sons of members of the Class of 1913 who may apply and who meet the usual requirements of the College.

XVI. Isaac Sharpless Scholarship Fund.—Founded in 1941. Scholarships open to graduates of secondary schools and undergraduates of Haverford College. Awards based upon fulfillment by applicant of requirements used in selection of Rhodes Scholars to the University of Oxford. Awards granted from list submitted to Selection Committee by the Director of Admissions, subject always to final approval by the President of the College; amount variable.

XVII. Class of 1917 Scholarship.—One scholarship, normally of the annual value of $300, preference to be given to sons of members of the Class of 1917 who may apply and who meet the usual requirements of the College.

XVIII. The Geoffrey Silver Memorial Scholarship.—One scholarship, normally of the annual value of $500, available to a Public School graduate in this general area who may enter Haverford.

XIX. Daniel B. Smith Scholarship.—One scholarship, normally of the annual value of $200, awarded “in the discretion of the Faculty, as an annual scholarship for some young man needing financial aid in his College course. Preference is to be given to a descendant of Benjamin R. Smith, if any such should apply.”

XX. Sarah Tatum Hilles Memorial Scholarship Fund.—Founded November 1, 1943, by bequest of $75,534.58 from Joseph T. Hilles, Class of 1888, in memory of his mother, Sarah Tatum Hilles, “to provide for such number of annual scholarships of $250 each as such income shall be sufficient to create”; to be awarded by the Managers to “needy and deserving students, and to be known as ‘Sarah Tatum Hilles Memorial Scholarships.’”

XXI. Elihu Grant Memorial Scholarship Fund.—Two or more scholarships, varying in size from $300 to $500, established February 2, 1944, by Mrs. Elihu Grant “to commemorate the service to Haverford College of Dr. Elihu Grant, from 1917 to 1938 a member of the College Faculty. The income from this fund is applied to scholarship assistance to students in Humanistic studies, primarily those specializing in the study of Biblical Literature and Oriental subjects.” In special circumstances the income may be utilized to assist those working for a post-graduate degree at Haverford College.
XXII. Joseph L. Markley Memorial Scholarship.—One scholarship, normally of the annual value of $500, awarded at the discretion of the Faculty, "on the basis of character, scholarship and financial need."

XXIII. Joseph C. and Anne N. Birdsall Scholarship.—One scholarship, normally of the annual value of $500, awarded at the discretion of the Faculty "to some student or students preparing for medicine, the selection to be based on character, scholarship and financial need."

XXIV. Daniel E. Davis, Jr. Memorial Scholarship.—One scholarship, normally of the annual value of $125, awarded at the discretion of the Faculty, "on the basis of character, scholarship and financial need."

XXV. Christian Febiger Memorial Scholarship.—One scholarship, normally of the annual value of $200, established June 13, 1946, by Mrs. Madeleine Seabury Febiger in memory of her husband, Christian Febiger, of the Class of 1900. The income of this fund is applied in paying tuition and other college expenses of worthy, needy students.

XXVI. The W. W. Comfort Fund.—This fund, established in 1947 by the Haverford Society of Maryland, provides an annual grant of $300. Grants from this fund are made with the understanding that the recipient shall, at an unstated time after leaving college, repay to the fund the amount which he received while an undergraduate.

XXVII. Jonathan M. Steere Scholarship Fund.—Established in December 1948 by Jonathan M. Steere, of the Class of 1890. The scholarship is intended primarily for a graduate of Moses Brown School, Providence, Rhode Island, who shall be a member of the Society of Friends.

XXVIII. William Graham Tyler Memorial Scholarship.—Founded in 1949 in memory of William Graham Tyler, of the Class of 1858. Preference shall be given to students from Oskaloosa, Iowa, or from William Penn College, on the basis of character, scholarship and financial need.

XXIX. Max Leuchter Memorial Scholarship.—Established in December, 1949, in memory of Max Leuchter, father of Ben Z. Leuchter, of the Class of 1946. One scholarship, normally of the annual value of $300, awarded at the discretion of the Faculty, "on the basis of character, scholarship and financial need."

XXX. 1890 Memorial Scholarship Fund.—Established by a member of the Class of 1923 in memory of his father, of the Class of 1890, and in recognition of his father's friendship with the members of his class. The income from this fund is to be awarded as a scholarship by the College to a deserving student.

XXXI. The A. Clement Wild Scholarship.—Established May 14, 1951, by Mrs. Gertrude T. Wild in memory of her husband, A. Clement Wild, of the Class of 1899. The income from this fund is to be awarded as a scholarship by the College to a deserving student. Preference shall be given to an English exchange student or someone in a similar category.

XXXII. The Charles McCaul Fund.—Established in 1951 by Mary N. Weatherly. One or more scholarships which shall be “awarded to students who show special interest in the field of religion and the social sciences.”

XXXIII. The Caroline Chase Scholarship Fund.—Established December 10, 1951, by Caroline Chase, daughter of Thomas Chase, one-time president of the College. This fund is an expression of Thomas Chase's “enthusiastic appreciation for its high standards of scholarship in Greek, Latin and English literature.”

XXXIV. The Jonathan and Rachel Cope Evans Fund.—Founded in 1952 by the children and grandchildren of Jonathan and Rachel Cope Evans. One half of the income of this fund is to be used for scholarships.

XXXV. The New England Scholarship.—Established by the Haverford Society of New England for a New England boy from a New England school. In the award of this scholarship a committee, composed of alumni of the New England area, will consider character and personal qualities as well as the scholastic record and need of the applicant. This scholarship is normally of the annual value of $500.
Curriculum

General

Haverford is a liberal arts college. Its curriculum is designed to develop in its students the capacity to learn and understand, and to make sound judgments based on knowledge and on thought. The requirements for the degree insure the exercise of these skills in each of the broad fields of human knowledge, and their subtler development in a single field of concentration.

Bachelor's Degree

Students who have received credit for the full number of courses in prescribed and elective studies, provided they have met the other requirements of the College, attained a general average of 70 or above for both the Junior and Senior years, and provided they have passed their Major examinations with a grade of 70 or above, are granted the Degree of Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science. The degree normally conferred upon all candidates meeting these requirements is that of Bachelor of Arts. Upon request by the candidate and approval by the department concerned, however, the Bachelor of Science degree will be granted to men majoring in Natural Science, Mathematics, or Engineering.

Every student in full standing at Haverford College shall normally carry a program of five courses per semester for four years. The minimum full schedule of four courses will be approved by the Dean only under unusual circumstances. To graduate, a student must have completed successfully the work of forty semester-courses, and in addition three years of Physical Education or of non-academic courses. The courses may be classified as follows:

Required (English 11-12) ........................................... 2
Limited Electives (either two or four in Foreign Languages—see below) .................................................... 14 or 16
Major Concentration (average) ................................. 12
Free Electives (average) ........................................... 10 or 12

Total ................................................................. 40

The award of Honors for work toward the Bachelor's degree is described on pages 125-126.
Limited Electives

To ensure breadth of distribution, every student is required to pass a certain number of courses, as indicated in each of four groups. This requirement must be satisfied before a student can be admitted to Senior standing. Exceptions may be made by agreement between the Major Supervisor and the Dean. The requirements are as follows:

1. Foreign Languages: One full-year course in a foreign language beyond the elementary grade. For the purpose of this requirement, all first year foreign language courses, with the exception of Greek 11, 12, are considered as of elementary grade.

   (N.B. A single full-year language course, if included among those listed under the Humanities requirements below, will satisfy requirements in both Group 1 and Group 2.)

2. Humanities: The requirement may be met by passing four semester courses as follows:

   (a) Two semester courses from the following:
   - Biblical Literature 12, 13, 23.
   - Humanities 21-22, 31-32.
   - Philosophy 11, 12, 21-22, 26 (if taken in 1948-49), 28, 29H, 32.

   (b) Two semester courses from the following:
   - Biblical Literature 11, 22.
   - German 21-22, 31, 32, 35, 36, 37 or 38.
   - Greek 11, 12, 21-22, 29.
   - History of Art 21-22; Bryn Mawr 201, 203, 204, 301, 302.
   - Music 11, 12, 21, 22.
   - Philosophy 23 or 29; 24, 26.
   - Spanish 21-22, 31, 32.

3. Natural Sciences and Mathematics: The requirement may be met by passing four semester courses, two each from two of the following groups:

   (a) Biological Science 11; Biology 12 or 14; Psychology 33-34.*
   (b) Physical Science 11, 12; Chemistry 12, 13, 14; Physics 13-14.
   (c) Astronomy 11, 12; Geology 101a, 101b; Mathematics 11, 12, or 21-22.

   * Members of the classes of 1953 and 1954 may meet this part of the requirement with Psychology 21, 22.

    Geology is offered at Bryn Mawr College. In order for a student to take courses at Bryn Mawr, he must meet the requirements as stated on page 41 of this catalog.
Free Electives

4. Social Sciences: The requirement may be met by passing four semester courses selected from at least two of the following departments:

Social Science General Course; Economics; History; Political Science; Sociology.

A number of courses sufficient to bring the total to forty semester courses shall be chosen by the student, with the understanding that for the Freshman and Sophomore years the College reserves the right, through the Faculty Adviser and the Dean, to prevent unreasonable combinations of courses, and that in the Junior and Senior years the student will choose his free electives in consultation with his Major Supervisor.

Non-Academic Electives

Three terms of Physical Education or of non-academic subjects are required of all Freshmen, Sophomores, and Juniors, as described on pages 83 and 101. These courses must be passed in addition to the 40 semester courses of academic work required for a degree.

Major Concentration

A student may elect to major in any one of the following departments: Astronomy, Biblical Literature, Biology, Chemistry, Economics, Engineering, English, French, Geology (Bryn Mawr College), German, Greek, History, History of Art (Bryn Mawr College), Latin, Mathematics, Music, Philosophy, Physics, Political Science, Psychology, Russian, Sociology, Spanish.

Definite requirements are stated under the name of each department on pages 49-102. During the fourth semester of his attendance each student should confer with the Major Supervisor of the department in which he wishes to major, and apply to him for written approval of a program of courses for the last four semesters. Such a program must provide for the completion, by the end of the Senior year, of approximately twelve semester courses, or the equivalent, at least six of which must be in the Major Department and the others in closely related fields. Should the student's application be rejected by the department of his first choice, he must immediately apply in another. Failure to file with the Dean, before the date specified on the College Calendar, a copy of his Major Program signed by his Major Supervisor, will entail a fine of $5. Any student who continues delinquent in this matter will be debarred from the final examinations in his fourth semester. Should the student's application be rejected by all the departments to which he applies, he will not be promoted.

A student who applies for permission to become a Major in any department may be rejected for scholastic reasons only. The College rule on this point is:

If, at the time specified for application, the average of the grades obtained by a student in the "preliminary courses"* of any department is 75 or above, the student will be accepted by that department.

If the average of the grades obtained in these courses is below 70, the student will be accepted in that department only under exceptional circumstances.

If the average of the grades obtained in these courses is 70 or above, but below 75, the decision will be at the discretion of the Major Supervisor.

A student who has been formally accepted as a Major by any department has the right to remain as a Major in that department as long as he is in College. Should he wish to change from one department to another after the beginning of his fifth semester, the change can be made only with the consent of the new Major Supervisor and the Dean.

Each Senior must take a special Major comprehensive examination (written, oral, or both) during the period scheduled for such examinations. The purpose of this examination is to promote the student's comprehension, integration and application of the knowledge acquired in the field of his major concentration, and to secure evidence of this achievement. The passing grade for this examination is 70. In case of failure, a candidate may, with the permission of his Major Supervisor, present himself for re-examination at a date (to be determined by the Major Supervisor) later than Commencement Day of the current year.

If the re-examination is taken one year later, during the regular period of Major examinations, there is no fee. But if the candidate applies for re-examination at an earlier date (involving the preparation of a special examination for one individual), and if the request is granted, the fee is $25.

* "Preliminary courses" are any courses the student may already have taken in the department to which he is applying. If the applicant has not already taken any courses in that department, the department may name courses in other departments which are to be regarded as "preliminary."
A special background for the comprehensive examination a senior shall engage in a period of study, technically called course 100, in his department of concentration during the semester preceding that examination. This period of study shall be counted as one of the five courses normally carried by the student during his final semester. Evaluation of the work in course 100 may be included in the grade earned by the student in his comprehensive examination.

In case of failure in the comprehensive examination a student does not necessarily repeat the term work of course 100, but follows the application procedure for re-examination as indicated on the preceding page. A student may not take more than two re-examinations in the field of his major concentration.

Students taking Majors under the supervision of Bryn Mawr College will note that their course 100 may extend over more than one semester; if this is the case, credit for two courses at Haverford will be granted if the work in each semester of this course is satisfactory.

Examinations in courses in the Major subject taken in the last semester of the Senior year may be omitted at the discretion of the Major Supervisor.

A student who has special interests and abilities may be permitted to arrange a combined major. The program of courses, the nature of the 100 course, and the nature of the comprehensive examination for a combined major are to be worked out by the student in consultation with the Major Supervisors concerned, and must receive their approval and that of the Dean.

Freshman Program

Each Freshman, on entering the College, is assigned to a Faculty member as Adviser. Normally, the student keeps the same Adviser until he chooses a Major near the end of the Sophomore year, when the Chairman of the Major Department becomes his Adviser. Assignment of Advisers for incoming students is made by the Dean, on the basis of the best evidence available to him. If a prospective student knows of a Faculty member whom he would like to have as Adviser, he is urged to inform the Dean of the preference before the opening of College. If, after being assigned an Adviser by the Dean, the student finds another Faculty member whom he would prefer to have as Adviser, he is urged to inform the Dean of this preference, so that, if possible, the change can be made.

Although the Faculty Adviser is instructed to advise each Freshman on a plan of study suited to his special needs, the Faculty requires that English be taken throughout the year, and recommends in all usual cases that Freshmen take Social Science and one foreign language. In addition, two courses chosen from Mathematics, the Natural Sciences, History, and Philosophy make a reasonable Freshman program.

The courses open to Freshmen are numbered 11 to 20 in the section on Courses of Instruction. If he is qualified, a Freshman may be permitted by the department concerned and by the Dean to take more advanced courses.

The Department of Psychology administers a series of standard tests to all entrants within the first few days of the first semester. These tests are helpful in guidance and counselling. One function of the tests is to determine which Freshmen should be recommended to take the voluntary course in Remedial Reading, which is offered each term, for no credit, to students who feel the need of establishing reading habits that will improve their comprehension and increase their speed in reading.

Preparation for Professions

A large number of Haverford College students plan, after graduation, to enter upon further courses of study. As a liberal arts college, Haverford arranges its curriculum so that students who have such plans are able to meet the entrance requirements of graduate and professional schools. The College does not, however, attempt to anticipate in its own curriculum the work of any graduate or professional school. It is the conviction of the Faculty that the best preparation for graduate work is a liberal education, with sound training in basic disciplines, to which more specialized training may later be added.

A student who intends to go to a professional school is free to choose his Major in accord with his principal abilities and interests, since professional schools, such as those of business administration, law, medicine, or theology, usually accept students on the basis of merit regardless of their choice of major and, except in the case of medical schools, without specific course requirements. The requirements of most state boards of medical licensure are such that all students who hope to be admitted to a medical school must take Biological Science 11, Biology 12, Chemistry 13, 14, 25, and 26, and Physics 13-14.

Students who plan to go to professional schools should seek advice as early as possible from appropriate Faculty members as follows: business administration, Mr. Teaf; law, Mr. Somers; medicine, Mr. Cadbury; theology, Mr. Flight or Mr. Steere.

If a student plans to do graduate work in a departmental subject, such as engineering, mathematics, history, etc., he should consult as early as possible with the chairman of the department at Haverford which most nearly corresponds to the department in which he plans to work in graduate school. This adviser will be able to guide him in his selection of courses, his choice of Major (which will not necessarily be in the department of his intended graduate study), and other questions which may have bearing on his future.

Law schools, medical schools, and some graduate schools require applicants to take special admission tests. Arrangements for taking these tests are the responsibility of the student concerned; he can obtain information about them from the Faculty members mentioned above, or from Mr. Pepinsky.

Regulations

Conflicting Courses

A student is not allowed to elect conflicting courses, except with the permission of the Dean and two instructors concerned.

Additional Courses

In general, Freshmen will be permitted to take only five courses. Sophomores and upperclassmen may take a sixth course only if they have passed five courses in the preceding semester with an average of not less than 80. Exceptions to this rule may be made at the discretion of the Dean in the case of Seniors. A fee of $40 per semester is charged for every additional course.

Course Changes

Courses may be changed during the first week of each new semester. During that time students are free to make changes after consultation with their Advisers and the Dean.

Changes will not be permitted later except in cases where the student is known to be an excellent student and where he receives the consent of the professor to whose course he is changing and of his Adviser and of the Dean.

Special Cases

Whenever a student gives proof of special abilities, the College is prepared to lay aside such requirements of the normal program as stand between him and the development of his gifts.
Grading of Students

In determining the standing of the student, daily recitations, papers, hour examinations, and final examinations are all considered. Reports, with numerical grades and averages, are issued at the end of each semester.

Freshmen are required to obtain a general average for the year of at least 60 for promotion to the Sophomore class; Sophomores are required to obtain a general average for the year of at least 65 for promotion to the Junior class; Juniors, 70 for promotion to the Senior class; and Seniors, 70 for graduation. Students who fail to make promotion averages will normally be dropped from College.

Failures and Dropped Courses

A student who receives a semester grade of less than 60 must repeat the course if it is required for graduation. If it is not required, he may repeat it or substitute another. The grade received for a repeated course is recorded and averaged in the year it is taken. No course may be repeated more than once; failure to pass a repeated required course will prevent a student from obtaining his degree.

In exceptional circumstances, such as illness, a student who receives a semester grade of less than 60 and who petitions the Dean, may be permitted by the Dean to take a special examination. A request for such an examination must be submitted to the Dean not later than two weeks after the grades have been released by the Registrar's office. If the request is granted, and the student takes a special examination, the grade in that examination will replace the grade originally earned in the mid-year or final examination in computing the final grade for that course; the new course grade will be entered on the student's transcript and the semester average will be revised accordingly.

Special examinations for courses failed in the first semester will be given immediately after the spring vacation of the year in which the failure occurred. Special examinations for courses failed in the second semester will be given in the following September. Unless the student is ill or otherwise incapable of taking the examinations at the scheduled time, there will be no other opportunity for making up the work.

A Senior who receives a semester grade of less than 60 in a course taken during the second semester of his final year, and whose petition for a special examination has been granted by the Dean, will be permitted to take that examination prior to or during Commencement Week. This arrangement does not, however, apply to the comprehensive examination. (See page 38.)

Special examinations are scheduled only upon written request by the student and permission by the Dean. In the case of special examinations to be taken after spring vacation, which apply to courses failed in the first semester, the request, together with the Dean’s approval, must be received by the Registrar at least two weeks before the beginning of spring vacation. In the case of special examinations to be taken in September, which apply to courses failed in the second semester, the request and approval must be filed by August 1. Late applicants are subject to a fee of $5.00.

When a student drops a course, an arbitrary grade of 40 shall be recorded by the Registrar unless the instructor turns in a lower grade, except that in unusual cases, with the permission of the instructor in the course and of the Dean, a course may be dropped without a recorded grade. All recorded grades will be included in the semester average.

A course once reported to the College Office shall not be removed from the student’s record. In the case of failure this shall apply, even though the credit deficiency has been made up by taking an extra course in a subsequent semester, or summer school, or by applying a credit previously obtained.

Any student whose record is such as to justify the belief that he is not availing himself of the opportunities offered by Haverford College may be dropped.

The Committee on Academic Standing is allowed some latitude in dealing with the student who fails to measure up to the Haverford standard of scholarship; however, a student is usually dropped if he fails in several courses simultaneously, or is three half-courses behind at the opening of College in September. On the other hand, the same Committee often recommends remedial training for a conscientious student who is in scholastic difficulty.

Intercollegiate Cooperation

Because of the cooperative relationship between Bryn Mawr College, Haverford College, Swarthmore College, and the University of Pennsylvania, full-time students of any of these four institutions may, upon presentation of the proper credentials, enroll for courses in another institution of the group without additional expense.

Students desiring to take advantage of this arrangement must obtain the permission of the Dean. This permission will not be granted to a student whose general average for the preceding semester has been less than 80. Exceptions may be made in case the course at the other institution is necessary for the student’s Major. It is the student’s responsibility to register in the selected course on registration day at the institution where the course is to be given. The course should also be entered on his registration card at Haverford.

Permission for graduate students at Haverford to take courses at other institutions should be obtained from the Committee on Graduate Students. Ordinarily, the holder of a graduate fellowship will not be permitted to take more than one course in another institution for credit on his Haverford record.

Visitors and Lectures

In recent years, the College has arranged for individual departments of the Faculty to invite visitors to Haverford for varying periods of time to meet with members of the department and with students interested in that field. These departmental visitors, who sometimes give public lectures, have contributed considerably to the vitality of the work in the various departments.

This program has been greatly strengthened as a result of a generous bequest from the late William P. Philips. A substantial sum from this bequest is used to bring to Haverford “distinguished scientists and statesmen,” whose visits may last anywhere from a few hours to a full academic year. On page 13 of this catalog is a list of the visitors brought to the campus under this bequest during the academic year 1951-52, together with those for whom definite arrangements have been made for the year 1952-53.

The Haverford Library Lectures and the Shipley Lectures, both endowed lectureships, provide annual speakers. The endowment for the former, a gift from the estate of Mary Farnum Brown, is available “for an annual course or series of lectures before the Senior Class of the College, and other students, on the Bible, its history and literature, and as a way may open for it, upon its doctrine and its teaching.” The fund for the latter was presented by Samuel R. Shipley, in memory of his father, Thomas Shipley. The income from the Shipley fund is used “for lectures on English literature.” At the weekly Collection meetings of the whole College prominent visitors talk to the student body on subjects of current interest.

The Class of 1898 Lectureship was established by that class in 1948.
Graduate Study

Admission to Candidacy for Master’s Degree

Graduates of institutions of standing equivalent to that of Haverford College, who present satisfactory evidence of character, seriousness of purpose, and scholarly attainments, may be admitted as candidates for the degree of Master of Arts or Master of Science. The number of graduate students to be admitted each year will be determined by the Administration, in view of the situation obtaining in the College and in individual departments in that year. A candidate for the graduate degree must show competence in one language besides English. Each applicant will be advised, on request, of the language requirements to be met in the particular department in which he wishes to carry out his specialized study.

Applications, together with transcripts, should reach the Director of Admissions not later than May 1.

Charges.—For charges and fees see pp. 27-29.

Requirements

A candidate is required to pass four full-year advanced courses or their equivalent,* each with a grade of not less than 80, and to do satisfactory additional intensive work, which may take the form of a thesis or other research, equivalent to a full course. At least two of the courses and the additional intensive work must be in the special field chosen by the candidate, and the remaining courses in allied subjects. In addition, the candidate may be required, at the discretion of the professor in charge, to pass a comprehensive examination upon the field of his special study. The scope of the examination will be determined by the professor in charge, and will be communicated to the candidate when he is admitted as a graduate student. The entire plan of study must be drawn up by the candidate in consultation with the professor under whom he proposes to do the major part of his work. This plan must be submitted for approval before October 1 to the Chairman of the Committee on Graduate Students. After approval by this Committee, the program must be filed with the Registrar. In cases where a thesis is required, the candidate must deposit two copies of his thesis in the College Library at least two weeks before Commencement.

* In a full-year course in which credit is not normally granted for the work of a single semester, the course grade is the average of the two semester grades; in other cases each semester's work is a separate course, for the purpose of this requirement.

A minimum of one year's residence is required, and a candidate, if well prepared, should be able to complete his work for the degree in this time. If his preparation is inadequate, a longer period of residence may be necessary, but the required work must be completed in not more than two academic years. Courses taken before the registration of the candidate as a graduate student at Haverford College will not usually be counted toward the degree.

Candidates who engage in any occupation or employment other than graduate study will not generally be able to satisfy the requirements for the degree in one year.

For a description of the special Graduate Curriculum in Social and Technical Assistance, see pp. 104-109.

Fellowships

Five Thomas Wistar Brown Fellowships of $1000 each are available every year primarily for members of the Society of Friends and for the graduates of other Friends' colleges in the United States. Should any of these Fellowships be unclaimed by eligible candidates from Friends' colleges, they will be open to graduates of other colleges. These Fellowships are intended for qualified men who wish to avail themselves of a year in the Quaker environment of Haverford to pursue graduate studies in the fields of religion, philosophy, sociology, history, and kindred subjects. Each candidate and his proposed schedule of study must be approved by the Committee on Graduate Students. Holders of these Fellowships may live at Haverford or, by arrangement with the Vice-President of the College, at the community of Pendle Hill, situated a few miles from Haverford.

Applications should be accompanied by the following records: a certified list of the applicant's courses and grades as an undergraduate; three letters concerning the character, personality, financial condition, and qualifications of the applicant; a copy of the catalog of the institution in which the applicant was an undergraduate; and three copies of a small photograph. Applications and other material should be in the hands of the Vice-President and Director of Admissions before March 1 to secure consideration for the following year.

During 1952-53 the award of these Fellowships is limited to students in the Graduate Curriculum in Social and Technical Assistance.
COURSES OF INSTRUCTION
Course Numbering

The numbering system used in this catalog involves a two-digit number for each semester course. Courses numbered from 11 through 20 are open to Freshmen; courses numbered from 21 through 30 are open to Sophomores; courses numbered from 31 through 60 are open to Juniors; courses numbered from 61 through 80 are open only to Seniors; courses numbered from 81 through 89 are project courses open to Seniors and often also to Juniors; courses numbered from 91 to 99 are open only to graduate students; in each department the course in preparation for the comprehensive examination is numbered 100.

When two course numbers, followed by a single description, are joined by a hyphen, the course is a year course; credit will not normally be given for the first semester without the second. When two course numbers followed by a single description are separated by a comma, the first semester may be taken without the second, though the two are normally taken together as a year course.

Unless otherwise stated, courses with uneven numbers are given in the first semester; those with even numbers in the second.
Astronomy

The departmental work is designed to give students an understanding of and an interest in the universe in which they live. At all times in the course work the relation of astronomy to the other fields of learning is kept to the fore. The courses progress from the elementary, through courses requiring more mathematical and physical background, to the strictly logical and critical development of a limited problem.

Major Requirements

Astronomy 11, 12, 31, 32, 81, 82, and 100.

Four courses to be chosen from Mathematics 21-22, 31, 32, 63, and Physics 13-14, 21, 32.

Three written comprehensive examinations of three hours each.

11, 12. DESCRIPTIVE ASTRONOMY—Four hours. Three class periods and one laboratory period a week. Mr. Green.

Our knowledge of the motions, composition, organization, and evolution of the solar system, stars, and galaxies is presented, together with explanations of the methods by which this information is obtained. The laboratory work consists of visual, photographic, and spectroscopic observations of the sun, moon, planets, stars, and nebulae. These observations are treated as illustrations of the theory of optical instruments and the theory of measurement.

Offered annually.

31. ASTROPHYSICS—Three class periods a week. Mr. Green.

An introduction to spectroscopy, quantum mechanics, and statistical mechanics leads to the study of ionic and molecular equilibria in the atmosphere of the stars, in the diffuse nebulae, and in interstellar space. Prerequisite: Physics 13-14 and Mathematics 21-22; Junior or Senior standing. Semester course.

Offered annually.

32. ASTROPHYSICS—Three class periods a week. Mr. Green.

The transfer of radiation in stellar atmospheres, the internal constitution of the stars, and the sources of stellar energy. Prerequisite: Physics 13-14 and Mathematics 21-22; Junior or Senior standing. Semester course.

Offered annually.

81, 82. SPECIAL TOPICS IN ASTROPHYSICS—Three class periods a week. Mr. Green.

The content of this course may vary from year to year to suit the needs of advanced students. It may be repeated for credit. Prerequisite: Considerable maturity in Mathematics, Physics, and Astronomy, such as Mathematics 63, Physics 21, and Astronomy 31; Senior standing. Semester course.

Offered annually.
Biblical Literature

The courses in this Department are intended to give opportunity for study of our literary, moral, and religious heritage from the cultures which flourished in the Eastern Mediterranean lands where the roots of our civilization lie.

Those courses which are specifically Biblical in content are directed toward appreciation and understanding of Old and New Testaments and Apocrypha, their history, meaning, and interpretation. These courses cover broadly the historical backgrounds, literary qualities, and enduring religious values in these works of creative genius. Course 11, a survey of the whole Bible, is recommended as properly introductory to this field. Courses 12, 13, and 22, somewhat more advanced, place emphasis respectively upon the growth of religious ideas, the beginnings of the Christian movement, the literary history and art of the Bible, and its influence upon English and other literatures. Conference courses offer opportunity for intensive work by individual students on problems of archaeological, historical, or religious interest. Course 30 affords study of the broad background of the great early culture-centers of the Near East, where the first significant steps toward civilization were taken, many of whose achievements have come down in unbroken line into our western civilization. Finally, a course in comparative religion (Biblical Literature 23) is designed to acquaint the student with the nature and significance of religion in various cultures of our modern world.

Major Requirements

Six half-year courses in Biblical Literature, and Biblical Literature 100.
Six other half-year courses in either Biblical Literature or related departments, such as English, History, Philosophy, Psychology, Sociology.
Special study of one selected Biblical field, e.g., history, literature, the Old or New Testament.
A comprehensive examination covering the history, literature, and criticism of the Bible, and the religious and moral life of the Hebrews, Jews, and Christians.

11. INTRODUCTION TO THE BIBLE—Three periods a week. Mr. Flight.
   Literary history of the Biblical books; problems of origins, growths, interpretation, literary and religious values. Semester course.
   Offered annually.

12. DEVELOPMENT OF CHRISTIAN THOUGHT—Three periods a week. Mr. Flight.
   Exploration of selected problems and principles of Christian living, with reference to their backgrounds and their meaning and application to contemporary life. Prerequisite: Biblical Literature 11, 13, or 23. Semester course. Offered annually.

13. THE RISE OF CHRISTIANITY—Three periods a week. Mr. Flight.
To be offered in 1953-54 and alternate years.

22. THE ENGLISH BIBLE—Three periods a week. Mr. Flight.
(Also called English 22.)
History and literary art of the English Bible, particularly the King James version, and its influence on English and other literature. Not open to Freshmen. Semester course.
To be offered in 1953-54 and alternate years.

23. COMPARATIVE RELIGION—Three periods a week. Mr. Flight.
A comparative study of the great living religions, their founders, their scriptures, their characteristic ideas and ideals. Not open to Freshmen. Semester course.
Offered in 1952-53 and alternate years.

30. ANCIENT HISTORY OF THE FAR EAST—Three periods a week.
Mr. Flight.
(Also called History 30.)
The beginnings of Western civilization in the cultures of the Near East; archaeological and historical. Not open to Freshmen. Semester course.
Offered in 1952-53 and alternate years.

81 or 82. SPECIAL TOPICS—ADVANCED SEMINAR—Three periods a week.
Mr. Flight.
Individual work to be elected by the student from one or more of the following divisions of the field: literature, archaeology, history. Prerequisite: A grade of 85 or more in one course in the Department. Limited to six students. May be repeated for credit with change of content. Semester course. Offered annually.
Biology

The courses in Biology are planned to meet the needs of the general student, as well as those of the specialist. Since man is himself a living organism, knowledge of the generalizations derived from studies of living organisms is reasonably to be considered part of the equipment of every educated man.

The careers opening from a background of undergraduate biology courses are: (a) medicine, dentistry, and veterinary medicine, all of which require some undergraduate biology—a field of endeavor which may be termed biological correction; (b) positions in wild life and fish and game services, forestry, agriculture, animal husbandry—a field which may be termed biological control; (c) positions in museums and other research and curatorial capacities which may be termed biological investigation; (d) teaching.

Beginning with the basic course, Biological Science 11, sequences can be planned leading through the various other courses to advanced individual work in Botany, in Ecology, in Entomology, and in Vertebrate Zoology or Vertebrate Anatomy. Such advanced work should be elected and registered as Biology 81, 82.

Major Requirements

The minimum Major requirements consist of Biological Science 11, Biology 12, 14, 31-32 plus three other semester-courses in Biology. Any work in Biology 81, 82 is to be additional to the minimum.

Four semesters of work in at least two other fields of science, in courses to be approved by the Department after consultation.

Reading and reporting on some fifteen approved books, to be done at any time between the end of the Sophomore year and the comprehensive examination at the end of the Senior year.

Comprehensive examination, partly written and partly oral, near the end of the Senior year. The grade on this and the reported reading will be entered under the heading of Biology 100.

11. BIOLOGICAL SCIENCE 11.
   (See General Courses, p. 64.)

12. GENERAL ZOOLOGY—Four hours. Two class periods and two laboratory periods a week. Mr. Henry.

   This is a strict course in structure and classification. The objective is a knowledge of the diversity of the animal kingdom and the methods employed in investigating and dealing with that diversity. The lectures will deal with the principles and practice of classification, the laboratory with the evidences for the structural basis for the classification. Required of all Biology Majors and of all premedical students. Prerequisite: Biological Science 11. Semester course.

Offered annually.

