

And the Crusade Continues... The AIDs Children in Libya

In the name of Allah, the most Compassionate, the most merciful.

All praise is due to Allah and may peace and prayers be upon His chosen Prophet and his family and companions.

As part of the series of crimes which the Crusader West presents from time to time as civilized gifts which fit in with its democracy, slogans and values, an old/new issue has again come to the fore to be a new poisoned dagger stabbing the body of our torn Islamic Ummah. All have heard of that heinous crime for which we haven't found an appropriate description in the dictionary, due to its extreme ugliness and lowliness; that ugly crime which five Bulgarian nurses and a Palestinian doctor committed by injecting more than 400 Libyan children with the AIDS virus in a Benghazi hospital, injections which carried latent hatred and criminality; that crime which indicated a complete abandonment of all human values and revealed hearts in which hatred is embodied in its ugliest form.

So hatred has appeared in its most hideous state, in which murder is committed in the most despicable of ways, for this event to become a prominent title which introduces us to the values, civilization and real face of the West.

It is a crime which wasn't committed by their armies which are used to criminality and have accustomed us to its ugliest forms, but was rather committed by those who traveled thousands of kilometers to treat and care for the people - or so they claimed - but suddenly, the nurses turned into cold-blooded, evil-spirited murderers with hate-filled hearts.

"How [can there be such a covenant], when if they get victory over you, they neither respect in you the ties of kinship nor of covenant? With [fair words from] their mouths they please you, but their hearts are defiant, and most of them are rebellious and wicked." (9:8)

It is a crime whose weapon of destruction wasn't the B-52 or F-16, nor were destructive 7-ton rockets fired, nor was there any dropping of the smart bombs whose smartness always leads to the murder of hundreds of women, children and elderly, for us to be told after every massacre that war cannot be free of mistakes.

No, the deadly weapon in this crime was an injection which should have contained medicine and healing, but instead introduced into the bodies of innocent children the lethal poison which would cause them constant pain and a slow death. It is a crime which didn't take place in the mountains of Tora Bora, nor the streets and houses of Fallujah or Tal Afar, where a war which devours rocks and trees and melts man and stone under the pretext of the presence of "terrorists" in the area, which - for the civilized West - is a sufficient excuse to legitimize the annihilation of entire villages with their inhabitants.

No, the scene of the crime was a hospital to which people go to seek treatment and medicine and to flee from illness, but suddenly, the hospital became an abattoir from which the healthy come out sick and the sick come out dead. It is a crime which was not committed against people possessing weapons with which they are defending themselves, for the lying hypocritical media to tell us that they are suspected extremists plotting what they call terrorist attacks.

No, this war - and I call it a war - was waged in its most hideous form against children who carry innocence and purity their hearts and souls.

This, in brief, is the form the crime took, even though words are truly incapable of properly describing it.

Has the world witnessed hatred stronger than their hatred?

Have you heard of a deed uglier and more atrocious than their deed?

Has anyone seen savagery on a par with their savagery?

And did anyone ever imagine that their criminality would descend to such lowliness?

Those who know the truth about these hateful infidels and haven't been deceived by their pretty words and slogans and lying propaganda won't be surprised by such a thing, because the Quran has summarized for us this long list of consecutive crimes in a single verse with which it exposed the truth about them, revealed the secrets of their souls and described their actions with precision: "If they overcome you, they behave to you as enemies, and stretch out their hands and their tongues against you with evil. And they desire that you reject the truth." (60:2)

The infidel Crusader West has accustomed us to constant boasting that theirs' is the best of societies most advanced of civilizations and the one most protective of the rights of man - and animal too - and that the World can only extract itself from its crises by following their path of democracy and doing as they do.

So what has been the stance of their civilization and their democracy towards this ugly crime?

Did you hear any one of their tyrants, or any one of their human rights foundations, or any of their charities, or anyone of their independent organizations merely talk about - much less condemn - these victimized children, even indirectly, and mention their suffering and the suffering of their families or even shed a tear in sympathy and mercy?!