14. BASIC BOTANY—Three hours. Two class periods and one laboratory period a week. Mr. Henry.

This course has been designed to extend the knowledge of general principles gained in Biological Science 11 to the distinctive characteristics of plants. Structure, physiology, and classification are considered with particular attention to the special relationship of plants and plant activities to human welfare. Required of all Biology Majors. Prerequisite: Biological Science 11. Semester course.

Offered annually.

21-22. VERTEBRATE MORPHOLOGY (Anatomy and Embryology)—One class period and two laboratory periods a week. Mr. Dunn.

The laboratory work of this course includes the dissection of the principal types of vertebrates. The lectures deal with the development, status, and history of the organ systems of vertebrates. Prerequisite: Biology 12. Year course.

Offered annually.

25. ADVANCED BOTANY—Two class periods and one laboratory period a week. Mr. Henry.

The work of this course consists of the identification of representative flowering plants, together with the study of their taxonomy, distribution, and economic importance. The preparation of a local collection is encouraged. Prerequisite: Biology 14. Semester course.

Offered annually.

31-32. EVOLUTION, HEREDITY, AND OTHER GENERAL BIOLOGICAL PROBLEMS—Three class periods a week. Mr. Dunn.

This course is intended not only for students of Biology, but for all who wish to be informed on recent developments in the field of biology, especially students of sociology, philosophy, and history. Special emphasis is given to the modern theories of evolution and of heredity. Prerequisite: Junior standing. Year course.

To be offered in 1953-54 and alternate years.

33-34. ENTOMOLOGY—Two class periods and one laboratory period a week. Mr. Henry.

The lectures and reading in this course furnish a background for the study of the physiology and anatomy of insects. The value of a knowledge of insects to man is stressed in both lectures and laboratory work. The preparation of a local collection is encouraged. Prerequisite: Biology 12. Year course.

Offered annually.
61-62. FUNDAMENTALS OF SYSTEMATICS—Three hours.

Given at the Philadelphia Academy of Sciences. Open only to Seniors, with consent of the Department. Year course.

81, 82. PROJECT COURSES—Three hours. Mr. Dunn and Mr. Henry.

Open only by permission of the instructor. Offered annually.

Chemistry

The program of courses in chemistry is planned for the purposes of sound education rather than technical training. When taken in proper sequence they afford a developing knowledge of chemistry as a rational science. Fundamental principles are stressed but sufficient experimental and other factual material is introduced to render these principles clear and to illustrate their applicability. Emphasis is placed upon precision of observation, measurement, and statement, and upon the application of the inductive-deductive method of scientific development, with the aim of making the study of chemistry of general educational value.

A Major in chemistry who intends to undertake graduate study in Chemistry should include in his program courses 24, 31, 32, 63, 64 and 65, together with German 13-14, Mathematics 21-22, and Physics 13-14. This is in accord with the level of accomplishment recommended by the American Chemical Society, which has placed Haverford on its approved list. Course 81 or 82, giving some insight into the aims and methods of original research, is also desirable. For the courses in chemistry needed for premedical preparation, see pages 40-41.

Students whose scholastic record prior to entrance indicates a satisfactory proficiency in elementary chemistry may enter the more advanced course, Chemistry 13, directly from high school. Others desiring work in chemistry will take Physical Science 11 and Chemistry 12 in preparation for Chemistry 13.

Major Requirements

Chemistry 13, 14, 23, 25, 26, 28 (or 31, 32), and 100.

Physics 13-14, and two additional advanced courses in chemistry.

The comprehensive examination will cover the general field of the chemistry courses listed above.

Majors will meet with members of the Staff for one period per week during the second semester of their Senior year for a critical discussion of the chemical principles studied in the courses and the application of these principles to modern developments in the science.

Candidates for Final Honors in Chemistry will pursue, during the Junior and Senior years, a course of reading and conference on the history of chemistry and recent advances in chemistry. The Honors program should be arranged with the Major Supervisor at the beginning of the Junior year.

12. ELEMENTARY CHEMISTRY—Four hours. Three class periods and one laboratory period a week. Mr. Benfey.

A study of the fundamentals of chemistry, the preparation, properties, and uses of the more common elements and their compounds, and the application of general principles of chemistry to industrial processes. Prerequisite: Physical Science 11. Semester course.

Offered annually.

13, 14. INORGANIC CHEMISTRY AND QUALITATIVE ANALYSIS—Four hours. Three class periods and one laboratory period a week. Mr. Meldrum, first semester, and Mr. Jones, second semester.

Lectures and recitations dealing with the fundamental principles of chemistry, solutions of nonelectrolytes and electrolytes, the ionic theory and its application to analytical processes and electrolytic phenomena, the periodic law, radiations, and the theories of atomic and molecular structure and their applications in chemistry. The systematic qualitative analysis of inorganic materials by the semimicro method will be emphasized in the laboratory. Prerequisite: Chemistry 12 or high school chemistry and consent of the instructor. Semester courses.

Offered annually.

23. QUANTITATIVE ANALYSIS—Four hours. Two class periods and two laboratory periods a week. Mr. Meldrum.

Lectures and laboratory work dealing with the general principles of gravimetric, volumetric, electrolytic, and colorimetric methods of analysis. Prerequisite: Chemistry 14. Limited to forty students. Semester course.

Offered annually.

24. ADVANCED QUANTITATIVE ANALYSIS—Three hours. One class period and two laboratory periods a week. Mr. Meldrum.

Lectures and conferences dealing with general methods for the quantitative determination of the elements and the analysis of industrial materials. The laboratory work includes the complete quantitative analysis of certain inorganic materials. Prerequisite: Chemistry 23. Semester course.

Offered annually.

25, 26. ORGANIC CHEMISTRY—Four hours. Three class periods and one laboratory period a week. Mr. Jones, first semester, and Mr. Meldrum, second semester.

A study of aliphatic, aromatic, and heterocyclic compounds. In the laboratory, experiments illustrating the synthesis and chemical properties of such substances are carried out. Prerequisite: Chemistry 14. Limited to forty students. Semester courses.

Offered annually.
28. ELEMENTARY PHYSICAL CHEMISTRY—Three class periods a week. Mr. Cadbury.

A lecture and conference course dealing particularly with those phases of physical chemistry which find application in physiology, physiological chemistry, and biological sciences. Among the topics emphasized are: gases and solutions, hydrogen ion concentration and pH and their measurement, reaction velocity and catalysis, enzyme action, adsorption, and colloids. Prerequisite: Chemistry 23. Semester course. Offered annually.

31, 32. PHYSICAL CHEMISTRY—Four hours. Three class periods and one laboratory period a week. Mr. Cadbury, first semester, and Mr. Benfey, second semester.

A study of the general properties of matter, using both the kinetic and thermodynamic methods, colligative and electrolytic properties of solutions, reaction velocity and catalysis, adsorption, colloids, and the phase rule. The laboratory work involves illustrative physico-chemical measurements. Prerequisite: Chemistry 23, Mathematics 21-22, and Physics 13-14; Junior standing. Semester courses. Offered annually.

61. ADVANCED INORGANIC CHEMISTRY—Three class periods a week. Mr. Jones.

Lectures and conferences dealing with advanced phases of inorganic chemistry, such as atomic structure, modern concepts of valence, isotopes and radio-activity and their application in research, Werner's complexes, intermetallic compounds, and metal hydrides. Prerequisite: Chemistry 23, 26, and Physics 13-14; Senior standing or consent of the instructor. Semester course. Offered annually.

63. ADVANCED ORGANIC CHEMISTRY—Four hours. Two class periods and two laboratory periods a week. Mr. Benfey.

A study of the principles involved in qualitative organic analysis and the application of electronic theories to selected chemical systems. The laboratory work involves the identification of organic substances by classification reactions and by the preparation of derivatives. Prerequisite: Chemistry 26; Senior standing or consent of the instructor. Semester course. Offered annually.

64. ORGANIC SYNTHESIS—Four hours. Two class periods and two laboratory periods a week. Mr. Jones.

A study of stereochemistry, organo-metallic compounds, rearrangements, unsaturated systems, and special preparative reactions of organic chemistry with emphasis upon general reaction mechanisms. Special syntheses constitute the laboratory work. Prerequisite: Chemistry 63; Senior standing or consent of the instructor. Semester course. Offered annually.
65. QUANTITATIVE ANALYTICAL METHODS—Three hours. One class period and two laboratory periods a week. Mr. Jones.

Lectures and laboratory work dealing with micro, semimicro, instrumental and other special methods of quantitative analysis. Prerequisite: Chemistry 23 and 26; Senior standing or consent of the instructor. Semester course. Offered annually.

81 and 82. CHEMICAL RESEARCH—Three conferences a week. Mr. Meldrum and Staff.

Open only to Seniors and to Graduate students in chemistry. May be elected as one or more courses. Prerequisite: Chemistry 26, and 28 or 32. May be taken in either semester; may be repeated for credit with change of content. Semester courses. Offered annually.

84. SPECIAL TOPICS IN THEORETICAL CHEMISTRY—Three conferences a week. Mr. Meldrum and Staff.

Open only to Seniors and to Graduate students in chemistry. Semester course. Offered annually.

Economics

The work in Economics is intended primarily to develop in students an understanding of the working of modern economic society, to give practice in the interpretation of economic data, to arouse an informed interest in public affairs, and to lay the basis for the formation of intelligent judgments in the field of economic policy. The elementary course is designed to give the basic understanding of economic processes and of economic organization that should be part of a liberal education in the modern age. The advanced courses also are offered as part of a program of liberal education, but are designed to meet, at the same time, the needs of men going into business or finance, or going on to graduate work in economics or business administration. Several of the advanced courses should be of special value to men planning to enter the foreign service or other fields of government work, or going into journalism or law. In the advanced courses emphasis is placed on the use of source materials and on research methods in economics, and students are given practice in the preparation of analyses and reports.

Men expecting to major in Economics are advised to take Social Science 11-12 in the Freshman year. It will also be helpful to take Mathematics 11-12 and, later, Mathematics 23.
Major Requirements

Economics 21-22, 31, 37, 64, 100, and three other half-year courses in Economics. Mathematics 23 (Introduction to Statistics) may be considered as one such half-year course. Economics 100 consists of selected readings on the history of economic thought and on current economic problems, with informal group discussions of the issues raised.

Social Science 11-12 and two other half-year courses in supporting fields, as approved by the departmental adviser.

A comprehensive examination which normally includes a written examination, an oral examination, and the preparation of a research memorandum.

21-22. ELEMENTS OF ECONOMICS—Three periods a week. Mr. Teaf and Mr. Bell.

A study of the main features of modern economic life, intended to develop an understanding of the principles underlying economic relationships. Emphasis is laid on the application of these principles to present-day problems. Prerequisite: Social Science 11-12. Year course.

Offered annually.

31. MONEY AND BANKING—Three periods a week. Mr. Bell.

A study of the history and principles of money, credit, and banking, with particular reference to American conditions. Problems concerning monetary standards, commercial and central banking policy, operation of the Federal Reserve System, price movements and their effects, and monetary aspects of the business cycle are considered. Prerequisite: Economics 21-22. Semester course.

Offered annually.

32. CONSERVATION OF NATURAL RESOURCES—Mr. White.

(See Geography 32.)

34. SOCIAL SECURITY—Mr. Somers.

(See Political Science 34.)

35. PUBLIC FINANCE—Mr. Herndon.

(See Political Science 35.)

36. LABOR ECONOMICS AND LABOR RELATIONS—Three periods a week.

Mr. Teaf.

(Also called Sociology 36.)

A study of the fundamentals of the employer-employee relationship, such as wages, hours, security; the functioning of labor organizations and government; the purposes and methods of collective bargaining. Special emphasis is placed on methods of resolving industrial conflict. Prerequisite: Economics 21-22. Semester course.

Offered annually.

37. ACCOUNTING—Three periods a week. Mr. Bell.

The balance sheet and statement of profit and loss; the classification of accounts; the theory of debit and credit; the books of original entry and of record; opening and closing the books; corporation accounts, reserves, etc. Discussion is accompanied by practice problems. Emphasis is placed upon the bearing of accounting theory and practice upon economic theory and current economic problems. This course is intended to provide an understanding of accounting sufficient for students going into the professions as well as a foundation for advanced accounting courses for those who will go into business. Prerequisite: Economics 21-22. Semester course.

Offered annually.

38. THE CORPORATION—Three periods a week. Mr. Hunter.

Economic functions and legal responsibilities of the corporation and its members; types of securities; general financial policy; the distribution of securities; expansion, combination, and reorganization. Social and political problems created by the growth of corporations are given special attention. Prerequisite: Economics 37. Semester course.

To be offered in 1952-53 and alternate years.

39. GOVERNMENT AND BUSINESS—Three periods a week. Mr. Haviland.

(Also called Political Science 39.)

40-42. SOVIET POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT—Three hours a week. Mr. Michaels.

(Also called Pol. Sci. 41-42.)

A political and economic analysis of the U.S.S.R., 1917 to date, after brief examination of the pre-Revolutionary background. Throughout the course, political and economic institutions and processes are treated as integrated aspects of Soviet development. Topics to be examined: The Revolutions of 1917, cause and effect; evolution of governmental forms; nationality policy; the Communist Party; industrialization; collectivization of agriculture; impact and effect of World War II; the current situation and outlook for the future. Prerequisite: Economics 21-22, Political Science 21-22 or Sociology 21-22. Year course.

Offered annually.

53-54. INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS: ECONOMIC AND POLITICAL— Three periods a week. Mr. Haviland.

(Also called Political Science 53-54.)

An examination of the major factors which affect international relations with special emphasis on the political and economic elements. The first semester's work will deal with the general environment and instruments of international relations including the principles and practices of international trade and investment. The second semester's work will involve intensive study, through case studies, of major modern problems in international relations. Prerequisite: Economics 21-22 or Political Science 22. Year Course.
63. SEMINAR IN ECONOMIC PROBLEMS—Three hours a week. Mr. Teaf.

This seminar will deal with an economic problem of current importance, with emphasis on the relation between economic analysis and the formulation of public policy.

The subject of the course may shift from year to year, or the same topic may be continued for several years, depending on developments in world economic affairs. In case of a shift in the subject matter of the course, it may be repeated for credit. Prerequisite: Economics 21-22. Semester course.

Offered annually.

64. NATIONAL INCOME AND FISCAL POLICY—Three hours a week. Mr. Hunter.

An analysis of major public policy issues in the field of fiscal policy. After study of the problems of national income estimation and a brief survey of business cycle theory, the theory of income determination is critically reviewed. Countercyclical fiscal policy, especially in its inflationary phase, is then examined. Research papers by members of the seminar are presented for discussion. Limited to Economics Majors and other qualified students on consent of the instructor. Prerequisites: Economics 31, Senior standing. Semester course.

Offered annually.

Engineering

The objective of the Engineering Department of Haverford College is to prepare students in the fundamentals of engineering by giving them training in the sciences and engineering, together with a broad liberal arts background under the influence of the philosophical and religious atmosphere available to all Haverford students.

Students not intending to enter the highly specialized fields of design and research will find the Haverford course ample for their needs. Graduates of Haverford who have majored in engineering are admitted to the student-engineers' courses of the leading industrial companies on equal terms with graduates of the larger engineering colleges. Those who desire more specialized training before entering the active work of the profession are granted substantial credit toward advanced standing in technical institutions or are admitted to their graduate schools.

Engineering 33 and 34 may be counted as courses in Physics for the purpose of satisfying any curricular requirements.

Major Requirements

Engineering 11, 12, 21, 22, 31, 32, 33, 34, 100, Engineering Seminar (a two-year, non-credit requirement), Mathematics 21-22, Physics 13-14, and two half-year courses in Chemistry.
Courses in Mathematics, Physics and Chemistry will be considered preliminary courses as defined on page 35.

11. PRINCIPLES OF ENGINEERING, DRAWING AND SHOP METHODS—Three laboratory periods a week. Mr. Hetzel and Mr. Wilson.

Two laboratory periods a week are devoted to instruction and practice in the methods and conventions of making engineering drawings and sketches. One period weekly is spent in the machine shop working principally on screw-cutting lathes. Two inspection trips. Text: Giesecke, Mitchell & Spencer, Technical Drawing, and Technical Drawing Problems. Semester course.

Offered annually.

12. ENGINEERING DRAWING, SURVEYING, AND SHOP METHODS—

Three laboratory periods a week. Mr. Hetzel and Mr. Wilson.

Additional work on detail and assembly drawings; study of uniform and logarithmic graphs; solution of typical engineering problems and orientation discussion of the various branches of engineering. Occasional meetings with visiting engineers. Exercises in plane surveying during the last eight weeks in the spring. Machine-tool work on lathe, shaper and milling machine, one period weekly. Inspection trips. Text: Taylor, Elementary Surveying. Prerequisite: Engineering 11. Semester course.

Offered annually.

21. KINEMATICS OF MACHINES—One class period and two laboratory periods a week. Mr. Holmes.

Velocity and acceleration analysis of mechanisms; cams, belts, chains, gears, etc. Inspection trips. Text: Keown and Faires, Mechanism, and Hall and Azpell, Mechanism Problems. Prerequisite: Engineering 11 or consent of the instructor. Semester course.

Offered annually.

22. ANALYTICAL MECHANICS—Three class periods a week. Mr. Holmes.

A study of forces and moments of forces; determination of forces in trusses and cranes; centroids and center of gravity; rectilinear and curvilinear motion; translation and rotation of bodies; work, power, and energy; impulse and momentum; balancing and moments of inertia. Text: Higdon and Stiles, Engineering Mechanics. Prerequisite or parallel course: Mathematics 21-22. Semester course.

Offered annually.

31. MECHANICS OF MATERIALS—Two class periods and one laboratory period a week. Mr. Holmes.

Offered annually.
32. THERMODYNAMICS—Three class periods a week and occasional laboratory periods. Mr. Holmes.

Offered annually.

33. ELEMENTS OF ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING—Four hours. Three class periods and one laboratory period a week. Mr. Hetzel and Mr. Wilson.

Direct current circuits and machinery. The course includes electromagnetism, induced electromotive force, electric and magnetic fields, direct current motors and generators, commutation, armature reaction, parallel operation of generators, and the systems for distributing direct current. Prerequisite: Physics 13-14, Mathematics 21-22. Semester course.

Offered annually.

34. ELEMENTS OF ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING—Four hours. Three class periods and one laboratory period a week. Mr. Hetzel and Mr. Wilson.

Alternating current circuits and machinery. Single phase and polyphase circuits, transformers, induction motors, generators, synchronous motors, single phase motors; transmission and distribution of alternating current; illumination. Prerequisite: Engineering 33. Semester course.

Offered annually.

63, 64. ELECTRONICS—(See Physics 63, 64.)

81, 82. SPECIAL PROJECTS.

Required of candidates for High and Highest Honors in Engineering but open to all students with the necessary prerequisites after consultation with the Instructor. Students in Engineering are encouraged to do individual work in some special field of investigation.

The following fields of study are suggested:

Fluid Mechanics. Mr. Holmes.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 21-22 and Physics 13-14.

Design of Machine Elements. Mr. Holmes.
Prerequisites: Mathematics 21-22, Engineering 22, 31.

Internal Combustion Engines. Mr. Hetzel.
Prerequisite: Physics 13-14.

Offered annually.
English Language and Literature

The English Department offers the opportunity to study significant formulations of the human spirit and experience in the English language and to give oral and written expression with respect to these works of literature. It furthermore provides opportunity for and instruction in written communication of ideas and information, and the creation of fiction.

Many students who choose to major in English intend to pursue some aspect of the subject professionally: to proceed to graduate school, to teach literature, or to undertake a literary career. The program of the Department provides preliminary education for all these purposes. But the study of English literature is recommended likewise to those students who wish to acquire a knowledge of their literary heritage, or to gain an acquaintance with the use of the English language, before entering a non-literary profession, such as law, government service, the ministry, medicine, or business. The Department welcomes such students.

English 11-12 is required of all Freshmen in the college; this course, or its equivalent, is a prerequisite to all further work in the Department. English 11-12 provides tutorial instruction in writing and an introduction to the study of literature.

Intermediate courses, numbered 20, 30 and 40, are open to all students in the college who have met the prerequisites. The Department offers courses in periods of literature, in a single author, and in selected works. These intermediate courses are graded in difficulty from the 20's through the 40's. A sequence of courses is arranged for English majors, with concentration on the literature of the Sixteenth and the Nineteenth centuries.

Courses numbered 60 and 80 are presented primarily for Senior English majors.

The attention of slow readers is called to the remedial work in reading offered by the Department of Psychology.

Major Requirements

Twelve semester courses, to be arranged in consultation with the Chairman of the Department.

The following courses are required for the Regular Major in English: 23, 31, 32, 34, 40, two 60 courses (or one 60 course and one 80 course), 100.

Students who wish to choose a Broad Major may substitute Humanities 21-22, or English 41-42, for English 34 and 40.

The remaining four semester courses are to be chosen either from the Department of English or closely related fields, upon consultation with and permission of the Chairman of the Department. The student is given the opportunity to fit this portion of his major program to his individual needs, subject to the discretion of the Department.

The attention of students who intend to undertake work for the Ph.D. in English is called to the requirement, set by many graduate schools, of proficiency in Latin, French and German.

A student who wishes to work for Honors in English should apply to the Chairman of the Department during the first semester of his Junior year.

11-12. READING AND WRITING ON HUMAN VALUES—Three periods a week with an added period of Public Speaking for one semester. Messrs. Booth, Lester, Ashmead, Wishmeyer, Friedrich, Mead, Quinn and Woodroofe. Public Speaking in charge of Mr. Mead. Tutorial instruction in writing. Readings in the Humanities, centered on values in Western Civilization. Weekly writing, based on reading program. Two class meetings and one tutorial meeting weekly. One semester Public Speaking. Year course.

22. THE ENGLISH BIBLE—Mr. Flight. (See Biblical Literature 22.)

23. SHAKESPEARE—Three periods a week. Mr. Woodroofe. Reading and study of twelve plays, with emphasis on features of general and popular interest. Prerequisite: Sophomore standing. Semester course. Offered annually.

24. CONTEMPORARY DRAMA—Three periods a week. Mr. Snyder. A study of the techniques and practice of the modern drama, as illustrated in the works of Ibsen and the best modern dramatists of England and America. Prerequisite: Sophomore standing. Semester course. Offered annually.

25. AMERICAN LITERATURE TO THE CIVIL WAR—Three periods a week. Mr. Snyder and Mr. Friedrich. Prerequisite: Sophomore standing. Semester course. Offered annually.

26. AMERICAN LITERATURE 1860-1900—Three periods a week. Mr. Snyder and Mr. Friedrich. Prerequisite: Sophomore standing. Semester course. Offered annually.

27. INTERMEDIATE COMPOSITION AND ORAL DISCUSSION—Three periods a week. Mr. Snyder and Mr. Wishmeyer. Practice in expository writing and in the techniques of public discussion. Limited to twelve students. Semester course. May be repeated for credit. Offered annually.

29. GREEK LITERATURE IN ENGLISH—Mr. Post.
(See Greek 29.)

31. NINETEENTH-CENTURY POETRY—Three periods a week. Mr. Snyder.
A study of six poets: Coleridge, Wordsworth, Shelley, Byron, Keats, and Tennyson. Lectures and classroom discussions. Prerequisite: Junior standing. Semester course.
Offered annually.

32. NINETEENTH-CENTURY PROSE—Three periods a week. Mr. Lester.
Lectures, discussions, and reading. Prerequisite: Junior standing. Semester course.
Offered annually.

34. ELIZABETHAN LITERATURE—Three periods a week. Mr. Sargent.
Chief writers of the English Renaissance, omitting Shakespeare. Prerequisite: English 23. Semester course.
Offered annually.

35. EIGHTEENTH-CENTURY LITERATURE—Three periods a week.
Novel and Drama. Prerequisite: Junior standing. Semester course.
Not offered in 1952-53.

36. EIGHTEENTH-CENTURY LITERATURE—Three periods a week.
Dr. Johnson and his Club (Boswell's Life of Johnson); the chief poets: Pope, Gray, and Burns; Ossian. Prerequisite: English 35; Junior standing. Semester course.
Not offered in 1952-53.

37. CREATIVE WRITING—Three periods a week. Mr.
Practice in writing imaginative literature. Chiefly confined to prose fiction. Regular assignments, class discussion, and personal conferences. Prerequisite: Junior standing. Semester course. May be repeated for credit.
Offered annually.

40. BRITISH AND AMERICAN LITERATURE OF THE TWENTIETH CENTURY—Three periods a week. Mr. Ashmead.
Fiction and verse by selected writers from Conrad and Crane to Auden and Hemingway. Prerequisite: Two semester courses in English beyond the Freshman year. Semester course.
Offered annually.

41-42. GENERAL COURSE IN ENGLISH LITERATURE—Three hours a week. Mr.
A study of ten to twelve major works in the field of English and American literature (e.g. Chaucer's Troilus and Criseyde, Milton's Paradise Lost, Boswell's Life of Johnson, Joyce's Ulysses, Eliot's Waste Land) for full understanding, as examples of significant experience and points of view. Prerequisite: Junior standing. (Humanities 21-22 is advised, though not required, as a prerequisite). Year course.

Offered in 1952-53.

61. SPECIAL TOPICS IN NINETEENTH-CENTURY LITERATURE—Three hours a week. Mr. Lester.

Studies in the development of nineteenth-century thought as expressed in English literature. Seminar reports and discussions; each student submits three critical essays. Prerequisite: English 32 and consent of the instructor. Seminar. Semester course. Limited to nine students. Priority to Senior English majors.

Offered annually.

62. SPECIAL TOPICS IN POETRY—Three hours a week. Mr. Snyder.

Browning's Poems. Also treatises on poetic theory from Aristotle to Whitman. Prerequisite: English 31 and consent of the instructor. Seminar. Semester course. Limited to nine students. Priority to Senior English majors.

Offered annually.

63. TOPICS IN SHAKESPEARE—Three hours a week. Mr. Quinn.

Critical study of plays not read in English 23. Three reports and one piece of original investigation. Prerequisite: English 23 and 34, and consent of the instructor. Seminar. Semester course. Limited to nine students. Priority to Senior English majors.

Offered annually.

81. PROJECTS IN AMERICAN LITERATURE—Weekly conferences. Mr. Ashmead.

Chiefly devoted to American Literature of the Eighteenth and Nineteenth centuries. Students must draw up their projects in consultation with the instructor. Recommended for students who are candidates for Final Honors. Prerequisite: English 25 or 26. (This requirement may be met by taking one of these courses concurrently with 81.) Limited to nine students. Priority to Senior English majors.

82. PROJECTS IN TWENTIETH-CENTURY LITERATURE—Weekly conferences. Mr. Sargent.

Both British and American Literature of the Twentieth century. Students must draw up their projects in consultation with the instructor. Recommended for students who are candidates for Final Honors. Prerequisites: English 40. (This requirement may be met by taking English 40 concurrently with English 82) Limited to nine students. Priority to Senior English majors.
General Courses

BIOLOGICAL SCIENCE 11. GENERAL PRINCIPLES OF BIOLOGICAL SCIENCE—Four hours. Three class periods and one laboratory period a week. Mr. Dunn and Mr. Henry.

The object of this course is to impart to the student some knowledge and appreciation of the generalizations which have resulted from the study of living organisms. An outline of these generalizations and of their historical origin will be given in the lectures of the course. The discussion group periods will be utilized for clarification and testing. In the laboratory period opportunity will be afforded to utilize those methods of study, and to verify those generalizations which can be brought into the confines of a college laboratory.

Offered annually.

HUMANITIES 21-22. INTERPRETATION OF LIFE IN WESTERN LITERATURE—One two-hour seminar, and one tutorial period a week. Mr. Gutwirth, Mr. Woodroofe, and Mr. Wishmeyer.

Study in their entirety of selected literary works which are great imaginative presentations of attitudes toward life. Prerequisite: English 11-12; Sophomore standing. Year course.

Offered annually.

HUMANITIES 31, 32. CULTURE OF THE FAR EAST—Three hours a week. Mr. Post.

This course is designed to introduce students to the life and literature of the Far East, through the use of translations, and to develop their mastery of a major field and of expository writing. G. Nye Steiger, A History of the Far East, is recommended for supplementary reading. Essays, weekly or biweekly, for discussion at individual meetings with the instructor. It may be taken as one or two half-courses in either half-year by a limited number of students who will be admitted only after a personal interview and only if there is still room for them when they apply to the instructor. Prerequisite: Junior standing. Limited to six students. Seminar. Semester course.

Offered annually.

PHYSICAL SCIENCE 11, 12. GENERAL PHYSICAL SCIENCE—Four hours. Three class periods and one laboratory or discussion period a week. Mr. Green.

This course is concerned with the nature and presuppositions of scientific method, the status of present-day physical science, and the relationship of science to the rest of our culture. It tries to illuminate these subjects by a study of some aspects of the development of our knowledge of mechanics, electricity, light, and the structure of matter. Semester course.

Offered annually.
SOCIAL SCIENCE 11-12. GENERAL COURSE IN SOCIAL SCIENCE—Three periods a week. Messrs. Reid, Reitzel, Roche, Campbell, Schwab, and Bell.

The purpose of this course is to acquaint the student with the appropriate techniques of the social sciences and to stimulate thinking about significant social issues. Major importance is attached to the analysis of specific evidence in the social sciences and its significance for an understanding of social behavior. The first semester is devoted to inquiry into the factors which shape human behavior and social institutions. This inquiry forms the basis for the development of informed judgments on contemporary social issues to be analyzed in the second semester. Year course.

Offered annually.

Geography

32. CONSERVATION OF NATURAL RESOURCES—Three periods a week. Mr. White.

Analysis of the basic principles of conservation of land, water, and mineral resources as they relate to social policy. Field study in selected areas. Prerequisite: Economics 22 or Sociology 33 or Political Science 22. Semester course.

Offered annually.

German

The main objective of German study is the acquisition of the language as a means of access to the civilization of which it is the medium. The courses are planned and conducted with the aim of enabling the individual student to fulfill most effectively his prospective needs. Hence provision is made for acquiring a practical speaking knowledge of the language as well as the ability to read it for postgraduate research, for which in many fields it is indispensable, and for an appreciation of German literature.

German 11-12, 13-14, 15-16, and 23 are primarily language courses. The remaining courses are devoted largely to the history of German literature from the earliest times to the present, and to the intensive study of special periods and eminent authors.

The collateral reading required in German 13-14 and German 15-16 is in literary or scientific works, as the student chooses.

Opportunity is given to students who complete German 11-12 or German 13-14 with distinction to advance rapidly into higher courses by passing a special examination on a prescribed program of collateral reading. A plan is in effect by which students may obtain credit on the reading course either for German 13-14 or for German 15-16.
It is possible and in some cases highly desirable for a Major in German to take his Junior year abroad in one of the supervised intercollegiate Junior Year programs.

Major Requirements

German 21-22, 23, 31, 33, and 100.
Supporting courses to be arranged in conference with the Major Supervisor. A comprehensive examination covering: 1. The German language; 2. History of the German language; 3. German literature; 4. German history, 1517-1914; and 5. A special period, literary movement, or author.

11-12. ELEMENTARY GERMAN—Three periods a week. Mr. Kelly and Mr. Steer.

Grammar, conversation, and the reading of simple texts. Year course. Offered annually.

13-14. INTERMEDIATE GERMAN—Three periods a week. Mr. Kelly and Mr. Steer.

Texts of moderate difficulty are read both in class and as outside work. Composition and conversation. Prerequisite: German 11-12 or the equivalent. Year course. Offered annually.

15-16. ADVANCED GERMAN—Three periods a week. Mr. Pfund.

Reading of standard works of German literature. Composition and conversation. Prerequisite: German 13-14 or the equivalent. Year course. Offered annually.

21-22. LESSING, GOETHE, SCHILLER—Three hours a week. Mr. Kelly.

Prerequisite: German 15-16 or the equivalent. Seminar. Year course. To be offered in 1953-54.

23. ADVANCED COMPOSITION AND CONVERSATION—Three periods a week. Mr. Pfund.

Readings in modern German literature, including works of contemporary writers, make up the subject matter of this course. Its objective is, accordingly, literary as well as linguistic. Prerequisite: German 15-16 or the equivalent. Semester course. Offered annually.

31. GERMAN ROMANTICISM—Three hours a week. Mr. Kelly.

A study of the Romantic movement in Germany and its relations to English and French Romanticism. Prerequisite: German 15-16 or the equivalent. Seminar in part. Semester course. To be offered in 1952-53 and alternate years.
32. THE GERMAN DRAMA OF THE NINETEENTH CENTURY—Three periods a week. Mr. Kelly.

Prerequisite: German 15-16 or the equivalent.
To be offered in 1952-53 and alternate years.

33. HISTORY OF GERMAN LITERATURE FROM ITS ORIGINS TO THE SEVENTEENTH CENTURY—Three periods a week. Mr. Pfund.

Lectures in German, with collateral reading in modern German. Translation, discussion, written and oral reports. Prerequisite: German 15-16 or the equivalent. Semester course.
Offered in 1953-54 and alternate years.

34. HISTORY OF GERMAN LITERATURE FROM THE SEVENTEENTH CENTURY TO THE PRESENT—Three periods a week. Mr. Pfund.

A survey course with lectures in German. Collateral reading, discussions, written and oral reports. Prerequisite: German 15-16 or the equivalent. Semester course.
Not offered in 1952-53.

SEMINAR COURSES—Three hours a week:
Prerequisite: At least one course beyond German 15-16.

37. GERMAN LYRIC POETRY—Mr. Pfund.
Not offered in 1952-53.

38. FAUST—Mr. Pfund.

An intensive study of Goethe's Faust in the original. Consideration is given to kindred works in European literature.
Offered in 1952-53.

39. RICHARD WAGNER—Mr. Kelly.

A study of Wagner's music dramas and theoretical writings, with special reference to their place in the history of ideas.
Not offered in 1952-53.

81 or 82. Three hours a week. Mr. Kelly and Mr. Pfund.

Individual work in various fields of German culture, such as literary theory, Baroque literature, and contemporary literature. Prerequisite: Satisfactory completion of at least one course in the Department beyond German 15-16.
May be repeated for credit with change of content. Semester course.
Offered annually.

Greek

The work in Greek can be modified to suit the needs of individual students. The elementary course provides some insight into the culture of the ancient Greeks, and into linguistic problems generally, besides leading to a knowledge of Greek adequate for the reading of the Gospels and of easy classical authors. More advanced courses are intended for students with an interest in history, philosophy, or literature; the authors read are studied for their value in these fields. Students are encouraged, to the extent of their capacity, to develop an imaginative understanding of art, philosophy, and science as forces in human life. The special contribution of the Greeks in these fields will be assessed and its significance in European history and in current education will be noted. A knowledge of Greek is a great asset in many fields of graduate study.

Major Requirements

Greek 31, 32, and four half-year courses selected in consultation with the Major Supervisor; Greek 100.

Three additional courses to be arranged in conference with the Major Supervisor.

If Greek 21, 22 is not taken in college, an additional half-course will be required. A comprehensive examination on Greek language and literature, Greek history, and Greek civilization.

11, 12. ELEMENTARY GREEK—Three periods a week. Mr. Post.

Thorough study of the elements of the language followed by the reading of simple prose. This course should be taken in the Freshman year, if possible. Year course. Offered annually.

21, 22. INTERMEDIATE GREEK—Three periods a week. Mr. Post.

A rapid reading course in such authors as Homer, Euripides and Plato. Prerequisite: Greek 11, 12 or the equivalent. Semester courses. Offered annually.

29. GREEK LITERATURE IN ENGLISH—Three periods a week. Mr. Post.

(Also called English 29.) Lectures on Greek literature. Reading of Greek poetry, drama, and literary criticism in translation. Essays and discussions. No knowledge of Greek is required in this course, but a general acquaintance with English literature is essential. Prerequisite: Sophomore standing. Semester course. Offered annually.

31, 32. ADVANCED GREEK—Three periods a week. Mr. Post.

Selections from Thucydides, Menander, Aristophanes, and the tragedians are read. Prerequisite: Greek 21, 22. Semester courses. Offered annually.
The courses in history are designed to give some conception of the development of the civilizations which exist in Europe and in the United States today. Since history is the story of what men have done, it is related to every other field in the curriculum, but the limitation of time forces a selection of those aspects of human activity which can be treated in any course. In all courses except History 33-34 an attempt is made to give a reasonably rounded view of those developments which are deemed most important in the period under consideration as a background for understanding other subjects in the fields of the humanities and the social sciences. With a variation of emphasis in each course, caused in part by the nature of the growth of civilization in the period and in part by the amount and the kind of historical evidence which has survived from the period, attention is given to such phases of development as the political, constitutional, social, economic, religious, and intellectual. History 11-12 is intended to be an introductory course by the nature of the subject, which is closely related both to European and to American history, and by the practice given in organizing historical material and weighing its value. It is not, however, a prerequisite for the election of any other course in the Department.

The study of history provides a background against which current problems of internal and external policies may be viewed to advantage. It also helps to develop critical standards for the evaluation of evidence which can often be applied in forming opinion with regard to the solution of such problems. Finally, it is useful as a foundation for professional studies not only in history but also in such subjects as public administration, journalism, and law.

Major Requirements

Four full-year courses (or three full-year courses and two half-year courses) in History, other than History 11-12; History 100.

Two full-year courses or their equivalent in related departments.

Four written examinations of three hours each.
11-12. ENGLISH HISTORY—Three periods a week.
A survey of political, constitutional, economic, and social history, intended as an introductory course. Open to Freshmen and Sophomores. Year course.
Not offered in 1952-53.

13-14. EUROPEAN CIVILIZATION FROM THE RENAISSANCE—One lecture and two group conferences a week. Mr. Arragon.
A study of the modern state and the rise of capitalism, of individualism and social theory, of religious thought and organization, of the development of science, of characteristic artistic forms and styles. Attention will be given to the relations between these aspects of civilization and to social and cultural change. First-hand materials as well as recent historical accounts will be used as the basis for conference discussion. Open to Freshmen and Sophomores. Limited to thirty students. Year course.

21-22. FOUNDATIONS OF THE UNITED STATES, 1492-1865—Three periods a week. Mr. Drake.
Lectures, reading, and discussion in American colonial and early national history. Not open to Freshmen. Year course.
Offered annually.

23-24. MEDIEVAL HISTORY—Three periods a week.
A survey of the history of Europe from the time of the barbarian invasions to about 1500. Elective for Sophomores who have had History 11-12, and for Juniors and Seniors without prerequisite. Year course.
Not offered in 1952-53.

25-26. MODERN EUROPEAN HISTORY—Three periods a week.
A survey of the history of Europe from about 1500. Elective for Sophomores who have had History 11-12, and for Juniors and Seniors without prerequisite. Year course.
Not offered in 1952-53.

27. GREEK HISTORY—Three periods a week. Mr. H. Comfort.
A survey of Greek history, with frequent reports on the art, archaeology, and political institutions of Greece. A knowledge of Greek is not required. Not open to Freshmen. Semester course.
Offered in 1952-53 and alternate years.

28. SURVEY OF ROMAN PROBLEMS—Three periods a week. Mr. H. Comfort.
(See Latin 28.)

30. ANCIENT HISTORY OF THE NEAR EAST—Three periods a week.
Mr. Flight.
(See Biblical Literature 30.)
31-32. NATIONAL DEVELOPMENT OF THE UNITED STATES, 1865 TO THE PRESENT—Three periods a week. Mr. Drake.

A study of institutional growth, with the larger social and political issues of the present considered in their historical setting. A lecture, reading, and discussion course, intended primarily for Juniors and Seniors. Year course.

Offered annually.

33-34. ENGLISH CONSTITUTIONAL HISTORY—Three periods a week.

A study of the formation and growth of English institutions, designed to be useful particularly to those who are interested in government and law. Open to Juniors and Seniors. Year course.

To be offered in 1953-54.

41-42. INTELLECTUAL AND CULTURAL HISTORY OF THE SEVENTEENTH AND EIGHTEENTH CENTURIES—Three group conferences a week. Mr. Arragon.

An examination of science, religion and social thought, of sensitivity, taste and artistic expression of the Baroque and the Enlightenment, chiefly through the interpretation of contemporary writings and works of art. Handled as a discussion seminar. For Juniors and Seniors. Limited to fifteen students. Year course.

History of Art

Under the co-operative arrangement between the Colleges, Haverford students who wish to take advanced courses in History of Art may do so at Bryn Mawr College. The introductory course is given at Haverford.

21-22. INTRODUCTION TO THE HISTORY OF ART—Three periods a week. Mr. Bernheimer.

This course deals with the history of Western art from its beginning in ancient Greece to modern times, with emphasis upon the Christian periods. It is conceived as a history of human values in terms of the visual forms in which they have been cast. The course parallels Humanities 21-22. In order to bring out the human significance of art, religious and philosophical ideas are discussed as they influenced the form and subject matter of art.

An introductory section deals with aesthetic principles and their application in the fields of painting, sculpture, and architecture. The purpose of the course is threefold: to widen the student's comprehension of past attitudes and beliefs so that he will be better able to understand his own; to enlarge his range of aesthetic appreciation; and to give him the technical knowledge required for further studies in the history of art. Not open to Freshmen. Year course.

Offered annually.
Latin

The Latin department offers instruction in the language, literature and civilization of the Roman people. Knowledge of the Latin language is fundamental to an understanding and proper use of the English and Romance languages; familiarity with the Latin classics is an indispensable background for the Western European literary tradition; and the history and civilization of Rome provide an explanation of, and parallels to, many pressing contemporary political, economic, social, and religious problems.

Principal emphasis is laid upon meeting the Roman legacy through the medium of the Latin language; but for those whose knowledge of Latin is too limited for this purpose, Latin 28 offers an opportunity to examine selected topics.

Major Requirements

Four full-year courses (except Latin 11-12), some of which may be taken at Bryn Mawr College; Latin 100. The Latin Department reserves the right to exclude Latin 13-14, in individual cases, from consideration as fulfilling a part of the Major requirements.

Four additional semesters in other departments, to be arranged in conference between the student and the Major Supervisor.

A written comprehensive examination. Candidates for Honors must pass an oral examination also.

11-12. ELEMENTARY LATIN—Three periods a week. Mr. H. Comfort.

13-14. LATIN LITERATURE—Three periods a week. Mr. H. Comfort.

For students offering two or three years of preparatory Latin. Review of grammar and vocabulary; reading in Vergil and other authors. Year course.

Offered annually.

15, 16. LATIN LITERATURE—Three periods a week. Mr. H. Comfort.

For students offering Latin 13-14 or four years of preparatory Latin. Reading of Roman comedy, and of authors of the Republic and the Augustan Age. Semester courses.

Offered annually.

23, 24. INDIVIDUAL TOPICS IN LATIN LITERATURE—Three periods a week. Mr. H. Comfort.

Systematic study of one or more aspects of Latin literature and Roman life. Prerequisites: at the discretion of the Latin Department. May be repeated for credit with change of content. Offered either semester.

Offered annually.
SURVEY OF ROMAN PROBLEMS—Three periods a week. Mr. H. Comfort.

(Also called History 28.)

An attempt to analyze the Roman attitude toward certain persistently significant literary, philosophical, and political problems. Lectures and collateral reading in translation; no knowledge of the Latin language is required. Pre-requisite: Sophomore standing. Semester course. Offered annually.

Mathematics

The aims of courses in Mathematics are: (1) to promote rigorous thinking by exhibiting a systematic, deductive, intellectual discipline; (2) to explain the role which Mathematics has played in the development of the culture of our age; (3) to foster technical competence in Mathematics as an aid to the better comprehension of the physical, biological, and social sciences.

Freshman Mathematics emphasizes mathematical ideas rather than techniques of computation. It is designed as a terminal course for the non-specialist who plans to take only one year of Mathematics as well as the beginning course prerequisite to further work in the Department.

The more advanced courses cover work in the fields of analysis, algebra, geometry, and statistics. The student majoring in the Department extends his studies into all of these areas; he may prepare for teaching in preparatory school, for graduate study leading to college teaching or industrial research, or for statistical and actuarial work.

The sequence in analysis and algebra, Mathematics 21-22, 31, 32, 33, 34, 63, is especially suited to the needs of the physical sciences, while Mathematics 23 and 38 deal with those concepts of statistics and probability which are fundamental to the biological and social sciences.

Major Requirements

Mathematics 11, 12, 21-22, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 40, 63, 82, and 100.

Recommended collateral courses are Physics 13-14, 32, 61, 62, or, for prospective actuaries, Economics, 21-22, 37.

Prescribed parallel reading on the history and general principles of mathematics.

Three written comprehensive examinations, each three hours in length. An oral examination will be required for Final Honors.

It is recommended that facility in reading French and German be acquired as early in the college course as possible.
11, 12. FRESHMAN MATHEMATICS—Four periods a week. Mr. James, Mr. Strehler, and Mr. Wilson.

An introductory course designed to present the fundamental concepts of modern Mathematics and to give numerous applications of these concepts to practical problems in the natural and social sciences. Topics included are: logic and the nature of mathematical proof, the number system, statistics and probability, functions and graphs, plane analytic geometry, and elementary calculus. Year course.

Offered annually.

21-22. CALCULUS—Three periods a week. Mr. Wilson.

Differential and integral calculus, with applications. Prerequisite: Mathematics 11, 12. Year course.

Offered annually.

23. INTRODUCTION TO STATISTICS—Three periods a week. Mr. James.

Tabular and graphic methods, frequency distribution, averages, measures of central tendency, dispersion and skewness, correlation, tests of significance. Lectures and computing laboratory. Prerequisite: Mathematics 11, 12. Semester course.

Offered annually.

31. DIFFERENTIAL EQUATIONS—Three periods a week. Mr. James.

Methods of solution of the standard types of ordinary differential equations with applications to problems in physical science. Prerequisite: Mathematics 21-22. Semester course.

Offered annually.

32. ADVANCED CALCULUS—Three periods a week. Mr. James.

Advanced topics in calculus, including infinite series, elliptic integrals, partial derivatives, Jacobians, line integrals, and Stokes' Theorem. Prerequisite: Mathematics 21-22. Semester course.

Offered annually.

33. THEORY OF EQUATIONS—Three periods a week. Mr. Strehler.

Advanced topics in the theory of equations; introduction to modern abstract algebra. Prerequisite: Mathematics 21-22. Semester course.

Offered in 1952-53 and alternate years.

34. VECTORS AND MATRICES—Three periods a week. Mr. Strehler.

The algebra of vectors, vector spaces, and matrices, with applications to mathematical physics. Prerequisite: Mathematics 21-22, 33. Semester course.

Offered in 1952-53 and alternate years.
35. ADVANCED ANALYTIC GEOMETRY—Three periods a week. Mr. Strehler.
Advanced plane and solid analytic geometry. Homogeneous coordinates. Introduction to the geometry of n-dimensions. Prerequisite: Mathematics 21-22. Semester course.
To be offered in 1953-54 and alternate years.

38. MATHEMATICAL STATISTICS—Three periods a week. Mr. James.
Theoretical presentation of the mathematical background of elementary statistics and probability. Prerequisite: Mathematics 21-22, 23. Semester course.
To be offered in 1953-54 and alternate years.

40. DIFFERENTIAL GEOMETRY—Three periods a week. Mr. Strehler.
The differential geometry of curves and surfaces. Introduction to vector and tensor analysis. Prerequisite: Mathematics 21-22, 35. Semester course.
To be offered in 1953-54 and alternate years.

61, 62. INTRODUCTION TO MATHEMATICAL PHYSICS—Mr. Benham and Mr. Sutton.
(See Physics 61, 62.)

63. INTRODUCTION TO ANALYSIS—Three periods a week. Mr. Rademacher.
Rigorous treatment of fundamental ideas in analysis: real and complex numbers, functions, limits, continuity, differentiation, and integration. Applications to Fourier Series and differential equations. Prerequisite: Mathematics 31, 32. Semester course.
Offered annually.

82. SPECIAL TOPICS—Three hours a week. Members of the Department.
Seminar course involving wide reading in the literature, and presentation of papers for group discussion. The content varies from year to year to suit the needs of advanced students. Semester course.
Offered annually.

92. CALCULUS OF VARIATIONS—Three periods a week. Mr. Courant.
Variational principles, methods of Jacobi, Steiner, Weierstrass; isoperimetric problems; minimal surfaces; with physical applications. Prerequisite: Mathematics 63. Semester course.
Offered in 1951-52.

Music

The courses offered in Music have as their objective (1) the stimulation of the creative energies of the student through musical composition, and (2) the development of an understanding of music through the study of history and important writings on musical subjects, as well as through the analysis of musical compositions from all periods. In furthering and strengthening the discipline of music the College has no intention of training musicians by conservatory methods. The intention is rather to form enlightened workers in the field of music. Experience has shown that students in the fields of composition and musicology can be effectively aided by the joint offerings of Haverford, Bryn Mawr, and the University of Pennsylvania. At Haverford the program seeks to stimulate free composition in the vocal and instrumental forms with a view to public performance by professionals of the better works.

The College does not grant academic credit for training in voice, or the playing of instruments.

Major Requirements

Three full year courses in Music and six semester courses or their equivalent from such related fields of the Humanities, History of Art, Languages and Science as may be approved by the Department.

The Major comprehensive examination will consist of:

1. An examination in the history of music.

2. The presentation by the candidate of a musical composition in one of the larger instrumental forms, or a vocal work. In cases where the candidate has not been sufficiently trained in musical composition, the examination may be confined to music history. In such cases the candidate's work is expected to be at a high musicological level.

3. A small composition to be completed during the examination period.

11-12. ELEMENTARY MUSIC THEORY—Three periods a week. Mr. Reese.

This course deals with the general foundations of the musical language—scales, intervals, rhythm, formation of melodic patterns and their notation—and includes elementary chord formation (introduction to harmony). Ear training is an important adjunct throughout the course.

21-22. ADVANCED HARMONY AND COUNTERPOINT—Two class periods and one laboratory period a week. Mr. Swan.

No sharp line is drawn between harmony and counterpoint. Students will be free to select the method of harmonization, provided they can show a knowledge of both vertical and horizontal construction. Starting with the exercises in two- and three-part writing the student will proceed to the composition of short pieces, scoring them for strings or voices. (A piano exposition is also permissible.) The work is done individually, the class periods being used for the discussion of common problems. Prerequisite: Music 11-12, or its equivalent.
The seminar is intended for the demonstration of the work in composition of the advanced students and music majors. The larger forms of composition are discussed from the point of view of musico-historical problems. Each student is expected to choose one or two periods in music history in which he will do concentrated work.

Philosophy

The courses in Philosophy are intended first of all to acquaint students with the major currents of interpretation and reflection upon the recurring problems, such as the nature of man, the nature of the universe, the nature of the processes by which man apprehends and responds to that universe. Since these problems underlie the work of literature and furnish it with many of its most basic themes; since they underlie the presuppositions of political, sociological, and economic thought; since they reappear in the frame in which every thoughtful scientist works and affect not only the use to which his results will be put, but his very method, just as his methods have influenced in turn the formulation of the problems, the study of philosophy is an important tool in connection with work in any of these fields.

In the second place the courses in philosophy are designed to assist in integrating material presented in literature, history, the social and physical sciences, in art, and in religion in order to assist the student in drawing together what he has learned, and in approaching a more responsible, intentional, and intelligent world view with which to confront life.

The courses are so planned as to require such orientation as would be secured in either Philosophy 11 (which examines in an elementary way the great problems man confronts) or Philosophy 21-22 (which deals with these same problems as it presents the great classical philosophical thinkers chronologically) before proceeding to the more specialized philosophical disciplines such as ethics, aesthetics, logic, political philosophy, philosophy of science, philosophy of religion, and to more specialized studies of certain philosophical thinkers.

Major Requirements

Philosophy 12, 21-22, 63-64 and two other half-year courses in Philosophy. Philosophy 100.

Four half-year courses in related fields to be arranged in conference with the Major Supervisor.
A comprehensive examination in two parts: three hours on the history of philosophy and three hours on one optional field selected from topics in philosophy since 1800, or religious thought.

11. INTRODUCTION TO PHILOSOPHY—Three periods a week. Mr. Steere, Mr. Foss and Mr. Parker.

An understanding of the nature and function of philosophy and of its relations to other fundamental human interests such as science, religion, and art is sought through a consideration of representative philosophical problems. Semester course.

Offered annually in either semester.

12. ETHICS—Three periods a week. Mr. Foss and Mr. Parker.

A study of (1) conflicts of ethical values involved in contemporary life; (2) certain classical ethical devices for resolving those conflicts; (3) the role of the individual and of the group in the realization of ethical values. Case material drawn from contemporary situations and from literature will be widely used. Discussions, lectures, and papers. Prerequisite: One semester-course in Philosophy. Semester course.

Offered annually.

21-22. HISTORY OF PHILOSOPHY—Three periods a week. Mr. Foss and Mr. Parker.

A study of the development of philosophy with special reference to Plato, Aristotle, Descartes, Locke, Berkeley, Hume, Spinoza, Leibnitz, Kant, and Hegel. First-hand acquaintance with selected writings of these philosophers; reports, lectures, and class discussions. Not open to Freshmen. Year course.

Offered annually.

23. CLASSICS OF RELIGIOUS LITERATURE—Three periods a week. Mr. Steere.

Not offered in 1952-53.

24. HISTORY AND PHILOSOPHY OF QUAKERISM—Three periods a week.

Mr. W. W. Comfort.

The Quaker Movement is studied in its relation to other intellectual and religious movements of its time, particularly those found in English philosophy. The development of the dominant Quaker conceptions is traced to the present day and critically examined. The course is designed for non-Friends as well as for Friends. Not open to Freshmen. Semester course.

Offered in 1952-53.
26. AESTHETICS—Three periods a week. Mr. Foss.
A study of the philosophical principles underlying the creative and appreciative aspects of art. Prerequisite: One semester-course in Philosophy. Semester course.
Offered in 1952-53.

27. LOGIC—Three periods a week. Mr. Parker.
The principles of valid inference and their application to reasoning in everyday life, and in the sciences; the syllogism and other types of formal reasoning, the nature of proof, the detection of fallacies; introduction to the logic of scientific method and to contemporary developments in symbolic logic.
Offered in 1952-53.

28. PHILOSOPHY OF RELIGION—Three periods a week. Mr. Foss.
A study of the basic problems which the field of religion presents to a thoughtful mind. Prerequisite: One semester-course in philosophy. Not open to Freshmen. Semester course.
Not offered in 1952-53.

29. SOME ASPECTS OF RELIGIOUS LIFE AND LITERATURE SINCE THE REFORMATION—Three periods a week. Mr. Steere.
Luther and German Protestantism; Thomas More and the Erasmus Tradition in England; Ignatius of Loyola and the Society of Jesus; Theresa of Avila and Spanish Mysticism; Lancelot Andrews and 17th Century Anglican Piety; Isaac Penington and the corporate mysticism of the Quakers; John Wesley and the Evangelical Revival; John Frederic Oberlin and the rural apostolate; John Henry Newman and the Oxford Movement; Albert Schweitzer as critic of contemporary civilization; William Temple and the ecumenical movement; Evelyn Underhill and the "Life of the Spirit in the Life of Today"; Rufus M. Jones and the religious situation of our time. Lectures, reports, class discussions. Students who have taken Philosophy 23 will be admitted to this course only with permission of the instructor. Semester course.
Offered in 1952-53.

32. NINETEENTH CENTURY THINKERS—Three periods a week. Mr. Steere.
Selected writings of Schopenhauer, Nietzsche, Tolstoy, and Bergson. Semester course.

33. PHILOSOPHY OF SCIENCE—Three periods a week. Mr. Benfey.
Designed mainly for science Majors. A study of the development of scientific thought, the nature of scientific knowledge and methods, and the mutual influence of science and society. Prerequisite: Two years of natural science, and Philosophy 11 or 21-22 or 27, or consent of the instructor. Semester course.
Offered in 1952-53.
63-64. PHILOSOPHICAL SEMINAR—Three hours a week. Mr. Steere and Mr. Foss.

Specialized work in some restricted field of philosophic or religious thought is undertaken, the precise subject depending upon the needs of the students and the general interests of the group. Primarily designed for Seniors majoring in Philosophy and for Graduate students. Prerequisite: Philosophy 21-22; Majors unless by special arrangement. Limited to ten students. Year course. Offered annually.

65-66. THE DEVELOPMENT OF POLITICAL THOUGHT—Three hours a week. Mr. Steere.

A seminar course based upon the writings of selected political philosophers from Plato to the present day. Prerequisite: Philosophy 11 or 21-22; one semester of Political Science; otherwise by consent of the Department. Limited to sixteen students. Year course. Not offered in 1952-53.

81. 82. PROJECT COURSES—Individual consultation; supervised independent reading and research. Mr. Steere, Mr. Foss, and Mr. Parker.

Physical Education

Courses in Physical Education are arranged in accordance with the plan for all-year physical training in the Freshman, Sophomore, and Junior years. The aim of this plan is to make possible active participation in athletics for the majority of students at Haverford College, with emphasis on the sports with carry-over value. Each student is required to take, during his first three years, nine terms (fall, winter, spring) of Physical Education or of certain non-academic courses (see p. 101), with a minimum of six terms in Physical Education: three in the Freshman year, two in the Sophomore year, and one in the Junior year.

A thorough medical and physical examination is given to each student upon entrance. Only those students whose physical condition is satisfactory will be permitted to take part in athletics. A tuberculin test is given to all Freshmen, followed by an x-ray if necessary, as part of this required examination. A swimming test is given to all entering students following the physical examination. This test must be passed by all students before graduation. Swimming instruction is given in the gymnasium pool during the early fall and late spring.

The outdoor facilities include: Walton Field for football and truck, with a 440-yard oval and a 220-yard eight lane straight-away cinder track; the Class of 1888 and Merion fields for soccer, both of which are used for baseball and softball in the spring; a skating pond; Cope Field for cricket; an athletic field presented by the Class of 1916; a baseball field presented by the Class of 1922, used also for soccer in the fall; and twelve tennis courts, five of which were presented by the Class of 1923. There are four dinghies available during the spring and fall for those who wish to sail.

The indoor facilities are all included in the Gymnasium. The basement contains dressing rooms, showers, a swimming pool, a wrestling room, and a training room. Through the generosity of the Class of 1928, it has recently been possible to provide additional locker and dressing facilities, a new storage room for athletic equipment, and a laundry and drying room. A regulation basketball court is on the main floor and is used for Varsity and Junior Varsity basketball, the interclass and intramural program, and for instruction in Physical Education. Adjoining this floor are dressing facilities for instructors, coaches and officials, and rooms for the administration of medical and physical examinations. A special section for corrective and body-building work, an indoor track, a trophy room, and the administrative offices are located on the second floor.

Physics

Courses in Physics are intended to acquaint students with fields of knowledge important to our civilization, to train them in analytical thinking, to give them an appreciation of scientific methods, and to help them gain first-hand experience and insight into the methods of experimental investigation.

Students of chemistry, engineering, mathematics, medicine, physics or other sciences will find the foundation offered by General Physics (Physics 13-14) indispensable. Physics 13-14 is ordinarily taken in the Sophomore year after Mathematics 11-12 or Physical Science 11 and 12, but Freshmen with adequate preparation may be admitted after consultation.

For the student with professional aims in science, the Department offers courses leading to a Major in Physics which should equip a man to enter graduate school or industry on a favorable footing. Sound knowledge of mathematics is essential. Ability to understand and use the calculus is assumed in most of the advanced courses. The Department desires to cultivate in its Major students independence of thought and initiative at progressive levels of maturity; to that end, a sequence of courses following Physics 13-14 has been arranged, culminating in Physics 81, 82. The latter offers opportunity to conduct an extended individual investigation with training in the mastery of theory and experiment, and with emphasis upon independence and the ability to express oneself clearly both orally and in writing on the subject of investigation. Physics 81, 82 is not, however, limited to students majoring in Physics; it may be elected by others after consultation.

Physics 21 is open to qualified students who seek a broad understanding of modern concepts of matter and radiation. Physics 33-34 and 61, 62 are particularly recommended to students of chemistry, mathematics, and engineering who plan to do graduate work.

Major Requirements

Physics 13-14, 33-34, 81, 82, 100, and two semesters selected from 61, 62, 63 or 64, constitute the minimum requirement of courses in this Department. In addition, Physics 21 and 32 are recommended.

Mathematics 11, 12, 21-22, and 31.

History of physics (collateral reading) in course 100.

A written comprehensive examination in two parts: (a) on general physics and history treated comprehensively; (b) on an extended, open-book problem designed to test each individual’s ability to correlate his knowledge. In addition, an oral examination is expected of candidates for Honors. The granting of Honors in Physics is based upon excellence (an average of 85 or better) in course work, particularly in Physics 81, 82, and evidence of accomplishment beyond the usual course requirements.

Students who desire to combine a Major in Physics with advanced work in some other related department may do so by special arrangement between the two departments concerned. In such cases, a program is mapped out with some modification of the requirements normally expected of a Major in a single department.

13-14. GENERAL PHYSICS—Four hours. Three class periods and one laboratory period a week. Mr. Sutton, and Mr. Benham.

This is the basic course for work in physics, engineering, chemistry or other sciences. Mechanics, sound, heat, electricity, and light are studied with the help of problems, laboratory experiments, lecture demonstrations, and discussion. This course is commonly taken in the Sophomore year, but qualified Freshmen are admitted after consultation. Algebra and trigonometry are essential and the methods of calculus are frequently employed. Freshmen must offer four years of high school mathematics and a year of high school physics or chemistry, and should take Mathematics 11, 12 concurrently. Sophomores who have passed Mathematics 11, 12 or Physical Science 11 and 12, or both, will be admitted. Year course.

Offered annually.

21. ATOMIC PHYSICS—Three hours. Three class periods a week and occasional laboratory periods. Mr. Sutton.

A course of lectures, experiments, discussion and readings emphasizing the experimental development of modern physics from the discovery of electrons and x-rays to recent problems of nuclear structure and the interaction of matter and radiation. Many of the more theoretical aspects are reserved to Physics 62. Prerequisite: Physics 13-14, or consent of the instructor. Semester course.
Offered annually.

22. PHYSICAL OPTICS—Three hours. Three class periods a week and frequent laboratory periods. Mr. Sutton.

A study of the principles of physical optics covering systematically such fields as refraction, diffraction, interference, and polarization, with an introduction to Maxwell's equations. Prerequisite: Physical Science 11, 12 or Physics 13-14. Semester course.

32. MECHANICS—Three class periods a week. Mr. Sutton.

Analytical mechanics, treating the statics, kinematics, and dynamics of particles and rigid bodies. Discussion and problems on the application of calculus, differential equations and vector methods to mechanical systems, including an introduction to Lagrange's equations and the special theory of relativity. This course and Physics 61, 62 are complementary. Prerequisite: Physics 13-14 and Mathematics 21-22; Mathematics 31 should be taken previously or concurrently. Semester course.
Not offered in 1952-53.

33-34. ELECTRICITY AND MAGNETISM—Four hours. Three class periods and one laboratory period a week. Mr. Benham.

A course of lectures, readings, and laboratory experiments designed to familiarize the student with precision electrical measurements, Kirchhoff's laws, Gauss's theorem, magnetic circuits, potential, capacitance, inductance, alternating current, and the laws of the electromagnetic field. Prerequisite: Physics 13-14 and Mathematics 21-22; Mathematics 31 should be taken previously or concurrently. Year course.
Offered annually.

61. INTRODUCTION TO MATHEMATICAL PHYSICS—Three class periods a week. Mr. Sutton.

(Also called Mathematics 61.)
Readings and problems on selected topics in classical mathematical physics, aimed to develop appreciation and skill in the use of mathematical tools for the solution of physical problems and in the interpreting of mathematical consequences physically, with emphasis upon the fuller understanding of differential and integral processes and the development of vector methods. Prerequisite: Physics 13-14 and Mathematics 31. Semester course which, when linked with Physics 62 or Astronomy 31 or 32, offers a year of theoretical physics, but qualified students may take either semester of Physics 61 or 62 alone.
62. MATHEMATICAL METHODS IN MODERN PHYSICS—Three class periods a week. Mr. Sutton.

(Also called Mathematics 62.)

Readings and problems in electron physics, the theory of atomic and nuclear structure, wave mechanics and related fields. Prerequisite: Physics 13-14 and Mathematics 31; Physics 21 and 61 are also recommended but not required. Semester course.

63. ELECTRONICS—CIRCUIT THEORY. Four hours. Three class periods a week and one laboratory period. Mr. Benham.

This course includes the study of resonant circuits, coupled circuits, filter networks and impedance matching. Laboratory experiments are designed to give the student experience in the relation of theory to practice. Prerequisite: Physics 33-34 or Engineering 33-34, or consent of instructor. Offered annually.

64. ELECTRONICS—VACUUM TUBE CIRCUITS. Four hours. Three class periods a week and one laboratory period. Mr. Benham.

Electron theory, study and application of vacuum tubes, and problems pertaining to design and analysis of typical circuits employing them. Prerequisite: Physics 33-34 or Engineering 33-34, or consent of instructor. Offered annually.

81, 82. PHYSICS SEMINAR—Three hours. One meeting a week and individual study and laboratory work. Mr. Sutton and Mr. Benham.

Individual work in selected fields of investigation. Each student pursues comprehensive reading and sustained experimental work on a problem. Weekly meetings are held with the members of the Department to discuss the progress in each field of investigation. Each student becomes familiar with problems other than his own and gains experience in presenting his own work. Not restricted to Major students. Year course. By permission, one semester only may be elected. Also, the course may be repeated for credit with change of content. Offered annually.

Political Science

The Political Science Curriculum is designed to give the students an understanding of political organization and political forces in modern society, to provide knowledge and a basis for insight and judgment on the problems involved in the relationship of the individual to government and of governments to one another. The broad areas of study include: analysis of political theory in relation to its institutional environment; comparison and appraisal of different types of governments and their political organization; American political institutions; and problems of international relations.

The tools of analysis include theory and experience. The purposes and the actual workings of political institutions are appraised. In advanced courses, emphasis is placed upon individual research and analysis—practice in location, organization, and presentation of data, and independent judgment.