No, instead of that they rushed shamelessly to express their sympathy and support for the murderous wolves as they bit their victims with their teeth and tore them apart with their claws, demonstrated indifference to the victims' bleeding wounds, loud cries and continuous suffering, and directed all their effort into displaying sympathy and mercy for those wolves, for no other reason than that they are wolves like them.

"The unbelievers are protectors, one of another." (8:73)

What business does America have with five obscure Bulgarian nurses which makes its president promise to seek their release - their release and nothing else, not even extradition for trial in their supposedly just legal system?!

They will accept nothing less than their release, so let their crime be, let more than 400 children go to hell and let their families perish in their rage.

And what business does the old hag Britain have with these criminals which makes her dog express his great sorrow and disappointment at the judgment passed on them and promise to do all he can to secure their release?!

It is the Nazarene faith which binds them to each other, and their statements embody the motivations of hostility and hatred to Islam and Muslims. And their hypocrisy, charlatanism and camouflaging didn't help them to take any stance other than this stance, with which they disgraced themselves and introduced themselves to all who didn't know them before.

The case of the AIDS children isn't the first case which the West has treated with such duplicity. No, their application of double standards, especially when the victim is a Muslim, has become the most distinctive feature of their policies, stances and resolutions.

There is Palestine - and what will make you realize what Palestine is - in which the lives of dozens of unarmed men, women and children are taken at the hands of the criminal Jews.

Yet despite all of that, the Crusader West has only given the people of Palestine a lethal embargo and death-defying support to the Zionist murderers.

When one of the soldiers of the state of the sons of Zion is killed, no sooner does the news reach them than they rush to condemn and deplore and send their condolences to the family of the "victim" - yes, "victim" in their dictionary. But when entire territories are bulldozed along with everything in them, and houses are demolished onto their residents, and mosques are bombed with the worshipers inside, and cars are melted along with their passengers, and children's limbs are scattered in the streets, and the cries of the helpless women and children fill the air, none of that pricks the hearts of the infidel Crusader West, nor is it considered in their dictionary to be a crime deserving of condemnation or indignation.

Why? Because those killed are Muslims, and as long as that's the case, they're not victims deserving of sympathy, mercy or the continuous calls to stop the violent cycle of killing. And the same goes for Iraq, Afghanistan, Chechnya, Somalia and other Muslim lands.

This, then, is the West, and these are its values which it wants to offer us, and this is its democracy which it seeks to spread among us. So away with them and their civilization, values and "justice".

And this crime is a living example of the disregard shown by the regimes of treason and treachery for the lives of their repressed, helpless peoples and their scorn for their dignity. If not, how then were these butchers able to commit this crime against such a large number of innocent children without the regime of the tyrant of Libya, al-Qadhafi, having some knowledge or suspicion about it - or indeed, without colluding and taking part in this crime?

Where was the regime during the period in which the children were being fed the virus of murder and criminality, after which it portrayed itself as eager for justice, in search of the facts and in pursuit of the criminals, even though it is the leader in crime and corruption?

Where were the foundations of this crumbling regime?

Where was its surveillance all this time?

And how is the heinous crime committed in total secrecy and utter silence without it being noticed by its security forces and intelligence agencies which count the peoples' breaths and follow them in all their affairs, whether minor or great?

Or was it busy with pursuing and chasing sincere Muslims to flatter the West and please its masters, just like it will please them by dropping the case of this heinous crime, as you will see in due time?

That's why we say that the time has come, O Muslims, for you to recognize these hateful infidels as they really are. It's time for you to recognize these hateful infidels as they really are. They are murders, killers, and criminals who sow corruption on Earth. And don't be fooled by their shiny slogans and false words, because - by Allah - your blood, lives and children are worthless to them.

You will only find honor with which to make progress and strength with which to protect yourselves in your true religion, which is based on disowning them and their servants and declaring open animosity to them. And their evil and corruption will only be stopped by fighting without leniency and performing non-stop Jihad until there is no unbelief and all religion is for Allah.

"Were it not that Allah repels one set of people by means of another, there would surely have been destroyed monasteries, churches, and synagogues, and mosques in which the name of Allah is mentioned much. Allah will certainly aid those who aid Him, for verily, Allah is strong and mighty." (22:40)

And all praise is due to Allah, first and last.