The courses are designed primarily for a liberal arts education and are intended to create intelligent and lasting interest and participation in the formulation of public policy. The training will also serve the practical needs of those men contemplating professional careers which involve an understanding of modern government, such as law, journalism, and the public service.

Men majoring in political science are expected to understand the relationship of this field to other social studies and also the purposes and methods of the social sciences as a whole. They are thus expected to take supporting courses in economics, history, and sociology.

Major Requirements

Political Science 21, 22, 100 and six other courses in Political Science distributed among the areas of study indicated above.

At least four other semester courses in social sciences other than Political Science.

A comprehensive examination covering the major fields of study. The comprehensive examination includes seminar participation.

Candidates for Honors are required to submit a thesis of independent research work. Such thesis may obtain course credit through Political Science 81 or 82.

Economics 21-22, Mathematics 23, Philosophy 65-66 and Sociology 81 are recommended for Political Science Majors.

21. FREEDOM AND CONTROL: Foundations of Western Political Thought—

Three periods a week. Mr. Somers, Mr. Haviland, Mr. Roche, and Mr. Reitzel.

An analysis of the development of the main currents of western political thought, studied primarily through the original works of thinkers who have had greatest influence in shaping modern ideas and institutions, with special reference to the central issue of reconciling individual liberty with social control. Prerequisite: Social Science 11-12. Offered annually.

22. MODERN POLITICAL INSTITUTIONS AND ISSUES—Three periods a week. Mr. Somers, Mr. Haviland, and Mr. Roche.

A comparison and analysis of modern governmental institutions and practices with reference to their theoretical foundations. Central problems of government will be examined in relation to comparative structures, administration, and operative ideals. Special attention will be devoted to the United States, which will also be used as a basis of comparison. Prerequisite: Social Science 11-12.

Political Science 21 and 22 are designed as a year course. Together they present the basic elements for understanding of modern politics for students who will continue in political science as well as for those who do not intend to take additional courses in this field. With permission of the Department either semester may be taken independently.

Offered annually.

31. PARTIES, PRESSURES, AND PUBLIC OPINION—Three periods a week.
   Mr. Somers.

A study of political parties, their organization and techniques, as an instrument of democratic government; the relationship of private associations and interest groups to the party system; the role of such associations in a democracy; and the struggle for power with relation to public opinion and theories of the public interest. Prerequisite: Political Science 22. Semester course.

Offered annually.

32. CONSERVATION OF NATURAL RESOURCES—Mr. White.
   (See Geography 32.)

33. AMERICAN CONSTITUTIONAL DEVELOPMENT—Three periods a week. Mr. Roche.

A study of the development of the American constitution through judicial interpretation, related to the changing political, social, and economic problems of the United States. Definitive Supreme Court cases shaping the course of American development will serve as the primary basis of study. Prerequisite: Political Science 21 and 22. Semester course.

Offered in 1952-53 and alternate years.

34. SOCIAL SECURITY—Three periods a week. Mr. Somers.
   (Also called Economics 34 and Sociology 34.)

A study of the economic and political problems caused by the insecurity and hazards of modern industrial society, their social and political costs, methods of alleviation and control, with particular reference to social insurance and related governmental programs. The nature of public interest and public responsibility in relation to individual disaster is examined. Prerequisite: Political Science 22 or Economics 21-29 or Sociology 21-22. Semester course.

Offered in 1952-53 and alternate years.

35. PUBLIC FINANCE—Three periods a week. Mr. Herndon.
   (Also called Economics 35.)

A study of the general principles of public revenues, public expenditures, public indebtedness, fiscal administration, and of the principles of equity in the distribution of tax burdens. Prerequisite: Political Science 22 or Economics 21-22. Semester course.

Offered annually.

89
36. FEDERAL TAXATION—Three periods a week. Mr. Herndon.
A study of the principal aspects of taxation by the federal government with emphasis upon income and estate tax policies and problems, together with consideration of the leading constitutional law developments in this field.
Prerequisite: Political Science 22 or Economics 21-22. Semester course.
Offered annually.

38. GOVERNMENT ADMINISTRATION AND PUBLIC POLICY—Three periods a week. Mr. Somers.
A study of administration as a central element of contemporary society with special reference to the problems involved in the development of the modern "service state"; administrative theory and process in relation to the formulation and execution of public policy. The approach is analytical rather than descriptive and based, in large measure, on case studies. Prerequisite: Political Science 22. Semester course.
To be offered in 1953-54 and alternate years.

39. GOVERNMENT AND BUSINESS—Three periods a week. Mr. Haviland.
(Also called Economics 39.)
A study of the economic, political, and social factors which shape the governmental regulation of business: (a) with respect to business organization and to markets and marketing policy, (b) with respect to a selected public-utility type of business. Prerequisite: Economics 21-22. Semester course.
Offered annually.

41-42. SOVIET POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT—Mr.
Hunter and Mr. Michaels.
(See Economics 41-42.)

51b. AMERICAN FOREIGN POLICY—Three periods a week. Mr. Haviland.
A critical analysis of the forces which shape United States foreign policy including its objectives, methods, and consequences. Major emphasis will be placed on the preparation of project papers concerning specific contemporary issues in United States foreign policy. Prerequisite: Political Science 22.
Semester course.
To be offered in 1952-53 and alternate years.

53-54. INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS: ECONOMIC AND POLITICAL—
Three periods a week. Mr. Haviland.
(Also called Economics 53-54.)
An examination of the major factors which affect international relations with special emphasis on the political and economic elements. The first semester's work will deal with the general environment and instruments of international relations including the principles and practices of international trade and investment. The second semester's work will involve intensive study, through case studies, of major contemporary problems in international relations. Prer-requisite: Economics 21-22 or Political Science 22. Year course.
Offered annually.
55. COMPARATIVE GOVERNMENT—Three periods a week. Mr. Roche.
An advanced comparative study of political institutions of selected foreign governments. Emphasis is placed on recent constitutional developments and their implications, and on the changing role of government in society. Prerequisite: Political Science 22. Semester course.
Offered in 1953-54 and alternate years.

56. INTERNATIONAL LAW AND ORGANIZATION—Three periods a week.
Mr. Haviland.
A critical analysis of the evolution of major instrumentalities for the achievement of world order and law. Particular attention will be given to the League of Nations, the United Nations, the Specialized Agencies, and various proposals for regional and world government. Prerequisite: Political Science 22.
Semester course.
Offered in 1953-54 and alternate years.

57. AMERICAN POLITICAL THOUGHT—Three periods a week. Mr. Roche.
An approach to understanding the enduring significance of the American heritage through the study of outstanding political and social writings. Prerequisite: Political Science 21. Semester course.
To be offered in 1953-54 and alternate years.

64. MODERN POLITICAL AND SOCIAL THEORY—Three periods a week.
Mr. Roche.
(Also called Sociology 64.)
A study of leading political doctrines of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries which have had major influence in shaping the issues and conflicts of the modern world. Prerequisite: Political Science 21 and 22; or Sociology 21-22. Semester course.
Offered annually.

65. TOPICS IN INTERNATIONAL GOVERNMENT—Three hours a week.
Mr. Mitrany.
An analysis of major issues in the field of international government including:
political, economic, social, and trusteeship problems; functionalism; and regionalism. Prerequisite: Political Science 21-22 and consent of the Department. Limited to ten students. Semester course.
Offered only in 1952-53.

81, 82. INDEPENDENT PROJECT COURSES—Individual consultation; supervised independent reading and research. Mr. Somers.
Research papers and oral reports on special topics based upon the individual interests of advanced students. Open only to Senior Social Science Majors by permission of the instructor. Theses of candidates for Honors may be written for credit in this course. Limited enrollment. May be taken as semester or year course by arrangement with instructor.
Offered annually.
Psychology

Courses in Psychology are intended to acquaint the student with the factors which underlie his own mental processes and the mental processes of those about him. The subject deals primarily with an understanding of the problems of human adjustment to environment. In addition to the basic and possibly unique contribution which psychology can make to a general education, the study of psychology is of special significance for students who are preparing themselves for business, law, medicine, the ministry, or other fields in which the professional man is called upon to deal with other human beings.

Major Requirements

Psychology 21, 22, 31, 33-34, 61, 62, 81 or 82 and 100. Mathematics 23 strongly advised.
Comprehensive examination.

21, 22. GENERAL PSYCHOLOGY—Three hours. Mr. Campbell.
A psychological approach to the study of human behavior. The continuity and interrelationship of individual and social behavior will be emphasized. The course has been designed to provide a groundwork for those who plan to do further work in psychology and a survey of the field for those interested in the application of psychological principles to other areas of specialization. Prerequisite: Social Science 11-12.
Offered annually.

31. HUMAN RELATIONS—Three periods a week. Mr. Campbell.
(Also called Sociology 31.)
The course is designed to increase the understanding of social relations in modern society. Problems of interpersonal, intra-groups, and inter-group relationships will be examined within the framework of principles of social psychology. Prerequisite: Sociology 21, 22, or Psychology 61, 62. Year course.
Offered annually.

33-34. EXPERIMENTAL PSYCHOLOGY—Two class periods and one laboratory period a week. Mr. Pepinsky.
Application of the scientific method to the subject matter of psychology. To discover the relationships that govern behavior. Prerequisite: Psychology 21, 22. Year course.
Offered annually.

61. PSYCHOLOGY OF PERSONALITY—Three periods a week. Mr. Pepinsky.
The study of the problems of development and organization of personality. Prerequisite: Psychology 33-34. Semester course.
Offered annually.
62. PSYCHOLOGY IN MENTAL HYGIENE—Three periods a week and occasional visits to clinics. Mr. Pepinsky.

Consideration is given to the dynamics of behavior and adjustment; motivation and its modification by cultural and organic influences; forms of adjustment, normal, neurotic, and psychotic; adjustments typical of different age levels; and adjustments influenced by counseling. Prerequisite: Psychology 61. Semester course.

Offered annually.

81, 82. SPECIAL TOPICS IN PSYCHOLOGY—Two hours of seminar discussion and one laboratory period a week. Mr. Pepinsky.

A seminar for special work in restricted fields of psychology. A project course. Elective for Seniors by consent of the instructor. This course may be repeated for credit with change of content. Prerequisite: Psychology 61. Semester course.

Offered annually.

REMEDIAL READING. Mr. F. Comfort.

Designed to help students having difficulty with their rate and comprehension in reading. For corrective measures students are referred to appropriate agencies. No credit.

Offered each semester.

Romance Languages

Admission of new students to all French and Spanish courses except French 11-12 and Spanish 11-12 is contingent upon placement examinations administered by the Department prior to the opening of such courses.

Opportunity is given to students who complete French 11-12, Spanish 11-12 or Spanish 13-14 with distinction to advance rapidly into higher courses by passing a special examination in September on a prescribed program of vacation study.

Residence in the French and Spanish Houses, attendance at the language tables in the college dining room and participation in the Cercle français and Club español afford an opportunity for supplementary oral practice.

Students who might profitably spend their Junior year in France or Mexico are encouraged by the Department to apply for admission to the institutions sponsoring foreign study groups.

Students majoring in Romance Languages are encouraged to spend a summer in France or Mexico. Foreign summer schools and projects sponsored by the American Friends Service Committee and other organizations offer exceptional opportunities in this regard.
The program of French courses offers students an opportunity:

1) to learn to read, understand, speak and write French. In French 11-12 emphasis is placed on the ability to read and pronounce French. In French 13-14 a special effort is made to teach students to understand spoken French. French 21 and 22 are planned for the benefit of students primarily interested in learning to speak and write French;

2) to achieve an understanding of the basic attitudes implicit in a foreign culture which has exerted a profound influence in the shaping of western civilization;

3) to read with an increasing awareness of philosophical, moral, aesthetic and social implications the most significant French literary works.

Major Requirements

French 23-24, 25-26, 81 or 82, and 100.

Supporting courses to be arranged in individual conference with the Major Supervisor.

Comprehensive Examination.

11-12. INTRODUCTION TO FRENCH LANGUAGE AND THOUGHT—Three periods a week. Mr. Wylie and Mr. Gutwirth.

First semester: Study of those aspects of French grammar without a knowledge of which one cannot read French intelligently. Training in pronunciation.

Second semester: Reading of authors who have concerned themselves with important problems. One class hour a week is devoted to translation, another to concentrated analysis of short texts, and the third to discussion of rapid reading. Year course.

Offered annually.

13-14. THE FRENCH PEOPLE—Three periods a week. Mr. Wylie.

The purpose of this course is to aid the student, through analysis of basic French attitudes and comparison with equivalent American attitudes to achieve a more objective understanding of certain cultural forces which have had a part in shaping his own life. Lectures and reading are in French, but class discussion is carried on in English. Prerequisite: French 11-12 or the equivalent. Year course.

Offered annually.

21. SPOKEN FRENCH—Three periods a week. Mr. Wylie.

This course is designed to develop the student's ability to speak French correctly and without embarrassment. At first most of the work will be carried on through individual conferences and laboratory periods; as the ability of the student increases and general discussion becomes more profitable, more emphasis will be placed on regular class meetings. Attendance at the French table in the College Dining Hall is expected. Students who plan to take this course are encouraged to make arrangements to live in the French House. Prerequisite: French 13-14 or special permission of the Department. Enrollment limited to twelve students. Semester course.

Offered annually.

22. THE FRENCH LANGUAGE—Three periods a week. Mr. Wylie.
The development and structure of the French language are studied as a means to a more general understanding of the nature and function of language. Through extensive drill an attempt is made to teach students to write French correctly. Prerequisite: French 21 or the equivalent. Semester course.

Offered annually.

23-24. CURRENTS OF FRENCH THOUGHT—Three periods a week. Mr. Wylie.
A study of the fundamental trends of French thought from Humanism to Existentialism. Special emphasis is placed on the relationship of philosophical, social, and literary schools of thought. Although importance is attached to historical development, this course does not constitute a survey of French literature. Prerequisite: French 13-14 or the equivalent. Year course.

To be offered in 1953-54 and alternate years.

This course, while independent of French 23-24, is complementary to it. It consists of readings in French masterpieces from the Chanson de Roland to Camus's L'Etranger. Emphasis is placed on intrinsic values rather than on century-by-century coverage. Some of the men read are Villon, Montaigne, Pascal, Racine, Voltaire, Diderot, Rousseau, Stendhal, Flaubert and Gide. Prerequisite: French 13-14 or the equivalent. Year course.

Offered in 1952-53 and alternate years.

81, 82. SPECIAL PROJECT IN FRENCH LITERATURE—Mr. Gutwirth and Mr. Wylie.
This course offers the student of French literature an opportunity to probe more deeply and more independently into a problem in which he is particularly interested. The nature of the course will therefore vary to suit the needs of individual students. Semester courses.

Offered annually.

SPANISH

The courses offered in Spanish are designed to give the students a thorough knowledge of the Spanish language and an understanding of Spanish and Spanish-American thought and culture. Elementary Spanish and Intermediate Spanish are primarily language courses, with emphasis on grammar, reading, and conversation. Even in these elementary courses the approach corresponds to the liberal tradition of the College, placing emphasis on the human value of the language, and its importance in international and continental solidarity and understanding. The elementary courses are followed by general courses in civilization and literature, as the basis for the more advanced courses covering special periods, works, and authors in Spanish and Spanish-American literatures.

Major Requirements

Spanish 21-22, 31, 32, 81 or 82, and 100.

History of Spain and Spanish America, as a background for literature.
Supporting courses to be arranged in individual conference with the Major Supervisor.

Comprehensive Examination.

11-12. ELEMENTARY SPANISH—Three regular periods and one special discussion period a week. Mr. Asensio and Mr. Jacob.

Grammar, with written and oral exercises; reading; thorough drill in conversation. Year course.

Offered annually.

13-14. INTERMEDIATE SPANISH—Three periods a week. Mr. Asensio and Mr. Jacob.

Review of grammar, with written and oral exercises; composition, reading, and conversation. Prerequisite: Spanish 11-12 or the equivalent. Year course.

Offered annually.

15-16. INTRODUCTION TO HISPANIC CIVILIZATION—Three periods a week. Mr. Asensio.

Geographic, cultural, and historical background. Emphasis is laid on basic attitudes underlying the Spanish and Spanish-American culture pattern and contrasting with characteristic American attitudes. Lectures, reading, discussion, written reports. Prerequisite: Spanish 13-14 or the equivalent. Year course.

Not offered in 1952-53.

21-22. INTRODUCTION TO SPANISH LITERATURE—Three periods a week. Mr. Asensio and Mr. Jacob.

A survey of Spanish literature from the beginnings to modern times; lectures, written and oral reports. Prerequisite: Spanish 13-14 or the equivalent. Year course.

Offered in 1952-53.
31-32. INTRODUCTION TO LATIN-AMERICAN LITERATURE—Three periods a week. Mr. Asensio.

A survey of Latin-American literature from the Colonial period to modern times; lectures, written and oral reports. Prerequisite: Spanish 13-14 or the equivalent. Year course. Mr. Asensio.

Not offered in 1952-53.

33. SPANISH LITERATURE OF THE GOLDEN AGE—Three periods a week. Mr. Asensio.

Cervantes, Lope de Vega, Tirso de Molina, Calderon; lectures, written and oral reports. Semester course.

Not offered in 1951-52.

81, 82. SPECIAL TOPICS IN SPANISH LITERATURE—Three periods a week. Mr. Asensio.

Reading and lectures; written and oral reports. This course may be repeated, with change of content, for full credit. Semester courses.

Offered annually.

Russian

The courses in Russian are designed to offer the students the opportunity to learn and to read and speak Russian and to achieve an understanding of the thought and culture of pre-revolutionary as well as contemporary Russia. Russian 11-12 and 21-22 are primarily language courses. The elementary course teaches the basic grammar and enough vocabulary to enable the student to speak and understand simple Russian. The intermediate course introduces the student to the Russian literary language; also some newspaper articles and other contemporary material are read.

Students who have completed Russian 21-22 can continue with the more advanced courses offered at Bryn Mawr College.

Major Requirements

(Courses numbered above 100 are offered at Bryn Mawr College.)

Students majoring in this field will be required to take:

8 semester-courses in Russian language and literature: 11-12, 21-22, 201, a 300 course chosen from 301, 302, 303, 304, in addition to the 100 course.

4 semester courses in Russian history and institutions: History 208 (History of Russia); Political Science 41-42 (Soviet Political and Economic Development).

Other related courses, including Russian 203, (Russian Literature in Translation) will be arranged in individual conference with the major supervisor.

A comprehensive examination on the Russian language, a special period of Russian literature, and Russian history.
11-12. ELEMENTARY RUSSIAN*—Five periods a week. Miss deGraaff.
Russian grammar, conversation, and reading. Year course.
Offered annually.

21-22. INTERMEDIATE RUSSIAN—Four periods a week. Miss deGraaff.
Grammar review, reading in Russian classics and contemporary material, conversation. Prerequisite: Russian 11-12 or the equivalent. Year course.
Offered annually.

The following courses are given at Bryn Mawr College:

201. READING IN RUSSIAN LITERATURE—Three periods a week. Mrs.
Bogojavlenskij.
Representative writers of the nineteenth century. Conducted mostly in Russian. Prerequisite: Russian 21-22. Year course.
Offered annually.

203. RUSSIAN LITERATURE IN TRANSLATION—Three periods a week.
Miss Linn.
The leading Russian writers of the nineteenth century in translation. Students registering for the course should read in the preceding summer the following novels: Dostoevsky's Crime and Punishment, Tolstoi's War and Peace, and two of Turgenev's novels. Year course.

302. PUSHKIN AND HIS TIME—Three periods a week. Miss deGraaff.
Conducted in Russian. Prerequisite: Russian 201. Year course.
* This course meets five times a week with corresponding reduction in outside preparation; three hours credit.

Sociology

The curriculum in Sociology is designed primarily to develop the student's understanding of the social structure, the social process, and the web of social relationships in and through which man functions. It will treat man, his groups, his organizations, and his communities.
Courses are offered for those who would make Sociology their area of major interest as well as for those students wishing to study social science methods, or, such specific groups and institutions as populations, the family, and the community as aspects of modern society.

Major Requirements

A major program requires three two-semester courses or their equivalent in the field of sociology, and the equivalent of four semester courses selected from the related courses listed below. Sociology courses always required are 21, 22, 33 or 40, 37 or 38, 61, 82, 100. Related courses may be selected from the following group, when chosen in consultation with the Major Supervisor: Economics 21-22; Geography 32; Political Science 21, 31; Psychology 33-34; Mathematics 23.
Social Science 11-12 is a prerequisite for the introductory course in this Department.
A comprehensive examination, designed to test the student's knowledge as well as his ability to integrate and utilize the subject matter of sociology and other social sciences, is given in the Senior year.

Candidates for Final Honors in Sociology will be required to complete two research projects, one in the field of Social Groups and Institutions during the Junior year, another in the field of Social Processes and Issues during the Senior year.

21, 22. SOCIAL AND CULTURAL LIFE—Three periods a week. Mr. Reid and Mr. Schwab.

In the first semester this course will set forth a systematic organization of the field of general sociology using the basic concepts of function, structure, and process as guiding principles. The materials will be based on the leading methods of sociological research. Cultural anthropology is the framework for the second semester's work. Here the student will analyze diverse cultures with particular reference to man's institutions, value systems, behavioral patterns, and their interrelations. The problems of man's antecedents and his racial composition will also be investigated. Students may begin this course in either semester. Required of all Sociology Majors. Prerequisite: Social Science 11-12.

Offered annually.

31. HUMAN RELATIONS—Mr. Campbell.

(See Psychology 31.)

33. POPULATION POLICIES AND PROBLEMS—One three-hour period a week. Mr. Reid.

A study of the restrictive, expansive, and eugenic aspects of national population policies as they are related to demographic theory. Special reference is given to the problems of fertility and mortality, density, immigration, and food supply. Individual projects. Prerequisite: Sociology 21, 22 or Economics 21-22. Semester course.

Offered in 1952-53 and alternate years.

34. SOCIAL SECURITY—Mr. Somers.

(See Political Science 34.)

36. LABOR ECONOMICS AND LABOR RELATIONS—Mr. Teaf.

(See Economics 36.)

37. THE FAMILY—One three-hour period a week. Mr. Reid.

A study of the institutions designed to guarantee the perpetuation of the group and its cultural heritage in comparative societies. The course will analyze functions, forms and processes of the institutions of marriage and the family. Individual projects. Prerequisite: Sociology 21, 22 or Economics 21-22. Semester course.

To be offered in 1953-54 and alternate years.
38. THE MODERN URBAN COMMUNITY—One three-hour period a week. Mr. Reid.

A study of the social and spatial aspects of modern urban community organization as influenced by personal, technological, ecological, economic and political factors. Individual projects. Prerequisite: Sociology 21, 22 or Economics 21-22.

Offered in 1952-53 and alternate years.

40. RACE AND CULTURE GROUPS IN THE MODERN WORLD—One three-hour period a week. Mr. Reid.

An analysis of the secularization of the world’s peoples and the contemporary "minorities" situations in the world; how these situations arise; how they are perpetuated. Special attention is given to theories and methods of analysis and planning. Individual projects. Prerequisite: Sociology 21, 22 or Economics 21-22. Semester course.

To be offered in 1953-54 and alternate years.

61. SOCIAL RESEARCH—Individual consultation and one two-hour period a week. Mr. Reid, Mr. Schwab, Mr. Campbell.

An analysis of classic and significant studies in the fields of the social sciences with a view toward understanding the methods, tools, techniques, and hypotheses of social research. Studies will demonstrate the use of statistical, case, historical, and other research procedures. Individual projects. Required of Sociology Majors. Seminar. Prerequisite: Sociology 21, 22 or Economics 21-22 and Junior Standing. Semester course.

Offered annually.

64. MODERN POLITICAL AND SOCIAL THEORY. Mr. Roche.

(See Political Science 64.)

81. SPECIAL TOPICS IN THE SOCIAL SCIENCES—Individual conferences. Staff.

This is a course for advanced students who wish to undertake special individual study projects. Prerequisite: Sociology 61 and permission of the instructor.

Offered annually.

82. ISSUES IN SOCIETY—(Companion seminar to Sociology 100.) Individual consultation and one two-hour period a week. Mr. Reid, Mr. Schwab.

This seminar is designed to treat a sociological situation of current or potential importance, emphasizing the nature and problems of social fact, social values and the social process. Individual projects. Required of Sociology Majors. Prerequisite: Sociology 61. Semester course.

Offered annually.
Non-Academic Program

The Faculty of Haverford College adopted in the spring of 1947 a program which involves a new departure in American education. This program is designed to cultivate aesthetic perception, creative control of materials, a love of fine workmanship, and other important areas of learning and of experience, such as community service, which have often been neglected in the liberal arts program. The Faculty feels that, though courses (called “units”) in these areas cannot properly be included in the academic curriculum, they are of no less importance in the development of personality than strictly intellectual work.

Every student is required to take nine terms of work which is not academic in nature. It is mandatory that six of these terms be taken in Physical Education: three in the Freshman year, two in the Sophomore year, and one in the Junior year. The remaining three terms may be devoted either to offerings of the Department of Physical Education or to units of the Non-Academic Program described here. The first election of such units in the Non-Academic Program may be made in the fall or winter term of the Sophomore year.

In its non-academic work, the College insists on the same high quality of teaching which it demands in its curricular courses. A distinction in the two types of work is needed not because one is thought to be less important than the other, but because in the opinion of the Faculty the two kinds of work are different and should not be equated.

Most of the following units will be offered during the winter term in 1952-53. Certain units, in addition to those so designated, may be offered during the fall term, depending upon the enrollment.

AUTOMOTIVE MECHANICS—Three hours per week. Mr. Hetzel.

This is a practical course in the operation, maintenance and simple repair of motor vehicles, designed primarily as preparation for ambulance or relief service. Limited to ten undergraduates.

Offered in the fall term.

COMMUNITY SERVICE—Three hours a week. Mr. Hetzel.

Non-academic credit will be given to students who participate during the winter term as group leaders in the activities of community services. Activities include athletics, scouting, clubs, music, dramatics, hobbies, and other youth-leadership work. Competent social workers will supervise the work, and guidance will be given by sociologists to make the experience profitable.
FIRST-AID AND HOSPITAL TRAINING—Four hours per week. Dr. Taylor, Mr. Lester and Mr. Wishmeyer.

This unit will include an elementary course in first-aid, service as orderlies or assistants at a hospital, and lectures and demonstrations of medical techniques involved in ambulance and relief service activities. An advanced first-aid course may be offered if required. Offered in the winter term.

MACHINE-TOOL WORK—Three hours a week. Mr. N. Wilson.

The unit for beginners will be conducted in the winter term and will include machine tool work on the lathe, milling machine, shaper, and drill-press. Those who have sufficient skill will be permitted to use the scheduled period for approved projects of their own choice.

MUSIC APPRECIATION—Three hours per week. Mr. Reese.

An elementary course designed to develop a technique of listening to music. The basic aspects of music—melody, rhythm, harmony, texture, color, form—are studied. Emphasis is placed on the analysis of examples given and of music heard in available concerts. Offered in the winter term.

PAINTING AND DRAWING—Three hours a week. Mr. Janschka.

The purpose of instruction in this course is to help students in acquiring perception and skill in artistic creation and rendition through the media of painting, drawing and modeling. The work may be from life and nature, from imagination, or the copying of art works. Prior experience is not required. Offered in the fall and winter terms.

PHOTOGRAPHY—Three hours a week. Mr. N. Wilson.

This unit is for beginners and will include instruction in the use and characteristics of photographic equipment, the processing of films and papers, and the composition of subject material both indoors and outdoors. Limited to six students. Offered in the fall term.

PUBLIC SPEAKING—Three hours per week. Mr. Snyder.

This unit is based on the assumption that members, having taken required Public Speaking (English 11-12), have already had elementary training whereby they have been freed from stagefright and platform awkwardness. The course will be organized to meet the special needs of those who elect it. Important for prospective clergymen, lawyers and teachers. Admission with the consent of the instructor. Offered in the fall term.

RADIO COMMUNICATION—Three hours a week. Mr. Benham.

This unit consists of projects in radio, such as instruction in the International Morse Code, a study of basic principles, or a construction project (the cost of materials to be borne by the student). It may serve as preparation for the amateur license examination given by the Federal Communications Commission. Admission with the consent of the instructor. Offered in the winter term.
THEATRE ARTS—Three hours a week.

This unit meets during the winter term and covers acting, directing, and theatre production by means of lectures, demonstrations, and laboratory work.

WEEKEND WORKCAMPS—Mr. Hetzel and Mr. Richie.

Students electing this unit will spend three week-ends participating in the work of renovating houses in certain areas in Philadelphia. Consultations with expert social workers and discussion within the camp group will promote an interest in and understanding of social problems. Offered October to May.

WOODWORKING—Three hours a week.

Instruction will be offered during the winter term in woodworking with hand tools on selected tasks. Qualified students may work on projects of their own choice insofar as facilities permit. Cost of materials to be borne by the student. Limited to six students at one time.
The Graduate Curriculum in Social and Technical Assistance

Haerford College is offering qualified men and women a Graduate Curriculum in Social and Technical Assistance in the belief that the development of a peaceful world society depends on large-scale social, economic and political reorganization in many regions and over a long period of time. Programs designed to improve the productivity of underdeveloped areas, to eliminate the causes of recurrent disaster such as famine and epidemic diseases, and otherwise to improve the health and to raise the living conditions of millions of people will require the services of technicians who must be highly trained and experienced in specific fields, such as engineering, agriculture and the economics of land use, education, social work and public health. Those who are in charge of general administration will need to have a practical knowledge of office and fiscal management.

All who engage in assistance programs should be both emotionally and intellectually qualified for the task. As men and women of good will they should be able to work harmoniously with people of different races and possibly under difficult and primitive circumstances. They should be able to appreciate the values of "foreign" cultures and understand the basis for variant economic and political theories.

Projects for the improvement of living conditions which are essentially technical in character make a profound impact on the social life of the people who are affected by the changes. Thus, professional competence of the technicians, such as engineers, agricultural scientists, economists, etc., is not sufficient of itself. They must be alert to the social implications of their work and prepared to help the affected population to adjust rapidly to a new economic-social order. In many cases the technicians will be required to work with people whose cultures are derived from more primitive technical backgrounds. Practically all of the technical and social assistance projects now in progress or envisaged by the intergovernmental, governmental and private agencies are as much a problem of human engineering as they are a matter of putting technological principles into practice.

Many technical and social assistance projects already have been established by the United Nations, directly and through its affiliated agencies, the Food and Agriculture Organization, the World Health Organization and others. The United States Government has embarked on a "Point Four Program” offering technical cooperation to underdeveloped countries. Non-governmental service organizations, in many cases connected with religious bodies, have for years sought to improve the living conditions of mankind, more frequently with social and educational projects than with technical assistance.

It may be expected that these programs will grow in magnitude and outreach. They are not limited to countries outside of the United States, but include technical and social assistance for underprivileged and economically dislocated groups within American society, such as sharecroppers and migrant agricultural workers, American Indians in distressed areas, and inhabitants of sections of the country affected by depletion of resources, migration of industry, and natural disasters.

Haverford's Experience

Haverford College has particular interest in integrating technological knowledge with sociological insight. It is a fundamental principle of the Quaker way of life that the philosophical attitudes, religious convictions and social ideals of the persons entering fields of public service affecting human welfare are as important for success as their specific technical training. The course that the College now offers is the logical development of experiences growing out of the training of relief and rehabilitation workers during World War II. At that time a graduate curriculum for men and women was provided to train personnel for governmental and non-governmental agencies engaged in a variety of refugee-relief programs and other projects designed to relieve human suffering and to rehabilitate devastated areas. Graduates of the Reconstruction and Relief curriculum offered by the College during 1943-45 were quickly absorbed by the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration (UNRRA) as welfare officers and staff members in Displaced Persons Camps and for other assignments; by the War Relocation Authority to aid Japanese-Americans in Relocation Centers; by the American Friends Service Committee for a variety of projects for displaced persons in Austria, Finland, France, Germany, Hungary, Italy and the United States; and by several other international, national and local institutions dealing with social welfare problems.

These graduates made a notable contribution to the traditions of Haverford College for preparing people for humanitarian service in times of national crisis. More than 300 graduates and members of the faculty of the College have served in welfare programs related to World War I and World War II and the reconstruction periods that followed them.
The Course of Study

The present Graduate Curriculum in Social and Technical Assistance offered by Haverford College presupposes a sound general education as basic preparation. The course does not necessarily specialize in the needs of specific areas—on the principle that a graduate should be broadly prepared to serve wherever the opportunity offers. However, in the case of individual students who are planning to join specific assistance programs, the College will try to arrange concentrated courses to qualify for work in those areas. Since considerable emphasis is placed upon the non-academic qualifications of a candidate for a Master's Degree in addition to satisfactory fulfillment of the academic requirements of the course, the College requires a Work Project experience of at least three months following the completion of a year's work in academic subjects and a report based upon actual problems of assistance in the field.

1. ENTRANCE REQUIREMENTS. This curriculum is open to men and women who hold the bachelor's degree from recognized institutions in the United States and Canada and who are otherwise qualified by virtue of their character, motivation, and previous training. Special provision is made for foreign students with similar preparation and qualifications.

All candidates for admission are expected to possess a competence in at least one modern foreign language equivalent to one year's work in college beyond the elementary grade. Those preparing for administrative or non-technical work should give evidence of some background in the social sciences. Those expecting to do work in applied science should have completed an undergraduate major in natural science, engineering, agriculture, home economics or similar fields, and, in addition, have done some basic work in the social sciences. The Administrative Committee is willing to consider applicants with unusual qualifications in a certain field who may be deficient in some aspect of the above requirements.

2. COURSE OF STUDY — ACADEMIC. Each student will be expected to complete a program of ten semester-courses selected to fit his particular needs. In most cases these courses will be chosen largely from those listed below, but students may also be urged to select other advanced courses from the regular offerings of the College which contribute to the general aims of this curriculum. Some of the courses listed below are required of virtually all students in the curriculum, and other courses may be required of a student whose preparation along a particular line is considered by the College to be deficient. A grade of at least 80 must be obtained in all courses taken under this program.

(a) Social Science 91-92. Case Study of Assistance Programs. (Both Semesters). Required. Mr. Teaf and others. A study by the case method, of the objectives, organizational and operational techniques, and problems faced in various types of assistance programs: relief, reconstruction, technical assistance, social and technical planning. In the study of each program, consideration will be given particularly to problems raised by geographical, cultural, economic and political aspects of the area concerned. Lectures by staff and by visitors, readings, papers, and seminar discussions.

(b) Sociology 91. Contemporary Cultures. (First Semester). Required. Mr. Schwab. A study of the social life, customs, and structures of extant cultures, designed to show how they function and why and how they change. Special attention will be given to the problem of the impact of western culture upon and its integration with the cultures of selected indigenous peoples. Some consideration will also be given to the effect of colonial administration.

(c) Psychology 92. Human Relations. (Second Semester). Required. Mr. Campbell. An advanced course in the understanding of factors in social relations. Problems of social behavior and their relationship to underlying psychological principles will be studied. Among the topics discussed are the individual personality; the nature and scope of social influences; groups, group membership, and group conflict; studies in mediation; and techniques in the analysis of human relations.

(d) Social Science 93-94. Orientation Seminar. (Both Semesters). Required. Mr. Steere, Mr. Roche, and others. The first semester will consider both directly and through biographical studies some of the factors which motivate service in assistance projects. It will also examine the living genius and impact of the principal non-Christian religions today. The second semester will devote itself to a study of the rival political and economic ideologies which any social or technical assistance project will meet in the field. A wide range of persons are invited to contribute to this seminar.

(e) Modern Foreign Language. (Either or both Semesters). Elective. Continuation of a language presented for entrance is recommended. In 1952-53 students can take such departmental offerings as French 21, German 15-16, German 23, Russian 21-22, Spanish 31-32 or, if qualified, higher courses in which the spoken language is employed. Students who are proficient in one foreign language may study another language.

(f) Political Science 91. International Relations. (First Semester). Elective. Mr. Reitzel. An analysis of the basic factors, particularly economic and political forces, which shape international relations, and an examination of major contemporary area and general problems.

(g) Political Science 53-54. International Relations: Economic and Political. (Both Semesters). Elective. Mr. Haviland. The first semester’s work analyzes the basic factors, especially economic and political forces, which shape international relations, and reviews the interaction of these factors during the inter-war period. The second semester deals with major contemporary area and general problems, and includes discussion of students’ case studies.
(h) Political Science 51b. American Foreign Policy. (Second Semester).
Elective. Mr. Haviland. A critical analysis of the forces which shape United States foreign policy including its objectives, methods, and consequences.
Major emphasis will be placed on the preparation of project papers concerning specific contemporary issues in United States foreign policy.

Elective. Mr. Hunter. Basic accounting concepts and techniques; simple accounting and other record-keeping systems; reports; cash and budgetary controls; foreign exchange transactions.

(j) Social Science 91, 92. Social Research. (Either or both Semesters).
Elective. Mr. Reid and Mr. Schwab. An analysis of the hypotheses, methods, and techniques of social science research. Lectures, laboratory and individual projects. Prerequisite: consent of the instructor. Limited to six students.

(k) Engineering 91. Special Topics in Engineering. (First Semester).
Elective. Mr. Holmes and Mr. Hetzel. The course will deal with problems of water supply, sewage disposal, the operation of power-generating and distribution systems, surveying, and communication techniques. Prerequisite: one year of college physics.

(l) Biology, Chemistry, or Physics 91, 92. Individual Projects in Advanced Natural Science. (Either or both Semesters). Elective. For students preparing to do scientific work on technical assistance programs.

3. COURSE OF STUDY—NON-ACADEMIC. Each student is expected to take one non-academic course in the fall, and another in the winter season.
The following are recommended as appropriate for the purposes of this program:

(a) Fall term (prior to Thanksgiving): Automotive Mechanics or Photography.

(b) Winter term (Thanksgiving to Spring Vacation): First-Aid, Carpentry or Community Service.

Participation in Weekend Workcamps (October to May) is also encouraged and may be elected for non-academic credit.

4. WORK PROJECT. Following their study all students will engage in a supervised assistance project or its equivalent. The College will assist in arranging for the placement of students in such projects.

5. REQUIREMENTS FOR THE MASTER'S DEGREE. The degree of Master of Arts will be awarded to those who have satisfactorily completed the program listed under 2, 3, and 4 above, and have passed a comprehensive examination covering this program. The examination will be in two parts:

(a) At the end of the academic year: an examination on the Academic courses and relevant courses offered for entrance.

(b) At the end of the Work Project: a report on actual problems of assistance work.
6. AREA STUDIES. For the benefit of students who are planning to join assistance programs, the College will try to arrange concentrated courses in the language, history, culture, and customs of those areas in which assistance programs are currently operating. These courses may be given at Haverford or at other institutions. This work will be in addition to that required for the degree.

Under ordinary circumstances, students will be expected to carry out their Work Project in the summer following the completion of the academic work. The Administrative Committee may permit some flexibility in the interpretation of this requirement in the case of seasoned persons with considerable field experience or in the event of immediate employment in a field assignment some phase of which might serve as a substitute for the customary Work Project.

Fellowships

Preference in the awarding of the Thomas Wistar Brown Fellowships for graduate study, totalling $5,000, will be given to qualified men and women candidates intending to specialize in Social and Technical Assistance. The amounts of the Thomas Wistar Brown Fellowships vary in accordance with the needs of the applicants. Additional fellowship funds are available for students in the Graduate Curriculum in Social and Technical Assistance.

Awards are determined on the basis of financial data presented in the questionnaire which constitutes formal application for admission into the graduate unit in Social and Technical Assistance. Questionnaires containing such a request for financial aid should be in the hands of Vice-President MacIntosh, of Haverford College, not later than March 1 to secure consideration for the following year.

Charges.—For charges and fees see pp. 27-29.
Extra-curricular Activities

Student Government

The College Administration has delegated to the Students’ Association the responsibility for nearly all aspects of student conduct on the campus; and the Students’ Association has assumed this responsibility. Student Government is exercised through an elected Students’ Council, on which are representatives of all the classes and of some of the undergraduate organizations.

The students at Haverford College believe that the success of self-government depends upon the individual’s realization and acceptance of his social responsibilities. This concept forms the basis of the Haverford Honor System, which is a compact entered into by all members of the Students’ Association. The Honor System is designed to maintain certain standards which represent the opinion of the Students’ Association on what is desirable conduct on the campus. It applies to the conduct of examinations, the preparation of papers outside of class, to the rules governing the presence of women in the dormitories, and to some other aspects of College life. The Honor System is administered by the Students’ Council with the active cooperation of all members of the Students’ Association.

The Students’ Council is an administrative and judicial body. It handles all phases of the administration of regulations for the Students’ Association. It manages extra-curricular activities on the campus and allocates to each a percentage of the Student Activities Fee ($18 per year, charged to every undergraduate as a part of the Unit Fee) on the basis of a yearly budget. In intercollegiate relations, except athletics, it serves as the representative of the Haverford student body.

The chairmanship of the Students’ Council is the most important undergraduate office. The Chairman represents the student body before the Board of Managers, the College Administration, and the Faculty. He serves both as liaison officer and executive. He conveys to the College Administration the recommendations of the Students’ Council in disciplinary matters.

The Honor Pledge, which is quoted below, is called to the attention of each applicant for admission to Haverford College. It is signed upon entrance, and is signed again whenever the student takes an examination, though its force is not limited to examinations only. In signing the pledge the individual student accepts the Honor System in its entirety, as currently in force and as it may be changed while he is an undergraduate at Haverford. Every entering student should make sure, before selecting Haverford, that he can give his active support to the Honor System. He should realize that its success, which is of great importance to him personally and to the whole student body, and indeed to the College itself, depends upon his willingness to give it his complete support.

Honor Pledge

“I hereby accept the Haverford College Honor System, realizing that it is my responsibility to safeguard, uphold, and preserve each part of the Honor System and the attitude of personal and collective honor upon which it is based.”

The Students’ Association is made up of all undergraduates in good standing at Haverford College. It is the body for student self-government. The Students’ Council is elected from among the memers of the Students’ Association, and carries most of the burden of leadership in the undergraduate body. In addition, there are dormitory representatives elected to the Council.

Societies and Organizations

The Public Affairs Association is an organization of men interested in political, economic and sociological affairs. It includes as subsidiary groups a chapter of the Intercollegiate Conference on Government and the International Relations Club.

The W. W. Comfort Debating Society elects to membership men who have shown a consistent interest in debating, and who have represented the College on more than one occasion. Every year a series of intercollegiate debates is conducted.

The Student Committee on Education and The Student Curriculum Committee investigate and evaluate Haverford’s methods and philosophy of education and make suggestions to the Faculty and Administration on the subject of the curriculum and College program.

The Cap and Bells Club is the parent organization of the Drama Club, the Glee Club, the Orchestra, and the Band. Besides co-ordinating the activities of these various groups and maintaining a central publicity office, the Cap and Bells forms an honorary society to which men, who have shown interest and ability in a member organization, are elected each year.
The Drama Club, in conjunction with the Bryn Mawr College Drama Guild, produces on the average three major plays a year, alternating between the Bryn Mawr and Haverford stages. Meetings, that are open to all regardless of previous experience, are the workshop of the Club with lectures and discussions on all vital aspects of play production.

The College Glee Club, which is the chief musical organization of the College, is open to all who have a love of music and enjoy singing. Rehearsals are held twice weekly. The repertoire includes short numbers of various types and one or more major works each season, the latter being presented in conjunction with the chorus from a women's college. Tryouts are held after the first month of rehearsals for both Freshmen and upperclassmen.

The Orchestra is a combined enterprise with Bryn Mawr College. All students playing orchestral instruments are invited to get in touch with the director, Dr. William Reese. Full rehearsals are held at Bryn Mawr weekly and sectional rehearsals at Haverford. The orchestra studies particularly works from the 17th and 18th century, contemporary works, and often plays the orchestral part of large choral works given by the Glee Club in concert.

Smaller ensemble groups for chamber music are fostered at both colleges. There is opportunity for instrumental study from noted teachers at nearby music institutions.

The Band plays at football games, pep rallies, and on a few other occasions.

The Radio Club operates the College radio station, WHRC. Members of the club arrange programs, operate the station, and build or buy necessary equipment. The studios are located in the third floor of the Union Building.

The Inter-Dorm Dance Committee arranges dances between Haverford and Bryn Mawr dormitories. Its members are appointed by the Students' Council.

The Photographic Club promotes interest in photography and has the use of a dark-room and equipment located in Hilles Laboratory.

The Nautical Club is composed of undergraduate students of the College. Its purpose is to promote an interest in sailing for pleasure and to engage in inter-collegiate dinghy racing. It is a member of the Inter-Collegiate Yacht Racing Association.

The Varsity Club of Haverford College, organized in 1936, is composed of undergraduates who have won varsity letters. Its purpose is to advance the interests of the College and of athletics in every way consistent with the high ideals of the College.

Departmental Clubs. There are at Haverford various departmental groups, which arrange for outside speakers and often hold discussion sessions. Among these are the French Club, German Club, Spanish Club, Philosophy Club, a Humanities Forum which discusses topics of general interest to students of language, literature, philosophy, and the fine arts; the Mathematics Club, Biology Club, and Chemistry Club. A number of these clubs sponsor demonstrations, plays, and social gatherings.

Joint Faculty and Student Groups

The Committee on Student Affairs is a joint committee made up of members of the faculty and undergraduates. It is charged with supervising the arrangements for social affairs on campus, and with reviewing the budgets of various recognized student organizations.

The Campus Club is an association of graduates, faculty members, undergraduates, and friends of the College who are interested in maintaining and increasing the beauty of the College campus.

Student Publications

The Haverford News is a weekly newspaper, sent to all undergraduates and to all members of the alumni body. It is published on Tuesdays, during term-time, by undergraduates. There are opportunities for all interested men on both editorial and business staffs.

The Haverford College Handbook is published each fall under the auspices of the Students' Council. It contains information particularly valuable to new students.

The Record is published annually by the Senior class, with the support of the Students' Association. It includes a record of the year, with particular emphasis upon the activities of the graduating class.

The Haverford Revue is a magazine devoted to student literary effort. It is published irregularly.
Health Program

Each student is given a thorough examination at the beginning of the Freshman year, and at other times as recommended by the College physician. Chest x-rays are included in these examinations.

Each student is entitled to unlimited dispensary service, at stated hours, and first-aid service at any time.

In case of illness, each student is entitled to two weeks of residence in the Morris Infirmary each semester, ordinary medicine, diagnostic laboratory work, any x-rays needed for diagnosis, and the services of the College physician and resident nurse.

Students will be charged $5.00 a day for residence in the infirmary after their first two weeks. Day students will be charged for board in addition, while in the infirmary.

Each student is also covered by a blanket accident policy which pays actual expenses resulting from any accident up to a limit of $500 for each accident. The expenses covered include x-rays, medicine, surgical appliances, hospital bills, nursing care, physician’s fee, surgeon’s fee, and also dentist bills for repair or replacement of natural teeth as a result of an accident, subject to the approval of the College physician. The coverage is in force from 12:01 A. M. Standard Time three days before the date when registration of entering students begins until midnight three days after Commencement Day.

All of these services are covered by the Unit Fee which is paid by all students (see page 27).

The infirmary, presented by John T. Morris, ’67, contains ten beds, a surgical room, an isolation ward for contagious diseases, its own kitchen, and accommodations for a resident nurse. Every provision has been made for medical and surgical treatment of all cases among students during the college year. The danger of infection through illness in the college dormitories is thus minimized.
Library, Laboratories, and Other Academic Facilities

The Library

The Haverford College Library illustrates the steady growth of the College in facilities for study and research. The original building, constructed in 1863, now forms the north wing of the Library. To this first structure four successive additions have been made. The last two of these, a commodious Stack and a Treasure Room, were dedicated in April, 1941.

The Haverford Library collection contains about 185,000 volumes. Over five hundred literary and scientific periodicals are taken. Library endowments provide over nine thousand dollars yearly for the purchase of books. The Library is also a depository of government publications.

With the exception of certain rare books, all volumes in the Library are freely accessible to readers. Though designed especially for the use of students and faculty of the College, the Library affords to others the privilege of consulting and, under certain restrictions, of withdrawing books. The Library is open on week-days from 8:00 A.M. to 11:00 P.M., and on Sundays from 2:00 to 11:00 P.M. (Treasure Room: Week-days—9:00 - 5:00; Saturdays—9:00 - 12:00). Special hours are arranged for vacation periods.

The Gummere-Morley Memorial Reading Room, decorated and equipped by the Class of 1892, provides a special reading and browsing room for Haverford students.

The Treasure Room, provided through the generosity of Morris E. Leeds of the Class of 1888, contains the Quaker Collection as well as other rare books and special collections.

Special Collections

The Quaker Collection, containing both books and manuscripts, is probably the most complete in America. It forms a central repository for Friends' literature in this country, and makes Haverford a prime source for the study of the Society of Friends. The nucleus of the Quaker Collection is The William H. Jenks Collection of Friends' Tracts, mostly of the seventeenth century, which numbers about 1500 separately bound titles.

The Rufus M. Jones Collection on Mysticism contains almost a thousand books and pamphlets from the fifteenth century to the present day.

The Tobias Collection of the Writings of Rufus M. Jones is practically complete. It consists of 168 separate volumes and 16 boxes of pamphlets and extracts.

The Charles Roberts Autograph Collection contains more than 20,000 items, embracing not only autograph letters of authors, statesmen, scientists, ecclesiastics, monarchs, and others, but also several series of valuable papers on religious and political history.

The Christopher Morley Collection of Autograph Letters comprises about 200 letters and memoranda selected by Mr. Morley from his correspondence files. Over one hundred authors are represented.

The Francis B. Gummere Memorial Collection of Shakespeare Folios was presented to the Library in 1947 by William P. Philips, '02.

The Harris Collection of Ancient and Oriental Manuscripts contains over sixty Hebrew, Greek, Latin, Arabic, Syriac, and Ethiopian rolls and codices collected by J. Rendel Harris.

Affiliations

Haverford maintains a cooperative arrangement with Bryn Mawr and Swarthmore whereby the facilities of the libraries of all three colleges are open to the faculty and students of each of the colleges.

The Philadelphia Bibliographical Center and Union Library Catalog, the largest cooperative catalog in America, enables users of the Haverford Library to locate books in over one hundred and fifty libraries of the Philadelphia region. The Haverford Library is also a member of The Philadelphia Metropolitan Library Council.

The Library Associates is an organization of graduates and friends of the College, devoted to increasing the usefulness of the Library. It serves to bring the facilities of the Library to wider notice and to make them available to the whole Haverford community; to encourage the making of gifts to the Library; and to aid in the use of the Library.
Scientific Laboratories

The William J. Strawbridge Memorial Observatory is equipped with three equatorially mounted telescopes, a 10-inch and a 4½-inch refractor, and a 6-inch reflector; a reflecting telescope with 8-inch mirror and altazimuth mounting; a meridian circle telescope of 3¾-inch aperture; a zenith telescope of 2¼-inch aperture; a spectrohelioscope; an astrographic mounting provided with two 4-inch Ross lenses and a 4-inch guiding telescope; sidereal clocks, a chronograph, and other instruments. The astronomical library is housed in the Observatory.

The Lyman Beecher Hall Chemistry Laboratory is a three-story structure with working space in the various laboratories for about two hundred and fifty students. Separate laboratories are available for general chemistry and qualitative analysis, quantitative analysis, organic chemistry, qualitative organic analysis and organic synthesis, semimicro quantitative analysis, and physical chemistry, respectively. In addition two rooms are devoted to the needs of research students. The building is furnished with water, gas, compressed air, and alternating current electricity, and is provided with a good system of forced draft ventilation. The apparatus equipment is ample for the undergraduate courses. Books and periodicals dealing with chemical subjects are housed in a comfortably furnished library on the first floor which is open to the students.

The Hilles Laboratory of Applied Science houses the Engineering Department. This modern building contains classrooms, drawing rooms, a departmental library, shops and mechanical, and electrical laboratories. Exceptional facilities for observing the practical side of the work are offered by the many manufacturing companies in and near Philadelphia and frequent inspection trips are made.

Sharpless Hall is occupied on the two lower floors by the Department of Physics. Here are situated the departmental library, laboratories, darkrooms, shops, and rooms for individual work. Through the gift of William P. Philips, '02, and through other acquisitions, the department is equipped for advanced work in electronics and X-rays.

The upper floors house the Biology and Psychology laboratories, and the Biology library.
Natural History Collections

The Natural History Collections, presented to the College by a considerable number of interested friends, are displayed in Sharpless Hall through a gift of the Class of 1915.

Archaeological Collection

The Beth Shemesh Museum on the third floor of Sharpless Hall exhibits the archaeological finds made by the late Professor Elihu Grant during a series of five field excavations at the site of that name in Palestine. These materials reveal the life of a typical Near East community in the many aspects of its development and interplay with other peoples over a span of 2000 years. Thus, the collections provide a laboratory for study of the cultural cross-currents which met in Palestine during one of the great formative periods of civilization.

Art Collection

A permanent art collection, including paintings and drawings by Homer, Inness, Pintorricchio, Sargent, Turner, and Whistler, is displayed in the Library.

Temporary exhibitions of paintings, drawings, and photographs are held from time to time at the College.

Framed reproductions of outstanding paintings are available for loan to students at the beginning of each semester.

Music Collection

In addition to a considerable collection of musical scores and books in the general Library, the special equipment of the Music Department consists of several pianos and a collection of scores, books, and phonograph records presented in 1933 by the Carnegie Corporation. This collection has been amplified by yearly accessions, and now numbers close to 1600 records. A large part of this collection is available to students at stated hours in a special listening room.

The Alfred Percival Smith Rooms in the Haverford Union are reserved for music study. There is a larger room with a Steinway Grand for the holding of classes and informal concerts organized by the Music Department, and a small library in which valuable books, scores and records are kept.

The large concerts are held in Roberts Hall where a concert piano and a Hammond organ are at the disposal of artists.
The Haverford College Friends of Music is an association of friends and neighbors of the College and faculty members, who, in cooperation with the Music Department, arrange for concerts and chamber music held at various times during the year in the Common Room.

Campus

The Arboretum and the Woolman Walk, the latter the gift of Mr. Edward Woolman, '93, contain a wide variety of woody plants, both indigenous and exotic, thus permitting direct observation and study by students of the natural sciences.

The Mary Newlin Smith Memorial Garden which adjoins the south side of the Library, while primarily developed as a decorative feature, contains a wealth of flowering shrubs of interest to the botanist.

The Bucky Foundation

The Bucky Foundation, which has as its goal the promotion of a spiritually grounded political and economic order, and the training of responsible students for such an order, maintains an office at the College. Income from the Foundation has been used to sponsor a Constructive Citizenship program and for the training of students through the Relief and Reconstruction Unit. It is being used to support Haverford participation in a program of week-end work camps.
Fellowships, Prizes and Honors

Fellowships

The Clementine Cope Fellowship was established in 1899. The income is applied to “assisting worthy and promising graduates of Haverford College in continuing their studies at Haverford or at some other institute, in this country or abroad, approved by the Board of Managers. Candidates shall be nominated by the College Faculty to the Board of Managers.”

The Faculty will nominate to the Board of Managers a First Cope Fellow whose stipend shall be $1,000.00, and a Second Cope Fellow whose stipend, not in excess of $500.00, will be determined by the Board.

Applications for a Clementine Cope Fellowship must be in the hands of the President before March 1, accompanied by whatever statement of extra-curricular activities the candidate considers relevant.

Graduate Fellowships.—For information regarding graduate fellowships, see page 45.

Prizes

All material submitted in competition for prizes should be deposited with the Registrar, under assumed name, with a sealed envelope containing the writer’s real name, before May 1.

All prizes awarded in books are marked with appropriate bookplates. As soon as possible after the award a list of standard books, from which selection is to be made, should be submitted for approval to the head of the department awarding the prize. Books selected from the approved list may then be ordered through the College Business Office. The College grants an average discount of ten per cent on prize books, and supplies the bookplates.

Alumni Prize for Composition and Oratory.—A prize of $50 was established by the Alumni Association in 1875 to be awarded annually for excellence in composition and oratory. Competition is open to Freshmen and Sophomores, but the same man may not receive the prize twice.

John B. Garrett Prizes for Systematic Reading.—A first prize of $50 and a second prize of $25 will be given at the end of the Junior or Senior year to the two students who, besides creditably pursuing their regular course of study, shall have carried on the most profitable program of reading in a comprehensive topic during at least two years of their college career.

The administration of these prizes is in the hands of the Committee on Fellowships and Prizes, with which the candidate shall register and which shall approve the subject chosen. The Committee will then recommend the candidate to the department or departments to which he should apply for counsel and guidance. A written or oral examination will be arranged in the final year to determine the scope and quality of the reading.

The winners will be determined by the Committee after consultation with the departments concerned. Either or both of these prizes may be omitted if, in the judgment of the Committee, the work does not justify an award.

The Class of 1896 Prizes in Latin and Mathematics.—Two prizes of $10 each, in books, to be known as "The Class of 1896 Prizes in Latin and Mathematics," were established by the bequest of Paul D. I. Maier of the Class of 1896. They are awarded at the end of the Sophomore year to the students who have done the best work for two years in the Departments concerned.

The Lyman Beecher Hall Prize in Chemistry.—A prize of $100 was established by the Class of 1898 on the twenty-fifth anniversary of its graduation in honor of Lyman Beecher Hall, Professor of Chemistry at Haverford College from 1880 to 1917.

This prize may be awarded to a student who has attained a high degree of proficiency in Chemistry and who shows promise of contributing substantially to the advancement of that science. It may be awarded to a Junior, to a Senior, or to a graduate of Haverford College within three years after graduation. It may be awarded more than once to the same student, or it may be withheld.

The Class of 1902 Prize in Latin.—A prize of $10 in books is offered annually by the Class of 1902 to the Freshman whose work in Latin, in recitation and examinations combined, shall be the most satisfactory. At the discretion of the professor in charge of the Department, this prize may be omitted in any year.

The Department Prizes in Mathematics.—A first prize of $15 and a second prize of $10 are awarded on the basis of a three hour examination on selected topics in Freshman Mathematics. The examination is held annually on the first Monday after the Spring Recess, and is open to Freshmen only.

The Elliston P. Morris Prize.—A prize of $40, open to all undergraduates and to graduates of not more than three years' standing, is offered annually for the best essay bearing on the general problem of "International Peace and the Means of Securing It."

The Elizabeth P. Smith Prize.—Prizes totaling $125 are offered each year to the undergraduates who present the best essays on international peace.

No prize will be awarded unless a high standard of merit is attained. Essays should be deposited with the Registrar before May 1. The judges shall be appointed by the President of College.

For the 1952-53 competition the following subjects are offered:

1. The Development of One Backward Area under President Truman's Point Four Program.
2. An Evaluation of Gandhi's Contribution to the Cause of International Peace.
4. An Educational Program for Advancing the Prospects for International Peace.

Prizes in Philosophy and Biblical Literature.—A prize of $40 and a second prize of $25, in books, are offered annually to any student who, in the judgment of the professor in charge, does the most satisfactory outside reading in Philosophy in connection with the courses in that Department.

A prize of $40 and a second prize of $25, in books, are offered annually to any student who, in the judgment of the professor in charge, does the most satisfactory reading on the Bible and related subjects.

The Scholarship Improvement Prizes.—A first prize of $50 and a second prize of $45 are awarded at the end of the Senior year to the two students who, in the opinion of the judges appointed by the President of the College, show the most steady and marked improvement in scholarship during their college course.
The Class of 1910 Poetry Prizes.—A first prize of $15 and a second prize of $10 are awarded for the best verse written by a Haverford undergraduate during the year. Typewritten manuscript, under an assumed name, should be deposited with the Registrar before May 1. The judges shall be appointed by the President of the College.

The Founders Club Prize.—A prize of $25 is offered and awarded annually by the Founders Club to the Freshman who is judged to have shown the best attitude toward college activities and scholastic work.

The S. P. Lippincott Prize in History.—A prize of $100 is offered annually for competition in the Department of History under the following general provisions:

First—The prize may be withheld in any year, if the conditions listed below are not met by any of the competitors to the satisfaction of a majority of the judges.

Second—The prize shall not be awarded twice to the same student.

Third—Competition is open to Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors who have taken or are taking work in the Department of History.

Conditions

In competition for this prize an essay of not less than 5,000 words shall be submitted as evidence of scholarly ability in the collection and presentation of historical material, treating a subject selected from a list announced by the Department of History before November 15. The essay should contain references in footnotes to the authorities consulted and a bibliography of works cited.

The essay shall be typewritten and deposited, under an assumed name, with the Registrar before May 1.

For the 1952-53 competition the following subjects are offered:

3. The External Relations of Austria from the Treaty of Saint-Germain in 1919 to the Annexation of Austria to Germany in 1938.
4. The Imperial and Foreign Policies of Disraeli, 1874-1880.

The Newton Prize in English Literature.—A prize of $50 established by A. E. Newton may be awarded annually on the basis of Final Honors in English, provided that the work of the leading candidate, in the judgment of the English Department, merits this award.

The William Ellis Scull Prize.—A prize of $50 established in 1929 by William Ellis Scull, '83, is awarded annually to the upperclassman who shall have shown “the greatest achievement in voice and in the articulation of the English language.”

The George Peirce Prize in Chemistry or Mathematics.—A prize of $50 in memory of Dr. George Peirce, '03, is offered annually to a student of Chemistry or Mathematics “who has shown marked proficiency in either or both of these studies and who intends to follow a profession which calls for such preparation. Preference is to be given to a student who has elected organic chemistry, and failing such a student, to one who has elected Mathematics or some branch of Chemistry other than organic. Should there be two students of equal promise, the one who is proficient in Greek shall be given preference.” The prize is offered, however, exclusively for students who have expressed the intention of engaging in research.

The Student Organization Prize.—Classmates of Edmund Jennings Lee, 1942, who lost his life in the service of his country, have established in his memory a fund, the income from which is to be given annually to that student organization which, in the opinion of a committee of judges, has contributed most toward advancing the interests of the College.

The Theresa Helburn Playwriting Awards.—These awards, open to all students of Bryn Mawr College, are given by Theresa Helburn to encourage playwriting. The prizes consist of $50 for the best one-act play and $100 for the best full-length play submitted each year and considered worthy. Original work is required; adaptations, translations and collaborations are not eligible. Haverford students in playwriting may submit manuscripts for these awards.

Honor Societies

Phi Beta Kappa.—The Haverford College Chapter of the Phi Beta Kappa Society of America was chartered in 1898 as Zeta of Pennsylvania. Election of members-in-course, alumni members, and Honorary members, based upon scholarly attainment and distinction, takes place at the end of the academic year. President: George Montgomery, ’13; Secretary: Harry W. Pfund, ’22; Treasurer: Holland Hunter, ’43.
FOUNDERS CLUB.—The Founders Club was established in 1914 as a Haverford organization of students, alumni, and faculty. Election to its membership is recognition of a sound academic record combined with noteworthy participation in extra-curricular activities. Undergraduate elections are usually limited to the Junior and Senior classes. President: John A. Zapp, '32; Secretary: John M. Leggett, '53.

Honors

Honors are awarded for excellence in the studies of single courses or departments. They are never given merely for performance of routine work in courses; a considerable amount of extra work is demanded in every case.

Honors are of two kinds: Honorable Mention in a single course, and Final Honors for work in a department.

Honorable Mention will be awarded at the end of the Freshman or Sophomore years for work in a single course meeting at least two hours per week throughout the year, and additional work to the total amount of not less than 75 hours. Candidates for Honorable Mention must obtain a minimum grade of 85 in the regular work of the course and may be required to pass an examination on the additional work. Two courses of one semester each in the same department may be construed as a single course.

A Freshman who has received the prescribed grade in the regular work of a course required for Honorable Mention, but who has not done the additional work required in connection with that course, may do so, with the consent of the professor in charge, during the Sophomore year.

Final Honors are graded as Honors, High Honors, or Highest Honors. They will be awarded upon graduation only to students whose work in a Major field of concentration has been done with marked distinction and has been more profound or extensive than the minimum required. The award of Honors is at the discretion of the Major Department, but the award of High or Highest Honors is to be made by vote of the Faculty upon recommendation of a department or a group of related departments. In order to receive High or Highest Honors, the student will usually be given a public oral examination, and for Highest Honors the opinion of an outside examiner may be obtained if it is thought desirable. The various departments and divisions will adopt such specifications for Final Honors as they see fit. Honors, High Honors, and Highest Honors shall automatically add one, two, and three points, respectively, to the average for the Senior year of each student receiving one of these awards.

Morris E. Leeds
Haverford College Bulletin

Morris E. Leeds
1869-1952

Volume LI Special Number

July, 1952
At the meeting of February 21st, 1952 the Faculty expressed its deep regret over the death of Morris Leeds, who had for almost half a century played a vital and formative role in the development of Haverford College and the type of education for which the College stands.

Morris Leeds became a member of the Board of Managers of Haverford College before any of the now active members of the Faculty were appointed, and he was Chairman of the Board throughout the years when most of the present Faculty came to Haverford. It was in large part the influence of Morris Leeds that fostered and preserved the warm feeling of kinship between the Board and the Faculty which we at Haverford so highly cherish. His warmth and friendliness, his willingness to devote time and energy to College concerns, and the unfailing financial support that he gave to Haverford, have all contributed to Morris Leeds' unique position in the Haverford tradition.

Older members of the Faculty can speak of Morris Leeds' generosity with particular emphasis, for his concern and influence were vital in the establishment of an equitable system of old-age pensions. In matters of this sort, his actions always moved in the direction of generosity. He was a rare combination of the idealist with vision and the business man with acumen, and his activities along both lines of endeavor have been of great benefit to the Haverford College community.

The Faculty has lost a respected and admired friend who it feels has, in his life and works, symbolized the best in the Haverford tradition.
In the death of Morris E. Leeds on February 8th, 1952, there has passed from our midst a great Haverford leader, our close associate and our warm friend. Our thoughts are richly filled with memories of him, his unstinted services and benefactions to the College, his companionship with us, and in our hearts gratitude mingles with our sense of loss. For more than four decades he has been a member of this Board, and for most of that long period has been a major influence in guiding the College through good times and bad. It is with a sense of special thankfulness that we look back over the past and carry forward the memory of him into the years ahead.

He was born in 1869. With a fine Quaker inheritance, and schooling at Friends Select and Westtown Schools, he entered Haverford College as a student in the class of 1888. During those early days at school and college he was one of a group of young men who formed lasting friendships with two outstanding Quaker teachers and educational leaders, Thomas K. Brown and Isaac Sharpless. Association with both of these men, not only in the relations of teacher and student, but also as companions on camping and canoeing trips, contributed significantly to the development of his thought and character.

When he graduated from Haverford, he did not feel entirely clear in his mind as to what occupation he should best choose. A trial period of teaching at Westtown School convinced him that he did not want to engage in teaching as a life work, but this experience did not draw him away from a keen, enduring interest in education. Having a strong bent toward science, he reached the decision to enter business in the field of the manufacture and sale of scientific instruments. After some disappointing years with a Philadelphia company which had been a leader in this area of business, Morris Leeds in 1899 made a modest start with a business of his own. Slowly, but steadily, under his direction it grew in success to its present large proportions and stability. As it grew he did not, as might have been the case, allow himself and his life to be monopolized by the demands it made upon him. Instead, his interests and activities expanded in numerous directions, and he gave freely of himself and his enlarged means to various enterprises of the Religious Society of Friends and to causes for the public welfare.

Haverford College became one of his chief and dearest interests. In 1909 he became a member of the Board of Managers and served as its secretary for twelve years, from 1916 to 1928, when he was elected President of the Haverford Corporation and took up the double duties of President and Chairman of the Board of Managers. These responsibilities he carried for seventeen years until in 1945 he asked to be relieved of them. During this long period he always willingly gave his best, and was called upon for manifold services on Committees. He was a member of the Executive Committee for thirty-eight years. Other Committees on which he served for substantial periods included the Committee on the Thomas Wistar Brown Graduate School (1921-1927), the Committee on Honorary Degrees (1923-1928, 1947-1948), and the Committee to assist the President in Faculty Appointments and Salaries. He served twice on committees appointed to assist in selecting a College President.

During the last quarter of a century, Morris Leeds has evidenced his loyal faith in Haverford and his strong concern for the progress of the College by generous gifts on a large scale. Lloyd Hall, the Library Stack addition and the Quakeriana Room, the furnishings of the newly equipped seminar rooms, and equipment of the science laboratories, are among the visible College assets which testify to his thoughtfulness and generosity. Donations from him rank high among gifts made to the Centenary Fund and to the recent Endowment Fund campaign. The outstandingly liberal bequest in his will speaks to us of his continuing faith in the College and adds to our gratitude and our responsibility.

Our sense of his qualities and stature grows as we think of him and his achievements in activities not directly connected with Haverford. He started his own business with the aim of making the best possible electrical measuring instruments and with the spirit of a pioneer in applied science. Later on, he once said: “If I could do exactly what I like best, I’d devote myself to research and invention.” One year in the early period of the business, the amount which his company invested in research was five times what it made in profits. As a result he led the way with some of the scientific and technical instruments which he produced. He pioneered also in the field of organization and human relationships within his company. Among the principles included in his philosophy were: equality of opportunity; giving employees the chance to do the work they liked; responsibility suited to capacity; payment in proportion to the worker's value to the whole enterprise. An employee stock-ownership plan, a profit-sharing system, provision for unemployment, and a cooperative association of all officers and employees, were notable features of his arrangements. Through them and other accomplishments his influence extended into the wider business world. In 1931 Forbes Magazine sponsored a nation-wide contest for "The best employer-employee plan now in operation." The four hundred and more companies which competed included most of the leaders in the field of industrial relations. The first prize was awarded to Morris Leeds's company. His election to high offices in scientific and industrial organizations, and the numerous medals of honor bestowed upon him, furnished significant proof that his accomplishments in these fields were of a high order.

Only a man of broad human interests and unusual capacities could have done so much in the business world and at the same time have given himself so freely and effectively to humanitarian and public causes in the greater community of his fellow men. He felt especially concerned over the problem of unemployment—the tragedy of situations in which there are, on the one hand, ample natural resources and a great industrial system, to convert them into goods for human welfare, and, on the other hand, large numbers of unhappy men and women, able and eager to work, but unable to find jobs. It was, he thought, the responsibility of industrialists, economists, and statesmen to seek solutions for this problem. He threw himself into the effort, served on many committees, city, state, and national, and collaborated with others in producing two books on the subjects of employment and wages. In 1931 he was called upon for important public service by his appointment to the Philadelphia Board of Education. Seven years later he became the President of the Board in which office he served for ten more years.

The Society of Friends was his religious fellowship by inheritance and by choice. To it he was steadily loyal throughout his life; gave it his moral and financial support, and his services in various directions. The Quaker effort for Negro help and education, called the Friends Freed-men's Association, which operated a school at Christiansburg, Virginia, was an enterprise in which he played an important role for a long period. He served as secretary on its Board of Managers for fifty-one years. At the time of the First World War, J. Henry Scattergood and he paved the way in France for the first group of Quaker conscientious objectors who went abroad to do rehabilitation work under the auspices of the newly created American Friends Service Committee. Near the same time he became a leader in establishing the Philadelphia Friends Social Order Committee, with the aim of helping to bring social and industrial conditions into greater harmony with Christian ideals. For many years he served on this committee and headed a group of Quaker employers associated with it.

Not only Haverford, but other Quaker educational enterprises, found in him an interested and active supporter. Westtown School was especially close to his heart. He and his brother, Arthur, provided there a room in memory of their mother, Mary Maule Leeds. With the thought of creating an agency through which Friends could deal with their educational institutions in a broader, cooperative way, he supplied the initiative and money for the establishment of the Friends Council on Education.

Looking back over his life of such significant accomplishment and usefulness, it seems fitting indeed that in 1946 Haverford College granted him the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

Behind all that Morris Leeds did and achieved was the force of his gifted personality, a mind and a spirit of exceptionally high quality. The habit of thinking things through, a steady integrity of mind and purpose, a faithful devotion to responsibilities he had undertaken, made him a man one could count upon, whether in routine affairs, or in time of stress. In him certain balancing qualities of character were combined in an unusual degree—vision and idealism combined with sound judgment based on a careful weighing of advantages and disadvantages; a forward urge combined with a sense of the speed at which progress might wisely be made; a concern to better the conditions of human life combined with an acceptance of what seemed practicable. Among the values by which he guided his life, perhaps the dominant one was the value which he set upon truth. He was not afraid to face the truth when the truth was disagreeable. He was tolerant of differing views of truth sincerely held. He kept an open mind toward new ideas. In all he was intent to search out the truth with discrimination, with honesty, with freedom from prejudice.

Some of us have been fortunate enough to know him well in the more closely personal aspects of his life. We have had the privilege of seeing him as the devoted husband and father in a home of happiness and charm, of knowing him as he was among his intimate friends, of sharing with him recreational hours in the out-of-doors. We know his modesty, his simplicity, his sincerity. We have seen his appreciation of the capacities and good qualities in others, his readiness to meet them on a basis of unassuming equality. We have a sense of the mutual enjoyment there was between him and his friends—enjoyment of good talk, good fellowship, and labor shared. And we know ourselves enriched by what he has been and what he has given us. To us in the Haverford family it may be that above all other things his best gift is the quiet call to us to go forward in steady loyalty to our vision of truth.

1951 - 1952

Volume LI Number Three

January, 1953
THE CHARACTER of the educational growth which this small Quaker college has attempted to promote has been enhanced, we believe, during the past year by several developments in the academic program. Under the Philips endowment a major innovation in ways of supplementing the College faculty began. Opportunities for individual work by juniors and seniors were expanded, and preparation for the senior comprehensive examinations was strengthened. The new graduate curriculum in social and technical assistance sought to express in a unique manner a basic concern which the College has to prepare students for constructive and creative humanitarian service. We recognize, however, that in these efforts and in those others, such as the Freshman English program, upon which we have reported in previous years the College still fell short of dealing effectively in its undergraduate work with the more basic problem of kindling fresh faith in the validity and power of the forces of mind and spirit.

It is in that direction that the dominant interest of the College must continue to be focussed. During the past six years each annual report has looked in that direction by pointing out steps needed to improve and maintain the quality of the faculty, to strengthen the student body through scholarship aid, and to enrich the resources of books. These needs — for teachers, scholarships, and books — have taken rightful priority over the needs for buildings and equipment. Now, for the first time in many years, an extraordinary combination of circumstances makes it practicable to consider those physical needs as well. As a result of careful review by the faculty and by the Board of Managers during the Spring semester, we are in a position to state the chief needs — including physical improvements — which the College should seek to meet. That schedule is one which we may expect to realize, and it is presented in this report as one goal for the College's efforts during the three years lying immediately ahead.

ONE]

COLLEGE PROGRAM

Under the bequest from William Pyle Philips the College began the use of that one-half of the income which is designated for purchase of rare books, for purchase and binding of learned and important periodicals, and for bringing distinguished scientists and statesmen to the College as academic visitors. It was decided to use only a small portion of the income for rare books. A copy of Holinshed’s Chronicles which William Philips had been trying to acquire at the time of his death was purchased, and the one great 17th century volume not already in his collection—a 1611 King James Bible—also was purchased. The College’s collection of scholarly periodicals was greatly strengthened, both by the ordering of new periodicals and by the purchase of back numbers. In a time when an increasing proportion of scholarly and scientific publication is appearing in periodicals this new source of Library support has been a major advance in maintaining the resources of the Library.

The greater part of the income from the designated income from the Philips Fund was used to bring academic visitors to the College. We sought to select persons of unquestioned intellectual competence who would bring experience and an outlook which would supplement that normally available to Haverford students through the regular faculty. The visitors came for varying periods of time according to their convenience, and their schedules were planned by joint faculty-student committees. Emphasis was placed upon informal meetings with students rather than upon formal lectures. Wherever practicable the visitor took part in regularly scheduled classes. Thus, in his two weeks at the College, Paul-Henri Spaak delivered only two public lectures, one of those being in Philadelphia, and took part in more than twenty class discussions or small group meetings. We feel greatly encouraged by the effect of these visitors upon the thinking and attitudes of both students and faculty members, and look forward to continuing and refining this process. It is adding a new dimension to our College faculty.

The graduate curriculum in social and technical assistance now has gone through its first experimental year. Its effort to deal directly with the preparation of young people to play a constructive role in the social and economic revolution that is stirring in underdeveloped countries has provoked the interest of many students and of various faculty groups in the United States and overseas. From the first year we learned that such training should incorporate a large amount of concrete field experience, and we are hoping to arrange for that during the current year. The special series of case studies moved forward with a view to publication during the coming winter. From the experience in placement of students who completed the resident course of study we learned that both public and private agencies, while giving lip service to the need for young administrators with a genuine sense of understanding and respect for the intricate processes of social change that are in motion, are slow to give such people preference over the narrowly-trained technologist. This will be a major problem in the year ahead.

Several other distinct improvements in academic program took shape during the year. In the Department of Psychology the pioneering work which the College has been offering in the field of human relations led to a revision in departmental courses and in College requirements. The human relations work was incorporated in part in the basic course in psychology rather than being reserved exclusively for advanced instruction, and arrangements were made for a psychologist to join in the general course in Social Science, while the experimental psychology was grouped in a single advanced course.

Throughout the College there was increased emphasis upon projects courses open to juniors and seniors under the supervision of faculty members. These opportunities for students to concentrate their studies in specialized areas of interest or to range rather widely under careful guidance are enlarging the challenge of advanced work. At the same time a number of the departments gave more systematic attention to the "100 courses" which are intended to help prepare seniors for their comprehensive examinations in their major fields of concentration. More time was devoted by both faculty and students to discussion of major issues and basic readings in those fields.

FACULTY

The College was saddened by the death last month of Gilbert T. Hoag, Dean of the College. During his seven years as Dean, Gilbert Hoag had contributed to the development of Haverford through his understanding counselling with students and through thoughtful and provocative suggestions as to academic program. He was himself an inspiring teacher, and he promoted good teaching.

At the end of the year William E. Lunt retired as Scull Professor of English Constitutional History and Amy Post retired as Assistant Librarian.
The College was privileged in conferring an honorary doctor's degree upon William Lunt in recognition of his thirty-five years of service as a faculty member who combined the understanding of a great scholar with the skill of a great teacher. Amy Post had been responsible for much of the solid growth of the Library over the years, and had been a helpful friend to the students and faculty using it.

Few other major changes took place in the faculty, although there were a relatively large number of temporary appointments required by the absence of faculty on sabbatic or other leaves. Philip Bell, of the staff of the Institute of Advanced Study, was appointed Assistant Professor of Economics, and William Reitzel was appointed as Professor of Social Science on a special arrangement under which he will teach one semester each year and give one semester to research with the Brookings Institution. The Reitzel appointment is intended to provide a perennial replacement for members of the social science departments on leave, thus eliminating the need for frequent short-term replacements.

During the year Richard Bernheimer was on sabbatic leave to carry on studies in the history of European Art, Emmett Dunn and Howard Henry took sabbatic leaves of one semester each for research in biology, and Clayton Holmes was on sabbatic leave for one semester to do work in engineering design. Howard Comfort, William Docherty and Thomas Drake continued their leaves for the purposes previously reported. In the absence of Gilbert Hoag on sabbatic leave William E. Cadbury, Jr. served as Dean. Herman M. Somers was the recipient of a faculty fellowship to enable him to work on a book dealing with the economic and political implications of social security.

During the year ahead Holland Hunter, Ralph Sargent, Edward D. Snyder and Douglas Steere will be absent for one semester each, and Wayne Booth and Cletus Oakley will be absent the entire year. Among the temporary replacements in the Department of English are Willard Mead and Frank Quinn.

MORRIS E. LEEDS

The College suffered a major loss in the death of Morris E. Leeds who as a student, an interested alumnus, a Manager and Chairman of the Board of Managers had served Haverford with devotion and with keen insight. A separate memorial to him is being published by the College, but we feel that special note should be made here of Morris Leeds' concern to build a sense of common intellectual enterprise among the members of the Board and of the faculty. The fine spirit which prevails among these groups reflects in no small measure his broad interest and firm leadership as Chairman of the Board.

STUDENTS

In the planning for use of the Philips Visitors a committee of students, as already noted, was highly useful in working with a faculty group in setting policy and in carrying it out. Over recent years similar student groups have been similarly useful in dealing with the administration of student affairs, with revisions in curriculum, with Meeting for Worship, with Collection programs, and with dining room management. We have sought to bring students into the management of College affairs wherever they seemed to have a responsible part to play.

Under the Haverford honor system and student government the administration of student activities and standards of student conduct continued almost wholly in the hands of students. Few if any colleges in the United States allow quite so much latitude to the student body in controlling the conduct of students in examinations and in their dormitories. We realize that this entails considerable risk in the possible miscarriage of student government, but we feel in the Quaker tradition that the benefits in cultivating individual responsibility far outweigh the possible damages.

A substantial increase in the amount of scholarship help to students was much to be desired as a means of assuring that highly able men of modest economic means would make up a significant part of the student body. Thanks to the new funds established during the campaign, such as the Leuchter, Steere and Wild funds, it became possible to award a total amount of scholarships last Spring almost 90% larger than those awarded in 1947. This amount, while highly encouraging, is still far short of a sum required to support a truly diversified student body.

One happy development during the year promised a great improvement in this situation. It was the establishment by a donor who prefers to remain anonymous of a fund the income from which after 1954 is to be applied to scholarships for worthy students in secondary boarding schools and in colleges of the type of Haverford. Not more than 50% of the income is to be used by the College for its expenses in administering the fund and for scholarships for students at Haverford. The other 50% is to be applied to scholarships for students in the other institutions. Details of this fund may be found in the Treasurer's Report. In serving as the trusted administrator for this fund the College accepts a heavy responsibility not only for wise distribution of income to needy and meritorious students, but also for wise management of the capital.

PLANT

With one exception the changes which were made in physical plant during the year were in the nature of renovations to support the academic program of the College. With the aid of the Morris Leeds Gift of earlier years two of the classrooms in Chase Hall were converted into seminar rooms so as to permit more class sessions of the discussion type. Two sets of guest suites were fitted out in Founders Hall for the use of Philips Visitors. A small but continuing program of dormitory renovation was initiated out of current income. The book store was moved to enlarged quarters in the basement of the Union where there will be space for browsing. The major renovation was in the north wing of the Library which was completely refitted and refurnished so as to provide additional study facilities for students. The Library project was undertaken in memory of William Philips, and the formal dedication will take place at the College on December 1.

The past summer saw two new structures rise on the campus, faculty residences which were built by their prospective occupants under an arrangement that took into account the value of contributed labor. It is good to see a mathematician and a philosopher build their own homes with their own hands, and increase the facilities for family living on the campus.

ALUMNI

In view of the successful completion of the Haverford Campaign the annual giving fund was revived during the winter in order to obtain support for the expenses of the Alumni Association and to contribute to the general expenses of the College.

A new organization, the Alumni Council, was formed during the year under the leadership of Herbert W. Reisner in order to provide for greater communication of ideas between the College and members of the Alumni Association, particularly those who live at a distance from Philadelphia. An excellent attendance, representing all major geographical groupings of the alumni, made for a helpful first meeting immediately after Commencement, and there was lively and constructive discussion of a program for the College and of admissions procedures and problems.

ASSESSING OUR NEEDS AND RESOURCES

During the winter a special committee of the Board of Managers undertook an assessment of the needs and resources of the College with a view to suggesting lines along which Haverford should proceed in its further development. Although this assessment will be the subject of an extensive report to the constituency of the College at a later date, it seems desirable to record here the chief considerations and findings that entered into the Board’s review of that report last June.

FINANCIAL SITUATION

After many years of financial stringency that had threatened the effectiveness of its teaching function and had made physical improvements quite impracticable, the College financial situation changed recently so as to alter the more pressing needs. Four major factors entered into changing this prospect. 1) The completion of the Haverford campaign increased the endowment by more than one million dollars, providing income which has been applied, as intended by the donors, to increasing faculty salaries, to enlarging scholarship awards, and to increasing expenditures for books. 2) The bequest from William Philips increased the endowment further by at least two million two hundred thousand dollars, one-half of the income going to special purposes, as already stated, and one-half going to general purposes. The one-half for general purposes was used to raise faculty salaries still further, to cover the cost of tuition payments to Bryn Mawr, and to cover expenses which until then had been met each year only by using income in excess of the conservatively estimated 41/2% return from invested funds. 3) By living within our budget and by applying unbudgeted income from funds toward the outstanding debt we were able to eliminate at the end of the year a debt which in 1947 amounted to $125,000. For the first time we could think of a possible reserve fund rather than of an actual debt. 4) Under the will of the late Morris Leeds a sum amounting to approximately one and one-quarter million dollars was indicated as certain to accrue to the College endowment during the year ahead. A portion of the anticipated income from that new fund was allocated to cover a further increase in faculty salaries, but the major portion is still unallocated.
In summary, the College seemed clearly to have more than doubled its endowment and to have paid off its debt, at the same time making substantial increases in expenditures for faculty salaries and scholarships. During that period it had been modest in its charges for tuition and room rental, and had not raised its charges to meet inflationary prices as much as some of its fellow institutions.

NEEDS

Notwithstanding the effect of this new endowment the primary financial needs of the College still were for the support of faculty salaries and of scholarships. Both student representatives and faculty were united in that judgment. Moreover, the continuation of certain academic programs and the initiation of others depended upon funds not yet in sight.

The additional income available from the Leeds Fund, the desirability of raising tuition charges and of applying the increased income to scholarships, and the promise of additional scholarship funds suggested that perhaps the time had come to consider other College needs. It was apparent that without assuming any increase in undergraduate enrollment the dormitory facilities were inadequate and indoor playing facilities were unsuited to student demands. Many of the buildings still were suffering from deferred maintenance during the war years. Accordingly, a new program of the College needs was drawn up.

MEETING THE NEEDS

It now seems clear that the College should seek the support of its friends in meeting the following needs: 1) improved faculty housing, particularly for newer members of the faculty; 2) a new dormitory to house students living in Merion, Merion Annex, and crowded suites in Barclay and Lloyd; 3) an indoor playing field to provide facilities for both intramural and intercollegiate sports, and 4) modernization of present dormitories, classrooms and laboratories. The faculty housing probably can be carried out as a self-liquidating investment in Merion and Merion Annex. Other needs would require new funds, and the Board of Managers had decided to proceed with a development program which would be geared in with annual giving.

Preliminary plans for the new buildings now are being prepared, and a long-range program for both buildings and the academic work of the College is taking shape. It is too early to suggest the details of either. It is not too early to indicate the general form of the development for which we are preparing.

The new buildings will, we believe, contribute to simple, strong exercise of the College’s central purpose. The development contemplates a College which is devoted to liberal education, which seeks to maintain high academic standards, and which stresses the making of sound ethical judgments. For this purpose it intends to remain small and to cultivate a close community life and responsibility. No one need be reminded of the diversity in the architectural form already on the College grounds, and yet most of us feel in the whole campus a harmony of form which comes from having used over many years the same native materials for the same underlying purpose in a planned environment of trees and lawns. The next year should see us well on the way to strengthening the physical side of this community.

It is a great pleasure to report on the development of the Library in the first year of the Philips bequest. William Pyle Philips was a warm and generous friend of the College and its Library; a continuing motive through all his life was his deep love of literature and of the truth that can be found in books. William Philips had great faith in Haverford and knew the strengths of its position as a small college devoted to education in the liberal arts. In his bequest he sought to give Haverford added strength for its task, and at the same time to assure that the smallness of its size should not entail narrowness of its intellectual life.

For the Library William Philips wisely sought to open new horizons in a world of books which might otherwise, under the normal pressure of college budget, be confined and limited. His bequest provides funds for greatly increased purchases in two areas: important learned periodicals and rare books. In providing funds for more periodicals William Philips sought to bring to the Library the quickening influence of the newest scholarly knowledge in many fields. In establishing a continuing fund for rare books, he sought to break through the atmosphere of reprints and mass-produced copy which can so subtly dull our senses, and bring the student freshly and anew into direct contact with the greatest books of our cultural past.

During the year 1950-1952 the Library purchased subscriptions to over a hundred new periodicals on the Philips Fund. Our resources are greatly strengthened thereby in the natural sciences and particularly in the social sciences, where we have been able to enter an over-all subscription to the International Documents Service. One can scarcely overestimate the benefits which this subscription will bring to the Library, making available for study and research all the publications of the United Nations, UNESCO, the World Health Organization, and several other international agencies.

During the year we have also made important purchases of back-numbers of periodicals where our sets have been incomplete or non-existent before. We have still before us the major task of filling in, with the help of the Philips Fund, other gaps that remain in our back-numbers series. As we tackle the problem we will explore more thoroughly than before the practicability of microcard and microfilm, which are not only more available and less expensive than the bound periodicals themselves but also offer great savings in space. In the past year we made our first substantial purchase of a microcard set in obtaining for the Chemistry Department a complete run of the Zeitschrift für anorganische und allgemeine Chemie.

Mention of our rare-book plans must begin with recognition of the splendid collection of Renaissance books which William Pyle Philips himself collected and which he bequeathed to Haverford at his death. This collection has been kept in hiding during the past year, awaiting the occasion of our public recognition of William Philip's many gifts to Haverford. When, early in December of the current year, the William Pyle Philips Renaissance Collection is first put on public display, it will be revealed that to the Roberts, Jenks, and Rufus Jones collections already in our Library has been added another major research talent. Professor C. William Miller of Temple University, has been preparing in recent months a thorough and scholarly descriptive catalogue of the Philips books. With the publication of this catalogue and its distribution to bibliographers and libraries throughout the world, the Philips Collection will take its place among the notable centers for Renaissance study in America.

Two purchases of rare books have already been made on the Philips Fund. Raphael Holinshed's Chronicles of England, Scotland, and Ireland (1577), in two volumes, was bought in fulfillment of William Philips's own expressed desire to have a copy of this work in his collection. Our Holinshed is in fact a splendid one and contains one page of text which, as far as we have found, exists in no other copy of the work. The second rare book purchased is a first edition of the King James Bible (1611), the first appearance of the so-called "Authorized Version" which, by virtue of its beauty and accuracy of expression, stood as the greatest translation of the Bible for over two and one half centuries. For those teaching and studying in the humanities at Haverford it is an exciting prospect to know that the collection of Renaissance books is one that will grow, and one that we can build positively and wisely into the educational life of the College. We have the unusual opportunity — perhaps unique in a college of this size — of building a collection of rare books not as treasures to be stored in darkness, but as great cultural achievements to be brought to light, with that sense of immediacy and real experience which so often provides the motive for sensitive and inquiring scholarship.

In memory of William Pyle Philips and in recognition of his great services to the College, the north wing of the Library has been renovated during the past year to provide more light and space for quiet study. We have had a busy year of book-moving to prepare for this, and of operating under emergency conditions while the north-wing books have been re-shelved elsewhere. Now that most of the books have been returned to the new north wing, we have a further project before us of bringing the fifth floor of the stacks into more regular service to make fuller use of the shelving space available there. Meanwhile the renovated north wing is a joy and satisfaction to all who use the Library. It is a particularly welcome resort for the increasing number of students who find the Library a more peaceful place for study than their dormitory rooms. The Philips wing is a bright and inviting place for reading, dedicated to the search for truth which William Philips has done so much to encourage at Haverford. The wing will be officially opened at the time of the Philips Celebration in December.

STAFF

The Library has suffered many changes of staff during the past year. The retirement of Miss Amy Post, whose experience and wise knowledge of library problems had stood the College in good stead for 31 years, has been a loss very difficult to compensate for. Her place as Assistant Librarian has been filled by two senior members of the staff, Mrs. Ruth Reese, who is in charge of staff-room procedures, and Mrs. Esther Ralph, in charge of reader’s services. In the shaping of policy and procedures for the current year, Mrs. Reese and Mrs. Ralph have shown unusual tact and skill, for which I am very grateful. Their job is a demanding one, and we have realized each day how much the Library had been dependent on Miss Post’s judgment and guidance.

We have also, in the past year, lost the services of Mrs. Anna May Dougherty, for several years the secretarial assistant on the staff, and Miss Mary Louise Gilmour, Reserve Book Room attendant. Miss Joan Bruder and Mrs. Mary Goff served for short terms as secretarial assistants during the year. To replace these losses from the staff three new appointments have been made for the current year. Miss Constance Hyslop has joined the cataloguing staff, Miss Anne O’Neill has assumed supervision of the Reserve Book Room and Interlibrary Loans, and Miss Doris Beatty is secretarial assistant to the staff. In addition, Mrs. Esther Friedrich, who joined the staff last January to assist in handling the new influx of periodicals, continues this year to provide valuable help in the binding, ordering, and cataloguing departments.
In spite of these many changes, we start the current year with an excellent staff, one in which I have the fullest confidence. Their work is very heavy, and there are arrears in cataloguing and inventory-taking which cannot be made up with our present staff. But the current business of the Library can usually be handled efficiently by the small staff we have, and they work well and coöperatively together.

Last year I announced the initiation of a new wage-scale for student employment in the Library. It is my pleasure this year to report that this experiment has been entirely successful. We have had a willing, intelligent, and dependable staff of student workers during the past year. They performed quickly and unobtrusively the vast job of moving over 10,000 books out of and back into the north wing, at the start and finish of the renovation. More important still, they kept the Library in quiet, orderly operation throughout the academic year, a job which is intrusted entirely to student help for more than half the hours when the building is open. The program of student employment in the Library now appears to be on a sound footing.

SPECIAL DEVELOPMENTS

During the past summer Thomas D. Brown, '36, undertook the task of putting our Government Depository Collection into systematic and usable order. He was able to complete considerable weeding and re-shelving of the government materials, the formulation of a sounder plan of organizing them, and a thorough card-index and panel-guide to the Collection. With the growing mass and range of government publications, it is important to have that Collection clearly indexed and accessible. As funds become available we hope to be able to box a large number of the pamphlets, for greater neatness and protection.

Thomas Brown was also able to establish a plan for organizing the new International Documents Collection, which now takes its place beside the government collection. We are fortunate in having the services of Raoul Kulberg, a graduate student experienced in handling United Nations documents, to oversee the International Documents Collection in this first year of its growth.

Mrs. Dorothea Franck, wife of Professor Peter Franck of the Haverford Faculty, very generously gave many hours of work and thoughtful planning during the past year to classifying and re-organizing the Vertical File, in which many uncatalogued current corporation reports and ephemeral publications are kept. We hope to expand the File considerably in the year ahead, since, when it is kept up to date, it has proved of real value to students in economics and the social sciences.

From the Library duplicate collection we have been able to assemble a small library of books which has been shelved in the Founders Guest Suite, for the use of Philips visitors to the College. Several of these volumes had come to us originally from William Philips's own library; others were purchased or contributed from other sources. The result is a balanced collection of books of history, religion, literature, and reference, a library to which we plan to make additions from time to time in the future.

The Library Associates, under the able and tireless direction of their Secretary-Treasurer, Dean P. Lockwood, have continued to fill their important role of bringing together the books of our Library and the book-lovers of the wider Haverford Community. The Associates held four Sunday afternoon meetings at the Library last year. It is some reflection of the good influence of that group that, in a year where our general book-circulation has for some reason slightly declined, the number of books loaned to outside borrowers has markedly increased. We are grateful for the good friends the Associates have brought to the Library.

GIFTS TO OTHER LIBRARIES

During the year the following gifts were presented to other libraries by Haverford College from its library duplicate collection:

To Alderson-Broaddus College, Philippi, West Virginia: 12 volumes on chemistry.

To the Free Library of Philadelphia, courtesy of Professor John Roche: Set of all the periodical publications of the German Social Democrat Party for the past two years.

To Free University, Berlin, Germany: 32 volumes, mainly on American history.

To the Friends Center, Dacca, Pakistan: 93 volumes on miscellaneous subjects.

GIFTS RECEIVED

The Library received many valued gifts of books during the past twelve months, from friends of the College far and near. In all, some 1,164 books were added to the Library collections by gift, and they reflect the generosity and interest of 117 donors. There is space in this report to list only a few of the many valuable donations by friends of the Library in 1951-1952:

From Aldo Caselli, 4 volumes on Italian art.
From Percy H. Clark, 33 volumes of books and periodicals on cricket.
From Mrs. John Cope Collins, 6 volumes on Europe.
From Miss Amy Comegys, 162 volumes in many fields.
From Mrs. Constance LaBoiteaux Drake, 1884 volumes in many fields of literature, art, and travel.
From Mr. and Mrs. Horace R. Hayday, 47 volumes on the first World War.
From Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Hazlewood, 167 volumes of engineering periodicals and the National Geographic Magazine.
From Herbert W. Hickman, 14 volumes on chess.
From Mrs. W. W. Hoopes, 24 volumes, mainly on Quakerism.
From Kaufman Katz, 5 volumes, Studies in Prejudice.
From Philip L. Leidy, 21 volumes, contemporary fiction.
From William Maul Measey, 332 volumes, an excellent collection of French dramatic literature.
From Legh W. Reid, 63 volumes of the Archives of Maryland.
From Albert K. Smiley and Francis G. Smiley, 40 volumes, including a complete run of the Journal of American History.
From Francis J. Stokes, 4 volumes of rare codices.
From John J. Stondt, 13 volumes on mysticism.
From Philip Vail, 12 volumes on chemistry and other sciences.
From Miss Mary R. P. Williams, 37 volumes, three sets of essays, fiction and travel literature.

To these donors and to the many others who in this list have gone unmentioned we extend our sincere thanks, and a renewed warm invitation to them to use the Library which they are helping so kindly to build.

The year 1951-1952 has been a busy one for the Haverford Library; rewarding in what has been accomplished, and exciting in the promise of new ways in which the Library can contribute to the educational life of the College.

REPORT OF THE CURATOR OF THE QUAKER COLLECTION
1951-1952

The most important thing to record concerning the Quaker Collection in 1951-1952 is that people used the books and manuscripts more than ever before. Particularly notable was the increase in the number of research workers from outside the College who visited the Treasure Room, and the many requests for the interlibrary loan of Quaker books, manuscripts, and microfilms. Thirty-two scholars came to Haverford at various times throughout the year, and stayed to work anywhere from a few hours to many months. William Bacon Evans might be called a permanent research worker, for he returned from England last autumn to resume the compilation of his monumental "Who was Who among Friends." He uses the Treasure Room as his headquarters and makes constant use of our books. Ruth Smith did research for Clarence E. Pickett in the records of the American Friends Service Committee, and worked daily in the Library. Elizabeth B. Jones and Mary Hoxie Jones spent many hours in the Treasure Room sorting and arranging the voluminous correspondence of Rufus M. Jones, which will eventually become a part of the collections of the Library. Saul Sack, a graduate student from the University of Pennsylvania, worked for three weeks at Haverford gathering material from the early minute books and records of the College for a history of institutions of higher learning in Pennsylvania. Lyman W. Riley, formerly of the Friends Historical Library at Swarthmore and now at the University of Pennsylvania Library, made extensive use of the Rufus M. Jones Collection in compiling a bibliography on Mysticism. Other scholars sought material on George Fox, John Bartram, Anthony Benezet, Friends and the Freedmen, John Forthgill, Friends and the Indians, and similar subjects. Undergraduates frequently come to the Treasure Room to consult our books, especially those who are taking the course given by President-Emeritus William W. Comfort on the History and Philosophy of Quakerism.

While the Curator has been on leave the Assistant Curator has carried on the general work of the Treasure Room. This involves helping students and scholars find the books and manuscripts they need; answering the inquiries which come by mail and telephone, and securing photostats in Philadelphia when necessary; ordering new Quaker books, pamphlets, and serial publications, and searching second-hand dealers’ catalogues for rare Quaker items; greeting visitors and arranging exhibitions of rare books and pictures, including special exhibits for Spring Day, Commencement, meetings of the Library Associates, and for College classes which occasionally come to the Treasure Room. The Assistant Curator is also Assistant Editor of the Bulletin of Friends Historical Association, and takes care of the membership list of the Association.

During the past year and a half, Edith B. Miller, working on a part-time basis on a special grant from the College Librarian, undertook to reduce our accumulation of uncatalogued Quaker manuscripts. We are pleased to report that Mrs. Miller catalogued approximately 7000 letters and documents, 4770 from September to June, 1951-52. These latter comprised eleven collections, by name as follows: Allinson, Christopher Morley, Mitchell Family, Nathaniel P. Rogers, Thomas P. Cope, Willard E. Mead, John B. Garrett, John Jay Smith, Maxfield Parrish, Richard T. Cadbury, and Marmaduke C. Cope. A residue of some 4600 manuscripts remains, and we regret that we shall not have Mrs. Miller’s help in the future, since the special fund from which her salary was paid has been exhausted. Lack of funds in the general Library budget has also prevented the staff cataloguers from reducing to any degree the large backlog of Quaker books waiting to be shelved. They did manage to process 200 Quaker books this year, but that exceeded the number of Quaker books currently received by only thirteen. Approximately 1500 Quaker books must still be catalogued, a task which, like that of cataloguing our remaining manuscripts, will require additional staff help.

Friends of the College have been generous in their gifts of books and manuscripts. The Book Association of Friends gave $50. to Haverford for Quaker literature, which provided fifteen new books. A valuable addition to the Haverfordiana collection consisted of letters and papers of Moses Brown (1793-1878), of New Hampshire and Philadelphia, presented by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Goddard Leach. This Moses Brown was the father of Thomas Wistar Brown, benefactor of the College, and of Moses Brown, Jr., who attended Haverford for two years but left in 1845 at the temporary closing of the institution. Letters in this collection include two from Stephen Grellet, six from Eliza Kirkbride Gurney, and one to Moses Brown of Philadelphia from the famous Moses Brown of Providence, Rhode Island, written in his ninety-eighth year. Thomas E. Shipley gave us the marriage certificate of Samuel Pastorius and Hannah Lucken, dated 1716, and signed by Francis Daniel Pastorius, one of the witnesses at his son’s marriage. A large and handsome set of meetinghouse pictures was presented by Horace Mather Lippincott, and from the estate of Joel and Hannah Bean came photographs of American Friends. Elizabeth B. Jones and Mary Hoxie Jones deposited in the Treasure Room three medals presented to Rufus M. Jones — one from the German Red Cross, the medal for the “Bok Award” in 1938, and the Theodore Roosevelt Memorial Association Medal of Honor in 1942. Pictures of Haverford College groups were given by William R. Dunton, Jr., and another addition to the Haverfordiana was the notebook of Thomas Wildes, Class of 1859, which came as the gift of Carl deMoll. Anna Walton presented to the Quaker Collection the diaries of her uncle, Joseph Walton (1817-1898), nineteen volumes covering the years 1875 to 1894; the diarist graduated with Haverford’s first class in 1836, and was for many years Clerk of Philadelphia Yearly Meeting and Editor of the Philadelphia Friend. Henry J. Cadbury gave us a small memorandum in the handwriting of Thomas Ellwood, and Susan J. Dewees added to our collection of meeting-house pictures. The manuscript diary of Augustine Jones, cousin of Rufus Jones, was lent to us for copying by Mary Hoxie Jones, and William Bacon Evans presented the diary of his great-uncle, Charles Evans (1802-1879), describing a European trip in 1861. Four Quaker pamphlets and three manuscript booklets came to us from Mrs. Benjamin Rush, and Mary Maule Haines gave an album containing portraits of Friends. From Susanna Smedley, we received two diaries of Ennion Cook, a Chester County Friend, two letters of Edward Hicks, and other letters and pictures. Mrs. Frank S. Churchill presented to the Haverfordiana Collection a scrapbook of newspaper clippings compiled by her father, Richard Price Hallowell, Quaker author and member of Haverford’s Class of 1855. The Female Society of Philadelphia for the Relief and Employment of the Poor added two volumes to their records deposited in the Library. Germantown Monthly Meeting (Coulter Street), through Alfred S. Willoughby, presented the minute books and other records of the Society for Home Culture, and letters and agreements of the Text Book Association of Friends.

Valuable additions to the rare book collection were made through purchases from the Vogt Fund, including a 1679 edition of William Penn’s Address to the Protestants upon the Present Conjunction; a Dutch translation of Jonathan Dickinson’s God’s Protecting Providence (Leyden, 1720); and an anti-Quaker work entitled A Looking-Glass for Presbyterians . . . with some Animadversions on the Quaker Unmasked (1764). The Vogt Fund of $1000., presented to the Quaker Collection in 1948 by Henry S. Vogt, has provided the means for purchasing a number of rare and costly Friends’ books which could not otherwise have been secured.

 Gifts of Quaker books and pamphlets have come to us from William A. Battey, Henry J. Cadbury, William W. Comfort, Thomas E. Drake, Edwin C. Emhardt, Elizabeth B. Jones, Mary Hoxie Jones, Mazie S. Langfitt, George L. Phillips, Clarence E. Tobias, and Evalyn D. Westacott. Hiram L. Doty continues his interest in Quaker fiction, and presented twenty-three such books to our collection. Of the 187 Quaker books accessioned during the year, 108 came by gift and seventy-nine by purchase.

 The microfilm collection now consists of 240 reels. We have recently purchased eleven additional reels of London Yearly Meeting minutes, to complete our record on microfilm of these minutes from 1688 to 1860, when the printed proceedings begin.

 The most outstanding addition to the manuscript collections has been the splendid set of autographs of Signers of the Declaration of Independence which came to Haverford from the estate of William Pyle Philips. This is the set assembled by Alice Bemis Taylor, bequeathed by her to Colorado College and later sold. The letters are mounted in two handsomely bound volumes, with portraits and biographical notes about the Signers. The autograph of Arthur Middleton, of South Carolina, is the only signature missing from this set, which includes not only a fine example of Button Gwinnett’s handwriting, but also a letter written by his wife, Ann Gwinnett, in 1765. This set complements the Signers set in the Charles Roberts Autograph Collection. The Philips bequest also brought us twelve more Presidential autographs. Among them is a letter of Abraham Lincoln, December 1860, replying to charges against him. One of the last letters of William Henry Harrison, dated March 26, 1841, is addressed to the Collector of Customs in New York, and recommends Thomas Tucker for a position in the customs service. George Washington writes to “Mr. Madison” from Philadelphia in 1795 asking his judgment as to the propriety of the president’s receiving a call from young Lafayette, travelling in this country with his tutor. A letter from John Adams to General Washington, dated Philadelphia, February 19, 1799, tells the former president of his fateful decision to forestall the Federalist plans for war with France by nominating a minister to the Republic.

 Our chief concern is that we should be able properly to care for and make available these treasures new and old. Our chief need is that of an addition to our staff to make it possible.

Board of Managers
The Corporation of Haverford College
Haverford, Pennsylvania

Dear Sirs:

We have examined the statement of receipts and expenditures and the operating statement for the fiscal year ended 8th Month 31, 1952, as set forth in the annual report of the Treasurer and Comptroller of The Corporation of Haverford College.

Our examination comprised the verification of the receipts and expenditures of the Treasurer and Comptroller for the year; the reconciliation of the cash balance at 8th Month 31, 1952 with the balance on deposit in bank; and the examination of the securities held by the Provident Trust Company and Fidelity-Philadelphia Trust Company, as fiscal agents for the Corporation.

In our opinion, the annual report of the Treasurer and Comptroller correctly sets forth the results of the operations of The Corporation of Haverford College for the fiscal year ended 8th Month 31, 1952, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Very truly yours,

Lawrence E. Brown & Co,
Certified Public Accountants

ENDOWMENT FUNDS

Funds for general purposes

General Endowment Fund

Founded in 1847 with subscriptions of $50,000 by a number of Friends. Additions were made as follows: 1868, from an anonymous source, $5,000; 1869, bequest of Ann Haines to increase the compensation of professors, $2,670; 1870, bequest of Richard D. Wood, $18,682.96; 1872, from William Evans, $1,000; 1874, from executors of Jesse George, deceased, $5,000; 1880, bequest of Dr. Joseph W. Taylor, $5,000; 1901, legacy of Ann Williams, $2,425.50; 1941, from children of Aubrey C. Dickson in his memory, $300. Present book value, $97,295.14. The income is used for salaries and scholarships.

John Farnum Memorial Fund

Founded in 1878 by the heirs of John Farnum by gift of $25,000 as a memorial to him. Added to in 1899 by legacy of $10,000 from Elizabeth H. Farnum, widow of John Farnum. The income only is to be used to endow a "professorship of some practical science or literature." The chair of chemistry was designated as the "John Farnum Professor of Chemistry." The principal is held in the name of three Trustees for the benefit of The Corporation of Haverford College. Present book value, $32,375.19.

John M. Whitall Fund

Founded in 1880 by bequest of $10,000 from John M. Whitall, Sr. Present book value, $10,640.09. The bequest is upon the condition that the art of drawing, especially mechanical drawing, shall be taught, and the income only is to be used, and for this purpose.

David Scull Fund

Founded in 1885 by bequest of $40,000 from David Scull, Sr. Present book value, $44,806.59. The income only is to be used to endow a professorship. The chair of biology was designated as the "David Scull Professor of Biology."

Edward L. Scull Fund

Founded in 1865 by net bequest of $9,500 from Edward L. Scull, '64. The legacy was added to the General Endowment Fund, but in 1888 it was set apart as a separate fund. Present book value, $11,364.35. The income only is to be used. The bequest is free from any legally binding conditions, but it was the testator's desire "that some judicious means shall be employed by the Managers to further advise students on the subjects of diet and reading."

Wistar Morris Memorial Fund

Founded in 1892 by gift of $5,000 in bonds by Mary Morris, widow of Wistar Morris, as a memorial to him. There are no restrictions. The income is used for general college purposes. Present book value, $5,144.24.

Israel Franklin Whitall Fund

Founded in 1896 by net legacy of $9,667.83 from Israel Franklin Whitall. Present book value, $10,781.94. The income only is used for the payment of professors or teachers.

JACOB P. JONES ENDOWMENT FUND

Founded in 1897 by residuary legacy of Jacob P. Jones. This amounted when received to par value of $279,021.60; book value, $332,301.60, and sundry real estate. The real estate has all been sold, netting $847,709.92. Present book value, $1,301,375.34. The income only is to be used for general college purposes, and out of said income there shall be admitted a portion at least of the students either free of charge or at reduced rates. In accordance with this provision, about $7,500 per annum is used for scholarships, and the balance of income for general college purposes. Jacob P. Jones' will contains the following: "My hope is that under the blessing and favor of God there will come from this source a revenue which shall be productive of growth and vigor in the institution as well as help at this critical period of their lives to many deserving young men of slender patrimony."

JOHN FARNUM BROWN FUND FOR THE STUDY OF THE BIBLE, BIBLICAL HISTORY AND LITERATURE, PHILOSOPHY, AND KINDRED SUBJECTS

Founded in 1900 by the late T. Wistar Brown as a memorial to his son, John Farnum Brown, '93. The original gift was in cash and securities of a par value of $43,000, shortly afterwards increased by further gifts of $15,000. The founder made further gifts of cash and securities until 1915, the total being $19,381 cash and $48,500 par of securities with book value of $41,490. His total gifts therefore had a book value of $234,970.81. Of this, $5,000 donated in 1910 is for endowment of prizes in Biblical History and in Philosophy. A portion of the income was capitalized each year to keep intact the full value of the fund until 1940 when this fund was included in the Consolidation of funds. Present book value, $275,899.76. The income only is to be used for the purpose of making provision for the regular study of the Bible and Biblical History and Literature, and as way opens for religious teaching. In 1910, the scope and title of the Fund were enlarged to include "and Philosophy and Kindred Subjects." Income up to $200 may be used for prizes in Biblical Literature and Philosophy.

ELLEN WALN FUND

Founded in 1900 by legacy of $10,000 from Ellen Waln. Present book value, $11,117.10. There are no restrictions. The income is used for general college purposes.

CLEMENTINE COPE ENDOWMENT FUND

Founded in 1904 by bequest of $25,000 from Clementine Cope. There are no restrictions. The income is used for general college purposes. Present book value, $21,493.67.

NATHAN BRANSON HILL TRUST

Founded in 1904 by deposit with First National Bank and Trust Company of Minneapolis, Minn., Trustee, of a paid up life insurance policy for $5,000 by Samuel Hill, '78, being in memory of his father, Nathan Branson Hill. The income is to be used to aid in the maintenance of Haverford College so long as it shall remain under the auspices of the Society of Friends. In 1931 Samuel Hill died and the policy realized $5,039. The Trust is to remain in the care of the above named bank, now known as First National Bank of Minneapolis, until twenty-one years after the death of Samuel Hill's son, James N. Hill, who is still alive. At that time, the Trust is to terminate and the principal is to be vested in Haverford College absolutely.
JOSEPH E. GILLINGHAM FUND

Founded in 1907 by bequest of $50,000 from Joseph E. Gillingham. The testator said, "I request, but I do not direct, that part of the income of this legacy may be used for free scholarships for meritorious students." In accordance with this request, $800 was until recently appropriated annually from the income for scholarships, the balance being used for general college purposes. Present book value, $42,394.72.

HENRY NORRIS FUND

Founded in 1907 by bequest of $5,000 from Henry Norris. Present book value, $5,886.01. There are no restrictions. The income is used for general college purposes.

ELIZABETH II. FARNUM FUND

Founded in 1891. The original principal of this fund, amounting to $10,000, was held by the Provident Trust Co. of Philadelphia under a deed of trust created by Elizabeth H. Farnum of Philadelphia. The income was first paid to a life tenant until 1914, when income first accrued to the College "for the payment of the salaries of teachers and professors by the said College employed." Under date of Ninth Month 18, 1944, upon petition of the Trustee, concurred in by the College, the Court of Common Pleas awarded the principal to the Corporation of Haverford College "to be administered by it for the purposes set forth in the deed of trust in accordance with the non-profit corporation law."

JAMES R. MAGEE FUND

Founded in 1915 by bequest of $10,000 from James R. Magee, '59, and added to in 1925, 1926, 1928, 1929, 1930, 1931, 1932, 1936, 1937, 1940, and 1944 by additional payments of $29,182.84, $1,694.84, $499.31, $499.68, $488.85, $207.33, $400, $250, $100, $449.89, $175.00, 197.99 (1947-48) and $7.40 (1948-49), under his legacy. Present book value, $45,035.96. There are no restrictions except that the income only is to be used. This is applied to general college purposes.

ALBERT K. SMILEY FUND

Founded in 1915 by gift of $1,000 from Daniel Smiley, '78, as a memorial to his brother, Albert K. Smiley, '49, and added to in 1924 and 1926. Present book value, $1,500.00. There are no restrictions except that preference was expressed that the income only should be used. This is applied to general college purposes.

THE HINCHMAN ASTRONOMICAL FUND

Founded in 1917 by bequest of $10,000 par value securities from Charles S. Hinchman. Increased in 1928, 1929, 1930, 1931, 1932, 1933, 1934, 1935, and 1936 by donations of $28,926.95 from a friend of the College. Present book value, $39,515.48. The income only to be used "to increase the salary of the astronomical professorship so as to provide a suitable instructor in the ennobling study of the heavens."

WALTER D. AND EDITH M. L. SCULL FUND

Founded in 1918 by bequest of Walter D. Scull, whose death followed shortly after the death of his sister, Edith M. L. Scull. Each left his or her estate to the other, unless predeceased; in this latter case both American estates were left to Haverford College. Both were children of Gideon D. Scull, '43, and resided in England. Income accumulated before the receipt of the fund by the College amounted to $16,887.66, of which $15,078.51 was added to the principal of the fund. Present book value, $174,560.31. The fund was created to establish a professorship of modern English constitutional history, and the chair has been designated as the Walter D. and Edith M. L. Scull Professorship of History.

ALBIN GARRETT MEMORIAL FUND
Founded in 1919 by legacy of $25,000 from Mary Hickman Garrett, in memory of her late husband, Albin Garret, '64. Present book value, $26,771.00.
There are no restrictions. The income is used for general college purposes.

ARNOLD CHASE SCATTERGOOD MEMORIAL FUND
Founded in 1919 by gift of $30,000 in securities from Maria Chase Scattergood in memory of her son, Arnold Chase Scattergood, of the Class of 1919, who died in his Junior year. The income only is to be used toward the payment of professors’ salaries. Present book value, $24,381.59.

FRANCIS B. GUMMERE MEMORIAL FUND
Founded in 1920. This fund was started by a gift of $25,000 from the late Miss Emily H. Bourne, of New York, conditional upon the raising of $100,000 additional for an endowment of the Chair of English Literature in memory of her friend, Professor Francis Barton Gummere. A committee of alumni, consisting of J. Stogdell Stokes, '89, chairman; E. R. Tatnall, '07, treasurer; Hans Froelicher, '12, secretary; Charles J. Rhoads, '93; Alfred M. Collins, '97; Winthrop Sargent, Jr., '08, and Parker S. Williams, '94, working with President Comfort, organized a comprehensive campaign among the alumni and friends of the College to raise $375,000 for this purpose and for increase of professors’ salaries; the first $100,000 of unspecified gifts was used to complete the Francis B. Gummere Memorial Fund to at least $125,000, and the balance comprised the Isaac Sharpless Memorial Fund. Total, book value, $125,569.51.

ISAAC SHARPLESS MEMORIAL FUND
Founded in 1920. The alumni of the College conducted during 1920 a campaign for $375,000 additional endowment for the College to make possible additional salaries to the professors. Appeal was made to found two new funds, the Francis B. Gummere Memorial Fund and the Isaac Sharpless Memorial Fund. The funds received, except where otherwise specified, were first applied to the completion of the former up to $125,000 (see above). Specified gifts and donations thereafter received, were then applied to the Isaac Sharpless Memorial Fund. The income only is to be used for salaries of professors. Total book value, $218,728.43.

GENERAL EDUCATION BOARD FUND
The General Education Board of New York appropriated $125,000 in 1920 to the campaign for increase of endowment when the Francis B. Gummere Memorial Fund and the Isaac Sharpless Memorial Fund, totaling $375,000, were raised. Interest at five per cent was paid on the full sum for three years, and the $125,000 in full payment was completed in 1926-1927. Total book value, $126,076.83.

HAVERFORD IMPROVEMENT FUND AND CONSOLIDATED CAMPUS HOUSES ACCOUNT
Founded in 1922 to hold the Corporation's undivided share in College Lane land and eight houses. This property was turned over to the Corporation free of debt on Third Month 17, 1922, and with some the then debt of the Corporation amounting to $155,942.15 was liquidated. The fund started with an undivided interest of $19,000. There was added in 1922, $9,000; and in 1925, $2,000. In 1926, $5,000 of this fund was sold and the proceeds were appropriated for the alterations to Roberts Hall. The balance of this fund, $25,000, was also used in 1927 for the same purpose. The income was used for general college purposes.

The College Lane land was purchased in 1886 for the benefit of the College by David Scull, Justus C. Strawbridge, Richard Wood and Francis Stokes, Managers of the College and now all deceased. With contributions raised by them and by mortgages on which they went on the bonds, funds were raised to build six dwelling houses, and two houses were built by the Corporation itself. From the income of the houses the debt against the properties was gradually reduced until it was entirely liquidated in 1919. The net income from 1919 until 1922, when the property was turned over to the Corporation, was applied toward the reduction of the Corporation's debt.

As of Ninth Month 1, 1944, all of these eight College Lane houses, together with seven houses which had been bought for the College and formed a part of the College debt, and nine other Campus houses which were owned free of debt, were consolidated at a combined valuation of $281,331.70 into a new Campus Houses Account held by Consolidated Investment Account. There have been additional investments in other College houses from time to time and the present book value is $398,707.80. A return of 4% interest is to be credited to income to the College and 1½% is to be applied to the annual reduction of the investment.

CENTENARY FUND

Centenary Fund (1) was founded in 1926 by gifts to the College in anticipation of the one hundredth anniversary of its founding in 1833. There were no restrictions and the income was used for general college purposes until 1935, when the principal was used in the liquidation of debt.

In 1935 a further campaign among the Alumni was conducted under the direction of William M. Wills, '94, to add to the funds raised in commemoration of the Centenary. This was designated as Centenary Fund (2) but in 1935-1936 the payment of pledges to (1) were merged with (2) at the request of donors, and the two accounts are now considered as one.

During 1936-1937, $9,000 additional donations were made by members of the Strawbridge family, and of these $3,372.63 were transferred for the final cost of the William J. Strawbridge '94 Memorial Astronomical Observatory, and $5,627.37 were set aside to establish the Strawbridge Observatory Maintenance Fund. Other additional gifts of $16,017.04 were made in 1936-1937, $7,700 in 1937-1938, $2,150 in 1938-1939, and $15 in 1939-1940 bringing the totals contributed to both funds to date, for the Observatory $47,000, and for other uses $145,947.55.

From the $16,017.04, together with $1,550 realized from a previous gift of an investment, the balance of the debt for pension contributions $12,022.57 was met, $5,544.47 was applied to the debt for accrued deficits, $7,700 was applied to the operating year 1937-1938, and $2,150 to that of 1938-1939, $15.00 to that of 1939-1940, and $11.34 for 1940-1941, and $50 for 1943-1944.

There remained one investment in this fund not yet realized upon with a book value of $231.06. At end of 1943-44 this was absorbed into Consolidated Investment Account, and the debt reduced further by $231.06.
WILLIAM PENN FOUNDATION

Started in 1926 toward a fund of $120,000 to establish a chair or lectureship in Political Science and International Relations. This fund forms a part of the Centenary program to raise $1,000,000. This foundation is to be devoted, at the discretion of the Managers, to providing adequate undergraduate instruction in the theory and practice of our own and other governments, in the history of past attempts to secure international agreements and in the methods by which good international understanding may be promoted and maintained. Book value to date, $102,067.43.

WALTER CARROLL BRINTON MEMORIAL FUND

Founded in 1920 by gift of $5,000 by the family of Walter Carroll Brinton, Class of 1915, who died in France Twelfth Month 8, 1918, while engaged in Friends’ Reconstruction Work. The fund sustained the Walter Carroll Brinton Scholarship until 1926-1927. It was then increased $6,000 by further gifts of the founders, and at their request the purpose was changed from a scholarship fund to form a separately named fund of the William Penn Foundation, with its income to be used for the same objects. Present book value, $14,125.79.

CORPORATION FUND

Founded in 1928 by setting aside $70,000 of proceeds from sale of 5.811 acres of land on the southern boundary and at the southeastern corner of the College farm. In 1937, the fund was increased $8,810, being proceeds of the sale of 1.762 acres of land to the Philadelphia Skating Club and Humane Society for their new ice skating rink. In 1951 the fund was increased by $4,994.50, being proceeds of the sale of .284 acres of land to Philadelphia Electric Co. Present book value, $85,004.50. The fund is invested and the income used for general college purposes, until otherwise directed by the Managers.

ELIZABETH J. SHORTRIDGE FUND

Founded 12 Month 22, 1930, by bequest from Elizabeth J. Shortridge, without restrictions. Until otherwise directed by the Managers, the income only is used for general purposes. Present book value, $10,000.00.

HOWARD COMFORT MEMORIAL FUND

Founded in 1934 by gift of $1,000 from President William Wistar Comfort in memory of his father, Howard Comfort, Class of 1870, who was a Manager from 1880 until his death in 1912, and Secretary of the Board of Managers from 1884 until 1908. The fund was added to by further gifts from the same donor of $1,000 in 1935, $1,000 in 1936, $2,000 in 1937 and $500 in 1949. The income only is to be used for general purposes. Present book value $5,527.31.

EMMA RIDGWAY COMLY FUND

ELLEN W. LONGSTRETH FUND

Founded 1935 by bequest of $20,000 and her residuary estate from Ellen W. Longstreth, a Friend belonging to Haverford Meeting, and living in Bryn Mawr. The principal and income are both unrestricted. The bequest of $20,000 and residuary $84,418.28 in 1935-36, together with further realization on residuary assets, viz. $3,338.69 in 1936-37, $73.33 in 1938, $166.80 in 1942-43, and $258.00 in 1943-44 and in 1947-1948, $10,785.65 additional was received upon the death of a life tenant of a trust, making a total of $119,038.75. Present book value, $117,520.19.

ALBERT L. BAILY FUND

Founded in 1936 by an unrestricted bequest of $5,000 from Albert L. Baily, '78. The income is used for general purposes. Present book value, $5,000.00.

ELIZABETH B. WISTAR WARNER FUND

Founded First Month 16, 1937, by unrestricted bequest of $4,950 from Elizabeth B. Wistar Warner, of Germantown, widow of George M. Warner, '73. The income is used for general purposes. Present book value $4,950.00.

T. ALLEN HILLES BEQUEST

Founded First Month 19, 1937, by receipt of the proceeds of a trust fund created in 1935 by T. Allen Hilles, class of 1870, formerly of Wilmington, Delaware, recently of Glen Mills, Pa., who died 11th Month 15, 1935. The amount received in stocks and cash was $285,000. Proceeds of mortgages of $7,460.94 in 1938, and final cash from executor in 1939 of $1,603.37 brought the gross total to $294,064.31. From this was deducted in 1939 the final settlement of taxes and fees totalling $13,300, thus making the final net bequest $280,764.31. Accumulated income of $12,489.77 was also received on First Month 19, 1937. In the trust created by the donor in 1935 he provided: "The gift to Haverford College shall constitute a fund to be known as 'The Hilles Bequest,' and the income shall be used for repair, upkeep and improvement of the building which I have given to Haverford College known as the Hilles Laboratory of Applied Science of Haverford College. My purpose in making this gift is primarily to relieve the Corporation of Haverford College from any additional expense on account of the erection of the building which I have given them, and the accompanying expansion of its educational activities, but whenever and if the Board of Managers or other governing body of the College shall determine it to be for the best interest of the College to devote the whole or any part of the income of the fund to uses other than those above specified such income may be applied to such uses and in such manner as the Board of Managers or other governing body may in its absolute discretion determine." Present book value, $280,764.31.

LEONARD L. GREIF, JR., AND ROGER L. GREIF FUND

Founded Ninth Month 29, 1937, by gift of $1,000 from Leonard L. Greif, '34, and Roger L. Greif, '37, of Baltimore. The gift was unrestricted, but the Managers have set aside this fund as endowment for general purposes, the income only to be used, until otherwise determined by them. Further gifts of $1,000 from each of the above donors were made in 1947-1948. During 1949-1950 an additional gift of $1,000.00 was received from Leonard L. Greif, Jr. Further gift was made in 1951 and 1952 of $1,000 by Leonard L. Greif, Jr. Present book value, $6,000.

J. HENRY SCATTERGOOD FUND

Founded Tenth Month, 1941, by donations totaling $1,660, made by members of the Board of Managers in recognition of the services for 25 years of J. Henry Scattergood, '96, as Treasurer of the Corporation of Haverford College. A further gift of $340 was made in 1943-44, $200.00 in 1949-50, $1,000 in 1950-51 (through 1949 campaign) and $1,000 in 1951-52 (through 1949 campaign).

The income of this fund is to be used in the field of International Relations and to be at the disposal of the President of the College and the William Penn Professor holding the Chair in Political Science and International Relations. If the income in any year is not used for the special purposes as stated, in the discretion of the President, it may be used for general purposes. It is further provided that after Tenth Month 1, 1951 the use of the fund for other purposes, both as to principal and income, shall be subject to the direction of the Board of Managers of Haverford College.

PARKER S. WILLIAMS FUND

Founded Tenth Month 1, 1947, by unrestricted bequest of $100,000 under the will of Parker S. Williams, Class of 1894, of Villanova, Pa., who died in 1942. The actual amount received from the executors was $103,993.26, due to the increased value of certain investments, which were held, instead of being converted, under an agreement with the College. Income was paid to the College from time to time until the receipt of the bequest.

W. PERCY SIMPSON TRUST
Provident Trust Co. and William J. Clark Trustees

This perpetual Trust was established under the will of W. Percy Simpson, Class of 1890, who died Second Month 19, 1938. The will provides that one fourth of the net income from the residuary estate, after the death of his widow (who died in 1940) and of his son (who died in 1946), shall go to two grandchildren, and of the remaining three quarters one tenth shall go to Haverford College. Thus Haverford's share of the income now is 3/40th. The income comes partly from securities but largely from Texas Oil Royalties and rentals. Of the present income as estimated by the Trustees, Haverford's share is about $1,875 per annum.

The will further provides "without imposing any obligation upon Haverford College, I recommend to it the advisability of expending the moneys which shall from time to time come to it under this will or so much thereof as may be required, for the examination and analysis of applicants for admission to the College with respect to their mental, physical and general qualifications, and of students therein for the purpose of determining the field of activity best suited to the individual."
The will further provides that whenever a vacancy shall occur by the death or resignation or otherwise of the individual Trustee, the selecting of a new Trustee shall be done by the governing body of Haverford College, and that if The College fails to perform this duty, the payment of further income to it shall terminate.

CLARENCE W. BANKARD FUND

Founded Second Month 10, 1948, by unrestricted bequest from Clarence W. Bankard, Class of 1901, of Philadelphia, amounting to $4,418.75. The Board until otherwise ordered, set up a new fund for general purposes unrestricted as to principal and income.

GILBERT C. FRY FUND

Founded Fourth Month 2, 1948, by an unrestricted gift of $1,000 U. S. Treasury Bond from Gilbert C. Fry, of Germantown, Philadelphia, Class of 1923, in remembrance of his 25th anniversary of graduation. A new fund was set up and until otherwise ordered by the Managers, the income only will be used for general purposes. Further gift of $500.00 was made in 1949-50, $1,000 was made in 1950-51 (through 1949 campaign), and $1,000 1951-52. Present book value $3,500.

DANIEL B. BOYER FUND

Founded Third Month 3, 1948, with an initial gift of $2,500 in stock from Daniel B. Boyer, Boyertown, Pa., Class of 1911. The donor’s letter states: “It is my desire that the income from the stock be allocated for faculty use. If present reduced College income is not sufficient to cover current faculty needs, the Board of Managers should not hesitate to sell the shares and apply the proceeds for that purpose.” A new fund was set up, and until otherwise ordered by the Managers, the income only will be used for faculty salaries.

MARY K. COMLY FUND

Founded Sixth Month 29, 1948, by unrestricted bequest of Mary K. Comly, of Philadelphia, of $35,000. A new fund was set up, and until otherwise ordered by the Managers, the income only is to be used for general purposes.

The scholarship provided by this fund is “to be awarded, whenever a vacancy shall occur, to the boy ready to enter the Freshman class, who in the judgment of the President of the College appears best fitted to uphold at Haverford the standard of character and conduct typified by J. Kennedy Moorhouse, 1900, as known to his classmates: A man, modest, loyal, courageous, reverent without sanctimony; a lover of hard play and honest work; a leader in clean and joyous living.” Present book value, $5,155.85.

LOUIS JAQUETTE PALMER SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Founded in 1928 by gift of $5,000 from Triangle Society, as follows:

“The Triangle Society of Haverford College herewith presents to the Corporation of Haverford College, a fund of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) to be hereafter known and designated as the ‘Louis Jaquette Palmer Scholarship Fund’;

“This fund represents contributions from the members of the Triangle Society of Haverford College who have been thus inspired to perpetuate the memory of their fellow member, Louis Jaquette Palmer, of the Class of 1894, one of the founders of the Triangle Society, whom they admired for his cooperative spirit and constructive interest in student and community welfare. The fund is placed with the Corporation of Haverford College with the understanding;

“That such student shall be selected from a list of those eligible for entrance to Haverford College, who shall have combined in his qualifications the fulfillment of such conditions as apply to applicants for the Rhodes Scholarships under the terms of its creation, and furthermore that the student so selected and entered in Haverford College may continue to receive said scholarship fund throughout his course at College, subject to the approval of the Committee, otherwise preference shall be given to applications for the Freshman Class;

“That the selection of said student and the determination of the qualities and conditions hereinafore mentioned shall be subject to the decision and control of a committee of three (3), which committee shall be composed of two (2) members of the Triangle Society and the President of Haverford College, the said members of the Triangle Society to select and recommend the applicants and the committee as a whole to determine their qualifications and eligibility.

“Finally, in the event that no student is selected by the Triangle Society or that a vacancy occurs, the income from said funds and any additions shall accumulate as provided under the customary rules and regulations of the Corporation of Haverford College.”

In 1950 there was added to this fund the proceeds of ten life insurance policies formerly held in the Triangle Society Endowment Fund amounting to $2,954.18 plus the balance of $500 in that Fund and two additional con-

Established in 1931 by bequest of $5,045.60 from Mary Newhall in memory of her father, Paul W. Newhall, a Manager, 1844-48, for the establishment of a scholarship fund. The income only to be used for free scholarship purposes. Present book value, $5,045.60.

ROBERT MARTIN ZUCKERT MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Founded in 1935 by gift of $750. $2,000 each year, 1936 to 1940, and in 1942; $2,500 in 1941; $1,000 in 1943; $1,000 in 1944; $2,000 in 1945; $2,000 in 1947-1948, $1,000 in 1949-1950, by Harry M. Zuckert, New York, in memory of his son, Robert Martin Zuckert, of the Class of 1936, who was killed in an accident in June, 1935. The income is to be used for scholarship and the donor said, "I should prefer a boy who is a native of New York or Connecticut and who now resides in one of those States." Present book value, $22,250.00.

SAMUEL E. HILLES ENDOWMENT CREATED BY MINA COLBURN HILLES

Founded in 1935 by gift of $5,000 from Mrs. Mina Colburn Hilles, of Orlando, Fla., in memory of her husband, Samuel E. Hilles, Class of 1874, formerly of Cincinnati, who died in 1931. This fund was created under a trust deed with Central Title and Trust Co., Orlando, Fla., to whom annual reports are to be made. The income only is to be used for scholarships for worthy students who are unable to finance their expenses at Haverford College. Present book value, $5,017.31.

CLASS OF 1913 SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Founded Fourth Month 15, 1937, by gift of $3,000 from Class of 1913 for the endowment of scholarship aid. The income only is to be used for scholarship aid, to be awarded annually to a worthy student of any undergraduate class. Preference is to be given to sons of members of the Class of 1913 who may apply and who meet the usual requirements of the College. Present book value, $3,000.00.

THE AUGUSTUS TABER MURRAY RESEARCH SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Founded Fifth Month 31, 1939, by gift from two anonymous friends of Dr. Augustus Taber Murray, '85, by gifts of $20,000 par value of securities subject to annuity during their lives, and with permission to use principal for the annuity payments, if necessary.

Upon the deaths of the two annuitants, the remaining principal shall be held in a fund, the "Income to be used for scholarships in recognition of the scholarly attainments of Augustus Taber Murray, a distinguished Alumnus of Haverford College, of the Class of 1885, and for many years a professor of Leland Stanford University, the fund to be known as 'The Augustus Taber Murray Research Scholarship.' Then scholarships in English literature or philology, the classics, German literature or philology (in order of preference) shall be awarded upon such terms and conditions as the College may from time to time establish to students who have received the bachelor's degree at Haverford College, and shall be awarded for the purpose of study in other institutions toward the degree of Doctor of Philosophy or such degree as may in the future correspond to that degree."

The amount of the Scholarship is to be $900 a year whenever awarded, and only unmarried students are eligible to hold it. Present book value, $22,460.12.
THE CLASS OF 1917 SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Founded Seventh Month 13, 1942, by initial gift of $2,000.00 from the Class of 1917, John W. Spaeth, Jr., Treasurer, as a Twenty-fifth Anniversary Gift. A further gift of $250.00 was made at the same time to cover the first two years of a scholarship of $125.00 per year. Preference is to be given to a son of a member of the Class of 1917. The income only is to be used for a scholarship to the extent of $150.00 per annum. This was increased to $200.00 per annum in 1947-1948. Further contributions from the members of the Class of 1917 are to be applied in the following order:

(1)—To supplement the annual income from the principal sum of $2,000.00, so that the annual scholarship stipend shall be $150.00 (increased to $200 in 1947-48), (increased to $300 in 1949-50), or as near that sum as may be;

(2)—To add to the principal sum any surplus of these annual contributions not needed to serve the purpose of (1). Since the scholarship stipend for the years 1942-1943 and 1943-1944 was already provided for by the additional $250.00 already contributed by the Class of 1917, the annual contributions from the Class in these two years was added at once to the principal sum of $2,000.00, thus serving the purpose of (2) above. Further contributions of $500 were made in 1944-1945; $425 in 1945-1946; $810 in 1946-1947; and $985 in 1947-1948; $250 in 1948-1949; $450 in 1949-50; $670 in 1950-51 and $695 in 1951-52. Present book value, $7,821.08.

DANIEL B. SMITH FUND

Founded Tenth Month 6, 1943, by gift of $2,500 from Anna Wharton Wood, of Waltham, Mass., who died in 1944. This was increased Fifth Month 24, 1945 by a bequest of $2,500 made by Miss Esther Morton Smith, of Germantown, Philadelphia, who died Third Month 18, 1942.

This fund is established by the granddaughters of Daniel B. Smith “in loving memory of their grandfather and his intimate association with the early years of the College.”

The income is to be used, in the discretion of the Faculty as an annual scholarship for some young man needing financial aid in his College course. Preference is to be given to a descendant of their father, Benjamin R. Smith, if any such should apply. Present book value, $5,000.00

SARAH TATUM HILLES MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Founded Eleventh Month 1, 1943 by bequest of $75,534.58 from Joseph T. Hilles 1888, in memory of his mother “Sarah Tatum Hilles.”

The will directs that the income be used “to provide for such number of annual scholarships of $250 each as such income shall be sufficient to create”; they are to be awarded by the Managers upon “needy and deserving students,” and to be known as “Sarah Tatum Hilles Memorial Scholarships.”

It is estimated that twelve scholars can be thus provided for at present. Present book value $75,534.58.

ELIHU GRANT MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Established Second Month 2, 1944 by gift of $200 from Mrs. Elihu Grant to supplement the simultaneous transfer of $803.75 to this new fund from Donations Account, being the balance of Donations made by Dr. Grant during his lifetime to the Beth Shemes account, and $75.00 realized from the sale of some of his books. Mrs. Grant has made a further gift of $1,000 in 1943-44 and $2,000 in 1944-45. And, Grant Foundation, Inc., gave $10,000, also in 1944-45. Mrs. Grant made a further gift of $1,000 in 1945-46. In 1949-1950 in connection with the Campaign, the Grant Foundation made a further gift to the College of $25,000, to be added to this fund.
With the donor’s approval, the terms of the fund are as follows:

"Founded in 1944 to commemorate the service to Haverford College of Dr. Elihu Grant, from 1917 to 1938, a member of the College faculty. The income from this fund is applied to scholarship assistance to students in the Humanities, primarily those specializing in the study of Biblical Literature and Oriental subjects, and is limited to those whose major subject has been approved by the College faculty. In special circumstances the income may be utilized to assist those working for a post-graduate degree at Haverford College." If conditions change, the Managers are given power to change the use of the fund. In making the additional grant in 1949-50, the Foundation stated that "the income from this present gift may be allocated as scholarship or fellowship awards by the proper authorities of the College to under graduate or graduate students without restriction as to courses of studies.” Present book value, $40,078.73.

CHRISTIAN FEBIGER MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Founded Sixth Month 13, 1946 by a gift of $8,000 from Madeleine Seabury Febiger, of Philadelphia, in memory of her husband, Christian Febiger, Class of 1900.

On Third Month 18, 1949 a bequest of $9,050 was received from the executors of Mrs. Madeleine Seabury Febiger, who died September 27, 1947, and was added to this fund.

The income only is to be used in paying the tuition or other college expenses of worthy, needy students at Haverford College. Present book value, $17,050.

JOSEPH L. MARKLEY MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Founded 2nd Month 10, 1947 by gift of $5,000.00 from Mrs. Mary E. B. Markley of Ann Arbor, Michigan, widow of Joseph L. Markley, A.B. '85, M.A. '86, who was Professor of Mathematics at University of Michigan. The gift was made "to be held as an endowment fund in memory of Joseph L. Markley of the Class of 1885. The income of which is to be granted each year, in the discretion of the faculty, as a scholarship to some student on the basis of character, scholarship and financial need."

JOSEPH C. AND ANNE N. BIRDSALL SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Founded 2nd Month 24, 1947 by initial gift of $10,000 from Dr. Joseph C. Birdsal of Haverford, "for the establishment of a new fund to be known as "Joseph C. and Anne N. Birdsal Scholarship Fund, the income only to be granted each year, in the discretion of the faculty of Haverford College, as scholarship aid to some student or students of Haverford College who are preparing for medicine,—the selection to be upon the basis of character, scholarship and financial need.” Further gifts 1947-48, $5,000; 1948-49, $5,000-1949-50, $5,000. Present book value, $25,000.

DANIEL E. DAVIS, JR., MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Founded by gifts made First Month 20 and Second Month 17, 1948, totalling $3,000, by Mr. and Mrs. Daniel E. Davis, of Sewickley, Pa., to establish the Daniel E. Davis, Jr., Memorial Scholarship Fund, in memory of their son, ex Class of 1944, who was killed in aerial warfare in the Pacific.

The income from the fund is to be granted each year, in the discretion of the Faculty, as a scholarship to some student on the basis of character, scholarship and financial need.
JONATHAN M. STEERE SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Founded Twelfth Month 28, 1948 by gift of $2,300 from Jonathan M. Steere, Class of 1890. Classified among the Scholarship Funds and included in Consolidated Investment Account.

The donor’s provisions governing the use of the fund are as follows: “With this stock, or its proceeds, I wish to establish a fund for a scholarship primarily for a graduate of Moses Brown School, Providence, R. I., now under the care of New England Yearly Meeting of Friends. Should the scholarship not be awarded in any one year to a graduate of Moses Brown School, it may be awarded to someone else, preferably from New England, in the discretion of the College. If advisable, it may be given to more than one boy in any year. My preference is that it be awarded to a member of the Society of Friends, but I do not so restrict it. Should the time come when, for any reason, scholarships may not be needed or desirable, having full confidence in the Management of the College, I wish that both the principal and the income be used as the College in its sole discretion shall determine.

“I suggest that at the College it be known as the ‘Moses Brown School Scholarship’, and at the School as the ‘Haverford Scholarship’.” A further gift of $4,955.00 was made in 1949-50 and $2,715 in 1950-51 (through 1949 campaign). Present book value, $10,000.

WILLIAM GRAHAM TYLER MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Founded Tenth Month 1949 by gift of $15,000 from Miss Mary Graham Tyler in memory of her father, William Graham Tyler, Class of 1858. Formerly of Philadelphia, William Graham Tyler took an active part in civic improvement in New Jersey and in Iowa, and was concerned with the advancement of Friends Education at both William Penn College and Haverford College.

The income from the fund is to be granted each year, in the discretion of the College, as scholarship aid to some student or students on the basis of character, scholarship, and financial need. Preference is to be given to students from Oskaloosa, Iowa, or William Penn College in that state.

1890 MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Founded in March 1950 by a gift of $2500 from Andrew L. Lewis of Worcester, Pennsylvania, in memory of his father, John F. T. Lewis, of Class of 1890, “and in recognition of his father’s friendship with the members of his class.”

The income from this fund is to be awarded as a scholarship by the College to a deserving student. Since in the beginning the income from this fund will not be large enough to furnish an entire scholarship, it may be used in conjunction with some other scholarship to insure aid of material size, Increased by $100 in 1951-52.

1949 CAMPAIGN SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Founded Sept. 1, 1950 by a transfer of $38,610.00 from the receipts of the 1949 Haverford Campaign for additional endowment.

The income is to be used to increase funds available for scholarships, in order to maintain the quality and increase the diversity of the student body and to carry on the tradition that personal merit rather than ability to pay is the primary entrance qualification.

Until otherwise ordered by the Board, 10% of the income is to be capitalized each year; provided that this shall not reduce the yield from the fund below 4%.

A portion of the Capital of this fund may be expended at the discretion of the Board of Managers in accordance with the policy stated in the Campaign Appeal. Present book value, $42,653.27.
MAX LEUCHTER SCHOLARSHIP FUND

The plan for this fund was evolved during the life of Max Leuchter, who died in 1949, and carried out upon his death by his wife Cecila P. Leuchter and his sons, Ben Z. Leuchter and Joel C. Leuchter. Self educated after completion of grade school, becoming editor and publisher of the Vineland Times Journal, Max Leuchter wished to benefit the College to which he sent his son, and which he had come to greatly admire.

The purpose of the donors in making this gift in 1950 of $10,000.00 was to “create a scholarship which shall be given yearly to a student whose need can be demonstrated, whose academic performance meets the College requirements, and who, in addition, gives promise of making an outstanding contribution to the life of the College through his breadth of interest, his love of hard play and of hard work.”

The scholarship shall be in the amount of $300.00 in the beginning. It may be given to a new student each year or to one student through each of his four years. All income received above $300.00 shall be capitalized each year.

“When the income from the fund has reached proportions such that an additional scholarship of $300.00 can be awarded, and that at the same time at least $300.00 can be returned to the fund, the additional award shall then be made.”

“It is the further wish of the donors that, while their interests are primarily as stated above, should the Board of Managers of the College be faced with circumstances which cannot be foreseen now, the Board may, at its discretion, use the income from the fund for College purposes other than the scholarship purposes.” The present book value is $10,741.05.

A. CLEMENT WILD SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Founded in 1951 by a first gift of $4,087.50 of Gertrude T. Wild in memory of her husband, A. Clement Wild, of the class of 1899. The income from the fund is to be used for a scholarship or scholarships, to be granted without restrictions in the discretion of the College.

In making the gift the donor, though reiterating the freedom from restrictions, expressed the feeling that as A. Clement Wild was born in England, becoming a naturalized American Citizen, a grant to an English Exchange Student or someone in a similar category would be appropriate. The present book value is $8,712.50.

CAROLINE CHASE SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Founded December 10, 1951 by payment on a bequest of part of the residue of the estate of Caroline Chase, daughter of Thomas Chase, one time president of the College, of Providence, Rhode Island, whose Will provided:

“This gift is made as an expression of my father’s enthusiastic appreciation for his high standards of scholarship in Greek, Latin and English literature.

“It is my intention that the said share given to said Haverford College shall be used for any of the educational purposes of said College according to the discretion of the President of the time being.”

Present book value of the fund is $6,245.11.
Funds for the Library

Alumni Library Fund

Founded in 1863 by contributions from the alumni and other friends of the College. In 1909 the unexpended balance (about $5,000) of a fund of $10,000 raised in 1892, and known as the “New Library Fund,” was merged into the Alumni Library Fund. Present book value, $17,435.06. The income is used for binding and miscellaneous expenses of the Library.

Mary Farnum Brown Library Fund

Founded in 1892 by gift of $20,000 from T. Wistar Brown, executor of the Estate of Mary Farnum Brown. Additions were made by T. Wistar Brown in 1894, $10,000 for a lecture fund, and in 1913, $20,000. In 1916, after T. Wistar Brown’s death, there was added to this fund $34,499.78 par value of securities, book value, $30,149.78, being a trust which he had created for this purpose in 1908 and to which he had made additions in subsequent years. Present book value, $68,014.72. The purpose of this fund (except $10,000) is for the increase and extension of the Library. The income only is to be used for the purchase of books, and one-fifth of same is to be spent for books promoting the increase of Christian knowledge. The books purchased with the income of this fund are marked by a special book-plate. The income of $10,000 of the fund is to provide for an annual course of lectures upon Biblical subjects designated “The Haverford Library Lectures.” Unused income from the fund, if any, must be capitalized at the end of each fiscal year.

William H. Jenks Library Fund

Founded in 1910 by gift of $5,000 from Hannah M. Jenks, widow of William H. Jenks. The fund was first known as “Special Library Fund,” but after the death of Hannah M. Jenks was changed, in 1916, to “William H. Jenks Library Fund.” The purpose of this fund is that the income shall be used for the care of the collection of Friends’ books made by William H. Jenks and given by his widow to Haverford College, and to make appropriate additions thereto. Any income not used for these purposes may be used toward the general needs of the Library. Present book value, $5,000.00.

Mary Wistar Brown Williams Library Fund

Founded in 1914 by gift of $20,000 from Parker S. Williams, ’94, as a memorial to his late wife, Mary Wistar Brown Williams. The income only is to be used for the purchase of books for the Library, preferably books coming within the classes of history, poetry, art, and English and French literature. The books purchased with the income of this fund are marked by a special book-plate.

Anna Yarnall Fund

Founded in 1916 by residuary bequest of $13,000 par value of securities with book value of $7,110, and one-half interest in suburban real estate from Anna Yarnall. Additional amount under bequest was received in 1918. Present book value, $173,078.14. The real estate was sold in 1923 and netted the College $164,820.50. The bequest was made for the general use of the Library. The Testatrix says, “I do not wish to restrict the managers as to the particular application of this fund, but desire them to use the income arising from it as in their best judgment and discretion shall seem best, for the purchase of books and manuscripts, book cases, rebinding of books, and, if need be, the principal or portions thereof, or the income or portions thereof, for additions to the present Library building, or the erection of new Library buildings. I direct that all books purchased with this fund shall be plainly marked ‘Charles Yarnall Memorial’ in memory of my father, Charles Yarnall.”

F. B. GUMMERE LIBRARY FUND

Founded in 1920 by gift of $635.41, raised among the students by the Students, Association of the College as a memorial to Professor Francis Barton Gummere. The income only is to be used to buy for the Haverford College Library books on the subjects that he taught or was interested in.

The student’s Association voted to raise twenty-five dollars for a special shelf in the Library to be known as the “F. B. Gummere Memorial Shelf.” This shelf, with its proper inscription, holds the books purchased by this fund. Present book value, $635.47.

EDMUND MORRIS FERGUSSON, JR., CLASS OF 1920 MEMORIAL FUND

Founded in 1920 by memorial gift of $1,000 from the family of Edmund Morris Fergusson, Jr., Class of 1920, who died at the College in his Senior year. The income only is to be used for the maintenance and increase of the Library’s Department of English and American Literature. The books purchased with the income of this fund are marked by a special book-plate indicating its source. Present book value, $1,002.34.

CLASS OF 1888 LIBRARY FUND

Founded Sixth Month 15, 1938, by gifts totaling $5,250 from members and families of the Class of 1888, on the occasion of their fiftieth anniversary. The conditions of the gift are as follows:

(1) A fund is to be established, to be known as “THE CLASS OF 1888 LIBRARY FUND.”

(2) The income only of this fund is to be used exclusively for the purchase of books for the Haverford College Library, except as noted below (in Clause 6).

(3) The fund established now will be added to later by gift or bequest.

(4) Members of the Class also expect to donate books to the Library, with the understanding that when such books are duplicates of books already in the Library, they may be exchanged for books needed, or sold, and the money so obtained used in the same way as the income of the fund.

(5) All books purchased by the income of the fund (or obtained as in 4) are to be provided with a special book-plate to be furnished by the Class.

(6) Income from the Class Fund or moneys obtained by sale of duplicate books may, when necessary, be used for binding or repair of books designated as belonging to the Class collection. Additional donations were made as follows: $500 in 1939-40; $100 in 1943-44; $500 in 1944-45 and $200 in 1945-46. Present book value, $6,550.00.

CLASS OF 1918 LIBRARY FUND

Founded Third Month 24, 1938 by gift from the Class of 1918 in commemoration of their twentieth anniversary. The gift was $1,753.52 of which $500 was spent for a portrait of the late Rayner W. Kelsey, Professor of History, who died Tenth Month 29, 1934; and the balance of $1,253.52 was used in establishing a new Library Fund, the income to be used for books. Present book value, $1,253.52.
QUAKERIANA FUND

Founded 1st Month 8, 1947, by gift of $600 from President Emeritus William Wistar Comfort '94, as explained in letter from him as follows: “In 1940 some Alumni gave me a sum of money to buy books for myself. This I have done, and now there remains $600 which I wish to make over to the Corporation, the interest of which may provide books or manuscripts for the Quaker collections. As a compliment to the donors of the fund, I should like the enclosed bookplate to be inserted in such future purchases.”

MOHONK FUND FOR THE RUFUS JONES COLLECTION OF MYSTICISM

Founded Third Month 21, 1949 by gifts totaling $1,500 from members of the Albert K. Smiley family of Mohonk Lake, N. Y.

The gift was made “to make possible additions to the Rufus Jones Collection on Mysticism in the College Library,” with the further provision that “it may be used at the discretion of Haverford College, if the purpose for which it is intended should no longer be applicable or desirable.”

The fund is classified among Library Funds, and is included in Consolidated Investment Account. Book value, $1,500.

RUFUS M. JONES BOOK FUND

Founded Seventh Month 11, 1949 from bequest of $5,000 through a deed of Trust established by Rufus M. Jones during his life, “the income only to be used—for the purchase of books on Mysticism, to be added to the Collection of books on that subject,” which he turned over to the College a few years before his death.

The fund is designated as the Rufus M. Jones Book Fund, is classified among Library Funds, and is included in Consolidated Investment Account. Book value, $5,000.

1949 CAMPAIGN LIBRARY FUND

Founded Sept. 1, 1950 by a transfer of $22,100. from the receipts of the 1949 Haverford Campaign for additional endowment.

The income is to be used to increase funds with which to buy books, and thus maintain the excellence of the Library.

Until otherwise ordered by the Board, 10% of the income is to be capitalized each year; provided that this shall not reduce the yield from the fund below 4%.

A portion of the Capital of this Fund may be expended at the discretion of the Board of Managers in accordance with the policy stated in the Campaign Appeal. Present book value, $34,224.82.
Funds for Pensions

President Sharpless Fund

Founded in 1907 by contributions from interested friends of the College, finally amounting to $40,000. Present book value, $41,237.08. The income is to be used for the teachers and professors of Haverford College as the President of the College and his successors, with the approval of the Board of Managers, may decide. The income from this fund is annually transferred to the Haverford College Pension Fund for old style pensions, or, if not needed for pensions, is capitalized in said fund.

William P. Henszey Fund

Founded in 1908 by gift of $10,000 from William P. Henszey, donated in connection with the raising of the President Sharpless Fund, but kept as a separate fund. Increased in 1909 by legacy of $25,000 from William P. Henszey. Present book value, $36,758.66. The income is to be used, as in the President Sharpless Fund, for the teachers and professors of Haverford College as the President of the College and his successors, with the approval of the Board of Managers, may decide. The income from this fund is annually transferred to the Haverford College Pension Fund for old style pensions, or, if not needed for pensions, is capitalized in said fund.

Jacob P. Jones Benefit Fund

Founded in 1909 and increased in 1910 by proceeds of land sold for account of Jacob P. Jones legacy. Present book value, $68,113.78. The income is to be used, as in the President Sharpless Fund, for the teachers and professors of Haverford College as the President of the College and his successors, with the approval of the Board of Managers, may decide. The income from this fund is annually transferred to the Haverford College Pension Fund for old style pensions, or, if not needed for pensions, is capitalized in said fund.

Pliny Earle Chase Memorial Fund

Founded in 1906 by transfer to the College of a fund raised in 1887 in memory of Professor Pliny Earle Chase, and amounting to par value of $4,173.04. The income of this fund is used, as in the President Sharpless Fund, for the teachers and professors of Haverford College as the President of the College and his successors, with the approval of the Board of Managers, may decide. This income is transferred annually to the Haverford College Pension Fund, for old style pensions, or, if not needed for pensions, is capitalized in said fund. Present book value, $3,272.24.

Haverford College Pension Fund

Founded in 1920 and added to since, being accumulations of income from the President Sharpless Fund, the William P. Henszey Fund, the Jacob P. Jones Benefit Fund and the Pliny Earle Chase Memorial Fund, not needed for pensions. Present book value, $112,040.73. The income from this fund, together with the income from the four above-mentioned funds, is used for old style pensions. Income not needed for pensions was capitalized until 1932; then any unused income was used toward the College’s share in cost of new contributory pensions with the Teachers’ Annuity and Insurance Association. Now the old style pensions call for more than the income of all these Pension Funds. When the proper time comes in an actuarial sense, the principal of this fund can be used as well as the income for the old style pensions until they cease.

64
Funds for Special Purposes

Thomas Shipley Fund

Founded in 1904 by gift of $5,000 from the late Samuel R. Shipley as a memorial to his father, Thomas Shipley. Present book value, $5,248.00. The income only to be used for lectures on English Literature at the College. In case of actual need, at the discretion of the President of the College, the income can be used for general expenditures.

Elliston P. Morris Fund

Founded in 1906 by gift of $1,000 from Elliston P. Morris, '48. The income is to be used as a prize for essays to be written by students on the subject of Arbitration and Peace. “The Elliston P. Morris Prize” of $40 is given in each year, the competition being open to all undergraduates and to graduates of not more than three years’ standing.

In 1929, it was determined, with the consent of the family of Elliston P. Morris, that when the prize is not awarded the income may be used for the purchase of library books on arbitration and peace. Present book value, $1,126.75.

John B. Garrett Reading Prize Fund

Founded in 1908 by a gift of $2,000 par value of bonds by the late John B. Garrett, ’54. It was the purpose of the donor to ensure the permanence of a prize or prizes for Systematic Reading, which he had given for a number of years. The prizes were not awarded from 1922 to 1939 on account of default of the bonds. Reorganization has resulted in 1939 in sufficient recovery of value to provide again for this prize. Present book value, $2,247.87.

Special Endowment Fund

Founded in 1909 by gift of $12,000 par value of bonds, book value $11,800, from an anonymous donor. The income only of this fund to be used “to furnish opportunity for study of social and economic and religious conditions and duties connected therewith, especially from a Christian point of view.” The income is used toward the expenses of Summer Schools for Religious Study, which have been held at Haverford and Swarthmore Colleges from time to time, and also for religious education under Friends’ care.

On Fifth Month 16, 1930, the Managers adopted the following amendment, made at the suggestion of the donor, now revealed to be John Thompson Emlen, 1900: “If, however, it shall in the course of time be deemed advisable by the President and the Managers that the income of this fund can be used more profitably by the College for other purposes than those herewith stated, it is my desire that they shall act in accordance with their judgment.” Present book value, $9,227.07.

Strawbridge, '94. Memorial Astronomical Observatory. The income is used for the maintenance and equipment of the observatory. The principal can be used for additional equipment, if so determined by the Board of Managers. In 1938 and 1939 an astrophographic camera was so purchased at a cost of $1,787.83. Present book value, $3,839.54.

JACOB AND ENGENIE BUCKY MEMORIAL FOUNDATION

Founded Sixth Month 4, 1942 by gift of $2,000.00 from Colonial Trust Company of New York and Solomon L. Friedenberg of Philadelphia, co-trustees under the will of Eugenie Bucky, deceased (late of New York), the income only to be used. At the same time accumulated income of $2,000.00 was also donated as Bucky Foundation Gift, this amount to be available for use for the same purposes as the income of the Foundation. Extracts from Mrs. Bucky's will and codicils in reference to the purposes of the Bucky Foundation are here made as follows:

"The purpose or object of such a Foundation or Fund is and shall be for the encouragement of them who seek new truths, and who endeavor to free and clear from mystery and confusion our knowledge concerning God; and thereby to enforce more effectively the common laws of mutual love and obligation, peace and goodwill, between and among our several creeds, races, nations, and markets."

"My aim, intention, purpose and object is to help in promoting piety among men, enlightening their ignorance and bettering their condition, by making more and more extensive and by spreading among the public at large not only the preaching but also the practicing of the words of the . . . American motto 'In God We Trust,' and of the . . . Preamble to the Constitution for the United States of America. I believe and therefore I aim, intend and purpose that the uplifting of men, women and children to the standard of life taught in the Scriptures and the Constitution for the United States of America is indeed the work of Charity, dispels ignorance, inculcates generous and patriotic sentiments, and fits the public groups and the individual men or women for their good usefulness in the American Commonwealth."

1. Associated with the American motto "In God We Trust."

2. Associated with the Preamble of the Constitution for the United States of America—"to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide the common defense, promote the public welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity."

In 1945-1946, a further gift of $1,000 from the Trustees was added to the fund. Unused income, if any, has also been capitalized. Present book value, $4,362.52.

MATHEMATICS DEPARTMENT PRIZE FUND

Founded May 20, 1943 from gifts totaling $900.00 of members of the Mathematics faculty and others. A further gift of $125 was made in 1943-44. The unused income is added to principal. This capitalized the annual prizes that had been given by the Mathematics professors for many years.

The Mathematics Department Prizes for freshmen, $25.00, are awarded annually, in competition, by examination. Present book value, $1,316.41.

WILLIAM T. ELKINTON FUND

Founded Ninth Month 6, 1944, by bequest from William T. Elkinton, of Philadelphia, arising from a Trust set up by him during his lifetime. The principal was $2,491.50 and income received, $11.11, a total of $2,502.61. After the death of a life beneficiary, the Trust provided: "to pay over, assign and transfer one of said equal parts unto the Corporation of Haverford College (a corporation of the State of Pennsylvania); the principal fund thus passing to said Corporation to constitute a part of such endowment as may be established at Haverford College as a fitting memorial of Friends' relief work abroad, which memorial 'should foster the peaceful relations of the United States with foreign countries by acquainting our youth with the principles of European governments and with international problems'; provided however, that if no such Endowment should be established at Haverford College prior to the expiration of one year after the principal of the Fund hereby conveyed becomes distributable under the provisions of this deed, the said one-third part of the fund hereby conveyed shall be devoted by the Corporation of Haverford College for such other purpose as the Trustees acting hereunder, their survivor or successor, shall designate, preferably for the furtherance of education in some form at Haverford College or for providing assistance in the form of scholarships to promote education."

In accordance with a suggestion from President Morley, concurred in by Thomas W. Elkinton representing the Trustees, the Managers voted on Ninth Month 22, 1944, that "the income until otherwise directed, is to be used for traveling and other expenses in the attendance at intercollegiate conferences for discussion of international problems by representatives of the International Relations Club at Haverford." The Trustee further stated "as long as the activities of the Club are closely related to 'acquainting our youth with the principles of European governments and with international problems,' the use of the income by the Club would be satisfactory."
TILNEY MEMORIAL FUND

Founded in First Month, 1945, by gifts totaling $2,000 by I. Sheldon Tilney, 1903, in memory of his parents, John S. and Georgiana E. Tilney. The income is to be used "to try to influence the student body towards a more religious viewpoint of life." Permission was also granted by the donor that "the income may be used also in connection with a scholarship for students in the field of Philosophy or Biblical Literature."

In 1945-1946 the fund was increased to $5,000, by gifts of $1,000 from Georgiana S. Kirkbride and $2,000 from Robert W. Tilney, sister and brother of I. Sheldon Tilney. In 1948-49 a further gift of $250 was received from I. Sheldon Tilney. In 1949-50 a further gift of $1,000 was received from I. Sheldon Tilney. Present book value, $6,000.

CLASS OF 1902 LATIN PRIZE FUND

Founded Second Month 2, 1945, by gift from Class of 1902 of $142.90, being proceeds of sale of security formerly purchased and held by the Class to perpetuate a Latin Prize of $10 annually at Haverford. The Class had donated the income for this prize since 1913. An unused balance of $39.00 of such donations was transferred to the income account of this fund.

CLASS OF 1898 GIFT

Founded Sixth Month 12, 1948, by contributions totaling $6,100 from members of the Class of 1898 as a 50th Anniversary Gift of their graduation. The conditions of the gift were "For a period of 25 years the income only produced by the fund is to be used to pay the expenses of lectures at the College by qualified persons on such subjects and at such times as the President of the College, with the advice of the Faculty, may think best, including at the discretion of the President, conferences between the lecturers and the students. After August 31, 1973, the income and/or principal of the fund, may, at the discretion of the Board of Managers, be used for any purpose in connection with the College." Present book value is $6,315.00.

EDMUND J. LEE MEMORIAL AWARD FUND

Founded Eighth Month 31, 1948, by donations totaling $906.50 from members of the Class of 1943 on the occasion of their Fifth Reunion. The Class desired "to perpetuate the memory of Edmund Jennings Lee, 2nd, its sole member killed in the past war, and to stimulate in the College that spirit of service for which he was known. In 1948-1949 a further gift of $100 was received from Miss Mildred W. Lee, sister of Edmund J. Lee.

"The proceeds from the invested fund shall be used to establish an annual award to be known as the Edmund J. Lee Memorial Award to be awarded annually beginning in 1949, to the recognized undergraduate organization which has contributed most toward the furtherance of academic pursuits, extracurricular activities, spiritual growth, or college spirit, in individuals or in the College as a whole during the year. The Award is to be used by its recipient in continuing to render such service."

THE DAVID R. BOWEN PREMEDICAL FUND

Established in 1950 by the family and friends of the late Dr. David R. Bowen, who, regretting a definite lack in his own training, believed strongly that men preparing to be physicians should receive a basic liberal education of the kind offered at Haverford College. The income is to be used at the discretion of the President of Haverford College, to purchase books for the use of premedical students, pay for professional magazine subscriptions, for lecturers, or for any other projects closely related to premedical training. Present book value, $410.00.
JONATHAN & RACHEL COPE EVANS FUND

"Founded in 1952, through gifts to the 1949 Campaign by the children and grandchildren of Jonathan and Rachel Cope Evans. The principal is to be invested and the income used one-half for scholarships and one-half for the purposes of the Rufus M. Jones Fund for Advancement of Teaching. If, however, at the expiration of twenty-five years the Board of Managers deems it advisable to use the income, or if necessary the principal, of the Fund for other purposes, it shall be free to do so." Present book value is $13,543.62.
